PINE COUNTY WINS.

Order for Judgment Entered for Payment of Taxes Delinquent on "Cut-Over Pine Lands."

A victory for Pine county has been scored in the district court in the proceedings to enforce the payment of taxes which remain delinquent upon the "cut-over pine lands" belonging to the Atwood Lumber Co., and J. H. Bean, trustee, at Kerick. The attorneys for the objectors in this case were Clapp & McCartney, and M. B. Hurley upheld the contentions of the county.

The objections raised by the proprietors of the lands effected related to taxes upon certain lands in the town of Kerick which were assessed at an average of $43.00 and $23.20 per acre according to their valuation in 1902. Between May 1st, 1902 and May 1st, 1903, the timber was cut and removed from said lands so that on the latter date the lands were what is commonly known as "cut-over pine lands," and were actually worth about $6.00 per acre. The assessed valuation of those lands for the year 1902 was taken as their taxable value for the year 1903. As no applications were made to the county board of equalization in 1903 to have such valuation lowered, nor to the state auditor as provided by law to have an abatement of the taxes made, the Court interposes that the facts presented by the county be upheld, inasmuch as the objectors have failed to avail themselves of the remedies provided by law for remedying their grievances.

The matter was on the calendar of the district court for trial at the general term held last April and was finally submitted on July 3rd following. Findings were filed July 6th, and Judge Crosby, to whom the case was submitted, concluded that the said J. H. Bean, trustee, and the Atwood Lumber Co., should be overruled and that judgment should be rendered against the pieces or parcels of land described in the answer for the amount of the taxes against the same with the penalties and disbursements. An order has accordingly been entered for judgment, and the taxes levied on the lands enclosed amount to $509.49, penalties and costs to be added.

MERITORIOUS IMPROVEMENT

Electric Light Plant to be Enlarged—Extensive Additions at the Flour Mill.

The Pine City Milling & Electric Co., under the able management of R. P. Allen, is soon to make improvements that will be advantageous to Pine City, who use electric lights, and to the farmers who wish a ready market for their grain.

The company has contracted for a new dynamo with a capacity of 750 lights, which will increase the capacity to a total of 1500 lights. The dynamo will be delivered here by the 1st of September. A new switch board will also be installed in the power house and the whole will practically constitute a brand new plant.

In order to increase the power a new drive will be added in the engine room so as to connect both engines, and sufficient power will be generated thereby to run both. Both mill and dynamo at the same time. Construction work has been going on for the past two weeks for the further efficiency and extension of the electrical wires, and a new heavy feeder will be extended from the mill west to the John Hunt residence. This work will be continued at convenient times until completed.

The improvements heretofore noted are necessary for the increasing demand of patrons for light. The new Hurley hotel building will necessitate 100 incandescent lights, and quite a number of new applications have been tendered the company.

In the milling department much of the labor now necessary for the handling of grain will be eliminated. A big rotary porch is being erected on the east side of the mill, and will be used for receiving grain, making it possible to handle grain more rapidly and in larger quantities. A receiving apparatus of large capacity is also to be added. Mr. Allen informed us that with this addition one man would be able to receive, elevate, store and issue checks for grain to the amount of 700 bushels per hour.

A big crop is expected this year, surely crop conditions point to that direction at present and providing expectations are fulfilled the mill will run day and night commencing October 1st.

DIES IN MISSION CREEK.

The Remains of Anna Drabek Found in the Waters of Mission Creek After a Rigid Search.

Miss Anna Drabek, daughter of Mrs. Jos. Drabek, residing about 3 1/2 miles northwest of this village was found dead in Mission creek. Her miles west of her home, Friday afternoon.

She left her home at about three o'clock Wednesday afternoon and when last seen alive she was leaving the Matt Youngbauer place, just west of the creek, at six o'clock of that evening. Her relatives became alarmed at her absence and Thursday morning her brother-in-law and several friends began searching the surrounding country, without success. A general alarm was given here Thursday evening, and a searching party of forty-two farmers left for the trail. Friday forenoon a party of Pine City men, consisting of A. E. Rice, H. Wickstrom, C. H. Laing, R. H. Blankenship, Wm. Rice, Dan Dosey, Louis Kowalke, and W. P. Gottry left in Mr. Wickstrom's launch. They went to the mouth of Pokegama lake, where they disembarked and began searching the woods to and from Pory's farm. There they met another searching party, a conference was held, and it was decided that the Pine Cityettes follow the Mission Creek bottoms southward and the other party go east along the main road from the creek to the girl's residence. It was also decided if found to fire three shots from a revolver.

A. F. Rice first struck the trail in the bushes, and the party soon reached the spot where the unfortunate young lady lay. Mr. Rice discovered the remains on the west bank of the creek, opposite the Lenart place. About two inches of the right shoulder was all that remained above the water's surface, and from all appearances she had met her death while in the clutches of an alligator fish, which she was subject to, often having as many as three or four fits during a day. She had been married at St. Anthony Park. At the home of her sister, Mrs. Valzoria Whitney, 47 Hunt Street, St. Anthony Park, on Tuesday July 11th, 1905, Miss Rosella McAdam and Mr. Alfred P. Hansen were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Edwin Pressy.

