AGED LADY DEAD

Tuesday About Midnight, Mrs. Elizabeth Klos, Aged 92 Years Passes Away At Home Of Son.

Last Tuesday at about midnight, all that was mortal of Mrs. Elizabeth Klos, aged ninety-two years the 6th inst. passed to that home from which no traveler ever returns.

Mrs. Klos was born in Germany and came to this country about thirty years ago. She went to Rush City twenty-seven years ago and resided there with her sister, Mrs. John Bier. For the past four months she has made her home with her son, Nicholas, who recently purchased the R. C. Saunders place in the southern part of the village.

Her husband died in the old country. She was too old and infirm to get around much, but was a kind and indulgent parent and was well beloved by those with whom she was acquainted.

She leaves two sons and a daughter in Germany, a son, Nicholas and two daughters in this place, Mrs. John Neville and Grace Klos, besides numerous friends to mourn her loss.

The funeral will be held today (Friday) from St. Mary's Catholic church and the remains will be taken on the noon train to Rush City, where they will be interred by the side of those of her daughter's, Mrs. John Bier, who died two years ago last October.

It is very seldom that we are called upon to chronicle the death of one so advanced in age, over ninety-two years, having passed the age allotted to man, four score and ten years, by very nearly a quarter of a century.

The Pioneer extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

CLUB ENTERTAINS

Clover Club, Of M. E. S. S. Entertained Their Parents At The W. P. Gottry Home Friday Eve Last

Mrs. A. W. Piper's Sunday School Class, called the "Clover Club" composed of eight young girls entertained their parents at the home of W. P. Gottry last Friday evening.

About forty were in attendance and the evening was spent with music both vocal and instrumental, furnished by members of the class. At about eleven o'clock refreshments were served the class taking complete control of this part of the entertainment. The house was tastefully decorated with ferns and gold and green that being the class colors. Each one of the girls had on white aprons and green and gold ribbons and presented a very fine appearance while fitting around amidst their guests.

The M. E. Sunday School is being organized into classes Mrs. Piper being the one to inaugurate the movement and the other teachers are fast falling into line, so that in a short time the whole school will have class organizations and such pleasant evenings as was spent last Friday will be frequent.

All those that attended this reception by the "Clover Club" report having spent a very enjoyable evening and were surprised to see the manner in which the young girls conducted the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Piper is to be congratulated in having formed such a nice class of young girls ranging in age from twelve to fifteen years, and deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which she has them trained and the interest that she takes in them.

COMMUNICATED

Answer to the Communications of Rev. C. W. Fisher by Mrs. Matt Swanson.

I wish to answer through the columns of the Pioneer a series of communications that have appeared in this paper from the pen of O. W. Fisher in reply to my article on the Sabbath some week ago. He starts out by saying that I have attempted to use the word of the spirit, but was not competent to wield it, and that my arguments throughout were a beating of the air, and a gross misrepresentation of the plainest teachings of the word of God. To this I will say, he has failed to prove his assertions from the word of God, but, instead has resorted to throwing mud at a woman, pretty poor business for a minister indeed, but it is not to be wondered at, when you take into consideration that this is the best weapon he has, Paul says in Rom. 8: 9, "Now if any man have not the spirit of Christ he is none of His." We never found Christ throwing mud at any one. To be a Christian is to be Christ like. The main point of his arguments is to do away with the law of God, and especially the Sabbath of the Lord, and put a man made sabbath that is Sunday, instead. The Prophet Ezekiel speaks about this kind of dabbling, but he says it will not stand.

