DECORATION DAY. ENUMERATORS SELECTED.

To be Appropriately Observed in Pine City This Year.

With the advent of another year we find that our duty calls us to fitly observe the day of days in Grand Army circles, the time set apart and designated as the one on which we may all get together in commemorating the heroic efforts and noble deeds of the defenders of Old Glory, "the stars and stripes forever." It is a desirable year, more, it is urged that everyone with a spark of respect for the departed heroes, with love for the living veterans, will show their patriotism by some act becoming the true American citizen—be it ever so small.

As usual the exercises on Decoration Day of this year will be held on the 30th of May, which falls on Tuesday. Hon. Robt. C. Saunders will be the speaker of the day and a musical program will be rendered in connection. M. O. Gottrell has been appointed Marshal of the Day and D. Greeley will act in the capacity of aide-de-camp. The parade will start at 10 a. m. at R. R. hall and will march directly to Birchwood cemetery where the exercises will be held. Those wishing to participate in the parade will confer a favor by being in line at two o'clock sharp, and the line of march will be as follows:

Pine City Cornet Band, Fire Department, A. O. U. W., K. of P., German Society, Bohemian Order, Degree of Honor, School Children, Riverside Circle and the members of the Grand Army of the Republic.

They Were Married.

We saw a large two-seated top buggy gaily festooned with ribbons and streamers drive up to the German Lutheran church yesterday forenoon about 11 o'clock, and a couple, who had got so far along in the wedding business they needed the services of a preacher, entered and were made one by the pastor of the church, Rev. E. Kolbe. We learned later that the contracting parties were Mr. Otto Ranzow son of Wm. Ranzow of Sibley county, and Miss Albertina Bartels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bartels of Glenside. The newly-wedded parties will make their future home in Pine County, this state—Glenside Register.

We have not as yet ascertained the whereabouts of Mr. and Mrs. Ranzow's location in this county, but they nevertheless have shown good judgment in locating on this corner of the "footstool."

Viewing

We not only make high class portrait work, but have a special equipment for making all kinds of outdoor views. Don't you think a view of your residence or farm buildings would be appreciated by far away relatives and friends? We have excellent samples on display at our studio. Come to and see them.

A. D. SEELEY,
Pine City, Minn.

Will Get Busy the 1st of June and Continue One Month if Necessary.

The enumerators who will find out the population of Pine county have been appointed and will shortly receive blanks and instructions for their work.

According to the ruling of the state census bureau every woman in Minnesota will be required to tell her age to the enumerator who calls on her. All those who refuse this little request will be reported to the supervisor of the census, who will consider the advisability of taking the necessary steps to secure the required information.

There are blanks and blanks and more blanks and the job is not one to the liking of a drone. Daily and weekly reports will have to be made to the supervisor, stating the number of persons enumerated, those refusing to give all or any information, the number temporarily absent from home, the number who have been removed from the district, and other bits of information of more or less importance.

The enumerators will start their canvass on the 1st of June and have until the first of July in which to complete the work. They will be paid 2 cents per name, especially in the more thickly settled localities of the county. The following will act in the precincts named:

- Pine City: F. P. McKusick; Royaltown, John Lindgren; Pine City Town, Walter Stephan; Rock Creek, Geo. R. Clement; Chingwataana, Schuyler Kifer; Pokegama, P. H. Anderson; Mission Creek, Vincent Stephan; Brookpark, M. G. Scofield; Barry, John Blanchfield; Falsify, George Spier; Kettle River No. 1, Nels Halstrom; Kettle River No. 2, W. G. Gates; Windemere, John Ryden; Starwood Lake, Chas. Uppgren; Danforth, Angus Hay; Sandstone, Geo. Atkins; Kerrick, Andrew Gilberg; Bruno, W. C. Williams; Hinckley, A. Beckstad; Dell Grove, Ole Osland; Partridge, O. B. Dibble.

They Want the News.

Don't forget the reporter when you have an item. If your wife whips you let him know it and he will set you right before the public, if you have company tell him that, if you are not ashamed of your visitors. If a youngster arrives at your house and demands food and raiment, buy a quarter's worth of cigars and bring them around, and if you are a cash subscriber we will furnish you a name for him or her as circumstances warrant. If you have a social gathering of a few friends, bring around a big cake on loan, not necessarily to eat, but as a guarantee of good faith. These things are mentioned because the reporter wants the news.—Rochester Post.