The ceremony was performed under a large bell formed of oak leaves and the house was very beautifully decorated with palms, Easter lilies, carnations and sweet-peas.

The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Whitney, of St. Anthony Park, as Maid of Honor, and the best man was Mr. Frank C. Thornston, cashier of the First National bank, at Benson. The bride and maid wore gowns of White Battiste with Valenciennes trimmings. The bride carried bride's roses and the maid red roses. The groom and best man wore the conventional suit of black.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Frances Edridge on the piano, and Miss Kehort, of Ashland, Wis., on the violin. They also played "Hearts and Flowers" during the ceremony.

The bride is well and favorably known in this place, being the second daughter of Angus McAdam who lives about three miles southwest of this place. She was educated in the school at this place, and taught two years in Pine county, but for the past three years she has been teaching in North Dakota.

The groom was raised at Benson, Minn., and is a graduate of the State "O" in the law class of 1900, but at the present time is a banker at Litchville, North Dakota, where he is doing well.

After the ceremony a reception was given to the twenty-five guests assembled. Miss Aila Cox, of Cannonwealth avenue, and Miss Ed Edige assisted in the dining room, and Miss Tetulla Forszen served frap-

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

The Band Stand in the Park Has Been Neglected—Why Not Repair it for the Band?

"Why not have a band concert in our beautiful and attractive park every week or so?" is a question that we have heard about town on more than one occasion.

Pine City now has a band that any town in the state could well be proud of, and our citizens and visitors would listen to its concerted strains with exceeding pleasure.

We have interviewed the leader of the band, Mr. Clazgett, on this question and he is perfectly willing to do what he can and is much in favor of the proposition providing the stand in the Park is put into proper condition.

The bandstand should be inclosed with wire screen and a number of electric lights should be installed.

The consummation of these concerns is very desirable. Our citizens need the pleasure and the Band needs the practice. The Pine City Band is a meritorious organization and it should be popular, but it must needs encouragement; it has labored well to develop into its present high grade and it should be recognized to the best advantage for itself and the village which it ought to represent advantageously.

The village council has the power and surely could appropriate the necessary amount for the advent of those conditions for which we are pleading and for which a majority of the inhabitants of this place are in favor of having.

It is the duty of every citizen to advance the interests of his town, and none should be adverse to an appropriation for repairing anything so useful and beneficial to the town as the band stand should be.

Give a lift, speak to your councilman about the matter; entuse your neighbor as yourself should be enthused, and we will have an electric lighted and a mosquito net band stand, with a band concert every week or so.

CUPIID SCORES VICTORY

Miss Mary R. Barnum and Mr. Livingston Sellers Happily Wedded Wednesday. A Brilliant Social Affair.

One of the prettiest and most popular weddings ever witnessed in Pine City occurred Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Barnum, when their daughter, Mary Rosamond, and Livingston Lang Sellers, of Minneapolis, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. J. J. Parish, pastor of the M. E. church, read the services that made them man and wife.

At about two o'clock the principals and their supporters marched down the stairway and stationed themselves in front of a huge bank of ferns, flowers etc., in the sitting room, where the ceremony was performed. Their march was accompanied with the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding composition, appropriately rendered upon the piano by Miss Jessamine Allen. After this impressive portion of the ceremony Mendelssohn's spring song, "I for You and You for Me" was sung by Arthur Olsen.

The bride wore a beautiful cream colored Henrietta dress trimmed with pearls. She carried a beautifully arranged shower bouquet of sweet peas and forget-me-nots. The maid of honor, Miss Kate Barnum, wore a lavender dress and carried lavender dahlias. Miss Winifred Brown, of Minneapolis, was the bridesmaid and wore white organdie and carried scarlet dahlias, Messrs. Elbert Barnum, a brother of the bride, and Wm. Rose, of Duluth, acted in the capacities of best man and groomsmen respectively. After the wedding ceremony Miss Allen rendered Mendelssohn's Wedding March, while the guests tendered their congratulations and best wishes to the bride and groom.

A light luncheon was served immediately after the nuptials, and frappe was served by the Misses Emma Axtell and Minnie Parish. Mrs. A. W. Piper assisted in receiving the guests, numbering about fifty of the family's more intimate friends.

Numerous pretty and valuable wedding gifts were tendered Mrs. and Mr. Sellers. The presents were tastefully arrayed in the north room, known as the doctor's office, and attracted no little attention.

The happy young couple departed for Minneapolis on the afternoon following. The bride was attired in a neat traveling gown made up of a dark green silk, trimmed with lace. They will remain in Minneapolis until next Tuesday, when they will depart for Duluth, Wash., to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Sellers are both well known and highly respected by a host of friends in this village. The bride is an accomplished young lady who has resided with her parents in this place since her childhood. The groom was born in this place but removed from here to Minneapolis several years ago, where he has since made his home.

