When indigestion becomes chronic it is dangerous. KODOL Dyspepsia Cure will cure indigestion all troubles resulting therefrom thus preventing Catarrh of the Stomach. Dr. Newbrough, of Leaven, W. Va., says: "I have those suffering from indigestion or sour stomach I would say there is no better remedy than KODOL Dyspepsia Cure. I have prescribed it for a number of my patients with good success." KODOL Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

Memorial Day at Hinckley.

The committee on arrangements for September 1st, our Memorial Day have all plans about completed. The speakers for the day will be Hon. Moses E. Clapp and Rev. E. C. Clemans, D. D.

The complete program is not obtainable but the committee assure that the day will be fittingly observed.

There should be a large attendance at these exercises.

The friends and relatives of some of Pine county's foremost citizens lost their lives on the day of that great disaster that destroyed so many homes and caused so much grief and suffering and it is fitting that we observe their memory—Hinckley Enterprise.

Resolutions.

PINE CITY, Minn., Aug 29, 1905.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, by His own decree, to remove from amongst us our beloved sister, Mrs. Anna Blankenship, therefore be it

Resolved: That we, the members of Pine City Lodge No. 126, D. of H., extend to the mourning household, family and relatives our heartfelt sympathy.

And be it further Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Lodge, a copy thereof sent to the bereaved husband, a copy sent to the A. O. U. W. office, and a copy to each of the local papers for publication.

Great Remembrance of the Lodge.

"Several years since my wife was so badly afflicted that I had many consultations," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I recommended it in advanced stages of kidney trouble. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the diseased kidneys sound so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. For sale by J. Y. Breckenridge."

Tuxedo Topics.

State Librarian John E. King and family are booked for a visit to the Club immediately after the state fair.

J. W. Cooper, (second vice president of Griggs, Cooper & Co.) and wife, are due to arrive on Saturday.

Bishop H. Schreiber and family, of St. Paul, have closed a month's stay at the club, and went home to prepare for the school year.

Wm. B. Klein, of St. Paul, (and Paris) is the latest accession to the club, and is likely to prove an active and vigorous element in its future prosperity.

Father Koerner, of Pine City, is a frequent visitor at the club, and is making arrangements to hold the annual outing of the Catholic society at Turxedo.

Nels Enga, the well known grain commission man of Minneapolis, and family, have engaged a cottage for a September visit to the club. He is an enthusiastic fisherman and sailor.

The Misses Prendergast, of St. Paul, have returned for another stay at the Club. The denizens of St. Elmo cottages often observe the nimble launch of the county attorney in the offing.

Major Cooley has sighted another "Channel Burg" on his life course, and calculates that if he don't get around or strike a "dualhorn" he will pass it at 3:22 p. m. central time, Saturday, Sept. 2d. Of course there will be "doings."

W. S. Paterson, the well known dealer in farm machinery, of Watertown, S. D., accompanied by his wife, have engaged a cottage for September. He expects to be joined by a number of Watertown friends, including Judge Countryman.

Frank S. Webster, manager of Hotel Willard, and Frank B. Fox, manager of The Plymouth, St. Paul, with their wives, occupied a cottage last week. They claim to have had a most enjoyable outing, and are going to make the Club their annual headquarters.

H. T. Quinlan and family completed a two months sojourn at the club, and intend to leave for St. Paul on Sunday. He has asked for the refusal of the same cottage for next summer. Mrs. Quinlan may return for a week or two, after placing the children in school.

The sailing yacht "Lois" has exceeded all expectations, being remarkably fast, comfortable and safe. She is a dry boat in working to windward, and under the skillful handling of Major Cooley has been a source of pleasure to the guests of the club.

Paul Wright and family, who have been at the Club for a month, left on Wednesday. Mrs. Wright went to her home in Chicago, to place the girls in school, while Mr. Wright will probably return to the Club. He has been greatly benefited and is enthusiastic in his comments on the Club management.

The Club has been a popular place for "honeymoons," quite a number of young couples having selected it as a desirable place to get acquainted with each other. The latest arrival was Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Gullickson, of Park River, North Dakota, who assert that between the fishing and the sailing (both new experiences) they have had the time of their lives.

REDUCED FAIR RATES

A Rate of Fair and a Third for Round Trip to Pine City.

Stations Between Twin Cities and Moose Lake on Schedule.

A rate of one fare and a third for the round trip has been made by the N. P. R. Y. Co. for the Pine county fair which is to be held at Pine City the 25th, 26th and 27th of next month.

This rate affects towns along this line from St. Paul and Minneapolis on the south to Moose Lake on the north.

The tickets are to be sold September 25, 26, 27, the final return limit being Thursday, Sept. 28th.

Word bearing news of this rate effect was received by D. Greeley, secretary of the Association, Wednesday, and it is expected that an immense attendance at the Fair will be the outcome of the railway officials' courtesy.

LOG DRAG MAKES ROADS.

Fine Illustration of How Every Township in Pine County Could Have Good Roads at Little Cost.

Thief River Falls News: There has been a great deal of talk in the papers of this section of late regarding the merits of the split log drag in the building of good roads. They are so simple and cheap to make that every farmer could have one by a small amount of energy, but we have heard of only one in operation.

Charles Elgestun, of the town of Rockabury, has used a split log drag from his farm on the east side of the river north to Greenwood cemetery, the city limits of Thief River Falls. As all will remember, this road has always been a very rough clay road, and in wet weather almost impassable. By the use of only a split log drag this piece of road has been converted into one of the best highways in the state of Minnesota, and the cost of getting it in this fine condition has not been great.

In Missouri, where the split log drag originated, each farmer runs one from his own front gate to his neighbor's front gate towards town. If the farmers around here would get the "Missouri habit" we would soon have fine roads, and Mr. Elgestun has demonstrated that the split log drag is all right.

Honored by Neighbors.

Saturday evening a very enjoyable affair occurred in this burg, when something over 100 of our citizens met at the new warehouse of our enterprising merchant, A. M. Challen, to tender a surprise to J. P. Holmberg and wife.

Mr. Holmberg has been operator and station agent at Rock Creek for the past fifteen years, and had always been regarded as a permanent fixture, and it was a surprise to everybody to present an elegant leather cushioned easy chair to Mr. Holmberg, and a set of silver spoons to Mrs. Holmberg as a token of regard. The presents were purchased by the contributions of their many friends.

After the presentations, to which Mr. Holmberg feebly responded, the company sat down to an elegant spread, and at the conclusion shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Holmberg and bid them "bon voyage" in their new undertaking.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." Soda Water Unhealthy? Not at All!

The big medical books, the U. S. and the National Dispensatories, say that it is a grateful drink to feverish patients, lessening nausea, or distress of the stomach, always thirst for better than water alone, and the quantity taken need only be regulated by the reasonable wishes of the patient.

That Ought to Settle It!

If a sick person can be allowed to drink it as desired, a well person certainly has the same privilege.

