MEMORIAL DAY.

Headquarters Department of Minnesota Grand Army of the Republic, New Capitol, St. Paul, Minn.

I. Comrades: Another year has passed, and we are once more long march nearer our "Last Camping Ground." Many comrades who touched elbows with us a twelvemonth ago have fallen by the wayside; their voices are silent when the roll is called, and the places which once knew them will know them no more forever. They have joined the great column of the "mustered out."

On Paine's trail camping ground, their silent tents are spread, and glory guards with solemn round.

Memorial Day is drawing near. Of all days in the calendar it is the one which the Grand Army of the Republic most solemnly observes. It has been set apart and solemnly dedicated to the perpetuation of the memory of our dead comrades. On this day we assemble, pay loving tribute to their loyalty, valor and heroism, and strew upon their graves spring's choicest flowers, symbolizing a nation's reverence and unending gratitude to its defenders and preservers.

II. On the thirtieth day of May all Posts in this Department are required to hold suitable exercises in honor of our departed comrades; to visit the cemeteries and place upon the grave of each soldier there buried some flower of remembrance. Over each little mound should be placed the banner he fought under—"The flag without a stain."

III. All veterans of the Civil War, whether members of our organization or not; Spanish American war soldiers; Sons of Veterans; members of the Woman's Relief Corps; Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic; school children and citizens generally, should be invited to join in the day's observance.

IV. Memorial Sunday (May 28th) should be observed by the attendance of Posts in a body at some church, where memorial services may be heard and services in honor of our dead participated in. All churches should be requested to hold suitable memorial services on this day.

V. Posts are directed to make details of comrades to visit the schools on some day during the week previous to Memorial Day, and address the pupils. These Bible tales, plain and simple as they should be, will leave patriotic and lasting impressions upon the minds of the young. School authorities should be requested to prepare programs of exercises.

VI. All flags should be displayed at half mast on Memorial Day, and Posts should request mayors of cities and villages to issue proclamations calling upon the public to join in the observance.

VII. General Order No. 6 National Headquarters is enclosed. In it will be found President Lincoln's prompt report of Post Chaplain Gotskyburg address. By direction of the Thirtieth National Encampment it should be read at all Memorial Day exercises.

VIII. Enclosed is a circular from the Department Chaplain calling attention to the great importance of prompt reports of Post Chaplains as to the observance of Memorial Day. The Department Commander calls special attention thereto, and desires that the suggestions of the Department Chaplain be carried out.

IX. Past Commanders and adjutants should procure the publication in their local papers of all or a portion of this order for the public.

By command of G. J. Donald, Department Commander

THE PRIMER OF FORESTRY COMPLETED.

Part Two, "Practical Forestry," Has Just Been Published.

As a source of positive information about what forestry really is, and to spread a knowledge of its methods, a book has been prepared by Mr. Gifford Pinchot, Forester of the United States Department of Agriculture and Chief of the Bureau of Forestry, entitled "A Primer of Forestry," which is published in two parts. Part one was issued in 1899 and has passed through several editions, reaching a circulation of about 225,000 copies. It deals with the life of a single tree, with trees as they exist in a forest, with the life of a forest, and with the enemies of the forest.

Part II of the Primer has just been published. It deals with "Practical Forestry," the purpose of which is defined as "to make the forest render its best service to man in such a way as to increase rather than diminish its usefulness in the future." In other words, it means "both the use and preservation of the forest."

Chapter I of part II tells of the varied uses of the forest; specifies the four requisites if the forest is to yield good returns under management—protection, strong and abundant reproduction, regular supply of ripe trees, and growing space sufficient for each tree; discusses the yield of a forest, describing how it is determined and showing that it must keep even pace with the growth; and concludes by describing the different systems of cutting trees in such a way as to get the best returns from the forest, while at the same time improving its usefulness.

The second chapter discusses "Work in the Woods." Conservative and ordinary lumbering are contrasted, and the great superiority of conservative work is shown. Information and suggestions are given on the work from the time the tree is first standing in the forest until it passes through some distant mill. The chapter is intensely practical, and indicates changes in present lumbering methods which will make for the advantage of the forest.

Chapter III is entitled "The Weather and the Stream." It discusses the influence forests have on climate, and explains in detail the effect of forest cover on temperature, moisture, evaporation, rainfall, and fallen rain. One of the most vitally important functions of the forest is to restrain the fallen rain, to prevent erosion of the soil, and to store away the water for gradual use in the future.