We join with their many friends in sincerely wishing them a long and happy journey over life's tempestuous sea.

Those from abroad who attended the wedding were, Mrs. John McMath, and daughter, Lillian, Misses Winifred and Gail Brown, all of Minneapolis; Will Rose, of Duluth, and Mrs. A. M. Nasou, of Rush City.

Mrs. Charlotte Hoyt Forgot Her Family When Making Her Will

HAS STOOD THE TEST OF THE COURTS

The Woman Had Been a Poor Girl But Became the Wife of Two Millionaires, Both of Whom Treated Her Handsomely When Divorces Were Granted.

Timin, O.—Because he was the lover of Mrs. Charlotte Hoyt, the wealthy and abandoned wife of Reuben M. Hoyt, of New York city, a millionaire manufacturer of perfumes, Judge J. F. Bunn, a lawyer of this city, by the verdict of the jury in the Hoyt will case, justified in the courts here, has come into the possession of an estate valued at $200,000. Except as the affianced husband, Judge Bunn was in no wise related to Mrs. Hoyt, whose death occurred two years ago at her beautiful suburban home. "The Maples," in this city. To give him her fortune, she disinherited her sister, Mrs. Eva E. Hill, and her stepbrothers, Frank and Rufus Guss, and other relatives. The case was one of the most interesting will contests ever tried in the courts of northern Ohio. The hearing occupied over three weeks. Engaged in it were over a dozen lawyers, some of them was eminent in the bar in Cincinnati, Toledo and Timin, and during its trial the courtroom was crowded. The evidence brought out a story that was not only interesting, but romantic in many of its features. Charlotte Hoyt at the time of her death was only 35 years of age. She had wedded two millionaires and had traveled the pace that none else was beautiful and cultured and surrounded

CONDEMNED MURDERER AND BIGAMIST REPRIEVED IN NICK OF TIME

Gov. Densen Acts When Assured Case Will Be Carried to Supreme Court, and Postpones Hanging Until August 25.

Chicago, July 29.—Gov. Densen at 12:40 o'clock Friday granted Johann Hoch a reprieve until August 25, when the appeal of his case will be taken to the state supreme court. Mrs. May Wilson, known for her efforts to keep Hoch out of prison, started the train of events which eventually brought the governor's order for a stay by appearing at the county jail and pleading insanity to a writ of habeas corpus for taking Hoch's case to the supreme court. On this vague promise Mr. Densen made a telephone request that his client's case to the supreme court be delayed 70 days. Meanwhile Attorney Albert T. Thompson, a friend of Isadore Plotko, counsel for the bigamist, appeared on the scene in the role of a specialty of German widows, now $10 bills toward the "Hoch defense fund." The receipt of this money, coupled with Plotko's promise to take his client's case to the supreme court, led State's Attorney Healy to call the governor for the reprieve, and it was granted. It was 12:50 o'clock when Jailer Whitman, his face beaming with happiness, entered the death chamber and officially notified Hoch that he had been granted another lease of life. Hoch, at that time, was only 35 years of age and had been sentenced to the mandate of the circuit court.

Five Murders Charged. Five murders, in addition to the crime of wholesale bigamy, are attributed to Johann Hoch. The victims were his wives, and arsenic was the agency that ended their lives. According to the police investigation of his career, made matrimony his source of living for nearly ten years, Hoch, who had married five times, was a member of the German widows of the working class, whom he wedded and deserted after obtaining their savings. Of the earlier history of Hoch and the marriage incident thereto little is known, but he confessed to having had 11 wives, six of whom are living. The wife who died and who he is accused of having murdered are: Huss, Mrs. Jacob—Married in Wheeling, W. Va., in 1877; died in three months, leaving Hoch $2,500. Stolbrecker, Mrs. Julia—Married in Chicago August 5, 1885; died leaving Hoch $4,000. Buecher, Mrs. Henry—Married in Cincinnati in March, 1887; died shortly. Becker, Mrs. Mary—Married in St. Louis in 1902; died after a two days' illness. Weicker, Mrs. Marie—Married in Chicago December 10, 1904; died January 12, 1905.

Hoch began his career in Chicago in 1892. In that year he married and lived under the name of C. A. Mayer. His wife, whose name is unknown, died three months later. Last Episode His Undoing. The particular matrimonial episode that led to the unmasking of Hoch as "Hochberg" was his marriage last December to Mrs. Marie Weicker, owner of a candy shop at Willow and Larrabee streets. After an illness of 23 days, which was exhibiting the symptoms of arsenical poisoning, a week later Hoch married the sister of his newly buried wife, and deserted her shortly afterward and the case then was reported to the police.

January 19 last, the day following the charges made against Hoch by another sister of Mrs. Weicker, Hoch disappeared with $750 which his new wife had given to him. He was captured in New York January 30.