Prof. P. G. The authorities have forbidden the use of Hyde Park, London, by motor cars during the afternoon of July 10. The term motor-cars includes electric trams and carriages, which is rather hard on the large number of fashionable people who have replaced their horse-drawn carriages by the modern vehicle. The reason given for this decision is the increasing danger to the occupants of the numerous horse-drawn carriages.

There is a spot in the United States of Colombia where a five-mile ditch would connect the Atlantic ocean with the waters of the Pacific. Indeed, there is a spot there in the province of Choco, where a little home-made canal did exactly this thing over a century ago. It is written in history and can be found in wall-to-wall magazines that natives passed in their canoes from the waters of the Atlatzo to the Rio San Juan by means of an artificial cut.

The results of the census of the Russian empire, taken eight years ago, have just been published and give the total population of Russia at 125,689,683 inhabitants of whom 62,512,638 are men and 63,177,045 are women. The number of illiterates is returned at 99,670,438, or 79 per cent. of the population. As to the several classes, the moujik, or peasants, are numbered at 12,896,648 and the middle classes at 16,392,292 persons, while the members of the nobility are given as 1,350,255.

Probably the picture of John Paul Jones most familiar to the public is the one representing him on the deck of the Bonhomme Richard with a pair of huge flintlock pistols in his belt. Those same pistols, their authenticity beyond doubt, are now owned in Evansville. They were not only once the property of the great admiral, but were the ones he used when, with the Bonhomme Richard, he defeated the British sloop Serpents and gained for the then infant American navy its first victory.

"From what I have seen in continental hospitals, I am of the opinion that in one year radiolium will be used in all hospitals that catch cancer in all its forms," said Hugo Lieber, the discoverer of the wonderful radiolium substance used at Flower hospital, as he landed from the Motika, after a three months' tour of Europe. Mr. Lieber visited the principal hospitals of England, France and Germany at the request of the great physicians to explain the use of this radiolium substance, which have cured cancer at Flower hospital.

Japan is very harsh on her defeated officers, both naval and military. During the present war to the far East a naval lieutenant who failed to carry out a task set him was positively told by his chief to cover his disgrace by committing suicide. A shot was struck on the side of the lieutenant's waist, and behind this was placed an armband and a table. On the latter was a sharp knife, wrapped in a piece of clean paper. The lieutenant bowed to his superior, went behind the sheet, ran to a chair and placed up the knife and committed suicide.

THE EASTERN WAR NOW AT AN END

THE ENVOYS SUDDENLY ARRIVE AT AN UNEEXPECTED AGREEMENT.

Japan Eedes from her Claim of Indemnity and Russia Retains the Internal Warships. Triumph for President Roosevelt.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 28.—The peace conference arrived at a complete accord yesterday on all questions and decided to proceed to the elaboration of a treaty.

The Japanese practically yielded everything. They accepted the Russian "ultimatum," no indemnity and a division of Saghalien without payment of redemption money. The Japanese also yielded the interned warships and the limitation of naval power.

The delegates met yesterday afternoon and the actual work on the elaboration of the treaty was begun. Peace was practically concluded at the morning session. In the final struggle the Russians won the victory. For the sake of peace the Japanese, with a magnanimity worthy of heroic deeds, yielded to the Russian ultimatum of the car and abandoned the demands in controversy. Everywhere there was a delirium of jubilation.

Terms of Peace.
Russia to pay no indemnity in any case to Japan for cost of war.
Japan to divide land of Sakhalin with the late foe.
Recognition of Japan's control over Korea.

Cession to China of Manchuria by Russia, with recognition of "open door." Obligations on the part of both Russia and Japan to respect the integrity of the Chinese empire, carrying out the Secretary Hay's policy in the Far East.

Chinese-Eastern railroad from Port Arthur north to pass under Japan's supervision.
Japan to succeed to all the Russian rights on the Liaotung peninsula.

Interned Russian warships in various ports to be returned to Russia.
No restriction to be placed by Japan on Russia's naval strength in the Far East in the future.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 30.—The happy conclusion of the conference, which a week ago would have been shipwrecked had it not been for the heroic intervention of President Roosevelt, was sudden and dramatic. For the sake of peace, Japan, with the magnanimity of a victor, at the last moment yielded everything still in her hands.

Russia refused to budge from the ultimatum Emperor Nicholas has given to President Roosevelt through the medium of the Russian envoys. Under any guise, but an agreement to divide Sakhalin and reimburse Japan for the maintenance of the Russian prisoners were his last words.

They have been repeatedly reiterated in M. Witte's instructions and last Wednesday they were delivered to Baron Komura yesterday morning.

M. Witte said to the conference declaring he was powerless to change the dot of an "i" or the cross of a "y" instructions. Emperor Nicholas' ultimatum had been given to him by President Roosevelt, the head of a foreign state.

The president could do nothing with Witte. He urged him to pay Japan something. Witte refused and the car refused also when the president proposed that the Russian prisoners be given to him by Baron Komura working against him in this country.

He goes home with the glory of settling a war that has ravaged the Russian empire, driven Russia out of territory she had grabbed, as if his country was the suffering loser instead of the conqueror.

The Russians are jubilant. They came here with nothing to lose and everything to gain, and they practically defeated their own terms. The hard-headed business man, M. Witte, who the czar so wisely picked out for his envoy, although besought by people in his own country, in England, France and America, and although personally begged by President Roosevelt, to pay some sort of an indemnity, stubbornly and persistently refused. He won. It must be said he did not expect to win, for he seemed almost struck when Baron Komura waived the indemnity. Although Witte is a peace man, he would have allowed the war to go on indefinitely before he would par a cent of tribute.

Baron Komura, following the rule he has set himself, declined to make any statement, and Mr. Takahira only would say when asked to make statements.

"For the sake of humanity and civilization, and in the interest of both countries and the world we have made peace."

IN FEVER'S GRIP. "THE LADY OR THE TIGER?"

George Attacks Village in Louisiana—Nearly 900 Persons Sick—Situation in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Aug. 24.—Yellow fever conditions within New Orleans are now completely overwhelmed by those without the city. While the fever in the city is subsiding to some extent, the situation in the country districts is less promising and both the board of health and the marine hospital service now have their hands full in trying to send adequate assistance to these settlements which are rife with the disease. Scarcely a day passes without the report of some newly infected point and unless doctors and nurses are sent from here there is no assurance that the fever will not spread.

The worst nest thus far discovered is located near the mouth of Bayou La Fourche, where nearly 2000 people of the settlement of 3000 people have been infected and where a number of deaths have occurred. Only one doctor is on the scene and his difficulties are increased by the fact that the settlement lies on two banks of a rather wide stream.

New Orleans, Aug. 26.—If all houses are properly disinfected and screened there are reasonable hopes of a complete cessation of yellow fever on or before October 1. Was the message of hope given by Surgeon White to a meeting that filled St. Paul's Episcopal church and where a number of prominent citizens were present. If the citizens will but do this, the doctor said, they will deserve the commendation of the civilized world.