Here what he says; Ezek 13:10-13 "Because even because they have seduced my people, saying peace, and their was no peace, and one built up a wall, and, lo, others daubed it with untempered mortar: say unto them which daubed it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: their shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great wall, shall fall, and a strong wind shall rend it. Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it? ver 14. "So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I am the Lord." Again we read in Ezekiel 22:26-28, "their priests have violated my law, and have profaned my holy things; they have put no difference between the holy and profaned, neither have they showed difference between the unclean and the clean and have hid their eyes from my Sabbath, and I am profaned among the nations, and they have daubed them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, thus said the Lord when the Lord had not spoken. This scripture well illustrates Mr. Fisher's attitude, in trying to daub up the sabbath institution. It will never stand. The Savior said, every plant that my heavenly Father had not planted shall be rooted up. Matt 15:13. Any person who ever read the bible knows that God never planted the Sunday institution. He further says, I will do they worship me to make for doctrines the command of men Matt 15:9. That is only one plan of salvation brought to view in the bible and that plain is as well as the new, but Mr. Fisher would have us understand that God has two plans one in the Old Testament and another in the New Testament, but this is a sad mistake as it is stated in Mal 3:6 "I am the Lord I change not" He also says he will not alter the thing that is gone out of his lips Ps 89:34. And he spoke the ten commandments with his own voice, and the 4th commandment which saves the seventh day is the Sabbath was one of them. David says they are all sure and will stand fast forever and ever Ps 117:8. And if Christ himself said he did not come to destroy them Matt 5: 17-19. He said it would be easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one jot or tittle of the law to fail. So Bro Fisher you had better commence at the easier thing first, to do away with both heaven and earth, to do away with the law of God. All the way through the New Testament as well as the old we are enjoined to keep the commandments. John says, this is the love of God that we keep his commandments 1 John 5:2, 3. In his second letter second chapter 4th verse, he says, he that sayeth he knoweth him and keepeth not his commandments is a liar and the truth is not in him. Again the wise man says in that turn, even his prayers shall be an abomination Prov 28:9. Now Bro Fisher I would advise you to do as Christ told

Weekly Concerts

During January and February, being somewhat quiet months and not so very much entertainment going on, we will give, on every Saturday evening, from 7:30 until 9:00 o'clock, a concert with our Edison Phonograph and play a large list of new records.

We now have hundreds of new ones. Some new ones from far away Hawaii and some new grand opera records and still others arriving every few days.

Ladies, come in and hear them. We will provide a few chairs and strive to make it pleasant for you.

Owners of phonographs can improve this time and pick out records which they might like as they hear them played.

The Chorus Joins In

All our customers agree, with one accord, that this is the satisfaction lumber yard.

That's because we do our level best to give every man all that's coming to him when he buys here. The result is, that once we get a customer, we usually keep him. Our song is "Quality first, Price second." "Quality" has a loud voice. So has "price." But a duet between the two, such as is always sung at this yard makes everybody join in the chorus in proclaiming us the satisfactory lumber dealers.

Won't you join the chorus the next time you need lumber or building material? We know we can please you if you give us a chance.

9:13 in the scriptures it is plainly stated that God gave one law, and another law was given by the hand of Moses. The law of Moses was a law of ordinances that regulated the sacrificial system that pointed to Christ, while the law of God was moral in its nature, and will exist throughout eternity. The law of Moses was to cease at the cross, for it was the law contained in ordinances see Eph 2:15 Col 2:14. Mr. Fisher is misrepresenting the Adjutant (Continued on last page)

URGENT CONSERVATION OF THE NATION'S RESOURCES

President Taft Sends Special Message to Congress Recommending Prevention of Land Frauds, Control of Water Power, Fostering of Soils and Kindred Subjects

Washington, Jan. 14.—Following is the complete text of the special message on the conservation of the national resources sent to the senate and house of representatives by President Taft today:

To the Senate and House of Representatives: In my annual message, I reserved the subject of the conservation of our national resources for discussion in a special message, as follows:

In several departments there is presented the necessity for legislation looking to the further conservation of our national resources, and the subject is one of such importance as to require a more detailed and complete discussion than has been entered upon in this communication. For that reason, I shall take an early opportunity to send a special message to congress on the subject of the improvement of our waterways, the reclamation and irrigation of arid, semi-arid and arid lands, the preservation of our forests and the reforestation of suitable areas; upon the reclassification of the public domain; upon the separation from agricultural settlement mineral coal and phosphate lands and other lands belonging to the government but not yet surveyed for the utilization of water power.