Deficit Sealed Down. Washington, July 31.—The monthly statement of the government receipts and expenditures, which will be issued by the treasury department on August 1, will show the receipts for July, 1906, to have been approximately $45,000,000, expenditures about $2,800,000, leaving a deficit for the month of $12,800,000. The deficit last July was $13,500,000.

Call for Barbed Wire. Des Moines, Ia., July 28.—One of the most urgent calls for harvest hands registered in this city came from North Dakota, where a local employment firm was notified that 1,000 men were wanted in that state to harvest the wheat crops.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

For the Week Ending Aug. 1. The Hamlet of St. Henry, near Celina, O., was almost destroyed by fire. The plant of the Lambert (Miss.) Stores company burned. Loss, $40,000; insured. President Roosevelt will visit Portsmouth during the conference of the peace envoys. Emperor William seeks to unite Norway, Denmark and Germany in a new kingdom. More than 1,500 Chicago freight haulers threaten to go on strike unless their demands are granted. The receiver of the recently closed Farmers' bank at Spring Valley, O., announces an apparent shortage of $12,000.

Fire destroyed the Missouri Grain company's elevator at Moberly, Mo., containing a large amount of grain. Loss, $200,000. Capt. Stewart started the train of events which eventually brought the governor's order for a stay by appearing at the county jail and pleading insanity to a writ of habeas corpus for taking Hoch's case to the supreme court. On this vague promise Mr. Densen made a telephone request that his client's case to the supreme court be delayed 70 days. Meanwhile Attorney Albert T. Hoch, at that time, was only 35 years of age and had been sentenced to the mandate of the circuit court.

Senator Depew has returned from Europe, and declares he will give out a statement soon showing his connection with the Equitable society's affairs. Fearing bombardment by the Japanese, the commandant of Vladivostok has ordered all able-bodied citizens to take the winter season. George T. Moore, physiologist and algeologist of the department of agriculture, Friday tendered his resignation to Secretary Wilson and it has been accepted. A row boat carrying Miss Anna McBride and Carroll Powers was swept over the dam at the Elkhorn river near Norfolk, Neb., and the occupants were drowned. Dell Stewart, ex-mayor of Osceola, Ia., and formerly district judge in Iowa, died at a hospital in Portland, Me., as the result of an operation. Death was sudden and unexpected.

By an overwhelming majority the Zionist congress, in session at Basle, Switzer, decided to accept the offer of Great Britain of a tract of land in East Africa for the formation of a Zionist colony. Sixteen-year-old Estel Payne, while catching in a baseball game between two amateur teams at Nashy Corners, Ia., was struck over the heart by a foul ball. He threw the ball back to the pitcher and dropped dead. There is great rejoicing in Toluio over the success of the Sakhalin expedition, and the landing at Kradlamp lighthouse is regarded as the first entry of the Japanese army into Russian territory proper.

Chicago finds herself over-run by an army of outlaws as a result of the teamsters' strike, which called the police off patrol duty, and the daily mid-summer crime calendar is as long as it is in the winter season. The Japanese navy department announces the rescue of the crew of the German steamer Cecile, which is grounded off Cape Horn, and is expected to be rescued. Four Germans, two British subjects, one Norwegian and 36 others were saved. Joseph Moyer, pawnbroker in Detroit, Mich., was attacked by thieves who caught him alone in his office. The thieves got away with about $600 in money and property, $1,000 worth in diamonds. They left Moyer unconscious and he died later.

A sudden rise of 25 feet of water in the canal much alarm among river farmers and tenners. The lowlands were submerged to a depth of three to five feet, and the growing corn crops on these lands, roughly estimated at a value of $250,000, will be a total loss.

MINNEAPOLIS.—Final official census figures place the population of this city at 281,974. It is a gain of 50,255 since the federal census of 1900. The gain is the greatest of any five-year period in the history of the city. Secretary of State Philip H. Hanson announced the returns, after the final checking had been done. The showing of an increase in population is surprising to the most sanguine enthusiasts in the matter of the city's growth. The most hopeful hardly dared to make advance estimates much closer to the actual results than 5,000 under the figures.

ST. PAUL.—What is probably the only automobile in use by a rural mail carrier in the country leaves here every morning for New Canada and vicinity. Gerhard Melchior, in his enterprising spirit who has introduced this innovation in the method of serving the patrons on his route, and he can be seen starting out on his route in the morning at 9 o'clock every morning.

THE MEANS OF LOCOMOTION.—An important one for the state in Minnesota, as he must make his daily tour in all kinds of weather, and he naturally tries to complete his round as quickly as possible. He is naturally a horse man and keeps well shod. If one of the horses goes lame or is otherwise disabled he is put to great inconvenience, and perhaps considerable expense, to get out for the sick horse and hiring a substitute.

