Facts Concerning Our Fire Department.

The fire engine bought by the village council, some time ago, has been giving good satisfaction.

A few of the boys have taken interest in the practice nights, to be on hand, and help string hose, etc. But it is a shameful fact that only an average of six members have attended, when there are sixty-five names enrolled on the fire department books. Some are detained by business, but others we are sorry to say, are too lazy.

There has been some trouble caused by the bursting of hose. It is not caused by too much pressure from the engine, but there is reason to believe that the hoses of an inferior quality. Beside that, the hose has not been handled properly, on account of the non-attendance of the fire department members.

It should be washed and dried thoroughly after each time it is used, which has not been done, and the result is, the hose is rotting and becoming unsound. The engine, in charge of Lee Fairbanks, does its work without any "kick," and in case of fire, it can be relied on to be a conspicuous part in the subduing of what might be a serious conflagration. There has been erected on the village property, a comfortable engine house, with a large cistern beneath it, 36 feet long, 16 feet wide and 7 feet 10 inches deep, capable of holding, in round numbers, 775 barrels, which will be sufficient to fill an ordinary fire in the south part of town. Beside this, a suitable platform will be built on the river and late tanks so the engine can be run to any important point, and have an unending water supply.

It is a noticeable fact, that nearly all of the Ouel Club, are members of the fire department and they can be depended upon, as on former occasions, to be present and take an active part in case of fire. Engineer Fairbanks informs us that he intends to instruct several others, in the care and management of the engine, so that they can run it in case he is absent, or otherwise prevented from answering the fire alarm. We understand that the council contemplate the purchase of a large bell, to be placed in the belfry on the engine house, to be used as a fire alarm.

With all of this fine apparatus furnished by the council, our volunteer companies and our abundant water supply, this town has the best protection from fire of any in this part of the state. And we hope to prevent any serious conflagration, such as visited us the last two times.

A MEMBER OF THE DEPARTMENT.

—Last Saturday while the separator belonging to Peter Strosinsky was going down an incline on the north side of the river, Henry Burge, who was working on the separator, in trying to block the wheel, in an unaccountable manner one of his fingers on the left hand got between the wheel and blocking and mashed it so that he had to have the upper part of it taken off from the first joint. He can consider himself lucky that it did not smash his whole hand.

The Toledo Weekly Blade.

Every intelligent family needs in addition to their local paper, a good national weekly. The greatest and most widely known family newspaper is the Toledo Weekly Blade. For thirty years it has been a regular visitor in every part of the Union and is well known in almost every one of the 70,000 postoffices in the country. It is edited with reference to a national circulation. It is a republican paper, but people of all politics take it, because of its honesty and fairness in the discussion of all public questions. It is the favorite family paper, with something for every member of the household. Serial stories, poetry, wit and humor, the household department, (best in the world) Young Folks, Sunday School Lessons, Tidbits, Sermons, the Farmstead, the Question Hour (which answers questions for subscribers), the news of the week, complete form, and other special features. Specimen copies gladly sent on application, and if you will send an list of addresses, we will mail a copy to each. Only $1 a year. If you wish to rate a club, write for terms. Address: THE BLADE, Toledo, Ohio.

The following is a clipping from the Ho's County Independent:

Mrs. Lena Hoff died at 11 o'clock last Friday morning and was buried at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning from the M. E. church, Rev. Crews officiating.

Deceased had been ailing for more than a year, but was confined to her bed only two weeks. She was born August 25, 1869, at Hanover, Ill., and was married to J. W. Hoff, September 30, 1892, at Mora, Minn. They had no children. They have lived in O'Neil about a year and a half. She was sister of Mrs. Cress and Mrs. Hatfield, of O'Neil, also of Mrs. Naylor of Boston, who has been here for the past three weeks, and of Mrs. Winters, of Hanover, Ill. who arrived in time to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Naylor, of Boston, who has been here for the past three weeks, and of Mrs. Winters, of Hanover, Ill. who arrived in time to attend the funeral, was accompanied by Mrs. Riley, of De Calb, Texas. Two brothers, living at Racine and one at Rockford, Ill. Her father, Peter Winegartner is living at Galdswell, Idaho.