In 1900 we had a public domain of 1,083,812,825 acres. In 1909, 715,000,000 acres, confined largely to the mountain regions of the west, remained. We have, in addition, 200,000,000 acres of land in Alaska.

The public lands were, during the earliest administrations, treated as a national asset for the benefit of the public debt and as a source of reward for our soldiers and sailors. Large areas were donated in large amounts in aid of the construction of wagon roads and railroads, and the aid of our national debt. At the same time, almost inaccessible. All the principal lands were surveyed and patented to a number of a century ago. The homestead act, the pre-emption and timber-culture act, the mineral lands act, and the mining acts were among these.

The public lands under the early statutes, and the tax methods of distribution prevailing, due, I think, to the better land laws, were rapidly passed into private ownership, and the public domain was reduced to a small fraction of its original extent.

The public domain was legitimate prey for the unscrupulous and that it was not until the early part of the present century that the land laws were improved. The prodigious amount of population resulting from the opening of large areas of valuable land and many of our national resources into the hands of persons who felt little responsibility for promoting the national welfare through their own efforts.

Fraudulent Titles. The trust is that title to millions of acres of public land has been obtained and that the right to recover a state in the hands of the government long since ceased by reason of statutes of limitations. There has developed a public mind respecting the preservation of the public domain. A great amount of this has been particularly directed toward the conservation of the resources of the public domain. A vast amount of discussion has appeared in the public mind, but there has been little practical suggestion. It is in the water power, in forests, in water power, and in other public utilities, and in the waste, monopoly, and other abuses, and the general public are in touch with most of them.

Among the most noteworthy reforms initiated by my distinguished predecessor were the prevention of land frauds and the bringing to public attention of the necessity of preserving the remaining public domain from further encroachment. The idea of reclamation for the maintenance and improvement of the water power, and the enactment of laws amending the public domain in relation to the mineral deposits of coal, oil, and phosphate, and, in addition, to preserve private lands from the public domain, and the public of the lands along the streams in which the fall of water is available for power, to be transmitted in the form of electricity many miles to the point of use, known as "water power" sites.

The investigations into violations of the public land laws and the prosecution of land frauds have been vigorously continued under my administration, as has been the withdrawal of coal lands for classification and valuation and the prohibition of withdrawal of power sites. Since March 4, 1909, temporary laws have been enacted to prevent the withdrawal of power sites and the withdrawal of power sites. Since March 4, 1909, temporary laws have been enacted to prevent the withdrawal of power sites and the withdrawal of power sites.

The special statutes, except so far as they relate to the pre-emption and homestead laws, are not adapted to carry out the modern policy of the government. The power to private ownership, under conditions offering on the one hand, and the power to the public, on the other, which shall secure to the public the benefit of the conservation of the land and its resources. The power to private ownership, under conditions offering on the one hand, and the power to the public, on the other, which shall secure to the public the benefit of the conservation of the land and its resources. to legislation to meet conditions or emergencies as they arise. Properly to classify lands. In the matter of public-land reform in the United States, the most pressing need is to bring to their principal value use. This might be done by that department whose force is best adapted to that work. It should be done by the interior, and not by the geological survey. Much of confusion, fraud and waste, which has existed heretofore, has arisen from the lack of an official and determinative classification of the public lands and their contents.

It is now proposed to dispose of agricultural lands as such, and at the same time to reserve for other disposal the treasure of coal, oil, asphaltum, natural gas and phosphate contained in the lands. This may best be accomplished by separating the right of mineral disposal from the right of giving the necessary use of so much of the latter as may be required for the extraction of the deposits. The surface might be disposed of an agricultural use, with the coal or other minerals to be disposed of by lease to a royalty, with the provisions requiring a certain amount of development on the part of the lessee in order to prevent the use and cessation of said lands.