MRS. ALBRECHT HONORED

By the Women's Reading Club at the Greeley Home Wednesday Evening.

Mrs. G. J. Albrecht, who is soon to leave for Minn. N. Dak. to reside, was guest of honor at a banquet given by the Women's Reading Club at the home of Mrs. Douglas Greeley, Wednesday evening. The affair was very exclusive, being for Club members only, and proved one of the swiftest affairs of the season. The gowns worn by the ladies were beautiful creations, and the dining room was magnificent in its decorations of beautiful yucca cactuses, roses and ferns. The entire house was lighted with numerous electric lights and the doorway leading to the front entrance was illuminated by Japanese lanterns.

Places had been arranged for twenty-six guests about the banquet board and not a chair remained vacant. Place cards with beautifully painted for-get-me-nots inscribed on one corner, decorated with gold were presented to the guest of honor as souvenirs of the occasion. Each lady's personal card was fastened with green ribbon to the place card with an appropriate sentiment written thereon, and these cards will ever serve as reminders of the high esteem and personal endearment in which she was held by her co-workers in Club circles.

- The menu consisted of the following named delicacies:
- Fruit Cocktail
 - Cheese Stick
 - Salted Almonds
 - Chicken Salad
 - Sandwiches
 - Olives
 - Assorted Cakes
 - Ice Cream
 - Coffee

Miss Bigler, who has been the Club president during the past year, sat at the right of Mrs. Albrecht and acted as toast mistress, while Mrs. Greeley as president-elect for the ensuing year, was seated at the left of the honored guest. Miss Bigler proved an excellent toast-mistress, and wit and humor, logic and sentiment, occurred freely in the toasts which were responded to as follows:

To the sentiment of "Pray Heaven our cheer may answer my good will and your good welcome here."

- A welcome... Mrs. J. D. Vaughan
- Our Departing Associate... Miss Susan Shearer
- Our Girls... Mrs. I. H. Claggett
- Our Absent Husbands... Mrs. J. Adam Bede
- The Hobbies We Ride... Miss Hilma Constantine
- Our Club Babies... Mrs. S. G. Le Roberts

Our Club... Mrs. D. Greeley To the sentiment of "That power is given us from above to ease life's heavy weight of care; by spoken word, by deeds of love, by deeds of kindness everywhere."—A. Farewell... Mrs. F. E. Smith

It was an evening long to be remembered as a most successful social event in local Club circles and the ladies did themselves proud in their undertaking, and still the occasion called for something unusually brilliant, something that would not die in the memories of anyone present, an affair that would recall pleasant recollections to the one "gone but not forgotten" and also to the ladies who remain to fight on for the high-roads of life in Pine City.

Mrs. Albrecht has always been an enthusiastic and ambitious worker for the Club and once held the highest position in the gift of the organization, that of president. Her retirement from the local field is keenly regretted but what is our loss is accordingly respectfully submitted to.

George Keyes Dead.

Dead—Geo Keyes at his home in Everett, Wash., of pneumonia, May 18. The old settlers will remember that Mr. Keyes married one of Pine City's fair daughters, Miss Lena Parnoch, ten years ago. He leaves a loving wife and two children, besides numerous friends to mourn his loss. The Pioneer sympathizes with the bereaved ones.

JIU JUSTSO.

A Brief But Sufficient Treatise on a New But Noble Art.

It frequently happens that a man finds himself in a position where he requires some simple and effective means of defending himself against a greater strength than his own. The following accurately explained rules will be found adapted to all forms of attack and defense.

If you are approached at any time in a suspicious manner by a seedy friend, be prepared for the fivea touch, and when the opponent extends the glad hand seize the hand above the wrist and twist the elbow out of joint. This will successfully foil the intended touch and decrease the likelihood of subsequent similar attacks.

Beware of the utter stranger who endeavors to speak to you at the railway station. If he looks you squarely in the face, take his nose between the thumb and forefinger of the right hand and twist it outward and upward until the tip touches the forehead. Should he attempt to strike you in the meantime (or anywhere else), trip him up and lay him gently but very politely upon his neck, taking care all the time to smile and ask after his family.