Mrs. Hoff was a member of the M. E. church in this place and went from here to O'Neil a year and a half ago. Mr. Hoff running a tailor shop in this place and Mora and was well thought of here. All of Mr. Hoff's friends in this place sympathize with him in his affliction.

A week ago yesterday Henry Glasow had quite a close call to having a severe accident, if not being killed. At the above mentioned time he was on the north side of the river and had Otto Kowalek's double barreled shot gun, he saw a yellow hamster living by him and pulling up the gun shot the left hand barrel which exploded, blowing out about two inches of the barrel an inch and a half from the breech. Henry shot it-handed, which was all that saved him, for if he had been right handed it would have blown his head off; as it was a piece of the barrel struck him on the head, and the explosion made him deaf for over two hours.

SURGEON LAKE.

Miss Emma Anderson returned last week from Hickley, where she has been for the past two months.

Mrs. Johnson went to Lindstrom, last Wednesday, to attend the funeral of her mother. She returned Saturday afternoon.

Miss Nora Nilson, teacher in District 27, left Friday, to spend Sunday with her parents in Moose Lake. She came back to her work again, Monday.

MEADOW LAWN.

If you want to by land call on S. Kilgore.

John Kilgore has his house almost completed.

Dr. E. E. Barnum was a caller here Sunday.

Charles Gale, of Rush City, was a caller at J. Hathaway's last Saturday.

The white Jack that came on the night of the eighth was too late this year.

The contractors for the east end of our new road are doing a good job so far.

S. Kilgore was trying his new team and buggy Sunday. They are a credit to the place.

A small saw mill would do well in this place for five years at least. Come and look at the place, some one.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McAdam's oldest son arrived home Sunday. You ought to see John with his graceful smile.

RYDER, STITZMAN & CO., Proprietors. 409 and 411 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.

—Quite a large crowd from this place took in the Boleman society picnic on near Brown Sunday. All report having had a fine time. The dancing continued until day light Monday morning. The society cleared about two or three dollars.

—Dr. C. B. Pillsbury, brother-in-law of Mrs. J. Adam Bede, passed through here on Tuesday, bound for Owatonna. The doctor has been practicing in Duluth for some time past, but has decided to leave the Zenith City and seek a warmer climate.

—On Tuesday morning J. D. Wilcox Jr. departed for Meadow Lawn to get the road grader of J. M. Colbine, who is going to grade the base ball ground on the north side of the river. The ground when completed will be second to none in the state, as those having charge of the park intend to move the backdrop fifty feet and also the diamond which will give a larger field.

—Corporal James Collins, came up from St. Paul on Sunday night, to say good-by to his parents and friends before departing with his regiment for Pennsylvania, where they will be stationed for the present at least. Jim seems to enjoy a soldier's life, as he always is happy and talks jestingly of the treatment he has received at the hands of the Government. Good luck, Jim! We hope to see you back before long.

—C. H. Furman, who had charge of the Pine county exhibit at the State Fair, informs us that Pine county had the best exhibits of wheat and grasses of any county in the state, in the 200 points on each.

—He also informs us that had we had an exhibit of fruit and potatoes we would have got first premium.

—Aitkin county carrying off the prize with 1250 points, and Pine county a few varieties of wheat and grasses and a few varieties of potatoes, got 5 points. Aitkin county has been at work on her exhibit ever since about the middle of August, and Mr. Furman only commenced to gather up his exhibit a week ago last Friday.

—If we had commenced in time there is no reason why we should not have been the banner county. Let us all see to it next year that old Pine county has a fair chance of being represented, and with a fair chance we are not afraid that we should make a showing that will surpass the balance of the state, and even the residents of the county, for there is not half of the residents have any idea of the productiveness of the lands in this county.