NO MORE BATTLE. Minneapolis.—There will be no further battle in Minnesota between the independent oil companies and the Standard Oil of railroad rates. The Standard is not objecting to the recent ruling made by the railroad and warehouse commission whereby the roads were ordered to carry oil shipments in barrels in less than carload lots at the same rate granted the Standard on its tank cars; and at a meeting of representatives of all the railroads doing business in Minnesota, held at the office of the attorney for the Northern Pacific in St. Paul, it was decided not to appeal from the ruling of the standard, as the commission, so far as the railroads are concerned.

NEWS OF MINNESOTA.

Hymns to Minnesota. (By Permission of Jas. E. Cahoon, Author and Composer.)

O Minnesota, land unto the flag of the free, Happy thy youths and thy beautiful meads. Reared mid thy valleys, thy woods and thy glades. Father of rivers and mother of lakes, Grandest and noblest of all our states.

The Indian o'er prairies no longer roams; Huddled there are with most beautiful. Hushed is the war-ery at Anthony's falls, "Hail" sings instead of the "Varsity Hail."

"Hail, Hail-mah," yes, the roar is the same. Bringing to State and the varsity fame. Oreat are thy statesmen and warriors bold; Courses and wisdom and wit they unfold. Great are thy mills and thy mines and thy farms; Commerce and schools, and mechanics great is thy nature and great are thy aims. Hail unto thee, yes, again and again. Father of rivers and mother of lakes, Grandest and noblest of all our states.

Will Not Have to Borrow. St. Paul.—It looks as though it will not be necessary for the state treasurer to borrow money to make good the increasing overdraft in the general revenue fund.

During the past week the fund received about $50,000 as the result of the purchase of state capital certificates with state school moneys. Now the shortage in the general revenue account is accordingly decreased to $300,000. Though the deficit will be materially increased again, there is something over $600,000 in county taxes, due June 30, still unpaid. Of this amount nearly $250,000 will enter into the general revenue fund, and the balance may be used on overdrafts.

Counties which have as yet failed to send in their taxes to the state are Hennepin, Ramsey, St. Louis, Beltrami, Clearwater, Fillmore, Carlton, Hubbard, Lake, Kanabec, Otter Tail, Pine and Sherburne.

Use Automobile. St. Paul.—What is probably the only automobile in use by a rural mail carrier in the country leaves here every morning for New Canada and vicinity. ST. PAUL.—What is probably the only automobile in use by a rural mail carrier in the country leaves here every morning for New Canada and vicinity. Gerhard Melchior, in his enterprising spirit who has introduced this innovation in the method of serving the patrons on his route, and he can be seen starting out on his route in the morning at 9 o'clock every morning.

THE MEANS OF LOCOMOTION.—An important one for the state in Minnesota, as he must make his daily tour in all kinds of weather, and he naturally tries to complete his round as quickly as possible. He is naturally a horse man and keeps well shod. If one of the horses goes lame or is otherwise disabled he is put to great inconvenience, and perhaps considerable expense, to get out for the sick horse and hiring a substitute.

NO MORE BATTLE. Minneapolis.—There will be no further battle in Minnesota between the independent oil companies and the Standard Oil of railroad rates. The Standard is not objecting to the recent ruling made by the railroad and warehouse commission whereby the roads were ordered to carry oil shipments in barrels in less than carload lots at the same rate granted the Standard on its tank cars; and at a meeting of representatives of all the railroads doing business in Minnesota, held at the office of the attorney for the Northern Pacific in St. Paul, it was decided not to appeal from the ruling of the standard, as the commission, so far as the railroads are concerned.

261,974. Minneapolis.—Final official census figures place the population of this city at 281,974. It is a gain of 50,255 since the federal census of 1900. The gain is the greatest of any five-year period in the history of the city. Secretary of State Philip H. Hanson announced the returns, after the final checking had been done. The showing of an increase in population is surprising to the most sanguine enthusiasts in the matter of the city's growth. The most hopeful hardly dared to make advance estimates much closer to the actual results than 5,000 under the figures.

NEWS NOTES. Moorhead.—It has been decided to hold a carnival and harvest festival in this city for four days, beginning Aug. 23. A committee from the Commercial club, including Messrs. Dalby, Kiefer and Wright, have charge of the arrangements.

Virginia.—Little Anthony Koberker, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Koberker, is lost in the woods north of here, and searching parties are searching for the land.

HOCK.—Suit for $30,000 for personal injuries by falling over an obstruction in the street has been started against the village by Jesse Reynolds of Minnesota last.

ST. PAUL.—George Phillips, a bridge foreman, is fatally injured by a fall and dies while on the way to the hospital.

PINE CITY, MINN., Aug 4, 1905.

It strikes this lot of dust rather strangely that so many of our exchanges are everlastingly extolling the advantages of Minnesota and at the same time booming Canadian soil in a manner that should tend to fill up that King's country in the course of a very short time.

