THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Governor Eberhart Asks Citizens to Observe the Annual Holiday

St. Paul, Nov. 9.—With an apparent majority of approximately 60,000 votes favoring his election as governor of Minnesota to succeed himself, A. O. Eberhart this morning issued the annual Thanksgiving proclamation. It follows:

"Another eventful year in the history of the state is drawing to a close, and it behooves a thoughtful and grateful people to take stock of the many blessings vouchsafed them by a wise and discriminating Providence.

"Growth and prosperity on all lines have marked the progress of the year as a whole, while the one great calamity of the past season has brought its compensations in the splendid spirit and generous helpfulness that mitigated its horrors.

"Now, therefore, I, Adolph O. Eberhart, governor of Minnesota, in accordance with the custom of years, and in conformity with the action taken by the president of the United States, do hereby designate Thursday, the 24th day of November, 1910, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and further urge that all the people of the state, according to their several preferences, assemble in divine worship as a part of this observance."

DIED SUDDENLY

Albert Gross died suddenly at the home of his brother Frank who resides four miles west of this place on the Brunswick road.

Albert, who was a carpenter by trade, had been working in town, but Monday the 8th of last month he went out to his brother Frank, saying he did not feel well enough to work and thought he would rest for a week. He kept up around the house until Friday when he was confined to his bed. Dr. R. L. Wiseman was called, who pronounced his malady pneumonia.

Saturday night the doctor was sent for, but could not get out to him. He sent out some medicine but to no avail, as he passed away Sunday morning at eight o'clock.

Mr. Gross was born in Bohemia 44 years ago. He came to this country in 1881 and settled in St. Paul, where he made his home until 1904, when he came to this place to live. He has resided here ever since, excepting for periods of a couple months at a time when he went to St. Paul to work at his trade.

Albert was a good workman and his services were in great demand where he was known. He was a kind-hearted, generous gentleman and had many friends in this place and the surrounding country.

The funeral was held from St. Mary's Catholic church, Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock, and the body laid to rest in Calvary cemetery, Rev. Father Leo officiating.

He leaves behind numerous friends, four brothers and two sisters to mourn his loss.

The pall bearers were: Frank Still, Chas. Fanger, George Peters, Frank Rallis, Frank Weisner and Joe Fanger.

The Pioneer joins in extending its sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Beginning November 1st, 1910, we will discontinue giving trade checks. We are going to give away at noon, December 31st, 1910, a $50 Edison Phonograph. Come in and get the particulars. You know the place, Breckenridge's Pharmacy.

GENERAL ELECTION

Result of Election in Pine County of Candidates Having Opposition

The election in Pine county passed off very quietly, not enough enthusiasm being manifest to bring out over two-thirds of the vote. The fight in this county was confined to congressmen, representatives, surveyor and county superintendent of schools. In the first and third districts there was quite a fight on for county commissioner, but everything passed off quietly and the result of the votes as given below will show our readers how Pine County went on governor, members to congress, representatives, surveyor, county superintendent and commissioners. The Duluth Herald of yesterday morning gave Pine county as one county in the district that gave Jaques a majority. By a close look at the figures it will be seen that Clarence B. Miller carried the county by a majority of one hundred and sixty-eight.

Pine City has always been the strongest democratic precinct in the county, but at the election gave Eberhart 119 to Gray 94. This is a remarkable incident. The vote as recorded in the county auditor's office is as follows:

For Governor—
Adolph O. Eberhart	1,028
James Gray	614
Member of Congress—
Clarence B. Miller	1,018
Alfred Jaques	845
Representative—

JUSTICE MOODY RESIGNS.

This situation in judicial circles caused by the resignation of Justice Moody of the United States supreme court is peculiarly interesting just at this time. The appointments made by President Taft during his term, even though there should be no others, will constitute nearly a majority of the court. That he will endeavor to shape the court that it will reflect his personal views is undeniably. President Taft has an entirely different view of the supreme court from that expressed by Colonel Roosevelt, and his appointments up to the present time have shown very clearly that he feels that appointments to the high position should be made on merit alone and irrespective of the known opinions of the members of the court. Had President Taft accomplished nothing more during his term of office than to make the appointments he has to the supreme bench he would have signified his administration as one of the saddest in the history of the country.

DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE IS GENERAL

BEVERIDGE DEFEATED BY JOHN W. KERN

Gray Makes Poor Showing Against Eberhart, Which Day Attributes to Anti-Union Sentiment—Foss Defeated Gov. of Massachusetts—Harmen Wins in Ohio.

New York, N. Y.—John Dix, a business man, and the first Democratic nominee elected in 16 years, will be the next governor of New York. He was chosen by the people over Henry L. Stimson, Republican, for whom Theodore Roosevelt stamped the state, by a plurality based on 55,000 to 45,000. New York city gave him a plurality of more than 100,000, while Stimson came down to the Bronx with about 40,000, leaving a substantial lead for the Democratic nominee.

The normal Republican majority upstate has been greatly indented to cut down the rural vote and Stimson's estimated plurality to the borders of New York city, about 40,000, is less by 30,000 than the opposite vote polled by Hughes in 1908.

