WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 14th, 1901.

It is common talk in Washington that President Roosevelt is growing very weary of the constant demands for patronage which now take up so much of his time that he finds it almost impossible to reserve to himself the time necessary for the preparation of his forthcoming message.

Already he has given notice that he will see no one after 1 p. m. and it is considered most probable that he will soon be obliged to exclude himself from the public entirely for at least a short period. This course has been necessary by several of his predecessors. He has further let it be known that he is opposed to any wholesale change of office holders and that he will not consider the appointment of incompetent or unprincipled men whatever may be their claims on the party.

In regard to the Isthmian treaty the President has expressed the wish that the particulars be absolutely withheld from the public until all the details have been completed and he has submitted the treaty to the Senate. A Cabinet Minister, who will not permit his name to be used, tells me that the salient points of the treaty have been agreed upon and that he believes they will meet with the cordial approval of the Senate and of the people, regardless of party, but that the details are carefully withheld by the President's express wish.

Those who are in a position to know say that portion of his message which treats of our relations with Cuba is giving him the most trouble, that while he desires both the prosperity and the good will of Cuba and realizes that the surest means of securing both would be by the admission, free of duty, of Cuba sugar, on the other hand he is most unwilling to recommend a course which would prove injurious to the Louisiana planters and mean absolute destruction to the best sugar industry. It is a serious problem and one will tax every resource of the President and his party in Congress.

It is regarded here as somewhat remarkable coincidence that although there are now in progress eight democratic campaigns in as many different states, Mr. Bryan has never been invited to speak in any one of them and in the case of the state of Ohio his offer to stump the state seems to be treated as an embarrassment rather than as a subject of gratitude. Does it mean that the Democratic party in these states has turned down the free silver policy? is the question asked on all sides.

Ambassador Choate is on route to Washington and rumor has it that, owing to the wide diversity of methods and views of himself and the President, it will be intimated to him that his resignation will not prove unacceptable. It is further rumored that ex-Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, will be offered the nomination. There seems to be little foundation for the rumor beyond the fact that Mr. Choate is not the type of man that Mr. Roosevelt would have been likely to choose to represent his administration at any important court.

Secretary Hay has hastened to assure the press that there is no truth whatever in the statement given out by Secretary Gage that he (Hay) contemplates resigning and says that he is sure that the Secretary of the Treasury must have seen misquoted.

Another factor in the fight for the New York apprenticeship has developed in the person of Mr. Conwell, ex-Secretary of the Interior, who is urging the appointment of Mr. William F. Waldman. If the President yields to Mr. Bliss's wishes it will be in absolute disregard of the wishes of a member of his Cabinet, Mr. Gage, who is urging the appointment of Mr. Whitehead.

The appointment of Dr. V. P. Clayton to the position of internal revenue collector for the Palmetto state came in the nature of a surprise as it was generally understood that Mr. Loomis Blalock was selected for that place. Little is known of the reasons that led to Dr. Clayton's appointment beyond the fact that Senator McEaurin has been seen at the White House recently and he is supposed to have had a talk with the President on the subject.

The Schley Court of Inquiry is still in progress and promises to remain so until the middle or last of November. It is a rather remarkable state of affairs that if the Navy Department, through Judge-advocate Lemley, prove their case against Schley they will at the same time prove the Bureau of Navigation guilty of the grossest neglect of its duty in not having, long before, court-martialed Admiral Schley on the charges of insubordination and cowardice. If Schley were all that Lemley has undertaken to prove he would be a disgrace to this service. A notable feature of the proceedings during the last week has been the absolute unanimity of the testimony offered by the very young officers who have been summoned before the court, all of it derogatory to Admiral Schley.

The London Athenaeum concludes a very complimentary notice of President Roosevelt with the statement that he is more of a man of letters than any president of the United States since Thomas Jefferson. But what a difference between "letters" in Jefferson's and Roosevelt's eras! The alphabet alone is unchanged.