Funds Inadequate for Service. One of the difficulties which has attended the execution of the reclamation act is the view of the available funds have been their insufficiency. The act is based on the reclamation statute are inadequate to complete these projects within a reasonable time. The work which has been begun; settlers have been attracted to the public lands, but the project is not yet completed. The project is not yet completed. The project is not yet completed.

Part of the condition does not indicate any intention to extend the benefit of reclamation to so many acres and as many years as the present act provides. Value of Water Power. The development in the electrical application of the water power into electricity to be transmitted long distances has progressed so far that it is no longer problematical, but it is a certain interest that the water power to a large extent will take the place of the coal power. ### HER POINT OF VIEW.

Sweet-Maid—You must remember that ours was a summer engagement. The Man—That means, if you see anyone you like better, you'll break it! Sweet-Maid—Yes.

The Man—And I see anyone I like better. Sweet-Maid—'Til you give me a fresh promise.

SOFT, WHITE HANDS

May be Obtained in One Night. For preserving the hands as well as for preventing roughness, redness, and chapping, and imparting the velvety softness and whiteness much desired by women Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, is believed to be superior to all other skin soaps.

For those who work in corrosive liquids, or at occupations which tend to injure the hands, it is invaluable. Treatment—Wash and soak the hands in reffing in a strong hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment, and in severe cases, spread the Cuticura Ointment on thin pieces of old linen or cotton. Wear during the night old, loose gloves, or a light bandage of old cotton or linen to protect the clothing from stains. For red, rough, and chapped hands, dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms, and chapped hands, use Cuticura Soap, and soapless lather with painful fingers. Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world, Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Fight Against Plague Goes On. Although the survey of the past year's anti-tuberculosis work shows that the treatment is most effective, reports from all parts of the country indicate that this year the amount of money to be expended, and the actual number of patients that will be treated will be more than double that of the past year. For instance, special appropriations have been made in the various municipalities for next year's anti-tuberculosis work, aggregating $3,776,500. In addition to these appropriations over $4,000,000 has been set aside by the state legislature for the campaign against tuberculosis this year. Besides these sums, a large number of the present county health associations are planning enlargements of their work, and new organizations are being formed daily.

Rich Territory Opened Up. The development of the Brazilian Amazon has opened up a new amount to untold wealth. In the states of Para and the Amazonas and the federal territory of Acre there are near the water front 10,000,000 rubber-bearing trees of the Hevea variety. These trees, if properly tapped, will live indefinitely and steadily increase their yield. The state of Para is considerably larger than Texas, and much of it will grow excellent cotton.

Excused. "Shame on you! You came home last night nearly tipsy." "So I did, my dear. I just couldn't resist the pleasure of seeing you at my own."

Easily Distinguished. "This," remarked Mr. Cane, "is my photograph with my two French poodles. You recognize me?" "I think so," said Miss Saffee. "You are the one with the hat on, are you not?"

How loafers grate upon the nerves of a busy person. "When DINNER COMES One Ought to Have a Good Appetite."

A good appetite is the best sauce. It goes a long way toward helping in the digestive process, and that is absolutely essential to health and strength. Many persons have found that Grape-Nuts food is not only nourishing but is a great appetizer. Even children like the taste of it and grow strong and rosy from its use. When asked what they ate for breakfast, they would say: "Grape-Nuts with good rich milk and when dinner comes I am hungry. While I go to bed I am satisfied that I have had a good dinner. Grape-Nuts for breakfast makes me a healthy appetite for dinner."

"My 15-month-old grandson had been very ill with stomach trouble during the past summer, and finally we put him on Grape-Nuts. Now he is growing plump and well. When asked how he was, he would say: 'Grape-Nuts, you mean as the cry flows.'"

"No," put in the judge, "he means as the fly crows."

And they looked at each other, feeling that something was wrong. Everybody's Muzak.

How far is it between these two towns? "About four miles as the flour flies," replied the witness.