Chapter IV, the last, is a short sketch of the history of forestry abroad and at home. Important events in forestry in this country are recorded down to this year. The showing of the United States in this field is behind that of every other civilized nation. Still initial steps of high promise have recently been taken, and there can be no question but that the development of a truly American system of forest management, adjusted to our own conditions, is now fairly under way.

Part II of the primer supplements Part I and the two together give the fundamentals of forestry in terse and compact form. Part II is illustrated by 18 plates and 47 text-figures. In typographical execution and general appearance it is an exact counterpart of Part I. The primer as a whole will be read with profit by every one who takes a practical interest in the forest and who wishes to see them protected and properly developed as one of the greatest resources of the nation.

WILL HAVE FRY.

Pine County Streams to Profit by Application for Bass, Pike and Trout Fry.

This week, in response to a communication from some of our local sportsmen, Sam Fullerton, state game warden, sent application blanks for fish fry to Banker Claggett. Several of these blanks have already been filled in and sent to the Capitol and it is expected that as a result the lakes, rivers and streams about here will teem with "brain food" in a comparatively short time to come.

Application has been made for 400,000 bass and pike for the river and lakes about here, and Bear and Rock creeks will each be made the receptacle for 30,000 trout if the request for that amount is granted.

Another good move is that steps have been taken to have the Chong-watana dam owners place a fish-way in the dam so that Snake and St. Croix river fish may go to and fro as the case will be. It was found by those interested that the fish way in the dam had become stopped up, hence the appeal to Warden Fullerton who will see that the owners are made to keep a good and sufficient fish way in the dam.

We are bound to have good, or rather, excellent fishing in the streams about here and as long as we are unable to make excellent fishing a possibility, we are to have those means and exercise them to the best advantage.

Died at Superior.

News was received by Pine county relatives, Wednesday, May 3rd announcing the death of Mrs. Wilhelmine Studt Jurgal, which occurred at St. Mary's hospital that morning. The deceased had been a sufferer from cancer in the breast for only five weeks and died as the result of an operation for the relief of the same.

Musical Event at Minneapolis May 25th.

Arrangements have been made whereby the Students Chorus from the University of Christiania, Norway, will visit the United States during this spring.

A selected company of 60 excellent voices have been in training in Christiania during the winter, with the special object of visiting their countrymen in the United States, and people who have heard them at rehearsals lately say that their singing is something wonderful. This is practically the same chorus that visited Paris during the great exposition in 1900 and completely captivated the hearts of the French, and they will undoubtedly succeed in swelling the proud hearts of their countrymen in the United States when the stirring melody of the Norwegian National Air rings upon the air.

They bring with them Norway's two greatest soloists, Rolf Hammer, the tenor, and Bergh-Hanson, the baritone.

The well known composer Grandahl is their leader and with his baton exercises control over them which is said to be simply phenomenal.

The Minneapolis Concert will take place in the new auditorium which seats 2,500 people and the scale of prices will be $1.00-$1.50-$2.00 per seat. People from out of town who wish to secure seats should send their orders before Monday, May 22, accompanied with money orders to Metropolitan Music Company, Minneapolis, Minn., and their seats will be selected in the order received.

POMPEIAN Massage Cream

Cleanse where Soap and Water Fail

Washing with soap and water makes the face look clean, but it cleans the surface only. It does not clean out the impurities in the skin that make it muddy and sallow. Pompeian Massage Cream goes through the surface. It sinks into every pore—reaches and loosens all foreign dirt and impurities that lodge in the pores. It is the only facial cream free from grease and that keeps the face free from it. Does not—cannot—promote the growth of hair on the face. Price 50c and $1.00 per jar.

Marquette the residence portion west of the town sustained the principal damage. The houses in the center of the tornado were all, with two or three exceptions, completely wrecked.

THE KOEH TRIAL

The State Closes its Case after Spirited Contest Over the Question of Brooks' Testimony

Mankato, Minn., May 5.—"Dr. Geo. R. Koeh is not the man I saw," said Ana P. Brooks yesterday afternoon to the jury, and upon the faith put in those words by the good man rests the fate of the young man whose life is at stake in this bitter fight.

Will the jury believe the New Union editor? That is the question which 14,000 people in Mankato are asking, and that is the question which 300 who packed the court room yesterday, including the defendant himself, sought to read in the faces of the jurors as they sat in their box listening and pondering.

He told his story, simply, frankly, smoothly and without hitch. He made a good witness, an excellent witness, in fact.