If you are met in a dark street by two thieves who approach you from opposite directions, take each one by the nose of the neck and bump their heads together. This is called the loko pokayo, and will result in causing a diversion, the two thieves attacking each other at once, thus giving you a chance to escape without ruffling or unfluffing your temper.

If the crowd in a street car becomes too dense for your comfort, just take the tip of the index finger and touch each of the ladies within reach under the chin. The ladies will draw back and give you all the room you desire. This is the famous kitchi kitchi.

Whatever happens, always maintain a cheerful and smiling countenance.

Should you kill your brother and a policeman comes to arrest you, lie in wait for him at the door of the parlor and as he enters, kick him in the knees with both feet at once, then swing his left arm twice around his waist, throw him up into the chandelier and leave him there. In bidding him farewell, avoid any touch of irony which might cause him chagrin.

If the father of the girl you are courting attempts to put you out at 1 or 2 in the morning, speak to him gently. Should he force his attentions upon you, give him tattapada, effecting it by seizing his upraised foot with the right hand and the collar of his dressing gown with the left placing your right foot against his stomach and thrusting him out the front door. These motions should follow one another so rapidly as to form practically one movement.

If while seated in a friendly game of poker an acquaintance draws a knife and tries to stab you in the heart, catch the point of his knife between the right hand and forearm and give it a short, quick twist toward your opponent's throat, then shove his elbow until the knife sticks out of the back of his head. This is called dagos and should be used only in extreme cases and then by an expert in Jiu Justso, as it requires a thorough knowledge of the art to restore your opponent.

If in the course of a little family altercation your wife should seize the rolling pin and attempt to brain you, advance toward her with calm self-assurance and a cheerful smile until just within range of the weapon. Hold the rolling pin within reach of her arm and as she swings the pin, duck and grasp her about the waist as the pin goes by. Lift her bodily and toss her over into the gutter, expressing the hope that she will enjoy the place.

If you should happen to awake in the night alone in the house and find the light of a dark lantern and the muzzle of a revolver in your face, backed by a vicious looking thug, throw up your hands and surrender, for Jiu Justso won't help you any.—New York Sun.

POMPEIAN Massage Cream

Cleanness where Soap and Water Fail

Washing with soap and water makes the face LOOK clean, but it cleans the surface only. It does not clear out the impurities in the skin that make it muddy and sallow.

Pompeian Massage Cream goes through the surface. It sinks into every pore—reaches and loosens all foreign dirt and impurities that lodge in the pores. It is the only facial cream free from grease and that keeps the face free from it. Does not—cannot—promote the growth of hair on the face.

ANOTHER GUESS COMING

He Lived Next Door, But Not in Any of the Four Points of the Compass.

An old lawyer tells, in the Brooklyn Eagle, the story of one of his experiences, years ago, in "cross-examination." The witness seemed to be unable to judge his questions.

"You say the lawyer, sternly, 'You need not state your impressions. We want the facts. Now, sir, answer me categorically.'"

"By that time, he could get little more than 'yes' and 'no' out of the witness. Presently I asked him, 'You say you live next door to the defendant?'"

"Yes."

"To the north of him?"

"No."

"To the south?"

"No."

"To the west, then?"

"No."

"I said the lawyer, sarcastically, 'You are likely at last to get down to the case real fast. You live to the east of him, don't you?'"

"No."

"How is that, sir?" the astonished attorney asked. "You say you live next door to him. Yet he lives neither the north, south, east nor west of you. How do you mean by that, sir?"

"I thought perhaps you were competent to form the impression that we live in a flat," said the witness, calmly. "I must inform you that he lives next door above me."

THE HABITUAL EXPRESSION.

Questions Which Many Persons in Exalted Business Positions Should Ask Themselves.

What kind of an expression do you wear habitually? asks Cresson Sweet-Marden, in Success Magazine. Is it sour, morose, repellent? Is it mean, stingy, contemptible, uncharitable, intolerant expression? Do you wear the expression of a building, a graying, greedy, hungry expression, which indicates an avaricious nature? Do you go about you wear the sunny expression, which radiates good cheer and hope, and indicates a feeling of good will and of helpfulness? Do people smile and look happier when you approach them, or do they wear a frown, and feel a chilly goose-flesh sensation come over them as they see you approach?