Both the assembly and senate returns ran strongly Democratic and there were some notable upsets in even the congressional districts. Representative Herbert Parsons, a lifelong friend and political associate of Theodore Roosevelt, and formerly chairman of the Republican county committee, was ousted by Jefferson M. Levy, Representative W. W. Cocks of Nassau county, Theodore Roosevelt's home state, was tipped out by Martin Littleton, William S. Bennett was defeated for congress by Henry George, a son of the political economist.

Sereno Payne, father of the tariff bill, was re-elected, but his home town, Auburn, went for Dix, and Vice President Sherman's candidate for congress was defeated by a Democrat. Representative Hamilton Fish, Republican, sentative Hamilton Fish, Republican, gave ground to Richard E. Connel, a Democrat. Not only did Colonel Roosevelt lose on the state ticket, and his candidate for congress in Nassau county, Theodore Roosevelt's home state, was tipped out by Martin Littleton, William S. Bennett was defeated for congress by Henry George, a son of the political economist.

Representatives Cannon of Illinois and Payne of New York, author of the tariff bill, are among the prominent Republicans re-elected to congress.

The Minnesota Results. Governor Eberhart's election will be by a majority of from 40,000 to 70,000. It was a landslide for the Republican candidate for governor.

Ohio Results. United States senators are assured from Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Rhode Island and Wisconsin, and Democratic senators from New Jersey and probably Tennessee, in addition to those already elected.

Representatives Cannon of Illinois and Payne of New York, author of the tariff bill, are among the prominent Republicans re-elected to congress.

In New Jersey Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, is elected governor over Vivian M. Lewis, Republican, by from 10,000 to 15,000, reversing the Republican plurality of 8,000 in 1907. The legislature of New Jersey is probably Democratic and will elect a Democratic United States senator to succeed John A. Kern.

In Massachusetts Foss, Democrat, defeated Governor Eben R. Draper, Republican, for reelection by about 57,000 plurality, reversing Governor Draper's former plurality of 4,000.

In Connecticut Judge Simeon E. Baldwin is elected governor over Charles A. Goodwin, Republican, by about 2,500 plurality, reversing the previous Republican plurality of 16,000.

In Ohio Governor Judson Harmon, Democrat, candidate for reelection, is elected by an estimated plurality of 30,000.

In New Hampshire Robert P. Bass, Republican candidate for governor, is elected by a majority of 1,716. This is not the best showing for the Minnesota congressman and indicates that the "Doller Maker," in his appeal for support, has struck a responsive chord.

In the Fifth or Hennepin district, Congressman Frank M. Nye has won. With two predicts to hear from, he had received a majority of 1,716. This is not the best showing for the Minnesota congressman and indicates that the "Doller Maker," in his appeal for support, has struck a responsive chord.

In the other districts, where the Republican congressmen had no opposition, there was, of course, no particular interest, and they have been accorded nothing but a regular vote.

Probably the greatest interest centered in the First district, where a fight was on between Mr. Buck and the progressive candidate for congress, the Twain men were out in revolt and threatened to get the scalp of the progressive candidate.

Probably John Buck's attitude on the tariff, when he declared himself in favor of a tariff for revenue only, had as much as anything to do with the success of Anderson.

Michigan, Chase S. Osborn, Republican, is elected governor by a plurality estimated at 40,000.

In Wisconsin, Francis E. McGovern, Republican, is apparently elected by a reduced majority and the return of Senator La Follette is assured.

Democratic governors were elected in Alabama and South Carolina. Returns from other localities of the Middle and Far West are not yet conclusive. In California Johnson and Bell are reported running neck and neck in Wyoming the election of George W. Eberhart, Republican candidate for governor, is claimed by 4,000.

In Oklahoma both sides are claiming the governorship.

Republicans United States senators are assured from Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Rhode Island and Wisconsin, and Democratic senators from New Jersey and probably Tennessee, in addition to those already elected.

In Minnesota. The cause of Democracy is bound to win in Minnesota as it has won in every other state.

Minnesota will send its usual delegation to congress with the one exception of Sydney Anderson of the First district.

In the Third district, C. R. Davis; the Sixth, C. A. Lindbergh; the Seventh, A. J. Volstead; the Ninth, Halvor Steenerson; there were no contests against the Republican congressmen.

Probably one of the most notable fights was that of the First district where Sydney Anderson, the man who defeated James T. Lewis, was pitted against H. L. Buck, the Democratic candidate. Anderson appears to have won by a majority ranging from 5,500 to 5,000.

In Ramsey County, Congressman P. C. Egan has won over the banker candidate, J. L. Gleske, by a comfortable majority. It was estimated at 7,000.

In the Fifth or Hennepin district, Congressman Frank M. Nye has won. With two predicts to hear from, he had received a majority of 1,716. This is not the best showing for the Minnesota congressman and indicates that the "Doller Maker," in his appeal for support, has struck a responsive chord.

ives became a certainty shortly after midnight.

It was then known that the Democrats had gained 25 seats in the house, including two previously secured in Maine. Republicans gained from the Democratic vote 24, which is sufficient to give them control.

That they will have a good working majority was indicated by the returns from several states, among them New Jersey.

Returns there showed there would probably be a gain of six Democrats in the representation of that state.

Other returns from New York and Pennsylvania indicated the success of several Democrats in their contests for seats now held by Republicans.

The Democrats also expected to increase their lead by returning several members from Illinois and also from Missouri.