New Orleans, Aug. 29.—The fifth week of the fight against yellow fever began Monday with a continuance of favorable conditions and with reason for the late foe. That the crisis has passed is as follows: New cases, 45; total cases to date, 1,783; deaths on Monday, 6; total deaths, 200; cases under treatment, 151.

JAIL IS STORMED BY AN ANGRY MOB

NEGRO ACCUSED OF ATTACK ON WHITE WOMAN TAKEN FROM THE PRISON.

His Captors Hang Him from a Bridge in Newbern, N. C., and Then Fill His Body with Bullets—Perpetrators Unknown.

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 28.—John Moore, a negro, 20 years old, was taken from Craven county jail in this city early Sunday morning and lynched by a mob of 100 masked men armed with rifles and revolvers. With his hands tied behind him, the negro was led out about a third of a mile from the jail to the draw of Neuse river bridge, hanged to one of its braces and his body ridged with bullets. As soon as the attack was discovered the naval reserves were called out to attempt to prevent the lynching. Crowds rushed to the bridge. Sheriff J. W. Biddle was quickly on the scene, pleading that Moore be left to the law, but his efforts were unavailing, and the mob carried out its plan.

Moore entered the country store of George Eubanks at Clark's seven miles from Newbern last Friday, when the proprietor's wife was the only one in the store. The negro attempted robbery, and struck Mrs. Eubanks on the head with a meat ax, fracturing bones and inflicting injuries which if they do not prove fatal, will at least cause no suffering, but lifelong suffering.

Mrs. Eubanks screamed, and people came to her rescue. The negro fled, but was captured in a swamp after a chase of a few miles, and was placed in jail.

HOCH SAVED AGAIN.

Judge Grants Stay of Execution and Illinois Supreme Court Will Review His Case.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Johann Hoch has been saved from the gallows once more. Within the hour of his execution, only 24 hours away, and the jail carpenter hammering together the timbers of the scaffold from which he was to be dropped to death at 10 o'clock Friday morning, word was received from Springfield by Sheriff Barrett and Justice D. B. Maguire, of the Illinois supreme court, that had issued an order for a writ of superseades, and that the writ had been issued Thursday by the supreme court.

Hoch's case will be reviewed at the October term of the supreme court, but a final decision probably cannot be had much before next April. He will remain in the county jail until then.

Hoch was sentenced to death June 1, the date of the execution being fixed for June 23. Gov. Denon reprieved him until July 28, when a second reprieve was granted until August 25 after Attorney A. H. Thompson had given $500 cash to the fund necessary for the making of the record. The funds necessary to complete the record in his case and secure a full review of the evidence by the supreme court were furnished by Hoch's new counsel.

DISASTER AT SEA.

Big Wave Strikes and Sinks Vessel Off Florida Coast—Twenty Sailors Drowned.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 29.—The American steamship Peconic encountered a fierce gale early Monday off the coast of Florida. Twenty of the crew of 22 were drowned. The ship was struck by an enormous wave, the cargo shifted and the ship sank. Two of the crew, an Italian and a Spaniard, secured the life-boat and landed on Amelia beach about noon and told the story of the disaster. The vessel was laden with coal from Philadelphia to New Orleans.

Spanish War "Vets" Meet.
Pindley, O., Aug. 29.—The second annual camp of the United States Fish War Veterans was inaugurated here Sunday, and will continue three days. Ohio is the largest department in the United States, and arrangements have been completed to accommodate 10,000 visitors. Gov. Herrick addressed the assemblage in the afternoon.

Fell from a Balloon.
Cahokia, Ill., Aug. 29.—Releasing his grasp on a trapeze attached to a parachute the latter opened to the wind 1,200 feet above the ground. John Williams, 38 years old, has been dashed to his death at Red House park, near here. Eyewitnesses say the body was broken as Williams struck the ground with fearful force.

Hodgenville, Ky., Aug. 28.—Abraham Lincoln's birthplace, a historic home, was on Monday sold at auction to R. J. Collier, of New York, who probably bought as an investment. The price paid for the property is not more than it would bring for farming purposes.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Johann Hoch has been saved from the gallows once more. Within the hour of his execution, only 24 hours away, and the jail carpenter hammering together the timbers of the scaffold from which he was to be dropped to death at 10 o'clock Friday morning, word was received from Springfield by Sheriff Barrett and Justice D. B. Maguire, of the Illinois supreme court, that had issued an order for a writ of superseades, and that the writ had been issued Thursday by the supreme court.

Hoch's case will be reviewed at the October term of the supreme court, but a final decision probably cannot be had much before next April. He will remain in the county jail until then.

Hoch was sentenced to death June 1, the date of the execution being fixed for June 23. Gov. Denon reprieved him until July 28, when a second reprieve was granted until August 25 after Attorney A. H. Thompson had given $500 cash to the fund necessary for the making of the record. The funds necessary to complete the record in his case and secure a full review of the evidence by the supreme court were furnished by Hoch's new counsel.

DISASTER AT SEA.

Big Wave Strikes and Sinks Vessel Off Florida Coast—Twenty Sailors Drowned.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 29.—The American steamship Peconic encountered a fierce gale early Monday off the coast of Florida. Twenty of the crew of 22 were drowned. The ship was struck by an enormous wave, the cargo shifted and the ship sank. Two of the crew, an Italian and a Spaniard, secured the life-boat and landed on Amelia beach about noon and told the story of the disaster. The vessel was laden with coal from Philadelphia to New Orleans.

"THE LADY OR THE TIGER?"

George Attacks Village in Louisiana—Nearly 900 Persons Sick—Situation in New Orleans.

New Orleans are now completely overwhelmed by those without the city. While the fever in the city is subsiding to some extent, the situation in the country districts is less promising and both the board of health and the marine hospital service now have their hands full in trying to send adequate assistance to these settlements which are rife with the disease. Scarcely a day passes without the report of some newly infected point and unless doctors and nurses are sent from here there is no assurance that the fever will not spread.

The worst nest thus far discovered is located near the mouth of Bayou La Fourche, where nearly 2000 people of the settlement of 3000 people have been infected and where a number of deaths have occurred. Only one doctor is on the scene and his difficulties are increased by the fact that the settlement lies on two banks of a rather wide stream.

New Orleans, Aug. 26.—If all houses are properly disinfected and screened there are reasonable hopes of a complete cessation of yellow fever on or before October 1. Was the message of hope given by Surgeon White to a meeting that filled St. Paul's Episcopal church and where a number of prominent citizens were present. If the citizens will but do this, the doctor said, they will deserve the commendation of the civilized world.

New Orleans, Aug. 29.—The fifth week of the fight against yellow fever began Monday with a continuance of favorable conditions and with reason for the late foe. That the crisis has passed is as follows: New cases, 45; total cases to date, 1,783; deaths on Monday, 6; total deaths, 200; cases under treatment, 151.

JAIL IS STORMED BY AN ANGRY MOB

NEGRO ACCUSED OF ATTACK ON WHITE WOMAN TAKEN FROM THE PRISON.

