-Pine City-

Located one hour north of the Twin Cities on I-35

In Pine City, the best features of metropolitan cities, only one hour away, and the scenic, recreational, friendly atmosphere of a small town are available to everyone.

Pokegama and Cross Lakes, linked by the Snake River, provide 50 miles of uninterrupted waterway. The Chengwatana State Forest, with miles of hiking trails, cross country skiing, ATV trails, campsites and snowmobiling, is just east of Pine City.

Public access to the Snake River can be found at the Pine City boat landing, and a fishing dock is available nearby for your pleasure.

During the summer months there are free Friday night concerts in downtown Robinson Park, and an annual Art Fest, sponsored by the Pine City Art Council is held the third Saturday in July. The Heritage Players are also active in Pine City. They enhance the community with seasonal dramas, musicals and comedy productions all performed by local talent.

Pine City's newest attraction is the 35 foot redwood voyageur statue located at Riverside Park on the Snake River. You can picnic in a spacious gazebo in the park and take advantage of the many photo opportunities.

For family fun, Pine City has completed a Robert Leathers playground. Free for the whole family, you may weave through the castle and stretch your imagination in the magical complex. Dragonwood playground is on the elementary school site.

Access to the St. Croix River can be found at the historic ferry landing, which once provided a shortcut route between Minnesota and Wisconsin. Part of the history of Pine City is told at the Northwest Fur Post, a Minnesota Historical site just two miles west of Pine City.

A rural school museum can be found right in Pine City.

A public golf course is located one mile southwest of Pine City for your pleasure.

The community is famous for its huge flea market, held every Wednesday morning at the Pine County Fairgrounds in Pine City.

Motel facilities, overnight camping and several restaurants help make Pine City a complete tourist stop.