The red men have been a long time in getting what some of our white brothers have not yet acquired, viz. civilization, and the Little Falls Transcript says that reports from assessors who listed this property in the Rosebud and Clay emerald reservations show that the Sioux Indians are possessed of the following luxuries:

- 220 telephones.
- 18 automobiles.
- 9 hearses (used as carriages).
- 25 pianos.
- 10 organs.

Add to these the forty-seven divines secured by Indians during the past year and it can not be denied that the Sioux have become apt pupils of the white man.

"Thine thine and out" is the final result of the famous fight trial. After two discharges, the third trial was brought to a satisfactory ending (for the defense and his following) at Mankato Tuesday evening, after a legal siege lasting nearly a month. Eloquent and learned lawyers were pitted against each other on either side, and if the jury did not encounter a "Chinese puzzle" during the greater part of the proceedings they were either men of unordinarily brilliant intellect or they allowed the flow of legal tact to flow through their craniums like oil through a greased tube. Money talked in the three famed trials, and although the alleged murderer is declared absolutely innocent, a great many who followed the case closely will always have an opinion that the jury party was freed.

A Warning to Mothers.
Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be resorted to with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by L. R. Breckenridge.

APPREHENSION.
A Story That Is Now Going the Rounds in Army and Navy Circles in Manila.

A veteran of the Mindanao campaign, says the Manila Volcano, was telling the other evening at the Army and Navy club to lieutenant Army and Navy clubs from the states, young in years and young in commission, of the curious animals to be found in that island.

"One of the strangest creatures I saw there," said he, "was what we called the 'red devil.' It was the identical part of the red devil pleated ham, only it had no fork to its tail. It was in color a brilliant red. It had hands, feet and horns and stood erect, walking with a military bearing, which, if possessed by an officer on regimental parade, would attract great attention. We caught one but it couldn't stand captivity and died."

"What was the matter?" asked the young lieutenant solicitously after a painful pause.

"Apprehension," ironically answered the veteran in sorrowing tones.

"Apprehension! Pray, for what?"

"Apprehension that it might receive high promotion." And the veteran faltered for the slice of orange in the bottom of his glass.

TAKEN FOR A DEAD MAN.
Predicament of a Tired Reporter Who Overleaps Himself and Becomes Very Much Alive.

A newspaper man of this town who talks all day Saturday and until late Sunday morning, and who lives a considerable distance from town, fell too tired Sunday morning to take the long journey home and went to a prominent hotel, says the Wheeling Intelligencer. Having a clear conscience and good health he slept the deep, sound, sweet sleep that was coming to him. Along about 3 o'clock he awoke lazily and heard a conversation at his door which startled him. "I tell you," said an agitated voice, "I tried four times to awaken him and he never answered. I tell you I believe the man's dead and we had better break in the door."

"Then came the noise of forcing a lock, and the newspaper man realized the situation and yelled:

"If you come in here disturbing my sleep—you'll find the blindest live dead man you ever saw."

He was allowed to sleep.

He put his right hand in the shuttle to adjust some part of the machinery and in same manner the needle of the binder penetrated the joint of his forefinger. The needle was forced through the joint and a knot was tied on the opposite side of his hand, necessitating him to undergo the slow and painful process of extracting the limp fabric by degrees. He was brought to Pine City, where the laceration was properly attended to by Dr. Baranum.

Thrice vanquished by the Pine City ball team and with blood still noticeable in the eyes of the defeated, the Hinckley ball players are to have one more try-out with their victorious neighbors, and Sunday afternoon the Barringtons will be seen in uniforms upon the Hinckley diamond. They will be on their mettle, and will fight to do or die. Manager Webster has faith in his boys, which is illustrated by the manner in which he issues his defies. Pine City defeated Hinckley with apparent ease on two different occasions, and won by one point on another occasion in a listless and apparently lifeless contest. Both teams will be in fit condition Sunday and will battle from start to finish.

Minnesota State fair has such a colossal offering been scheduled for the entertainment of the public. Ben-Hur is unquestionably the grandest play in the history of the American stage and will surely be an attractive drawing card for the Fair.

The scene of all scenes in the great religious drama, "Ben-Hur" is the miracle on Mount Olivet, with which the performance terminates. This scene shows the reunion of Ben-Hur, his mother and sister after the passing of Christ into Jerusalem. The mother and sister of Hur, who were stricken with leprosy have been cleansed by the Nazarene, they are surrounded by a wondering multitude, singing praises to Jesus of Nazareth. In this incident of the drama Christ does not appear as a personality. The curtain rises on gathering of the multitude, who came out of Jerusalem to worship Him, waving branches of palms and singing anthems. The lepers appear guided by Amrah. Christ, passes higher up the Mount of Olivet. The afflicted ones raise their hand to Him in supplication and a great shaft of wonderfully brilliant light, suggestive of His presence falls on their heads and they are healed.

In the book the tale embraces the story of the crucifixion. This incident could not, of course, have a place in any dramatic presentation except the "Passion Play," performed at Oberammergau, every ten years as a religious rite. Ending with the miracle scene, the drama of "Ben-Hur" maintains the religious interest of the story in a most remarkably effective way, at the same time treating it with the utmost reverence and respect.