His Captors Hang Him from a Bridge in Newbern, N. C., and Then Fill His Body with Bullets—Perpetrators Unknown.

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 28.—John Moore, a negro, 20 years old, was taken from Craven county jail in this city early Sunday morning and lynched by a mob of 100 masked men armed with rifles and revolvers. With his hands tied behind him, the negro was led out about a third of a mile from the jail to the draw of Neuse river bridge, hanged to one of its braces and his body ridged with bullets. As soon as the attack was discovered the naval reserves were called out to attempt to prevent the lynching. Crowds rushed to the bridge. Sheriff J. W. Biddle was quickly on the scene, pleading that Moore be left to the law, but his efforts were unavailing, and the mob carried out its plan.

Moore entered the country store of George Eubanks at Clark's seven miles from Newbern last Friday, when the proprietor's wife was the only one in the store. The negro attempted robbery, and struck Mrs. Eubanks on the head with a meat ax, fracturing bones and inflicting injuries which if they do not prove fatal, will at least cause no suffering, but lifelong suffering.

Mrs. Eubanks screamed, and people came to her rescue. The negro fled, but was captured in a swamp after a chase of a few miles, and was placed in jail.

TAKES A PLUNGE IN THE PLUNGER

President Roosevelt's Experience on Board a Submarine.

Makes Descent of Forty Feet to Bottom of Long Island Sound—Craze Is Then Put Through Many Maneuvers—Delighted with His Trip.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 26.—President Roosevelt, his Friday afternoon, made a descent of Long Island sound on board the submarine torpedo boat Plunger. He was aboard the vessel about three hours. At one time the little boat was submerged for 50 minutes, and in that time was put through all of the submarine feats of which she is capable. The president expressed his delight at the novel experience, and said that he was immensely impressed with the boat and with the manner in which she was handled.

Assured of Safety.
The president's intention not only to make a personal inspection of the tiny vessel, likely to prove so deadly in naval warfare, but to make a submarine descent in it, was reached after a conference with Lieut. Nelson. The Plunger's commander, who explained to the president the operations of the boat and assured him that a trip on her and a descent into the depth of Long Island sound would be as devoid of danger as was the trip on a New York subway express train.

The special trial of the boat with the president on board took place between three and six o'clock Friday afternoon in Long Island sound. Just off the entrance to Oyster Bay. As soon as the president had descended into the boat, the man-holes were closed and, consoled by the naval officer, the Plunger started for the sound. No maneuvers were attempted until the vessel was well beyond the entrance to the bay. A stiff northeast breeze, which had been blowing since Thursday night, kicked up a heavy sea in the sound, but the Plunger behaved beautifully. The water under the surface is about 40 feet deep, too shallow, in the opinion of Lieut. Nelson and his experts, to enable the vessel to do her best work.

Goals to the Bottom.
Soon after the vessel reached the necessary depth of water she was directed downward until she rested on the bottom of the sound. Then the mechanism of the craft was explained to the president by Lieut. Nelson, so that he afterward experienced no difficulty in understanding the manner in which the vessel was operated. The president then, resting on the bottom of the sound in a submarine boat, a storm 40 feet above him was whipping unmercifully. The rain descended in torrents and the northeast wind rapped the surface of the water into big rollers, but he was as quiet and peaceful where the president sat as an easy chair could be.

Explanations of the working of the vessel having been completed, Lieut. Nelson began to put her through her paces. From the bottom, porpoise diving was tried, that is, the boat would ascend to the surface of the sound for several seconds, long enough to enable her commander to sight any warship that might be within view, and then dive again immediately. After this maneuver had been repeated a few times, the Plunger was sent down a distance of 20 feet to the surface, and her engines stopped. Then the engines were reversed and the boat ascended to the surface. Backward Lieut. Nelson's boat, he held the remarkable feat of diving to a depth of 20 feet and while going at full speed at the depth, reversing her course. The complete cycle was only one minute. Subsequently, the engines were stopped and the vessel was submerged to a depth of 20 feet. There she was kept motionless, a demonstration of her ability to remain in that position for hours while awaiting an opportunity to launch one of her torpedoes at a vessel of the blockading squadron which might be passing, or repeating a given point. After many manuevers had been performed, Lieut. Nelson ordered all lights on board to be extinguished to demonstrate how thoroughly the members of his crew knew their vessel, which he worked perfectly in the full darkness, evidently with as much skill and ease as they performed their duties in the glare of the electric light.

During the operations of the Plunger, the tender Apache remained within a short distance, prepared to render any assistance that might be necessary. She was not needed, however, and the Plunger returned to her moorings, near the J. West Roosevelt pier, without an untoward incident. The president shook hands with all the crew as he left the vessel to return to Sagamore hill.

President Delighted.
In describing his experience President Roosevelt expressed great satisfaction with the manner in which the tiny vessel was handled. He remarked particularly on the possibilities of the submarine torpedo boats in actual warfare. He related the details of his experience with the vessel, and how necessary it was to have the members of his family, was aware of the president's intention to take the trip. The Plunger, except of course, Lieut. Nelson.

MANY FLOOD VICTIMS.

Twenty-Five or Thirty Lives Lost as Result of Cloudburst in Colorado.

Trinidad, Col., Aug. 26.—A cloudburst in the vicinity of Hodge canyon, through which ordinarily a small stream of water runs, converted the canyon into a raging torrent through towns of Berwin and Tabasco, wrecked everything in its path and drowning numbers of persons. The property loss is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars, suffered mostly by the Colorado Fuel & Iron company and the Southern Railway company.

The Colorado & Southern branch line to Berwin was washed away and a heavy volume of water rushed down the canyon all night, making it impossible to penetrate to the point where the loss of life is said to have occurred. Rumors are in circulation that 12 to 20 houses were swept down the canyon and 25 to 35 lives were lost.

According to information received from Hastings Friday possibly 14 persons were drowned in the floods at Tabasco, 16 miles north of Trinidad.

A telephone message from Hastings Friday afternoon stated that 18 persons were killed or missing. Six bodies have now been recovered, among them being a woman with the body of a six-months-old child clasped in her arms.

Rich Widow Shot Dead on Fashionable Residence Street in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Effie Mize, 53 years old, a wealthy widow who came to Chicago recently from New York and was stopping at the Del Prado hotel, Fifty-ninth street and Washington avenue, was shot and killed shortly after 3:30 o'clock last night by a highwayman who accosted her in front of the residence of Alderman Frank J. Bennett, near Washington avenue, and after thrusting a revolver in her face, demanded her money. In company with Mrs. Mize at the time was Mrs. P. A. Wilson of Lee Cruz, N. M., who is also a guest at the hotel. Mrs. Wilson ran the moment she realized the man was a highwayman, but instead of following her example Mrs. Mize grappled with the robber. She fought desperately for a moment, and realizing that he was in danger of being captured, the highwayman tore himself loose and stepping back a few paces fired two shots. One bullet struck Mrs. Mize in the heart and the other shattered her right wrist. She fell to the sidewalk and was dead when residents attracted by the shooting arrived. The murderer escaped.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE AND WAR ON YELLOW FEVER

THRILLING PHASES OF THE BATTLE BEING WAGED IN THE STRICKEN DISTRICTS OF LOUISIANA.