It makes all the difference in the world to you and to those you influence what kind of an expression you wear.

Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy kidneys. Healthy kidneys mean pure blood and good health all over the system. No woman with kidneys ever had female weakness.

If you have cream to separate a good Cream Separator is the most profitable investment you can possibly make. Delay means daily waste of time, labor and product.

Buying trashy cash-in-advance separators is penny wise, dollar foolish. Such machines quickly lose their cost instead of saving it.

DRINK THE CAUSE OF AWFUL TRAGEDY

MAN CRAZED BY LIQUOR KILLS FOUR PERSONS IN SAN DIEGO, CAL.

Fatally Wounds Another and Completes His Bloody Work by Blowing Off the Top of His Own Head.

San Diego, Cal., May 18.—Five persons are dead and one other probably will die as the result of wounds inflicted by a man supposed to have been crazed by liquor this city Monday. Those killed met instant death. The dead are: William Stewart, Harry Dorringer, H. W. Chase, W. P. Robinson, and Mrs. Emma Stewart. H. Dorringer was wounded and will probably die.

The series of tragedies was committed by W. P. Robinson, a house cleaner. About eight o'clock in the morning Robinson left his house at the corner of Fourth and A streets, and going to the corner of A and the same building occupied by Mrs. Emma Stewart, the landlady, and her son, William, rapped for admission. Mrs. Stewart, who had been seated at the door, was shot through the head by Robinson who had leveled a rifle Robinson then entered the dining room, where young Stewart, who had been seated at the table, Robinson attacked him immediately, plunging a long knife into his body, close to the heart, the blade plunging deep into the chest and again into the abdomen. At the second stab Stewart sank to the floor with blood pouring from his body in a stream.

Robinson calmly returned to the door, reloading his rifle and leaving his knife and, apparently, slipped a revolver into his pocket. Leaving his rifle in the room, he descended to the first floor, one portion of which is used as a carpenter shop by H. W. Chase. Chase probably saw Robinson enter, but did not know the man. Robinson approached close to him, and suddenly throwing up his rifle fired, the bullet entering Chase's breast close to the heart. The third victim died immediately.

From the carpenter shop Robinson proceeded on his bicycle down Fourth street for several blocks through the business section of the town, with the rifle still in his hand. He went directly to the house of W. H. Dorringer, northeast corner of Second and H streets. He left his wheel at the curb and ran up the steps to the front door, carrying his revolver in one hand and his rifle in the other. In response to his rapping, Harry Dorringer, son of W. H. Dorringer, and who is an engineer at the San Diego brewery, opened the door. Robinson immediately raised his rifle and fired, the bullet striking Dorringer in the chest and passing through his body. Death followed before medical assistance could be summoned.

Mrs. Dorringer, the young man's mother, hearing the shot, and perhaps witnessing the tragedy, ran screaming from the house Robinson, hearing the screams, started through the house again, the woman. As she was crossing the yard the crazy man caught sight of her and fired, the bullet striking her in the back. She fell headlong against the door.

Completes Bloody Work.

Robinson searched the house for the more people. When he came to the room just above the door, he climbed upon the bed, and placing his revolver in his temple, fired a bullet which tore off the top of his head. There is no doubt that he was thinking there had been ill-feeling between Robinson and any of his victims. Collector Dorringer says he never even saw or heard of Robinson before.

Memphis, Tenn., May 15.—A triple tragedy occurred here about dusk Sunday night, when Thomas McCall, a night watchman for the Illinois Central railroad, shot and killed Edith Ferguson and Hal Williamson. NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hamilton.—The state fair of 1905 will be held Sept. 4 to Sept. 9, inclusive, and will be the largest ever held in the United States. It will be much larger even than the great fair of 1904. The industry will be in charge of a superintendent, selected because of his competency and experience in that particular line, and each part of the fair will be given well-balanced attention. The fair will not be strong in some particulars and weak in others. It will be strong in all.