An amusing story is being told in society of the plight in which Miss Florence Eoraker, daughter of Senator Foraker, of Ohio, recently found herself. Before her departure from Washington Miss Foraker interviewed her dressmaker, who was about to depart for Europe, and gave instructions for the purchase of a very elaborate wedding trousseau, preparatory to her marriage with Mr. Francis King Wainwright, of Philadelphia. Having given her order to a thoroughly reliable "modiste," Miss Foraker gave the matter no further thought until the time for the wedding began to draw near. Then she cabled to Paris and wired to Washington only to find that the dressmaker had fallen in love on shipboard and on her arrival on the other side had married. When Miss Foraker cabled she was spending her honeymoon in Switzerland and had completely forgotten Miss Foraker's trousseau. Consequently Miss Foraker was obliged to patronize home industry for her wedding outfit. She declares she will employ only aged and unromantic dressmakers in the future.

SHE IS STILL ALIVE.

Washington Officials Hopeful of Securing Miss Stone's Release.

GIVE OUT BUT LITTLE INFORMATION.

Another Appeal to the Public for Funds for Rescue Purposes—The Total Now $250,000—Still Heeded.

Washington, Oct. 15.—All that can be gained from the state department in respect to the case of Miss Stone, the missionary who is held captive by brigands in Bulgaria, is that she is alive and that efforts are being made for her release. The officials while declining to indicate the nature of the measures they are pursuing to this end, still have hope of ultimate success.

Can't Reach the Brigands, Constantinople, Oct. 15.—Neither Mr. Baird nor Mr. Haskell, the missionaries, has yet managed to get in touch with the brigands in order to arrange as to the amount of the ransom for Miss Stone.

Says Captors Are Turks, Constantinople, Oct. 15.—Neither Mr. Baird nor Mr. Haskell, the missionaries, has yet managed to get in touch with the brigands in order to arrange as to the amount of the ransom for Miss Stone.

ADOPTS MARRIAGE CANON.

Committee of Whole Defers Hamilton Amendment Excepting Innocent Party to Divorce.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—The house of deputies of the Episcopal Church of America, sitting in committee of the whole, on Monday adopted the remarriage canon prohibiting the remarriage of divorced persons for cause not arising previous to their former marriage. The canon was adopted just as it came from the house of bishops. The vote stood 182 for, 134 against. The amendment of Dr. Huntington, of New York, making an exception in the case of the innocent party of a divorce granted on the ground of adultery, was rejected by a vote of 138 to 175. The result of the vote in the committee of the whole was reported to the house of deputies, who will vote on the matter. The result, however, may not be the same, for in the house the vote of 30 delegations is required to carry a measure, the divided delegations usually counting among the nays. No time was set for a final vote by the house, but it will presumably be taken today.

Previous to this action in committee of the whole the house of deputies adopted the resolutions presented by Dr. McKim of Washington providing for a standing joint commission of both houses to consider the relations of labor and capital. It is to consist of three bishops, the protractors and fifteen laymen and shall report its proceedings to each general convention.

New York, Oct. 15.—Heavy rains have temporarily interfered with communication between the columns in the field, says a Dundee (Natal) dispatch to the Times.

As was feared, the Boer force, in trying to make good its escape, has melted into small groups. Commandant General Botha and the main body of burghers, accompanied by army commissaries, have reached Pongola forest, near Luneburg, Transvaal.

London, Oct. 15.—A special dispatch from Cape Town says that, owing to the restriction of martial law, the pro-British South African News has been obliged to suspend publication.

London, Oct. 15.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: "On Monday morning I received at Aldershot to hold every available man in readiness to proceed on active service. The garrison totals 29,000."

The above is interpreted as meaning that the government is desirous of reassuring the public, and not as forecasting an immediate demand for the services of the First army corps.

Bank Robbed, Pineson, Mich., Oct. 15.—The Pineson branch of the First National Bank was attacked by a party of five burghers early Monday. The outside door was blown off and the force of the explosion was great. It is reported that the door through the front of the building, the explosion aroused the village and the burghers were frightened away before they could force the real box which contained between $3,000 and $5,000.