The definite Democratic gains were: New York, 3; Pennsylvania, 3; North Carolina, 2; Ohio, 3; Massachusetts, 2; Maryland, 2; Connecticut, 1; Illinois, 1; Iowa, 1; Kentucky, 1; Missouri, 1; West Virginia, 1.

The Republican gains were: Massachusetts, 1; New York, 1; Pennsylvania, 1.

Lloyd's Statement. James T. Lloyd, chairman of the Democratic national congressional committee, issued the following statement:

"Present indications are that congress will be Democratic by about 25 majority. This far the returns indicate that our pre-election estimates were about correct."

The causes which have led to the results of today are well known. It is a serious rebuke to the Republican party for its failure to reduce the tariff, in the people believed the party had promised. The high cost of protected, manufactured articles which has resulted in greatly increased cost of living has had very much to do with producing this result. There is general dissatisfaction with existing political conditions and with the Republican administration. This has led to its repudiation as far as could be done at the polls.

"The Democratic party has won a victory because the only hope of the people is in its supremacy."

"The Republican party has shown by its course that it will not enact legislation in the interest of the masses when such legislation would be to the detriment of the classes."

J. Mahlon Barnes, national secretary of the Socialist party, issued the following statement:

"The Socialist party comes out of the campaign with flying colors and has made the main objective—six hundred per cent throughout the nation."

"The vote in 1908 was 434,000. This will be doubled. About 25 members of state legislatures are now assured in the states of Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Massachusetts. Three congressmen are assured by the number of the Republican state tickets in California is expected on later returns to quadruple the vote of two years ago."

Results in Iowa Doubtful. Des Moines, Iowa.—At midnight last night both Democrats and Republicans claimed the governorship with the Democrats showing the greater confidence in Governor Carr. It is expected it will be by the narrowest margins.

Charles B. Porter, Democratic candidate, had but he would carry the state by 20,000, but more conservative estimates, based on returns from 100 precincts of 2,000 placed his plurality at 10,000 or 15,000.

Governor Carroll was scratched merely, running behind his ticket practically every precinct. The re-mains of the Republican state ticket is probably Republican.

This state has 11 congressional districts.

I. B. Pepper, the young Democratic candidate in the Second district, walked away with the election, carrying every county over his opponent, Charles Grille. It was in behalf of the latter that Colonel Roosevelt recently made an address at Davenport.

Chicago Sub-Treasury to Be Examined Before New Management Goes In.

In the Fourth and Sixth districts respectively, the Republican incumbents, Congressman Hansen and Kendall were reported in danger.

Burlington reported that Congressman Kennedy, Republican, "was safe." This statement was disputed by Democratic chairman Reed. R. F. Frost, the progressive Republican candidate of the Seventh (Des Moines) district, who created the nomination from the veteran "stand-pater" Captain Hill, seemed to have landed the position so often sought unsuccessfully before.

CHARLES A. GOODWIN, Republican Candidate for Governor of Connecticut.

Walker I. Smith, a member of the Cannon rules committee, and who is credited with speakeasy aspirations, was elected with greatly reduced plurality in the Ninth.

Stubs Re-elected in Kansas. Topeka, Kas.—Gov. W. R. Stubs was re-elected in Kansas by a majority estimated by Republican campaign managers at from 12,000 to 20,000. Stubs made his race on a progressive Republican platform and was vigorously opposed by George A. Harding. The returns of the Republican state ticket is practically certain of election.

The election of six Republican congressmen is conceded but the results of two congressional races remain in doubt. In the third district P. F. Hill completely returned John D. Rockefeller, Democrat, and L. D. Young, Rep., are having a hard struggle in the Sixth district.

Harmon Wins in Ohio. Cleveland, Ohio.—Dilatory returns indicated that Governor Judson Harmon, Democrat, has made a clean sweep of the state, defeating Warren G. Harding, Republican, and his plurality will approximate 90,000. With him he has carried at least 12 and possibly 15 Democratic congressional candidates in districts that have heretofore elected Republicans. Ohio will send at least 10 and possibly 12 Democrats to congress.

Surprise in Wisconsin. Milwaukee, Wis.—The Social Democratic party will be represented in the next house of representatives by Victor L. Berger of the Fifth Wisconsin district, his election being conceded by the Republican committee. In complete returns show Berger to be leading his opponent, Henry C. Coeburn, insurgent Republican, by an apparently safe margin.

Gaylord, Social Democrat, also claims he is elected over Carr in the Fourth district, but this is not conceded by the Republican committee, who claim Carr's election by a small plurality.

Harmon Wins in Ohio. Cleveland, Ohio.—Dilatory returns indicated that Governor Judson Harmon, Democrat, has made a clean sweep of the state, defeating Warren G. Harding, Republican, and his plurality will approximate 90,000. With him he has carried at least 12 and possibly 15 Democratic congressional candidates in districts that have heretofore elected Republicans. Ohio will send at least 10 and possibly 12 Democrats to congress.

Surprise in Wisconsin. Milwaukee, Wis.—The Social Democratic party will be represented in the next house of representatives by Victor L. Berger of the Fifth Wisconsin district, his election being conceded by the Republican committee. In complete returns show Berger to be leading his opponent, Henry C. Coeburn, insurgent Republican, by an apparently safe margin.