—Quite a number of Hinckley's farmers are coming down to the mill with their grists. It is a shame that the old road that is now only along the track can not be put into shape so that these farmers would not have to drive so far around to get their grist. There are only a few places where it needs much work, and that where it could be remedied in a hurry if the several towns through which it passes would put forth a little effort and put some of their road work on these bad places. A piece of good road will last for a number of years without any fixing, but a poor road is always needing repairs and is never any good. A good road-grader is what is wanted by every town in the county and then we can have good roads, but as long as shovels and slush scrapers are used, just so long will we have poor roads and more money spent on them annually than it would take to buy a grader and keep it in repair. We are over a new piece of road last week in the town of Sandstone where a grader was used and it was thorough rough and ready. This road is now graded for the small sum of $2.00 per mile and is in better condition to last for years without practically any repairing; they can build a mile of road up for $2.50 per foot with a grader, one mile here can be built for at least one half that amount, as we have not got the rock nor the sticky clay that they have.

—People make no mistake by following the advice of the Northwest-Yeast Co. to try the sample of yeast-foam left at their door this week. This yeast has been on the market for the past twenty years without a rival worthy of the name. There are many imitations of this celebrated yeast, but only one Yeast Foam. Be sure you get the genuine. There is no other yeast as good as Yeast Foam.

DON'T BE FOOLED! The market is being flooded with worthless imitations of ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA. To protect the public we call special attention to our trade mark, printed on every package. For Sale by all Druggists.

New Store! New Goods! F. J. RYBAK'S. Elegant New Store is now open and ready for business. He carries a full line of General Merchandise, Boots, Shoes, Etc.

CRIME OF AN ASSASSIN.

Elizabeth, Empress of Austria, Stabbed to Death by a Villain on the Quay at Geneva.

THE MURDERER AN ITALIAN ANARCHIST

He is Captured While Attempting to Escape—Stories in the Dead-end of a Vicious and a Horrible Deed—The Arrest of the Aged Emperor is Grievous.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—Elizabeth Amelia Eugenie, empress of Austria and queen of Hungary, was assassinated at 11 o'clock Saturday afternoon as she was walking from the Hotel de la Ville, where she had been at lunch, to the steamboat dock. She intended taking a steamer to the Castle Chillon, at Terriet, and was accompanied only by the ladies of her suite. As the empress was passing the Brunsvick monument a rough-looking man rushed at her and struck her a blow in the chest which knocked her to the ground. The ladies with her picked her up and carried her to the boat, while her assailant ran away. The empress was carried on a litter to the hotel. A physician and the mayor were called and every thing possible was done to restore her majesty, but she breathed her last at three o'clock without regaining consciousness.

Stabbed with a Pike.

A more careful examination was now made and it was discovered that the empress had been stabbed to the heart with a stiletto apparently made from a triangular file. After striking her death blow the assassin ran along the Rue Alps, but was caught by two men who handed him over to a gendarme. He proved to be Luigi Luchini, an Italian anarchist from Paris. When arrested he said: "I have struck well. She must be dead. I came to Geneva purposely to assassinate her." The empress had been staying at Montcalm, near Geneva. Her majesty was visiting Geneva for pleasure, accompanied only by her suite.

Horror in Switzerland.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—The president of Switzerland and other members of the government were stunned with horror and grief when the news reached the city that the empress, so beloved by all Europeans, had fallen a victim to an assassin within the borders of their country.

Genes Grief to Vienna.

Vienna, Sept. 12.—The news of the assassination became known here shortly before six o'clock Saturday evening. It spread like lightning, the streets suddenly filled with multitudes of people, many becoming impassible for various causes. Extra editions were issued by all the papers.

The Emperor's Grief.

The emperor's fortitude is the topic of universal admiration. He is becoming up manfully despite the terrible shock, which, in view of his age, had inspired the greatest apprehension. Although at first distressed and the slight hysterical, he soon regained his self-control, and displayed remarkable calmness. Occasionally, however, completely overpowered by his grief, he moaned piteously, repeatedly sobbing the name of the empress. Addressing Prince Von Liechtenstein, chief marshal of the imperial household, he exclaimed Saturday evening: "It is inconceivable how a man could lift his hand against one who cares in her death as much as I do, one who did nothing but good." Then he moaned: "Nothing is spared to me in this world."