How Open Eye Safe, Bluffton, O., Oct. 15.—Burghers early Monday blew open the safe in the office of the Bluffton Milling company with a large charge of dynamite. The building caught fire and the entire plant was destroyed, causing a loss of $25,000. It is said the burghers saw nothing, as the safe was empty.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The navy department has received a report from the United States steamship Helena regarding the devastation by flood of the Yangtze valley and on the highlands of China. The water reached its highest point in 20 years. The devastation was widespread, the flood wiping out villages and sweeping away the highlands. Shanghai newspapers say that the distress is the worst that has occurred in half a century. To add to the suffering a storm, which on August 2, destroyed near Kinkiang an August 2, destroyed a great part of what remained of the farmhouses and the rudely constructed plantations. The lightning entered in the trees, by the people. Riots and robberies prevail as a result of suffering from hunger. The interests of the United States in the region are affected are centered in the missions, and property belonging to United States subjects is situated mainly near the treaty ports. John Lyden and family, of the town of Sturgeon Lake, were county seat visitors the latter part of last week and the first of this. John has been one of the solid farmers of the town of Sturgeon Lake, and at the time of the county seat fight was the county commissioner from that end of the county, and worked "tooth and nail" for the county seat to remain at this place. He recently sold his farm near Sturgeon Lake to Ernest Hinze. Mr. Hinze is an old farmer and we hope he will do well in Pine county. Mr. Lyden has not decided just what he will do, but it is to be hoped that he will decide to remain in the county, as we are loath to have such men as Mr. Lyden leave us.

Social at Dr. Baraun's.

On Friday evening the Ladies of the M. E. church, gave a social at the residence of Dr. Harmon. Although it was a very stormy night, at an early hour the large house was crowded to its utmost capacity and the time until the program was spent in social intercourse and getting acquainted with the new preacher and his wife, who arrived on the limited. At about nine o'clock, Mr. Piper announced that the program would commence with an instrumental solo by Miss Stone, who favored the audience with one of her choice selections, and responded to an encore with another. Miss Stone is a rare treat to hear here. Miss Nellie Miller then read a piece entitled "An Effective Bargain Alarm," which brought down the house. Miss Nellie Madden sang two solos. Miss Madden is an excellent singer, having a very sweet voice and knowing how to control it. Miss Flora Kerr recited a comical piece and responded to an encore. "When Jack asks Me to Wed." Flora is a good, easy speaker and her two selections were very nicely rendered. The Miller girls then sang a duet, one singing soprano and the other alto. They both have fine voices and with cultivation they will make very fine singers. Miss Walker, one of the school teachers, sang a solo. Miss Walker has a fine voice, and it is a decided pleasure to hear her sing. Raymond Gottry then recited a piece entitled "The Watermillion."

WISE WHITE HOUSE EMPLOYEE.

Does Quite a Profitable Business in Disposing of Kittens of the Official Cat.

Evidence of prosperity exhibited by one of the colored employees of the white house, best known as George, have made him the envy of his associates. He recently appeared in a new suit of "store clothes."

When they saw him bring a little kitten into the white house the other day, says a correspondent of the Toledo Blade, and subsequently hand the little pet over to a fashionably attired lady who was riding in a trap the secret came out.

Not long since the official white house cat gave birth to 12 kittens—ten even dozen and no more. The old cat and her family were in George's keeping. When the event became known in official and social circles there was a great demand for kittens born beneath the roof of the executive mansion.

Learning that George was their keeper, society girls sought him out and each wanted the prettiest one in the lot. Each was promised the "prettiest" one. When a dozen customers had been supplied the demand was as great as ever.

As some of the kittens had brought as high as five dollars each, George could not think of retiring from the cat business. He went among his friends in South Washington and discovered other kittens. They were just as pretty as the white house ones and passed readily for the genuine article. When a customer was to be supplied George would take one of the South Washington born kittens to the white house and from there deliver it to the fair one. It may never be known how many kittens are being tenderly cared for about the city and pointed to as having been born in the white house. Nor will it ever be known just how much revenue the cat industry yielded upon the colored employee yielded him.

Women All Beautiful in 1901.

If there are now few or none of the all-conquering "belle" and "coquette" of olden days, says the London Mail, it is equally certain that the plain woman has become an extinct species in society. The health care makes for beauty, as it enforces exercise, early hours, fresh air and temperance in eating and drinking. The plain woman, hitherto dressed, has been left behind with the dead and gone nineteenth century. We are all moderately beautiful in 1901.

The Value of Shocked Nerves. According to a legal decision in the Vienna courts "shock to the nerves" constitutes a serious accident, writes a Vienna correspondent. A passenger on a local line claimed damages which were awarded him, for a shock to his nerves, caused by the conductor shouting out to the passengers to jump off the car as he feared a collision.