"Dr. Koeh is not the man I saw," he said, and then he spoke the words with firmness and positiveness of one in whose mind there is no doubt.

The cross-examination was fierce but it did not break Brooks one bit. Some of his testimony yesterday differed slightly from his former testimony at the last trial and before Justice Hennington, but he admitted it without explanation and let it go at that.

Mankato, Minn., May 6.—Dr. Koeh's attorneys began their assault yesterday afternoon on the strong chain of evidence, which the state has placed before the jury, and picked out an especially weak place to be attacked first, namely, the three of the state's star witnesses, Mrs. Caroline Dahms, Letta Weidemann and Edgar Dingler.

Dingler he proved to be a boy whose reputation for truth and veracity in the whole town is bad and who went about before the first trial, according to the witnesses examined, boasting that there was money in it for him.

They were successful in casting a portion of the blame of the testimony and the story of the madly rushing footsteps had such an air of uncertainty as to rob them of a great deal of weight with the jury.

Miss Weidemann's story of seeing Koeh in his office shortly before the murder, apparently placing something in his pocket, the proved improbable by men who had tried looking out the window from the woman's porch and who swore they couldn't recognize even a well-known friend.

The foot-prints were examined, and it was found that they were not Koeh's, but were 17. This is the question which the defense tried to answer Saturday and answer in this way:

There was no other's than the murdered man's handprint on the hammer. Was the hammer Gebhardt's?

Brooks thinks it was Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwede, a good old English and had to employ an interpreter, think that they once owned it, and that from their place, but a short time ago, they had moved to the grounds where Dr. Gebhardt and other members of the tennis association played, it might have found its way into the house.

Then to add to the impression left by these witnesses, Koeh's attorneys put on the stand E. P. Bpland, a well-known attorney, who years ago did the defense in the Koeh murder trial.

How a Woman Was Freed from Troubles That Had Made Life Wretched for Years.

The immediate causes of headaches vary, but most of them come from poor or poisoned blood. In ammonia the blood is scanty or thin, the nerves are imperfectly nourished and pain is the way in which they express their poison from the mucous surfaces, and the poison irritates the nerves and produces pain. In rheumatism, malaria and the grip, the poison in the blood produces ill discomfort. In indigestion the gases from the impure matter kept in the system affect the blood in the same way.

The ordinary headache-cures at best give only temporary relief. They deny the pain but do not drive the poison out of the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on the contrary thoroughly renew the blood and the pain disappears permanently. Women in particular have found these pills an unfailing relief in headache cases.

Miss Stella Brock recently said: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did me a great deal of good. I had headache nearly all the time. After I had taken three boxes of these pills I became entirely well."

"How long had you suffered?" she was asked.

"For several years. I can't tell the exact date when my illness began for it came on by slow degrees. I had been going down hill for many years."

"Did you have any other ailments?"

"I was very weak and had general nervous fever. My liver and kidneys were affected as well as my head."

"How did you come to take the remedy that cured you?"

"I saw in a southern newspaper a statement of some person who was cured of a like trouble by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My physician had told me my blood was bad, so I bought a box of these pills. After I had taken one box I felt so much better that I kept on until I became entirely well."

Miss Brock's home is at Leander, Louisiana. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists. Besides headache they cure neuralgia, sciatica, nervous indigestion, partial paralysis and rheumatism.

THE KOEH TRIAL

The State Closes its Case after Spirited Contest Over the Question of Brooks' Testimony

Mankato, Minn., May 5.—"Dr. Geo. R. Koeh is not the man I saw," said Ana P. Brooks yesterday afternoon to the jury, and upon the faith put in those words by the good man rests the fate of the young man whose life is at stake in this bitter fight.

Will the jury believe the New Union editor? That is the question which 14,000 people in Mankato are asking, and that is the question which 300 who packed the court room yesterday, including the defendant himself, sought to read in the faces of the jurors as they sat in their box listening and pondering.

He told his story, simply, frankly, smoothly and without hitch. He made a good witness, an excellent witness, in fact.

"Dr. Koeh is not the man I saw," he said, and then he spoke the words with firmness and positiveness of one in whose mind there is no doubt.

The cross-examination was fierce but it did not break Brooks one bit. Some of his testimony yesterday differed slightly from his former testimony at the last trial and before Justice Hennington, but he admitted it without explanation and let it go at that.