Gaylord, Social Democrat, also claims he is elected over Carr in the Fourth district, but this is not conceded by the Republican committee, who claim Carr's election by a small plurality.

The Social Democrats elect their Milwaukee county ticket by between

W. R. Stubs was re-elected in Kansas by a majority estimated by Republican campaign managers at from 12,000 to 20,000. Stubs made his race on a progressive Republican platform and was vigorously opposed by George A. Harding. The returns of the Republican state ticket is practically certain of election.

The election of six Republican congressmen is conceded but the results of two congressional races remain in doubt. In the third district P. F. Hill completely returned John D. Rockefeller, Democrat, and L. D. Young, Rep., are having a hard struggle in the Sixth district.

lected by about 5,000 plurality.

In Pennsylvania the election of John K. Tener, Republican candidate for governor, is claimed, but the later returns indicate a largely reduced plurality.

In Rhode Island Governor Pothier, Republican candidate for re-election, is elected governor by a reduction of about 1,000 in the previous plurality.

In Tennessee the famous candidate, W. Hooper, is elected by 20,000 plurality.

In Michigan, Chase S. Osborn, Republican, is elected governor by a plurality estimated at 40,000.

In Wisconsin, Francis E. McGovern, Republican, is apparently elected by a reduced majority and the return of Senator La Follette is assured.

Democratic governors were elected in Alabama and South Carolina. Returns from other localities of the Middle and Far West are not yet conclusive. In California Johnson and Bell are reported running neck and neck in Wyoming the election of George W. Eberhart, Republican candidate for governor, is claimed by 4,000.

In Oklahoma both sides are claiming the governorship.

Republicans United States senators are assured from Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Rhode Island and Wisconsin, and Democratic senators from New Jersey and probably Tennessee, in addition to those already elected.

Representatives Cannon of Illinois and Payne of New York, author of the tariff bill, are among the prominent Republicans re-elected to congress.

The Minnesota Results. Governor Eberhart's election will be by a majority of from 40,000 to 70,000. It was a landslide for the Republican candidate for governor.

Ohio Results. United States senators are assured from Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Rhode Island and Wisconsin, and Democratic senators from New Jersey and probably Tennessee, in addition to those already elected.

has resulted in greatly increased cost of living has had very much to do with producing this result. There is general dissatisfaction with existing political conditions and with the Republican administration. This has led to its repudiation as far as could be done at the polls.

"The Democratic party has won a victory because the only hope of the people is in its supremacy."

"The Republican party has shown by its course that it will not enact legislation in the interest of the masses when such legislation would be to the detriment of the classes."

J. Mahlon Barnes, national secretary of the Socialist party, issued the following statement:

"The Socialist party comes out of the campaign with flying colors and has made the main objective—six hundred per cent throughout the nation."

"The vote in 1908 was 434,000. This will be doubled. About 25 members of state legislatures are now assured in the states of Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Massachusetts. Three congressmen are assured by the number of the Republican state tickets in California is expected on later returns to quadruple the vote of two years ago."

Results in Iowa Doubtful. Des Moines, Iowa.—At midnight last night both Democrats and Republicans claimed the governorship with the Democrats showing the greater confidence in Governor Carr. It is expected it will be by the narrowest margins.

Charles B. Porter, Democratic candidate, had but he would carry the state by 20,000, but more conservative estimates, based on returns from 100 precincts of 2,000 placed his plurality at 10,000 or 15,000.

Governor Carroll was scratched merely, running behind his ticket practically every precinct. The re-mains of the Republican state ticket is probably Republican.

This state has 11 congressional districts.

THOUGHT SHE HAD PRACTISED

Frenchman's Suspicious Really Something of a Compliment to the Men of America.

Charles Grahame White, the English aviator, praised at a dinner in New York, the good fellowship of Americans.

"The American woman is regarded abroad as an angel," he said. "The man is admittedly a good fellow, but an angel he is far from being."

"You've heard of the Frenchman, perhaps, whose sweetheart spent the summer in America. After her return the poor Frenchman seemed quite blind."

"What's the matter with you?" a friend asked.

"I am worried," the other muttered, "about my fiancée. You see, since her return from America she kisses so much better than she used to."

AN INTOLERABLE ITCHING

"Just about two years ago, some form of humor appeared on my scalp. The beginning was a slight itching but it grew steadily worse. At first it itched on my hair, the scalp became raw and the ends of the comb-teeth would be wet with blood. Most of the time there was an intolerable itching, in a painful burning way. I was much as a bad, raw burn. It deep, wild and smart when first beginning to heal. Combing my hair was positive torture. My hair was long and tangled terribly because of the blood and scabs. This continued growing worse and over half my hair fell out. I was in despair, my hair itself of becoming really bald."

"Sometimes the pain was so great that, when partially awake, I could scratch the worst places so that my finger-tips would be bloody. I could not sleep well and after being asleep a short time, that awful itching pain would commence and then I would wake up nearly wild with the torture. A neighbor told me it must be salt rheum. Having used Cuticura Soap, merely as a toilet soap before, I now decided to order a set of the Cuticura Remedies—Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills. I used them according to directions for perhaps six weeks. Then left off, as the disease seemed to be eradicated, but toward spring, eighteen months ago, there was a slight return of the really humor. I commenced the Cuticura treatment at once, so had very little trouble. On my scalp I used about one half a cake of Cuticura Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment in all. The first time I took six or seven bottles of Cuticura Pills and the last time three bottles—either an expensive or a waste of money. Since then, I have had no scalp trouble of any kind. Standing up, with my hair unbound, it comes to my knees and had it not been for Cuticura I should doubtless be wholly bald."