A CLASH OF ARMED FORCES IS THREATENED

Exciting Incidents in Which the Governors of Two States Figure—Federal Government in Charge Directing Scientific War on the Disease and the Mosquito.

New Orleans, La.—The shotgun quarantine which has prevailed in the southern states bordering on the fever-stricken districts of Louisiana has been one of the exciting and spectacular features of the outbreak of the scourge this year. Refugees from New Orleans and the other Louisiana towns to which the yellow fever has appeared have been hemmed in with gatling guns and muskets in the detention camps along the coast or near the state lines of Mississippi, Texas and Alabama. Great railroad and steamship transportation lines, extending around half a continent, have been "shut down" so far as New Orleans and all Louisiana are concerned. Passenger traffic is paralyzed, and even the freight traffic is affected.

In the railroad stations just across the Louisiana line in Mississippi and Texas—but most rigidly in Mississippi—all travelers through Louisiana are placed indiscriminately in the "refugee" class. They are herded for hours and sometimes for days in these "border stations" or in so-called "camps" to which they are removed by force. Once in a "detention camp," which is seldom a particularly sanitary place, there is little or no chance for the detained traveler to gain his freedom until the end of the customary term of five days' quarantine. Only then is he allowed to go his way, and that that for his loss of time and the endurance of the horrors of the detention camp is a health certificate of doubtful value in the next state he enters.

In the enforcement of the quarantine there have been numerous clashes of authority, and clashes of arms were imminent on several occasions. Armed forces of Mississippi and Louisiana

"You have no right to prohibit boats from navigating lake, sound and gulf channels which are navigable waters of the United States," thundered his excellency of Mississippi, "and the limit of your powers is to prevent boats from landing on Mississippi shores. No such state of affairs can be tolerated."

After this outburst it was thought that blood would surely flow. But it didn't. Instead of sending a fleet of patrol-boats to smash the cruising craft of Mississippi in a brilliant naval engagement that would dwarf the exploits of a Dewey or a Togo, his excellency of Louisiana dictated a ringing appeal to the federal government at Washington to intervene and curb the very Yarrdian's naval operations.

Zambrojo on Land. A clash between the land forces of the two states seems to have been more probable than between the forces afloat in gulf and bay. Violation of the sacred soil of Louisiana by invasion of Mississippi soldiers was the cause of the imbrolio on land. Dunbar, a small town on the Louisiana side of the state line, was the place invaded by the troops from Mississippi. It was not claimed that the invaders came with hostile intent and their real mission was known to be to get their meals, as Dunbar was the only accessible place to get food in the country where the armed men of Mississippi were maintaining one of the quarantine camps. But the governor of Louisiana had hardened his heart against the governor of Mississippi because of the latter's sensational pronouncement, in which the authorities of New Orleans and all Louisiana were charged with "deception and misrepresentation" in the alleged withholding from the outside world of the information that the yellow fever had broken out in the Crescent City. So Governor Blanchard ordered Gov. Yarrdian to keep his troops at his own side of the state line, which in effect was a denial to them of places to eat on Louisiana's terra firma.

Because of the friction engendered by the fierce controversy of the two governors the travelers seeking to cross the quarantine lines were held back at the cannon's mouth and the point of bayonet. It was an unusual state of affairs—a condition unique in the history of the country.

When the New Orleans populace realized that soldiers of the neighboring state had invaded Louisiana with arms and quibbons the indignation was so intense and general that even the possibility of fighting the spread of yellow fever by making war upon mosquitoes was not permitted to stand in the way of preparations for measures of reprisals and retaliation. A light-drift vessel was chartered for the naval brigade of the state's militia and it was announced that this vessel would be fitted out and armed with howitzers and machine guns and would start out to protect Louisiana citizens from further aggressions.

At Beaumont and Marshall, as well as other points on the Texas border and coast, the citizens have armed themselves with shotguns to reinforce the quarantine regulations that the Lone-Star state has so far failed to back up with the rifles and bayonets and canons of its militia. Border towns in Alabama and Arkansas have also met the refugees from Louisiana with shotguns and turned them back or imprisoned them in quarantine camps. Even as far north as Tennessee and northern Illinois the quarantine is maintained to a certain extent, but in these latter districts it is a modified quarantine and without the menacing adjunct of shotguns and bayonets. Although it may be recalled, has as much reason as any city in the world to impose a rigorous quarantine in times of danger from yellow fever, with perhaps the exception of New Orleans and Philadelphia, no other city in the world has been scourged so grievously or so nearly depopulated from yellow fever as Memphis.

Whether any plan may be found for rendering the great swamps to the southeast and south of this city undesirable places as breeding grounds for the countless myriads of mosquitoes that swarm into our streets and homes and business houses when the wind is blowing inland must be considered one of the greatest problems that New Orleans and the state of Louisiana will have to deal with in the near future.

Outsiders may consider that we are never immune so long as we are exposed to these two things—the capriciousness of the winds of heaven and the fecundity of the mosquito tribe that denizens to the swamps of our coast. But our case, nevertheless, is not hopeless. This great state will find a way to meet all difficulties. It is rich enough and enterprising enough to oil all the swamps of our coast every year and it may do that very thing if this year's test of the "mosquito theory" proves its entire correctness.

Federal Government in Charge. In response to the appeal of the city of New Orleans, the federal government promptly took charge of the fight against the yellow fever, and Surgeon General Walter Weyman, head of the United States marine hospital service and his splendid corps of trained helpers, are waging a battle royal day and night to stamp out the scourge. The city authorities are lending the hearty cooperation and the defense fund of $150,000 asked by the government to exterminate the disease has been raised.

Though generally people are willing to submit to the regulations of the health authorities, there are those who refuse to believe in the mosquito theory and who oppose the oiling of their elms and the cleaning of their premises. The Era club members, who are women, have volunteered to proselyte among this class of the community.

There is a mosquito ordinance that requires landlords to screen cisterns. Fine or imprisonment is the penalty for refusal to obey the ordinance. Very few houses in the city are without cisterns, and 40,000 to 50,000 of them will be screened. The city is now spending $100,000 upon a water and sewerage system which, when completed, will require the abandonment of all cisterns. It will however, be two or three years before this system is in operation and in the interval the oiling and screening process will be essential if the breeding places of the fever-bearing mosquito are to be wiped out.

Famous Investigation in Havana. The famous investigation made in Havana in 1900 and 1901 by the American military commission, composed of Maj. W. Reed, M. D., and Drs. J. Carroll A. Aragon and Jesse W. Lasear, established the mosquito theory of the origin of yellow fever beyond all question and paved the way to the emancipation of Havana from a disease which had prevailed there for a century and a half. In these experiments Maj. Reed, with other officers and privates of the United States army risked their lives in the demonstration. Assistant Surgeon, Jesse W. Lasear lost his life in the attempt.