"You mean as the cry flows." "No," put in the judge, "he means as the fly crows."

And they looked at each other, feeling that something was wrong. Everybody's Muzak.

DO YOU USE LINIMENT?

Of course you do and of course you would like to know how to get the best and the most for your money. Here is the proposition right at home. Simply buy a bottle of Holler's White Liniment. A bottle as large as any $1.00 bottle for only 60 cents, guaranteed to give satisfaction for any external use and you only have to use one-half as much of this to get the same results as of others, as there is no waste when using. Not only that, but it saves you the expense of buying salve for cuts, galls, sore necks on horses, sore teats on cows, or, in fact, any external ailments.

When your liniment bottle gets low don't get hasty and buy the first liniment you can get, but just stop to think how you can save some money and go into Ryback's store and ask for a bottle of Holler's White Liniment, or go to Holler's residence in Pine City. It is also for sale at Beroun, Rock Creek and the Mercantile Company's store at Rush City.

Made and sold by I. A. Holler, Pine City, Minnesota.

Miss M. E. Robinson spent Sunday visiting with friends in Hinkley.

Mrs. Frank Horejs and little daughter, Ruth, and Mrs. John Chalupsky and son were in Pine City last Thursday.

Mrs. Drazou, who has been visiting with her parents here for the last two months, has returned to her home in Washington. She was accompanied there by her sister, Miss Emma Chalupsky.

Albert Horstman, who took jewelry belonging to Mrs. Joseph Horejs, was caught near Hinkley by Mr. Joseph Horejs and son, Albert, and with some other men who were along with him.

Horstman, after returning the jewelry, was taken to the Hinkley jail, where he confessed. Some time ago two ladies were frightened by a supposed burglar and afterwards three of the school boys were blamed for the deed.

The blame was against the boys, until Horstman, who took the jewelry, told of the night that he frightened the ladies.

Come out and hear how well the boys can play.

A new departure in Sunday School work was inaugurated last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gottry—at least a new departure for Pine City. The interested class in the Sunday School, taught by Mrs. A. W. Piper, has recently organized for more effective service and a greater influence for good among the young people with whom they come in contact.

On the Friday evening mentioned they gave their initial reception, to which they invited the pastor and his wife, the members of the Bible Class and their own parents. The entertainment of the evening was perfect. Several musical numbers were given by members of the class, some amusing games were played and after one of the class had given an outline of the work they expected to accomplish, refreshments were served. The home was beautifully decorated with the colors of the class—a clover leaf—which met their eye at every angle. The unanimous verdict of the guests was that this new phase of work in the Sunday School would result not only in the increase of members, but also in added interest in Sunday School work.

PROSPEROUS HILL

Miss Lois Tate is assisting the J. C. Caroon family with their house work.

Leo Caroon is getting to be quite a horse-man. He is a good boy all around.

Mr. John Karnak is erecting a fine chicken house. He certainly is a big booster for the county.

School will begin the first Monday in February at district 82. There are sixteen pupils to attend.

Mr. Joseph Parent has been calling real often at the James Caroon home. Now what's the matter?

Miss Annie Parent visited a few days last week with her parents, returning to Minneapolis Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Caroon and family, of Deer Valley, spent Sunday evening at the J. E. Caroon home.

Miss Jennie Person, teacher of district number 82, is spending her vacation with her parents, at West Rock.

The stock visited at the home of J. E. Caroon on January 9 and left a fine baby boy. The mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mr. Joseph Parent entertained a number of friends at his home a few nights ago. Dancing was the chief enjoyment of the evening. A good time is reported.

Chas. Dile and nephew, Will Decker, departed Tuesday for Minneapolis, and from there they will go to Albert Lea, where they will visit relatives for a couple of weeks.

Anyone wishing to have items published from this place should make a note of them and send them to M. L. S., correspondent, as we are so busy we cannot get all the news.

While working across the swamp lately, Asa Scofield's oxen came nearly being burned to death. The barn, which they were in, and also the camp was burned, but the oxen were gotten out alive.