"This is a veterinary, uncollected testimonial and I take pleasure in writing it. Hoping my experience may help someone else. Give them 100 Pills. R. P. D. Liberty, Me., Oct. 23, 1904."

MONTIEVEDO WRECK

UNIQUE WILL ATTACKED. Bank Center Man Ties Up Sums for Life Time of Two Heirs.

St. Cloud—Chalmers, the provisions of the will of the late Solomon Pendergast of Bank Center, in which he leaves part of his estate to accumulate in the life of a person, is illegal with the exception of Mabel Carr, of Hunter, N. D., who has filed an appeal that the will be set aside. The case will come up in the district court in December.

In the original will of Pendergast, his estate, amounting to $15,000, personal property and $75,000 real estate, was divided into four parts, and Fred Cooper and Robert Kells of Bank Center were named as executors and trustees.

One-fourth was given outright to Mabel Carr, the daughter of Hunter, N. D. The second fourth was given outright to his daughter, Mrs. Maud Dewey of Bank Center.

The third quarter was given in trust to the trustee and out of the income, Mrs. Nellie La Fond of Bank Center, his daughter, was to be provided for. After her death this part of the estate was to revert to his other daughter, Mrs. Carr. The remaining quarter was also placed in trust with the trustees, and from the income of it the trustees were to be compensated, and his daughter, Carrie, the wife of C. Carr of Bank Center, and his granddaughter, Percy Lambert of the same place, were to be supported. After the death of Mrs. Carr, this share was to go to Miss Lambert.

The action is brought on the grounds that the accumulation of the profits of an estate for a longer period than the minority of a person is illegal, and that none of the persons concerned are minors.

Montevideo—Five men were perhaps fatally injured, an engineer and fireman killed, and scores of others badly shaken up and bruised in a wreck which occurred here between two sections of train number six on the Milwaukee road. The railroad of livestock were incinerated, and a caboose and half a dozen cars of the freight train were either burned or smashed to splinters. The locomotive was also destroyed.

The Dead. WILLIAM B. HILL, Miles City, Mont. THOMAS HILL, son of W. B. Hill, Miles City, Montana. GEORGE LEPPER, Homer, S. D. J. DECHTER, Greenway, S. D. HERMAN RAHFELD, Aberdeen, S. D. Seriously injured, now in Montevideo hospital.

George Hahsel, Aberdeen, S. D., stuck in, caught in burning caboose, reacted by firemen. Possibly fatally burned.

William Boring, Miles City, Mont., stuck in, caught in burning caboose. Burns very serious. Will probably die.

George Parker, Montevideo, engineer of passenger train, hurt in jumping. Sticker, Montevideo, fireman of passenger train, hurt in jumping.

Train No. 6 is the regular night passenger train from the west, which enters Montevideo at 6:45 a. m. daily. On account of the heavy traffic the train was run in four sections, the first being the regular Aberdeen passenger, the next two sections being special stock trains, run on passenger cars, and the last section being the heavy Butte passenger train.

The first section on time. The first section reached here at 6:45 exactly on time. It was closely followed by the second section, but the third section was slightly delayed. Just as this second stock train was backing into the Montevideo stock yard, about a mile west of here, the heavy passenger train, which makes up time, was seen to come down the steep grade at high speed.

The train crew to stop. Reversing their engine, Engineer Parker and Fireman Sticker leaped for their lives and the passenger train came to a stop. The rear of the freight train with a derailed steam, there was a hiss and roar of steam, and the locomotive of the passenger dived under the caboose of the freight train, containing the six ill-fated stock men. Almost immediately the caboose was a mass of flames, and the adjoining cars began to burn.

Mingled with the cries of the imprisoned stockmen in the burning caboose were the cries of several hundred heads of cattle which were indicated in the stock cars. Terrified passengers who had been thrown from their seats by the impact of the collision came to the streets and with axes made an opening in the blazing caboose through which the two stockmen, Hahsel and Boring, were rescued.

HE PASSED TO COOK

STATEMENT OF TWO ABORIGINES CONFIRMS ALLEGATIONS OF PEARY.

THAT HE NEVER SAW THE POLE

Explorers Traveled in Circle Only Short Distance From Land—Companions Promised Reward, But Never Got It.

Chicago, Ill. Dr. Frederick A. Cook is further discredited in a special cable dispatch to the Chicago Daily News from his correspondent in Copenhagen, Denmark. The story was the first publication of the report of Knud Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, as sent by him to his wife in Copenhagen and now given out by her.

Contained in the story is what purports to be a statement of Cook's two Eskimo companions in the polar world, Ilukkuak and Apilik, in which they affirm Commander Robert E. Peary's charge that Cook traveled in a circle and never even approached the pole. Rasmussen in the story is quoted as saying he himself did not interview the men, but that their statements were taken from Gretnavik Olofson and Katek Schumann, two missionaries born in Greenland, and at the time of securing the statements, worked in the country from which Cook is claimed to have started for the pole.