When Dr. Lasear, who was one of the three volunteers who offered themselves to Havana for the first test in the yellow fever experiments, took the fever and died as a direct result of the experiment, his name and fame were heralded abroad. A monument was erected to his memory at the Johns Hopkins university, of which he was a graduate. Every medical journal in the world contained extensive accounts of his sacrifice. This was all very right and proper, for the intrepid physician literally gave up his life in the cause of science.

But at the same time there were two other men who took the same risks. Their bravery was no less than his. For none of them could see the end. One of these two, Dr. Carroll, sickened with the dreadful disease, but recovered. The other, who had been the first to have his arm to the bite of the insect, escaped.

This young man was Dr. A. S. Pinio, now of Omaha. Dr. Pinio says little of his brave exploit in offering himself as a possible victim upon the altar of science.

The Study of Yellow Fever. In June, 1900, Maj. Reed was sent to Cuba as president of a board to study the infectious diseases of the country, but more especially yellow fever. Associated with him were Acting Assistant Surgeons James Carroll, Jesse W. Lasear and A. Aragon. At this time the American authorities in Cuba had a year and a half endeavored to diminish the disease and mortality of the Cuban towns by general sanitary work, but while the health of the population showed distinct improvement and the mortality had greatly diminished, yellow fever apparently had been entirely unaffected by these measures. In fact, owing to the large number of nonimmune foreigners, the disease was more frequent than usual in Havana and in Quemas, near the camp of American troops, and many valuable lives of American officers and soldiers had been lost. Reed was convinced from the first that general sanitary measures alone would not check the disease, but that its transmission was partly due to an insect.

The fact that malarial fever, caused by the mosquito, was the cause of the disease, was the first step in the discovery of the mosquito theory.

he bitten by a mosquito that 12 days previously had killed 116 of his patients. He suffered from a very severe attack and was the first experimental case. Dr. Lasear also experimented on himself at the same time, but was not infected. Some days later, while in the yellow fever ward, he was bitten by a mosquito and noted the disease carefully. He acquired the disease in its most fertile form and died a martyr to science and a true hero.

No other fatality occurred among the brave men who in the course of the experiments willingly exposed themselves to the infection of the dreaded disease.

A camp was especially constructed for the experiments about four miles from Havana, christened Camp Lasear in honor of the dead comrade. The inmates of the camp were put into most rigid quarantine and ample time was allowed to eliminate any possibility of the disease being brought from Havana.

The personnel consisted of three nurses and nine nonimmunes, all in the military service, and included two physicians.

From time to time Spanish immigrants, newly arrived, were brought in from the immigrant station; a person not known to be immune was allowed to leave camp, or if he did was forbidden to return.

The most complete record was kept of the health of every man to be experimented upon, thus eliminating the possibility of any other disease than yellow fever complicating the case.

What the Experiments Proved. Besides the experimental cases caused by mosquito bites, four nonimmunes were infected by injecting blood drawn directly from the veins of yellow fever patients in the first two days of the disease, thus demonstrating the presence of an infectious agent in the blood at this early period of the attack.

Even the blood serum of a patient passed through a bacteria-proof filter, was found to be capable of causing yellow fever in another person.

The details of the experiments are most interesting, but it must here suffice to briefly sum up the principal conclusions of this admirable board of investigators, of which Reed was the master mind:

"1. The specific agent in the causation of yellow fever exists in the blood of a patient for at least three days after his attack, after which time he ceases to be a menace to the health of others."

"2. A mosquito of a single species, Stegomyia faceta, ingesting the blood of the patient during this infective period is powerless to convey the disease to another person by its bite until about 12 days have elapsed, but can do so thereafter for an indefinite period, probably during the remainder of its life."

"3. The disease cannot be spread in any other way than by the bite of the previously infected Stegomyia. Articles used or soiled by patients do not carry infection."

"These conclusions pointed so clearly to the practical method of exterminating the disease that they were at once accepted by the sanitary authorities in Cuba and put to the test in 1900. In Havana, where the disease had never failed to appear annually, Yellow fever has ceased absolutely in Havana, though previously the number of deaths annually had rarely fallen below 300 and had often exceeded 1,000. The proof of the mosquito theory is regarded in scientific circles as making it certain that yellow fever has been conquered, and that it will never again get beyond control."

CROCHETED TRIMMING.

With the Revival of All Handwork, Our Old Friend the Crochet-Book Comes to the Fore.

This design, which is suitable for chemise trimming, should be worked in fine cotton (No. 24 Shawl's) in a nice shade and with a fine steel hook. Commence with six chain, join round. First row: Six chain, one double treble into the ring, * two chain, another double treble into the ring, repeat from * until counting the first double treble, join round with a slip-stitch. Second row: A double crochet in each stitch all round (36 stitches).

Third row: Four chain, one double treble into the nearest stitch of the previous row; do not complete the stitch but leave the last two loops on the hook, a double treble in each of the next two stitches, still leaving the last loop of each stitch unworked (five loops on hook), cotton over and draw through all loops at once, * five chain, a double treble into the same stitch as the last double treble, repeat from * until a double treble in each of the next five stitches.

Fourth row: Twelve double crochets under each chain loop, all round, fasten off.

All the other stars are worked in the same way, but the two middle stitches of each of the two first scallops are caught to the corresponding stitches in the preceding star.

The illustration will show where the corner ones are joined.

For the top: First row: Work chains from the middle of the previous row to the middle of the next (just as many stitches in each loop as will let the work lie flat), using double trebles where the first stitches are required.

Second row: One treble in first stitch, * one chain, pass over one stitch, one treble in next, repeat from * to end of row. See illustration for corner of each row.

Third row: A row of crossed trebles; three chain, pass the first two stitches over and draw through two loops, having three loops on the last chain, over, pass two stitches, draw through the next (five loops on the hook), draw through these two at a time until only one loop is left, two chain, one treble into the middle of the last-made double, and repeat from *.

Fourth row: Two double trebles under the first chain, loop four chain, two more double trebles under the same loop, pass to the next loop and repeat from *.

Fifth row: Two double trebles under each chain, loop all round. Work round the lower edge like row one and two of top.

To Clean Canvas. White leather belts and shoes are not unalloyed joy, for they're constantly getting dirty, and, like everything else white, they must be irreproachably white to be acceptable. Gasoline cleans them more easily than anything else—belts regularly washed in it, or rubbed with a cloth wet in gasoline, and shoes cleaned by the latest method.

If you use the purified gasoline, that unpleasant odor about cleaned things, often noticeable when they've been cleaned, is entirely avoided. And be careful about the use of gasoline—a warning that can't be too often repeated—don't get gasoline on your face or in a room where there is an artificial light or a fire.

Freckles. A simple lotion for the annihilation of freckles is made by combining one dram of borax, one-half fluid ounce of diluted acetic acid, one-half fluid ounce of rose water. Apply to the face with a brush, using fish brush, drying and rubbing afterward with linterine. This will surely kill the wretched little things, but be sure to wash your face after the manner of some bleaches.