For instance, the great acceptances prize for creamery butter, which has for several years past attracted an enormous display at the state fair is this year, increased from $800 to $1,000.

Another interesting prize and a new one, is that of $100 in vegetables for exhibits of corn hauled and in stalk to be shown on a table three by six feet with wall space. This suggests the importance of the corn growing industry of Minnesota. An additional prize of $100 to county exhibitors, $2,000 goes to county exhibitors and $100 to the book.

The premium list is for free distribution. Anyone interested may obtain a copy by writing to E. W. Randall, State Fair Grounds, Minn.

Settled.

St. Paul.—Attorney General Young has made a settlement of the suit he commenced last January for the recovery of a half-section of timberland in the eastern part of Hubbard county. It was set up that the land had been erroneously appraised in 1903 by three citizens of Hubbard county and transferred to West & Bonness of Minneapolis. State Auditor Young found the land contained 1,500,000 feet of white pine timber.

Indians.

White Earth, Minnesota. Indians who are not included in the enumeration of the residents of the state to be made under the direction of the state census department. George Wright stated that the enumerators would be instructed to count only Indians who were entitled to the rights of suffrage. In the Leech Lake reservation a large number of the Indians have participated in the allotments of government money, which gives them the right of citizenship.

The great majority of the Indians of the state, however, are still wards of the government and the Indian reservations will be practically free from the invasion of the census enumerators. The agents of all Indian reservations have been asked for a complete statement to the number of Indians entitled to citizenship.

Life Insurance.

St. Paul.—Life insurance companies doing business in Minnesota had a doing business good year in 1904, according to the preliminary life report of Insurance Commissioner T. D. O'Brien, which will be out in a few days. This report shows that the net earnings of the legal reserve companies admitted to Minnesota were $117,347,138.18 as compared with approximately $30,000,000 in 1903.

The Minnesota department is one of the few insurance departments in the United States that prepares a statement showing the exact profit of each company, and the annual report of the Minnesota commissioner for this season is in demand among life underwriters of other states. The plan of the department is to have the names of the companies written in large letters by the Federal Insurance Commissioner E. H. Dorn and will be continued by Insurance Commissioner O'Brien.

Sugar Factory.

St. Louis Park.—Insurance adjusters at St. Louis are determining the loss of the Minnesota Sugar company. The only sugar will be the loss of the plant. The figures given out of the best growers, the company to the company, and the Mesquite Sugar company of Michigan, will take over all the sugar beets contracted for by the Minnesota company.

News Notes.

St. Paul. The Minnesota guardsmen may take part in the national rifle contest at Sea Girt, N. J.

St. Paul.—The Greenleaf Historical society holds a monthly meeting in honor of Judge Greenleaf Clark.

Minneapolis.—It was discovered that someone had broken into the basement of the Portland Avenue church of Christ, found a venue and Grant street, and stolen the children's birthday contributions, amounting in all to about $20, which were in a cabinet in the lecture-room.

St. Paul.—Mrs. Charles Sweetser celebrated their golden wedding, Mr. Sweetser was once a member of the legislature.

Rochester.—The public library of Rochester was built with a donation of $20,000 by Mrs. Walter Hurbit, in memory of her late husband, who passed away in California.

St. Paul.—The city and food department is to have a separate building for its laboratory, apart from the new state capital, according to the plans of the capital commission. The plans of the remains of Emil Janberg, the state hospital nurse who disappeared on the morning of April 30, were found today in a mile below Minneapolis, where he was last seen.

Actual Sterility in Women Is Very Rare—Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacement, ulceration and inflammation.

A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for twenty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in suffering, and in disappointments at birth.

The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Women's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me, and I am so glad to say that I am now a healthy, happy woman. I had a very strong and healthy one while I was using it. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, which is the pride and joy of our household. Every day I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the light, health and happiness it brings to our home."

If any woman thinks the life is sterile, or has doubts about her ability to carry a child to term, let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is free to all expectant or would-be mothers. She has helped thousands of women through this anxious period.

Women suffering with irregular or painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacement, ulceration, inflammation, or ovarian trouble, backache, bloating or nervous prostration should receive Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of women's ills, and accept no substitute.

Many Women Have Been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine.