This is the story of the Eskimo, as given in the dispatch.

"We traveled from Anaktuok with eight sledges in company with Dr. Cook, at the first snow (February). From there to Ellesmere we slept only once on the ice. It took four days to cross Ellesmere land. Eighteen days out our companions left us. We then had gone only about twelve English miles from land.

"We left here a lot of food for men and dogs and one of us (Ilukkuak) went ahead to examine the ice. We do not know how many miles it was, but Dr. Cook looked at it and said it was land.

"On the way back we stopped at open water near the land. We stopped one day and went over to Hinnars Island, before the snow had melted (April). We had not met the seal fog on the ice. At this time the sun was just below the horizon at night. It was the month when it does not get dark (March). Later, when near Alexanderberg, we passed two days in a fog.

Drawing False Map. "One day I, Apilik, came upon Dr. Cook sitting down and drawing a map. I asked him what he was drawing. "Those were our drawings," "My own," replied Dr. Cook.

"This was a lie, because he drew the map as he lay out at sea, where we never had been.

"We continued to shoot bears on the ice, till we had enough for the dogs. We do not know how many nights we slept on this part of the journey. The small rivers had only begun to break through the ice when we arrived.

"Here at Dr. Cook directed us, we left our dogs behind us, although they were fat from the most of bears. We crossed the great sound and had to get our boat along the ice. Dr. Cook said:

"We will reach home being (Reddy's Land) within two days." We had a dog sled which he looked ahead and said he saw a tent. But it was only a stone. We kept hunting for human beings a long time. Then we saw a boat. It was a small boat and said he saw a tent. But it was only a stone. We kept hunting for human beings a long time. Then we saw a boat.

"Dr. Cook during the journey found a lot of Cap Codden, where we were hoping. We followed the land past Cape Sparbu and when our provisions were nearly gone, we returned to the Cape Codden, where we were arranged for wintering.

Never Got Rewards. "Dr. Cook during the journey found a lot of Cap Codden, where we were hoping. We followed the land past Cape Sparbu and when our provisions were nearly gone, we returned to the Cape Codden, where we were arranged for wintering.

"I regard the report as absolutely untrue. According to what is known Dr. Cook said nothing of the pole while with his two companions and when he left them and began to tell of his discovery, his two companions believed, as they could not conceive a man prevaricating about so great a thing. The map drawn by Peary is remarkably well done."

Rasmussen also sent his wife a similar report on Peary's trip, says the Chicago Daily News, prepared for giving to the late of Ingargahak and Unkar, Peary's companions. This part of the dispatch says Peary prepared the map by sending ahead men and sledges some time before.

SPEEDY JUSTICE

The disposition made of the "Crippen case" by the English courts at the Old Bailey, where Dr. Henry Crippen was tried on the charge of wife murder and was convicted and sentenced at the end of a trial lasting less than four days and after less than half an hour's deliberation by the jury, is furnishing some of the American newspapers with an excuse for criticism of the American courts by contrasting this case with the "Thaw case" in New York some time ago. These writers seem to draw much satisfaction from the fact that this whole trial was disposed of in less than four days. The jury was drawn and sworn in eight minutes. This being the space-writers' idea of the proper administration of justice.

It may be that in this case justice was done, and the Pioneer is inclined to think it was. The fact that the doctor ran away as soon as he found that he was under suspicion branded him as a criminal, and the circumstances under which he and his stenographer were arrested went a long way toward satisfying the public that he was the perpetrator of the fiendish crime, but had the case been less clear against him it is evident that this rail-roading in the galleries would be received in a far different light.

The history of the "Old Bailey" is not such as to make any man in America wish to have our country witness a repetition of the scenes which the mere mention of the name brings up. English justice may be speedy and their criminal trial methods may be superior to ours, but there can be no question that the American public would not tolerate a system which makes the judge a prosecuting officer or turns the whole system into a mere machine for the purpose of carrying out the will of the prosecuting officer or the government. If the Crippen trial was a sample of deorous administration of justice the trial of his companion was certainly a sample of comely unequalled in the history of the American courts. This woman was either guilty or innocent of complicity in the crime. If the officers of the crown believed her to be innocent it was their duty to dismiss the case. If they believed her to be guilty she should have been tried for the crime and the proceedings should not have been a farce.

While American courts have in many cases been found rather slow there is much that can be said in favor of our system over that of England. In the first place the courts are run to protect the innocent as well as to convict the guilty, and in our courts a man of moderate means, though suspected of crime, is not railroaded through to the gallows without even a chance to question the men who are to try him. A packed jury by the state is an impossibility in our American courts. It is not the American system that is at fault so much as it is the American who get into the jury box. The teaching of the times in America is to blame for much of the failure of our jury system. The yellow press, the demagogue in politics who prates about the rights of "the people" and says that "the people are superior to laws, to presidents and constitutions," and leads their political head on the ignorance of the people who accept such statements as a patriotic expression are the factors which produce the conditions existing in our courts. There should be no question as to the ultimate success of our system of criminal trials. It is the best in the world—the collected wisdom of the law-makers of the world—but until the people are educated up to the point where they recognize the law as the expression of the will of the people—the collected will of the nation—there will be no proper administration of criminal law. It is such massed sympathy and lawless disregard of the rights and duties of citizens as has been displayed in the Thaw case which produce the kind of justice in our courts.