DEER VALLEY

William Stevens and wife visited at the Gillig home, their relatives, lately. They are both looking fine.

Alva Stevens will start his saw mill about the first of February. The logs are coming in quite fast now-a-days.

It is rumored that our school will open on the first day of February. The children are getting rather anxious to attend.

Mrs. Chas. Heineman has been very sick lately and has been confined to her bed for several days. She now seems to be slowly improving and we all hope for the best.

Mr. Tippin is proving himself a good president of the Farmer's Co-operative Store at Rock Creek. It now seems as the everybody is satisfied, for once. Keep it up, sir, and the Farmer's Store will be all o. k. and will do a good business.

CONSERVATION PROCLAMATION

Governor Eberhart Issues Official Call for the First State Congress to Promote Agricultural Improvement and Conservation.

St. Paul, Jan. 19.—Governor A. O. Eberhart today issued a proclamation calling the first annual Minnesota Conservation Congress to meet in the municipal auditorium at St. Paul, March 16, 17, 18 and 19, 1910. The proclamation is as follows:

That an era of new and complex development is opening in Minnesota that is no doubt. The soil and climate of the state are second to none in this state untold opportunities for the development of farms, mines, forests, water power, reclamation of swamps, lands and construction of roads as well as the necessity of more railroad lines.

To determine by a congress of representative men, interested in all lines of business and social endeavor, what the resources of this state are and what are the means of their development, and to develop and extend the dairy industry necessitates more general discussion and knowledge of breeding live stock. Great progress has already been made in this state and the work is encouraged and extended. Minnesota will have in ten years a profitable market in other states and abroad for high priced cattle which combine milk and beef.

Good roads must be built to enable Minnesota producers to meet the competition of other states and the world. Having better transportation facilities, nearer markets and improved country roads. The cost of hauling our products to the market is excessive in comparison with the railroad charge for hauling similar products and will remain in excess of the cost of other states unless our roads are improved. Practical, intelligent work on the highways of the state will reduce the cost from a half to one-third, broaden the scope of the farmer's market and add to the profits.

Water Power Development.

With thousands of miles scattered over its broad domain, Minnesota has unquestioned opportunities for the development of water power. Discussion of the subject, the streams and their possibilities by practical engineers is to be desired that the people may realize that it rests with them whether they shall have cheap power and at the same time conserve the fish resources of the state.

At once one of the healthiest regions in the United States, the natural advantage undoubtedly needs guarding in the cities, in the homes and school houses. How best the public health may be preserved and improved is a question for wide discussion which will have for a result general education of the people to desire and secure the most healthful conditions everywhere.

The Impreciable Idea of taking a boy from the farm to teach him farming in the cities.

The courses of the rural school, the elements of practical, scientific agriculture and with the study goes industrial training for the boys and domestic science and art for the girls of the farm. The extension of these studies and how the system can be best fostered by the rural schools, is a subject worthy of the most earnest consideration.

Value of Farmers' Institutes.

Experience has shown that farmers' institutes, "short courses" and similar meetings have had a wide influence, adding not only millions to the value of production, but improving the conditions of life. That the citizens of Minnesota should join in such a movement for conservation and agricultural development seems fitting when the governments of earth have come to deem expenditures of time and money for research, discussion and agitation looking toward the creation of a strong public sentiment for better living, more important than any other line of work.

Taking into account, therefore these vital considerations for the welfare of the state, I hereby proclaim the holding of the Minnesota Conservation and Agricultural Development Congress in the municipal auditorium of the city of St. Paul, on March 16, 17, 18 and 19, 1910, and earnestly invite the entire citizenship of the state to participate and cooperate in carrying out the plans for this gathering that its purposes may be fully realized.

A. DOLPH O. EBERHART, Governor.

Attest: JULIUS A. SCHMAHL, Secretary of State, St. Paul, Minn., January 17, 1910.

LAKE BEING ROBBED OF FISH.