The music introduced is wonderfully beautiful and impressive and equal to that heard in Grand Opera. As the final curtain falls a chorus of over 200 voices sing in canon form, "This is Jesus of Nazareth" with the great orchestra render the theme "The Star of Bethlehem." Ben-Hur is unquestionably the grandest play of modern times and promises to remain so for many years to come.

EXCLUSION NEW STYLE

The shades of night were falling fast
As through the Alpine village passed
A youth with long brown hair and blue
A banner with the stars and stripes
What is the score?

His brow was sad and it was moist,
Far from the clamor of the feet,
And like a silver clarion ring
The accents of the mountain tongue.
What is the score?

In happy homes he saw the light,
And hoped they were't benighted quite,
But none would tell him, hence he mused,
As from his lips escaped the word.
What is the score?

"Try not the pass," the old man said,
"Dark lower the tempest overhead."
And vainly asked of maled and men,
What is the score?

"Beware the pine tree's withered branch,
Beware the wolf's availed,"
Could that mean Casey at the bat?
Again he asked where he was at.
What is the score?

The pleas mocks upon the bright
Abed faintly if they heard aught,
A voice cried through the startled air,
Uttered the off-putting prayer,
What is the score?

There in the twilight, cold and gray,
Lifeless, but beautiful, he lay,
Still hearing in his head of feet
That banner with the strange device,
What is the score?

Those Silk Pajamas

YOU must have left those two suits of pajamas in New York," said Mrs. Blinks, in answer to her husband's anxious inquiry.

"Nothing of the kind," he replied, positively. "After I packed my grip I looked in every bureau drawer and in every corner of the room, and I didn't find even a cake of soap behind."

"But, my dear, I unpacked your grip when you came home and the pajamas were not in it," Mrs. Blinks said, with equal conviction.

"Well, I know I packed them, and they were in my grip when I came home. It makes no difference now what you did with them. We must find them. That is the important point."

If they had pursued the subject any further it is quite likely that Mr. Blinks would have stayed down town to dinner that night instead of coming home, and perhaps there would have been a coolness in the family for several days. As it was, both of them tried to forget the incident, and after each had time to swallow some unsaid speeches, the subject was dropped.

A week later Blinks was called to Chicago to meet his father and brother on a business matter, and his brother's object was to pull from his grip the missing suits of pajamas, with the remark:

"These must belong to you. They came back to me at my hotel after you left New York that time, and I forgot to send them to you."

Blinks was sorry then that he had accused his wife of losing these night-garments, and he put them carefully away in his grip.

When he arrived at his hotel that evening at the station on his way home, he cunningly took the silk things from his satchel, and bestowed them in his overcoat pockets.

He knew that Mrs. Blinks would unpack his grip the next morning, and he would rather embarrass her than to have the fact of the missing pajamas known. He hid the pajamas in the bottom of that bureau drawer which was sacred to the apparel of his wife.

"She'll find them there soon enough," thought Blinks, "and then she'll think she did unpack them, after all. It won't do any harm to let her find out that she is mistaken once in awhile."

It was several weeks afterward that Mr. Blinks was awakened one morning by hearing his wife moving about the room. She opened the bureau drawer in search of something, and suddenly she drew the guilty pajamas from their hiding place. With expressions of great astonishment she suddenly put them back again. Blinks saw his opportunity.

"What's that you were looking at just now?" he inquired, sternly, rising in bed.

"Why, dear, I didn't know you were—"

"Of course, you didn't," Blinks interrupted, "and you were looking at my silk pajamas that you have been hiding so long. Will you please tell me, now that you have been found out, what reason you had for concealing them from me?"

"Why, dear, I don't know what to make of it. I'm sure they were not in your grip when I unpacked it, but I must have been mistaken. I don't know how I happened to put them in my drawer. I'm awfully sorry."

Blinks was in a humor to make it very strong.

"Hereafter please don't contradict me when I tell you anything. I know what I was talking about when I said I saw those pajamas. We'll say no more about it."

During the next week Mrs. Blinks was ideal. Not alone their honeymoon had she shown him so much attention and respect, but she was beginning to think that he was the greatest strategist in the world. He might still be thinking so, but—

The next morning the door bell rang before breakfast and the father and brother were admitted. As they came they were seated pleasantly before their strawberries the father suddenly remarked:

"By the way, John, did Frank ever send you those pajamas you left in New York?"

Mrs. Blinks looked up quickly to find her husband's face very red. Before he could speak the brother added:

"Oh, yes, I gave them to him when he met us in Chicago. Don't you remember?"

John could not speak. Mrs. Blinks saw through his deception and a look of great peace came over her face. She spared him any further mention of the subject at breakfast and when the folks had departed the next day and she found herself face to face with her husband alone she looked at him calmly, eye and soul with terrible meaning:

"I'm going down town this morning to get me a new hat."