Despatches of condolence are arriving at the palace from all parts of the world, testifying to profound horror and sympathy. Among them are those from President McKinley, from Emperor William and from nearly all the European sovereigns. The court will go into mourning for six months.

The Late Empress.

The empress of Austria was born December 12, 1837. She was a daughter of Duke Maximilian of Bavaria, who was married to Francis Joseph, emperor of Austria and king of Hungary, in 1854. They had three children, Archduchess Sophie, who she married to Prince Leopold, of Belgium; Archduchess Elizabeth, who married Prince-Royal of Belgium, and who was the mother of King Leopold; and Archduchess Maria Victoria, who married Prince of Saxony. The late empress was an enthusiastic sportsman.

COUGH CANDIES.

Many Excellent Brands Can be Made at Home, and are Little Known.

Nearly all the excellent cough candies have once been made by family recipes. Where one has abundance of time it can be made in quantity, to make candies at home, for only a few expensives made them as they were prepared in the last generation. They are easily made, and are wholesome confections because of their tops ingredients. The herb has the ability, when administered in proper quantity, to break the flow of perspiration. To make herb candy, put an ounce of dried herb in a pint of boiling water, and may be bought at any herb store, or at almost any drug store. It may also be easily gathered at the roadside in summer and dried, for it is a familiar plant. Strain off the infusion of herb and add a pound of sugar to every half pint of the liquid. Boil the syrup until it threads and the threads crack off brittle when bitten, and then pour it out on buttered sheets of tin. When it is partly cooled, grate it into thick squares, and when it is hard break it up into separate candies. If these candies are too bitter for your taste, you may lessen the amount of herb used to suit the taste.

Island moon, says the Household, makes an excellent soothing cough candy. Take five cents' worth of the licen, soak it over night and wash separately. Take out the licen, and put it in a thick porcelain-lined sauce in plenty of cold water, and let it slowly simmer over the fire until the water is of a thick starchy consistency. Add a pound of sugar and a half pint of the thickened water. Stir the syrup repeatedly and it drops forms a creamy ball when rolled between the finger and thumb. It must be stirred repeatedly, or it will burn. Pour it out on buttered biscuit pans that have sides, which will prevent the candy spreading to two thin sheets. It should be about half an inch thick.

The chief objection to a great many cough candies of the shops is that they contain morphine, and even raw opium, in more or less quantity. There are some popular cough candies that contain either morphine to put to sleep a patient who is easily affected with cold, or opium to soothe the throat, and the candies are consumed without much thought as to the result. Candy containing morphine are certainly dangerous for children to eat, and it is strange that accidents do not occur more often, when confectioners handle such dangerous drugs.

A simple recipe, which is easily prepared at home, is made as follows: Mix together one ounce each of powdered licen, and licen, and licen, and licen. Add to this mixture one drachm of an ounce seed and a third of an ounce of oil of cubebs. When the oils are mixed in cold water, and roll it into small troches with a tumbler. Let them dry on a board in a closet or any cool, dry room.—N. Y. Ledger.

RICHARD'S JOPLY GOOD TIME.

A Very Human Boy Who Was Hugely Enjoying His Well-Earned Reward.

A portly gentleman sat on the porch and smiled, while a small boy, smiling, painted the front fence.

"Look at that boy," the portly man remarked to a visitor; "he thinks he is having a good time. A small boy sure is the jolliest creature on earth. When I was a youngster I remember that there were certain kinds of work I considered play, and one of them was painting. I was always crazy to paint. Many times I have taken a bucket of muddy water and an old paint brush and have spent a whole half day putting a thick coat on the side of my father's barn."

"So with my boy Dick, the little chap painting the fence, he has always been crazy to paint. He is enjoying himself now—he can see he is; and he will paint that whole fence, too, just as well as he knows how. I don't go for it a trifle smaller, but his painting job, sold you, thicker than the paint on his hands and clothes."

"There's a mean side to it, too; he wanted to paint the fence, and I wanted the weeds pulled out of the yard. So, like an unbridled rascal, I bargained with him; I told him if he would pull the weeds out I would let him paint the fence. He went through the job like a soldier—he hates to pull weeds—all his boys do—and now he thinks he is getting his reward. It is a downright shame to fool him that way—don't you think so?"