It is not always the girl with the wad of false hair and the picture hat that amounts to the most in this world, nor is it the man who wears the best clothes who leaves the largest vacant place when he shuffles off.

WE have now had nearly six months of political agitation and two very expensive elections, thanks to the "direct primary"—that panacea that was to cure all our ills from bald heads to lunacy. Just since the bunch of officers we have and see if they are an improvement on the product of the old system?

THE Azores Islands which have received a shaking up together with the parent government in the recent Portuguese Revolution are decidedly anxious to have a real touch of republican government and hence wish to be annexed to the United States. They evidently want to get in where they can have some real excitement once in a while.

CHANGE is not always improvement.

Now that it is all over, what was it all about, anyway?

Now that election is out of the way we can turn our undivided attention to foot ball.

AND now that Colonel Roosevelt has gone up in an air ship he may be said to be a high flyer.

There is no double standard of morals. The fellow who is crooked in politics isn't honest in business.

THERE'S a lot of fellows in the country who have forgotten to give you the "glad hand" since last Tuesday.

IT MIGHT be just as well to remember that for the next two years, at least, Uncle Sam will be doing business at the same old stand.

JUST so long as the Taft administration persists in getting after the rich smugglers it will continue to be unpopular with certain classes.

Now we will have a chance to rest up a little before the coming of the legislative session with its "freak" bills introduced by amateur statesmen.

FOR a little while at least Cannon and "Cannonism" will be given a rest. Some other "escape goat" will be found for the cheap skates we send to congress.

THE Pioneer may be mistaken, but it honestly believes that there will be some tall scramblings to get back on the old hand wagon before 1912 comes around.

DIDN'T some one say something about the Panama Canal a short time ago. As a front page attraction the big ditch has been forgotten for some time.

WELL, they couldn't all get the offices, and the fellows who did will "get theirs" when the time comes, just the same as the men they succeeded did.

DON'T kick about the boys and girls going to the city to live. They know a good thing and go to the place where they can hope to get a little of the money you send to the mail order houses.

AFTER all the noise and heated arguments, it is the man next door that you will have to live beside, and if you got into argument with him which caused bad feelings, you had better square yourself.

THERE never was a time in the history of man when plain old-fashioned honesty was as popular as just now, nor when the people turned to the religion of their fathers more earnestly than they do at present.

IT ISN'T always the girl with the wad of false hair and the picture hat that amounts to the most in this world, nor is it the man who wears the best clothes who leaves the largest vacant place when he shuffles off.

IT MAY be a little early just now to tell what will go into the next platform in this state, but it looks as though the license question was destined to loom up pretty big in 1912, and the politicians don't want it, either.

WE have now had nearly six months of political agitation and two very expensive elections, thanks to the "direct primary"—that panacea that was to cure all our ills from bald heads to lunacy. Just since the bunch of officers we have and see if they are an improvement on the product of the old system?

THE Azores Islands which have received a shaking up together with the parent government in the recent Portuguese Revolution are decidedly anxious to have a real touch of republican government and hence wish to be annexed to the United States. They evidently want to get in where they can have some real excitement once in a while.

THE boy or girl that scoffs at the religion of their fathers forgets that that religion has had the approval of the best men of whom history tells us, and is an active, moving controlling force in the lives of the most prominent men in the political and commercial world today. There is a premium on men whose lives are shaped according to the teachings of the Good Old Book.

WITH the Portuguese in revolt; with the Spanish throne tottering; with France decidedly uneasy; with England locking up German officers as spies and the German prisons overflowing with English officers; with Russia pushing her improvements on the Manchurian railway and evidently preparing for another trial of her military power in the east, it certainly looks as though the dove of peace hovering over Europe was going to have her feathers ruffled a little bit. Still the whole thing may be but the aftermath of Colonel Roosevelt's European trip.

THE most dangerous man in public life today is the man who would build up his political fortunes by stirring up class hatreds and who is constantly appealing to the mob for their support. What we need in public life today is a few more men who have the manhood to follow the course of the late Senator C. K. Davis when he sent his famous telegram to the laboring men of Duluth who had demanded his support for the "freak" bill introduced in the senate by the wild-eyed Kyle of South Dakota. When our congressmen are governed by their own sense of duty rather than by public clamor then there will be more statesmen and less demagogues in our congress.

THE Chengwatana Dam decision of the district court was no surprise to those who have followed the course of the litigation over this question. The court simply followed the precedents established for many years and declared the law as it has existed since the government was established and even before that time. It is to be hoped that the matter is at rest, but if appeal should be taken there is no question as to the final outcome. Now it may be that there will be an attempt at more "Diets business," but if there is it is a good safe bet that the people of Minnesota will not put up with the foolishness the people of Wisconsin did. The courts have decided the question and this decision should be sustained by every law-abiding citizen of the county and state.

THE initiative and referendum is based on the proposition that all men are capable of framing laws. It discounts the authority of the courts and the established principles of law and seeks to vest the law-making power absolutely in the people, whose power is to be unrestrained, which simply means that its advocates believe that it takes training for a man to plan a building, to run an engine or to build a locomotive, but that the same men who have trained themselves for these pursuits are also capable of building up a structure of law which is of its very nature more complex than any machine which human mind has yet conceived. The great trouble with the times now is "freak" legislation. What we need is less legislation and more of the application of known principles of law to our every day affairs.