Hundreds of Barrets Are Taken From Water Near Sauk Center.

Sauk Center—Sauk lake is being robbed of all the fish and will soon be without any, if action is not taken immediately. The lake presents the appearance of a little settlement of huts, from the barrels of fish which are being taken every day. Local merchants are being supplied and shipments are being made to the cities. Most of this fishing is illegal, as many of the men are fishing without licenses.

This lake is seven miles long and has a magnificent shore line and is very picturesque, both in winter and summer.

WALSH IS HOPELESS

WRIT OF CERTIORARI IS DENIED BY THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

ONE MORE CHANCE FOR LIBERTY

Banker Makes New Move to Avoid Serving Five Years—Alleges Misconduct of Jurors in Seeking Review of Case.

Chicago.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National Bank of Chicago, and railroad promoter, who was convicted of misappropriating the funds of the bank, had received word from Washington that the United States supreme court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, he took another step to obstruct his serving five years in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas.

Through his attorneys he filed a petition in the United States circuit court of appeals asking that it direct the United States district court to grant a new trial. He charged the jurors who convicted him with misconduct.

While Mr. Walsh sitting in his office in the Grand Central station, received the news from Washington apparently with as much composure as if it were merely a detail of his ordinary business, his attorneys became active.

District Attorney Sims had gone into court with a motion that the case be issued at once transferring the aged financier to prison.

John B. Miller, one of Mr. Walsh's attorneys, filed on the ground that no official notice of the supreme court's action had been received. Just then a messenger appeared in the court room, stating that a copy of the writ had been telegraphed to Mr. Sims and was read as follows:

"Petition for certiorari in case of John R. Walsh against the United States denied." It was signed by James H. McKeeny, clerk of the supreme court.

When Mr. Sims then urged for an immediate mandate ordering the carrying out of the prison sentence, Mr. Miller demanded a stay until a certified copy of the decision should be long.

The evidence, alleging misconduct of the jurors, upon which Mr. Walsh hoped to obtain new trial, was contained in a letter under pressure from the other jurors. He asserts "that said jurors continued their persecutions and that finally, being physically weak and growing constantly weaker and so fearfully nervous gave way to his emotions and began to weep, when the juror Bron began to abuse and applied to him epithets and opprobrious names, such as 'big fool,' 'great big baby,' 'big calf,' and the like, thereby greatly humbling and causing him to suffer great mental anguish and increasing his mental and physical distress."

John C. Thayer, who was foreman of the jury, signed an affidavit in which he said Palmer went to him after the verdict had been sealed and asked him to unseal it and scratch off Palmer's name. He said he refused to open the verdict, telling Palmer it was against the law.

It is reported that the friends of Walsh even filed an appeal of his petition for a new trial would at once appeal to President Taft to grant the aged banker a pardon. It was said his course had actually been decided upon. Mr. Walsh's health, it was said, would not long withstand the confinement of prison life.

Ten Years for Andy Jones.

Pargo—Judge Amlund, in the United States court, sentenced Andy H. Jones, former cashier of the First National bank at Rugby, to ten years' imprisonment in the Leavenworth penitentiary. Jones was convicted of misappropriation of funds of the bank. The case will be appealed.

WOULDN'T MAKE ANY TROUBLE

Mrs. Betsy Baxter a Type of Visitor Many of Us Have Been Called on to Entertain.

"Is now, Miss Doolittle, don't you go to a mile of trouble on my account," said Mrs. Betsy Baxter when she arrived unexpectedly for dinner at the home of Mrs. Dora Doolittle. "You know that I'm a person for whom you can just lay down an extra plate an' set before me anything you happen to have in the house. If you just try a chicken sans sauce, you would for your own folks, an' make up a pan of your tea biscuits that no one can beat, an' open a glass of your red currant jelly, an' have a dish of your quince preserves, an' some of that pound cake you most allus have, some pippin apple fritters, with hot maple syrup to go with 'em, an' some of your good coffee an' your vegetables you happen to have in the house. I like sweet potatoes the way you bake 'em nightly, but in, just have anything else you happen to have. For one that expects an' is willin' to eat what's set before me, an' no questions asked, no fault found with me, I go 'tillin'. So don't you put yourself out a mite for me. If you have what I've mentioned an' anything else you want to have I'll be satisfied. I ain't one that cares very much about what it eat, anyhow. As the sayin' is, 'an' old thing will do for me'—Puck

Made It Clear.