Mankato, Minn., May 6.—Dr. Koeh's attorneys began their assault yesterday afternoon on the strong chain of evidence, which the state has placed before the jury, and picked out an especially weak place to be attacked first, namely, the three of the state's star witnesses, Mrs. Caroline Dahms, Letta Weidemann and Edgar Dingler.

Dingler he proved to be a boy whose reputation for truth and veracity in the whole town is bad and who went about before the first trial, according to the witnesses examined, boasting that there was money in it for him.

They were successful in casting a portion of the blame of the testimony and the story of the madly rushing footsteps had such an air of uncertainty as to rob them of a great deal of weight with the jury.

Miss Weidemann's story of seeing Koeh in his office shortly before the murder, apparently placing something in his pocket, the proved improbable by men who had tried looking out the window from the woman's porch and who swore they couldn't recognize even a well-known friend.

The foot-prints were examined, and it was found that they were not Koeh's, but were 17. This is the question which the defense tried to answer Saturday and answer in this way:

There was no other's than the murdered man's handprint on the hammer. Was the hammer Gebhardt's?

Brooks thinks it was Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwede, a good old English and had to employ an interpreter, think that they once owned it, and that from their place, but a short time ago, they had moved to the grounds where Dr. Gebhardt and other members of the tennis association played, it might have found its way into the house.

Then to add to the impression left by these witnesses, Koeh's attorneys put on the stand E. P. Bpland, a well-known attorney, who years ago did the defense in the Koeh murder trial.

He said he was familiar with all the tools about the premises, but that he did not see the hammer, nor any old hammer.

County Attorney Emer Hoidele told of the much advertised card party in his office, which was held for the value as bearing on the case, but when he left his office with Brooks, Somson and Vogel he looked at his watch and saw it was 10:15.

The county attorney was called upon to contradict the New Union chief of police, and did so willingly.

Manly, May 10.—An earthquake experienced at Bender, Abbas, Verdun, and other places are reported to have been caused by a landslide.

Two hundred yards of the mountain Zhabang, behind the town collapsed, in the town a number of towers and buildings fell and there were a few casualties.

Shanghai, China, May 10.—Many reports are being received to the significance of the latest move made by the land in sending four of her best crews and five torpedo boats to Hong Kong, and to the fact that there are consist of fourteen war vessels including a battleship.

Clinton, Ind., May 10.—Following a highly contested republican primary, the opposing factions claimed that two of whom will die. Policeman Reid and Thomas McDonald tried to stop the fight, both sustaining serious wounds.

A Good Suggestion.
Mr. C. D. Walawright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by L. E. Breckenridge.

A Lesson in Health.
Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

What is Foley's Kidney Cure?
Answer: It is made from a prescription of a leading Chicago physician, and one of the most eminent in the country. The ingredients are the purest that money can buy, and are scientifically combined to get their utmost value. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

Time Tried and Merit Proven
One Minute Cough Cure is right on time when it comes to curing Cough, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. It is perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and is the children's favorite Cough Syrup. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

Strictly Genuine.
Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, well known engineer, running engine on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big picture, with a picture, when he was in the office to-day, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

Traveling is Dangerous.
Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, fishermen, carmen, teamsters and all who drive very much, suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. Geo. E. Hansen, locomotive engineer, Lima, Co., writes: "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure."
Foley's Honey and Tar is especially adapted for Asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75 cts. Take Hall's Family Pills for Constipation.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?
Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest, and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happy surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leeger of Yam Yam, Tennessee, U. S., writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain. For sale by L. E. Breckenridge."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.
"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says G. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harris, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by L. E. Breckenridge.

A Good Family Liniment.
Every family should be supplied with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, and similar injuries, which are of frequent occurrence, there is nothing so good. It soothes the wound, and usually gives instant relief from pain, but cures the parts to heal in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment. As it is an antiseptic, all danger from blood-poisoning is avoided. Sold by L. E. Breckenridge.

This kind of a Fellow doesn't know the difference between good lumber and poor lumber. He'd let a man gull him into believing that Red Cedar was White Pine or White Pine was Red Cedar.

But he's not the kind of a man we've been in the habit of dealing with, not the kind our stock was bought for. We are looking for the particular people, the man who knows just what he wants, who wants the best and also wants to get it for the least he can. If you happen to be that kind of a chap or know of one who is, do us the favor to come, or send him.

We will meet you half way.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not lowered and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a laxative and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Permanent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound straight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. It goes down the throat 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

ROCKCREEK, GA., Jan. 26, 1907.
Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent me the 25 cent sample for a sample getting so fast. They are looking up per cent better.