The portly gentleman chuckled again, and the small boy, wild with joy, went on painting with a vengeance.—Detroit Free Press.

Flower Pot Covers.

They are not very substantial, these new dresses in which flower pots are decked, but they certainly are very dainty in effect, and so expensive, too, that one does not object to replace the covers when they have lost their first freshness and beauty. The ordinary rice-paper napkins, artistically colored in Japanese designs, are caught together with ribbon and arranged about the earthen flower pots in much the same order as the more substantial dresses of silk.

narrow fell of the paper about the top is held down by a belt of ribbon, another circle of narrow ribbon about the center of the pot forming a part of the napkin on each side. Of course, the more paper used the fuller the folds and puffs will be. This pretty rice-paper party dress is particularly attractive for the pot plants as are still left outside the house or upon shelves on the veranda.—Boston Herald.

WOMAN'S HEROISM.

From the Register-Gazette, Rockford, Ill.

During the civil war nearly as much heroism was shown by women as by men. The women of the South, especially, were the bravest soldiers. Many a woman, weeping for her dead son, bound up the wounds of his suffering comrades, tending them in their last moments, and, in their own deaths, were as brave as any soldier who died for his country.

On the battlefield, a woman of the name of the woman's name, who was the wife of a soldier, was fighting against the soldiers of the day, and she was as brave as any soldier who died for his country.

There is one woman in the United States every year who is a hero. She is a woman who is a hero. She is a woman who is a hero. She is a woman who is a hero.

THESE CHARITY PARTIES.

The Head of the House Had His Say and Then Paid for His Sin.

The two fair daughters of the household were discussing the entertainment they proposed for the benefit of a little work of charity in which they were interested, and a mother, who had her own opinion, had to have his say.

"The house will be in a commotion for a week, nothing will be thought of but your party, and everything will be disregarded that night you will be awake till well toward morning, and the next day those who are not sick will be about marbled and half dead with the excitement."

"Papa, said the eldest, "don't you understand that we are going to help some of the poor and that every one will give willingly with some content? What you should do is to manage."

"Well, I'll give you just $30.00 for the cause if you'll not inflict your cow-pokers on me. Now, how do you like my party?"

"Mamma, I wish to the land you'd come down and see the party, and I wish you'd and she danced out of the room while he laughed sarcastically.—Detroit Free Press.

New Mother-in-Law Story.

A Cleveland man who was wanted to spend his vacation brought home with him what he thinks is a new mother-in-law story. Much-travel stories are a dime on the market, but this one seems to be a little less drab than usual.

"The boy's name was Jerry, and he was a European and the man's mother-in-law went along. Up to this point there is no novelty in the story. On the way over the mother-in-law fell ill and died. Of course she had to be buried, and the man's mother-in-law was made, but instead of an iron weight to sink the boy, she was a big load of sorrow, and the man's mother-in-law was a big load of sorrow, and the man's mother-in-law was a big load of sorrow."

MRS. PINKHAM'S ADVICE.

What Mrs. John Harris has to Say About It.

Dear Mrs. FERRISS—When I wrote you I had not been well for five years; had lost all the time but got no better. I had worn trusses very bad. My womb was so enlarged, causing pain. I was in such misery I could scarcely walk across the floor. Menstruation was irregular. I was very nervous.

I was also troubled with hemorrhoids. I had given up all hopes of getting well, but I had bought your medicine, and I was so glad to see it.

After taking five bottles of your medicine, I was so well that I was able to do nearly all my own work. I continued the use of your medicine and I feel that I owe my recovery to you. I cannot thank you enough for your advice and your wonderful medicine.

Any one doubting my statement may write to me and I will gladly send you all inquiries.—Mrs. WILLIAMS, Des Moines, Mo.

Letters like the foregoing, constantly being received, contribute not a little to the satisfaction felt by Mrs. Pinkham that her medicine and counsel are assisting women to bear their heavy burdens.

Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. All suffering women are invited to write to her for advice, which will be given without charge. It is an experienced woman's advice to women.