To Remove Dimples. Pimples on the face or any part of the body are most unclean and unpleasant. Apply to the face a soft ball of wool, using fish brush, drying and rubbing afterward with linterine. This will surely kill the wretched little things, but be sure to wash your face after the manner of some bleaches.

confronted each other during the early stages of the outbreak on land and water. Menace of an interstate war was prevalent and hostilities might have begun on the grand scale at any moment. Intervention of the marine forces of the United States was looked to and invited as the only means of preventing bloodshed.

Governors in Wordy War.

Spectacular berating of each other by the governor of Mississippi and the governor of Louisiana preceded the assembly of the two states' armed forces in positions mutually hostile. Invasion of Louisiana territory by land and water was charged by the Louisiana governor against the militia forces of Mississippi.

Seizure of authority over navigable waters of the United States was another of the charges that Governor Blanchard of Louisiana, foisted against the one territory by land and water, with arms and ammunition and unscrupulous mistreatment. Governor Vandam of Mississippi charged that the armed patrol-boats of the state of Mississippi had "botted up" a number of Louisiana boats in Lake Orleans, which is a part of New Orleans, and a body of navigable water under the jurisdiction of the United States government.

representation" in the alleged withholding from the outside world of the information that the yellow fever had broken out in the Crescent City. So Governor Blanchard ordered Gov. Yarrdian to keep his troops at his own side of the state line, which in effect was a denial to them of places to eat on Louisiana's terra firma.

Because of the friction engendered by the fierce controversy of the two governors the travelers seeking to cross the quarantine lines were held back at the cannon's mouth and the point of bayonet. It was an unusual state of affairs—a condition unique in the history of the country.

When the New Orleans populace realized that soldiers of the neighboring state had invaded Louisiana with arms and quibbons the indignation was so intense and general that even the possibility of fighting the spread of yellow fever by making war upon mosquitoes was not permitted to stand in the way of preparations for measures of reprisals and retaliation. A light-drift vessel was chartered for the naval brigade of the state's militia and it was announced that this vessel would be fitted out and armed with howitzers and machine guns and would start out to protect Louisiana citizens from further aggressions.

A Laxative Cough Syrup.

"A cold or cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidney. For the want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard." Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. It melts and corrects the above conditions by acting as a pleasant cathartic on the bowels—expels all colds from the system and cures all coughs, croup, whooping cough, LaGrippe, bronchitis, etc. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

Only Did His Duty as He Saw it

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. Wiler Park the well known merchant and post master at Wilkey, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not do without it for anything. Very often to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure flux (dysentery)."

You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." For sale by L. E. Breckenridge.

Dr. Swartout went to Mankato yesterday to attend the wedding of a friend. He will return to this place the 20th of next month to resume his dentistry practice.

Miss Alma Wickstrom, who has been visiting her sister and family at Lake City, returned last Saturday bringing her sister and family with her. They will visit here for a short time.

Miss Mayne Pennington departed for Basin, Mont., Monday. She will teach school at that western point, and the best wishes of her many friends for her ultimate success goes with her.

Mrs. Mae Utz returned to her home in St. Paul Monday afternoon, after a two weeks' visit at the guest of Miss Susan Shearer. She was accompanied by her mother, who visited here over Sunday.

Attended the Labor Day dance in Ratt's hall, Monday, Sept. 4th, by the Pine City ball team. You will get your money's worth of dance and good time at the ball. Don't forget! It's up to you to attend. Best of music, floor and management.

Peter McKinnon, a former resident of this vicinity, was a welcome caller on his old Pine City friends last Saturday, and incidentally shook the right paw of "yo sericite."

Mr. McKinnon is now conducting a market garden at Gladstone, just north of St. Paul, and we are pleased to report that he is doing well.

Mrs. Capt. Holbert, of Hinckley, was down from St. Elmo Thursday.

Read the ads in the Pioneer. They are put there for your intelligent benefit.

Arthur Brandes was in Brule and Iron River Sunday and Monday, on business.

Keep that county fair in mind. Don't let slip an opportunity to "root" for it.

Mrs. Dr. A. Lyons, who has been quite ill for some time past, is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Redding and baby left for a two weeks visit with relatives in Duluth, Monday.

Miss Harm, of St. Paul, arrived Tuesday to visit with her cousins, the Misses Grimm.

Sylvester Vonasek, of Creston, Iowa, was a Pine City visitor this week, and while here purchased the N1 of NE1 of Sec. 24, Town 39, R. 21, of Frank Syanda. The land is situated about a mile east of Cross Lake, on the Meadow Lawn road. Mr. Vonasek returns to his home today.

Yesterday was Thursday, Rain Day and of course, Picnic Day for the teachers and pupils of the M. E. church Sunday school. That's all! A large number attended the picnic on Poole's Point, Cross Lake, but had no more than "got nicely settled" than Jupiter Pluvius butted in and what promised to be the annual event for the Sunday school small boy was knocked in the head. For the sake of making good with the children who were compelled to give up their expected good time, an extra allotment of goodies should be forthcoming from the annual Christmas tree next December, provided they are prompt, attentive and good from this time forth.

Hurley's Barringtons played three cracking good games of ball last Saturday and Sunday against the fast Hibbing ball team at Hibbing. The first game, scheduled for Saturday, was postponed until the next day, after five innings of fast play, in which neither team scored. The Sunday scores were, 3 to 2 and 7 to 3. Reports that followed the games stated that any one of the three games was easily the fastest that had ever been pulled off in that city, and this, if true, is saying much, for the Hibbing team is the fastest semi-professional aggregation in the northern part of the state. We congratulate the local team on its success in holding the score down so low. The boys report excellent treatment at the hands of the Hibbingites, and will long remember the many pleasing courtesies extended.

Colds
Don't trifle with a cold; no one can tell what the end may be. Pneumonia, catarrh, chronic bronchitis and consumption invariably result from neglected colds. Nothing can be compared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
as a quick cure for colds and grippe, and by its use the more serious diseases may be avoided.

Pineapple for Consumption.
It has long been known by the natives of South America that the juice of the fruit of the ripe pineapple being of such antiseptic qualities, will thoroughly destroy the germs of catarrh, consumption and grippe. A preparation known as Syrup of Pineapple Extractant, prepared by Rea Bros. & Co., contains these essential qualities. It is sold by L. E. Breckenridge for 50 cents.

Mrs. Tryon's Bargain

MRS. TRYON was a truly thrifty wife. As a consequence she was a bargain hunter...

A NOTE FROM HIS WIFE

By the time Tryon had read the note and finished his breakfast... Mrs. Tryon was in the heat of the scrimmage...

Now the hat that Mrs. Tryon had laid on the counter was a dainty little thing in white with pink flowers...

After she had gazed longingly at her reflection in the glass and had noted with a sigh how well the expensive hat became her, she returned to the counter...

Mrs. Tryon was shocked a bit at first and then she smiled at the situation. Instead of demanding her property in a hurry...