Jim had never learned to read by the ordinary methods the face of the old eighty clock. It pleased his longtime employer, however, to ask him the hour and hear his answers.

"Jim, what time does the old clock say?" he asked one evening, when he had called. "Step out in the hall and see."

Jim was gone several minutes, but returned with a bounding face.

"Ah—Ah—waited five a minute to see which'd get ahead, de sho' one or de long one," he said. "When I went out dey was before on de left hand' windin' place, sah. But de long one, she clip it up good an' libely w'en she see me watchin' out, an' now she's 'bout a inch ahead, sah."—Youth's Companion.

That's the Question.

Wife—You were late last night.

Hub—Beg pardon, my dear. As I came in the front door the clock struck 11.

Wife—But what time did you arrive at the head of the stairs?

When He Courted You

He didn't complain if you were a little dependent or irritable at times. Now he does. He's the same man. He didn't understand then. He doesn't now. Then he thought it was caprice and doesn't like it. Now he thinks it is caprice and doesn't like it. But now he's busy getting money.

If he realized the full truth he would be more than anxious to have the wife he loves take the right remedy to restore her to true womanly health. Most men don't know that when a woman is weak, nervous, irritable and dependent, there is invariably something radically wrong with the delicate feminine organs with which her entire physique is in sensitive sympathy.

There is one, and just one remedy, tried and proven, that will put things right when the feminine organism is weak or diseased. It is late when he says they call the 4th chapter of Hab. a queer chapter because it does not agree with their teachings, that is a sad mistake. As the 4th chapter of Hebrews is very plain in that it sustains the seventh day Sabbath and shows that if we want to enter into the rest that remains for Gods people which is in the new earth, we must now enter into his Sabbath rest by keeping the seventh day Sabbath holy. Now Mr Fisher would have us believe that day spoken of here as "another day" refers to the first day of the week, but it is plainly seen that it refers to the rest that remains for the people of God in the new earth, and will be given only to the willing and obedient Isa 1:19. It is also stated in Isa 66:23 that the sabbath will be kept in the new earth, again he calls the seventh day Sabbath Jewish, but Mr Fisher if he calls it Jewish, then what right has any man to call it Jewish when it was made 2500 yrs, before their ever was a Jew, and further He says in Mark 2: 37,38 He made it for man, and so it was made for Adam as he was a man. It was also made for Mr Fisher if he calls himself a man. Mr. Fisher states that when Christ referred to the law in Matt 5:17 he excluded the Sabbath, but failed to give any bible proof for it. James says if you keep the whole law and yet offend in one point he is guilty in all. James 2:10. Mr. Fisher asserts that the Sabbatharians claim that God could not change in the New Testament what he ordained in the old. This is true, as God says in Mal 3:6 "I am the Lord I change not," also Ps 89:34 "I will not alter the thing that is gone out of my lips." He further claims that there is no command in the New Testament for keeping the Sabbath. Will say to this that N. T. is all full of exhortations to keep the commandments of which the 4th commandment is one, which says remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy six days shall do labor and do all thy work but the seventh is the sabbath rest. Mr. Fisher says the Lord himself abolished the Sabbath, but fails to give us any bible proof. Now which are we going to believe what Mr. Fisher says, or what God says? Let Paul answer, Rom 3:4 God forbid; yea, let God be true but every man a liar; Fisher further says, Paul forbids Christians to observe the seventh day but again fails to give bible proof. (To be continued next week.)

COMMUNICATED.