"All right, dear," Blinks answered, meekly.

"It may be rather expensive," she continued, thoroughly sure of her ground.

"All right," Blinks hunched, "I'll have them send the bill to you," she remarked, carelessly.

Blinks nodded his head. He had nothing further to say. It was coming to him and he got it.—Kansas City Star.

DUMB, SPEAKS IN INSTANT

Dear, He Is Able to Hear, Creating a Great Surprise in Large Crowd of Argentina, Kan.

Kansas City, Mo.—This village has been the scene of a wonderful miracle. The deaf was made to hear, and the dumb to talk in an instant in sight of many.

Murphy, an itinerant beggar, was before Police Judge Trowbridge of Argentine, Kan. The officer who arrested him showed an old letter to swallow some unsaid speeches, the subject was dropped.

A week later Blinks was called to Chicago to meet his father and brother on a business matter, and his brother's object was to pull from his grip the missing suits of pajamas, with the remark:

Dick—Well, probably if he hadn't taken so much time the police wouldn't have caught him.—Judge.

THE DEAR FRIENDS.

Miss Falconer—Doesn't that Spoonall make you tired? I asked him the other evening what made him so lackadaisical, and he sighed and said it was because he lacked a daisy to brighten and sweeten his life.
Miss Jellens—No wonder you don't like that. He knows your name is Rose.—Chicago Tribune.

A Suggestion to Russia.

The czar has decided not to hire soldiers to build another navy for Russia. At this distance, says the Chicago Record-Herald, it looks as if the czar might well pay somebody to gather up such remnants of a navy as Russia still has and take it so far away that it could never possibly get back again.

SMILES

Going and Coming.

"What!" ejaculated the tourist, "you are going to leave me alone on this precipitous peak if I do not pay you five pounds?"

"Yes, m'lain."

"But when I asked what you would charge to take me to the top of the peak you said five pounds."

"And now you are trying to make me give you an extra five pounds. It is robbery!"

"Does m'lain think that we are going to take him down the peak for nothing?"—Houston Post.

Misunderstood.

"Murphy," said the old gentleman, "that young man who had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was cough when the other chap remained too late, and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?"

"Yes," replied the beautiful daughter, "he said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops."—Tribune.

Olden—Why don't you get married, my boy? You're old enough.
Younger—Yes, but there are difficulties in the way.
Olden—What are they?

A Statement Questioned.

"Remember," said the earnest citizen, "that a public office is a public trust."
"I shouldn't say that," answered Senator Sorghum, "owing to our peculiar political system, there are very few of these that can be made as lucrative as a trust."—Washington Star.

"No, all right. I'm married. Well, I don't see anything here on the bill that's cold enough for a hot day in July, except hot potatoes and coffee. Harry, run along will you. They are bound to be cold for the time I get em."

"The waitress went away, still without seeing the customer. He called her back. Here," said the customer, "that was just a joke. I want a boiled dinner. What'll you take to laugh the next time you get funny?"

"Cholorform," said the waitress, as she started for the kitchen.

ULCERS FOR THIRTY YEARS.

Painful Eruptions from Nerves to Feet Seemed Incurable Until He Used Cuticura.

Another of those remarkable cures by Cuticura, after doctors and all else had failed, is testified to by Mr. M. C. Moore, of Gateway, Texas, in the following letter: "For over thirty years I suffered from painful ulcers and eruptions from my knees to feet, and could find neither doctor nor medicine to help me. I used Cuticura, Soap, Ointment and Pills, which cured me in six months. They have kept me well ever since. I used them, and I am glad to write this so that other sufferers as I did may be saved from misery."

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. Buy the pure, clean, natural, flavored.

LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use the LION COFFEE because it's the best coffee. Use the LION COFFEE rather than the "low" coffee. Use a tablespoonful to each cup, and use extra hot water. Put milk in with a little cold water, even to make cold coffee, add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1. With BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2. With COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3. Don't boil it too long. It will be ruined if boiled more than ten minutes before serving.

4. Don't use water that has been boiled before.

5. With Eggs. Put part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

6. With Sugar. Water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE. Prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, (Lead-locks on every package.) (Save these Lion-Receipts for valuable premiums.)

Death of Aged Person.

Miss Kate Roach died at the home of her nephew, Jas. Caroon, at Rock Creek, Wednesday evening at about 7:30 o'clock. The cause of her death was old age.

Miss Roach was born in County Meath, Ireland, 87 years ago. She came to this country at the age of 25 years, and has been living with her nephew for the past ten years. Four years ago she moved to this country, together with Mr. Caroon and family. Her only other relatives are Dick Caroon and family, also of Rock Creek.

She had been ailing during the past month, but was able to sit about the house up to the day of her death.

Miss Roach was a devout Christian woman, and her remains were buried from St. Mary's Catholic church, with interment in Calvary cemetery this (Friday) morning. Rev. Fr. Koerner officiated at the services.