She was carrying her hat in her hand and after a bit she noticed that several women looked at the hat and then at her as she passed...

Mrs. Tryon's hat she was still carrying in her hand... "I believe I may as well," Mrs. Tryon responded...

"You don't want to buy that hat?" Mrs. Tryon asked. "No, madam, it is not," she replied, rather tartly...

"How much is it?" the woman persisted. Mrs. Tryon saw at once that being honest she had been mistaken for a clerk...

"The original price was $25, but—" "Yes, I know," interrupted the lady, "that makes it twice and a half to you."

"I'll take this hat, please. Seventy-five, I believe," she merely said. "I'll take this hat, please. Seventy-five, I believe," she merely said...

Burdens of Matrimony. Mrs. Speakermid-I shall need you this evening. "What for, my dear?"

"Why don't you get rid of that dog?" "No, madam, it is not," she replied, rather tartly.

"I beg your pardon, madam," he began, looking closely at Mrs. Tryon. "But there is a lady here who has carried a hat on her head all morning that she would like very much to look at."

"I don't see how you can help being convinced by what Mr. Blank says," she observed, "he's such a snorer!"

"Excuse me, madam, said the polite help, "but I crave your assistance. The lady has entered my store."

Miss Clementina Gonzales, Hotel Provincia, Guatemala, C. A., in a recent letter from 1247 Cleveland Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I took Peru-na for a worn-out condition. I was so run down that I could not sleep at night, had no appetite and felt tired in the morning."

"I tried many times, but Peru-na was the only thing which helped me in the least. After I had taken but half bottle I felt much better. I continued to use for three weeks and I was completely restored to health, and was able to take up my studies which I had been forced to drop. There is nothing better than Peru-na to build up the system."—Clementina Gonzales.

NEWS OF MINNESOTA.

Lower Rates.—An announcement of the most vital, widespread and immediate importance to the farming interest of the northwest was made by the Great Northern railroad, the management of which decided to make a sweeping reduction in grain carrying rates.

Hamilton.—The promise for the Minnesota state fair this year is brighter than ever before. Special pains have been taken in all the preparations, which were commenced immediately after the close of the fair of 1904, and the months of careful work details seem about to be crowned with unusual success.

St. Paul.—Extensive advertising of Minnesota lands, and the fact that the state sells them at a profit, is being made a point of honor by the state.

Ones for the Philippines.—Minnesota—Bidding against Seattle and San Francisco exporting heres, on a government contract, for 50,000 pounds of cats—the government specifications being figured in pounds, not bushels—Minnesota landed a big contract for shipment to the Philippines.

No More Slips.—Issuance of "slips" by elevators in place of regular receipts for grain is to become a thing of the past.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

For the Week Ending Aug. 20. An American consular report the boy's movement dying out in China.

Two business men and three women of Kanaboa, Wis., were arrested on the charge of attempting to spirit out of the state a chief manufacturer witness.

An unknown man robbed the First National bank of Collinsville at Collinsville, a small town 30 miles south of Bartlesville, I. T., and escaped with $200.

Christine Tenneson, 95 years of age, killed herself by jumping from a second-story window at Devils Lake, S. D. She was probably the oldest woman in the state.

Escaping from her niece, who was taking her back to her home in Texas after an illness, Mrs. Laura Oxford, aged 70, jumped from a Burlington train that had stopped on the Eads bridge at St. Louis and was drowned.

WE HAVE BEEN BUSY

the past two months improving our milling plant and getting ready to handle the Bumper Crop that is expected this year. New machinery has been added and everything will be in readiness Sept. 10th to start out on a 12 months night and day run.

In improving our plant we have but just one object in view, and that is to make better Flour than our competitors can make. We are proud of the good reputation our Flour has gained, both at home and abroad. We daily receive verbal testimonials from our home users and letters of praise from our customers in outside and far away towns; and these assurances from our friends urge us on to make the Best Flour we possibly can.

Cash Grain Market

To keep our mill running steady requires nearly 1000 bushels of grain of all kinds every 24 hours. This gives the farmers a cash market for all the Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye, Barley and Buckwheat they can raise. When we say a Cash Market we mean it in every sense. There are no strings attached to it. Just as soon as we receive the grain you get the cash, and we can use any quantity—no matter how large.

From the time the grain leaves the farmers' wagons until it is packed in sacks as flour and feed it is handled by machinery. On account of this economy in handling we are able to pay the highest market prices.

If you have grain to sell we trust you will give us a trial and by the treatment and results you get you will be the judge as to whether you should come again or not.

Macaroni Wheat (Durum)

We have gone to considerable expense in arranging our machinery so as to be able to handle this class of wheat satisfactorily, and we are pleased to announce that recent tests along this line have been more satisfactory than we expected.

When Macaroni first came on the market millers refused to grind it on account of the impossibility to get good flour from it. In fact at present few millers are equipped so as to handle it.

With the new machinery recently installed in our mill we can make first-class flour from Macaroni Wheat. This flour has a peculiarity which distinguishes it from regular spring wheat flour. The bread made from it, however, has a very pleasant taste and is preferred by a great many to the regular spring wheat flour.

Feed Grinding

Our feed grinding plant has been thoroughly

Overhauled and Enlarged and has been made up-to-date in every way. The capacity of this Plant has been increased and it will be for us to serve all promptly and satisfactorily.

All we ask is one trial. We know we can supply you.

Farmers' Grist Work

We make a specialty of this class of work. You can exchange your wheat for any brand of our flour on a very liberal basis or if you bring a load of 20 bushels or more we will make any kind of flour you wish out of your own wheat or rye and you can pay us for the grinding. We cannot accept a smaller load than 20 bushels to grind in this way because it is necessary to adjust the machinery for each kind of wheat. The same guarantee goes with the flour ground to order or exchanged that goes with the flour sold under our brand, that is—if the flour is not satisfactory it can be returned. We have arranged a very liberal schedule of exchange and hope to build up the largest business of this kind in this section of the country.

It will pay you to deal with us for you are assured of absolutely fair and honorable treatment in every transaction. All we ask is a trial. We will endeavor to give you such good satisfaction that you cannot afford to go elsewhere.

Are You Young and Dashing?

We don't want to sell you these if you're old and bent with the cares of the world. They are designed for the young fellows with dash and go—the sort that know style when they come against it and can wear something nobby and progressive without looking too much tailor-made.

The coats are ultra—made for the man who has style in himself and who wants to be up-to-date, and just a little in front of the rest.

Ask for the Smartsac or the Newport and look for the label bearing the name of Crouse & Brandegee, Utica, N. Y. That is the sign that the styles are Metropolitan and the tailoring O. K.—doubly so, indeed. There are none better made.

173 Warren Avenue,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 29, 1902.
For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disinclined as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disagreeable place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Cure Her Disease

Mrs. Stowe's letter shows every woman how a home is saddened by female weakness and how completely Wine of Cardui cures that sickness and brings health and happiness again. Do not go on suffering. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.