WHILE the dashing colonel of the Rough Riders has been going about the country talking about "civic righteousness," and insisting on higher standards of conduct, the Taft administration has been quietly going about its work catching thieves, pushing importers who jumped the tariff duty, and holding up the "smart set" on their return from Europe and making them tell the truth about the dutiable goods they were trying to smuggle into this country with them. It may be that the noise that is being made keeps the common people from noticing what is being so quietly done by the administration. It looks to us as though it was much better to stand by the people who are doing their duty and enforcing the laws than to run after wild cat promises. A few more years of Taft and business in the White House would make dishonesty a bit unpopular and unprofitable, and when it ceases to pay it will cease to exist.

He died at St. Luke's hospital, in St. Paul, Saturday afternoon, and was buried in Oakland cemetery Monday. Miss Eckelberry returned home Monday afternoon.

—Have you purchased a season ticket for the entertainment company? If not, why not? You will certainly miss it if you fail to hear one of the four entertainments to be given by the Century Lyceum Bureau here this winter. The first one of the concert will be given Saturday evening at Stock's hall. The prices of the season's tickets are only $1.00 for the four entertainments, only a little over 35 cents for what would ordinarily cost you a dollar. Can you afford to miss the opportunity of hearing dollar entertainments for only 35 cents?

—The ladies of Emily J. Stone Club have many pleasant surprises, not the least of them being an invitation from Mrs. C. F. Stephan for all the members of the club who were at the business meeting to come up to her home for lunch on Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being her birthday. About twenty-five or thirty sisters and neighbors responded and spent a delightful hour, each having their own valise for many returns of the day. Mrs. Stephan was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Mikahson, and Mrs. M. A. Stephan.

There will be a dance at Edw. Sade's hall, Saturday evening, when we will see some of our prominent people of Hildesley and Pine County. Mrs. Alexander and John Zieg, who have been employed in the Pine City ferry boat for the past couple of months, departed on Saturday last for White Pine, where which place they will work in the woods for Jim McDonald.

—The three ladies in the lead Pine State Telephone office were back last Friday night receiving the monthly bill of the station and making them to different places in and out on their lines. The ladies had to commiserate for their talkativeness and persistence in answering calls.

—E. H. Doney, who is working in a bank at Parkington, came up on Saturday morning on business and to visit with relatives and friends. He returned to the scene of his labors Parkington very much, but is always ready for an opportunity to get back home, and his many friends here are always glad to see him.

—Mrs. J. E. Brundage departed Wednesday noon for Hildesley to take charge of the drug store at that place during the absence of her son John, who is out east of Hildesley on a deer hunting trip with Dr. E. L. Stephan.

—Mrs. Stephan is out in the woods with her deer and will come for them in the deer's skin, and if a deer comes within range of her rifle it will be good-by deer.

—Thursday evening Chapparran's Frango No. 60, Parkington, had a meeting in E. E. P. hall, at which from two new members have been initiated. After the close and the decision returned was held and the decision returned was served to the sisters and English who, this present. The sisters were 60, this present. DEER VALLEY.

Will Olson will give a Thanksgiving dinner at his home Thursday evening, Nov. 24. He expects a large crowd of old as well as young people. Bill is always trying to make everyone happy.

It looks as if the deer hunting season was at hand as hunters can be seen traveling north and east through the valley getting ready for the season which opened yesterday the 10th. This valley will be well supplied with hunters this fall.

There was quite a large shooting party given at the Gilling home last Saturday evening, and from all reports everyone enjoyed themselves. Will Stephens and sister May furnished the music and supper was served at midnight by Mrs. Gilling.

Mrs. Collins and daughter, Mrs. Stank, of Minneapolis, were visitors Monday morning at the Chas. Helmsman home at Rock Creek. Mrs. Stank, who has been spending a week with her parents in this place, returned to her home last Tuesday morning.

Luther Herrig and wife are going in the near future to Cumberland, Wis., to visit with Mr. Herrig's parents. Mr. Herrig has some property but he is not able to attend to it any time. We all wish them a safe journey and hope they will enjoy their visit.

Miss Bruce, who is engaged at the Golden Hotel, St. Paul, and who has been visiting her mother and sister in this place for a week, will return to her mother to Rock City Sunday for a few days. She will then return to her position to catch the limited for the city on Monday. She will have a party at her home at Rock Creek. Mrs. Helmsman made them a copy of coffee to keep them warm for the rest of the journey.

UNCLE SAM AS A KITE FLYER

KITE FLYING BY GOVERNMENT EXPERTS

"KNOCKED DOWN" FOR TRANSPORTATION

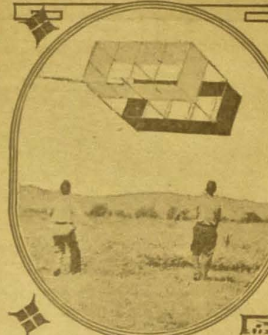

IT is the present world-wide interest in aviation has come a corresponding stimulus of interest in kite flying—not the ordinary sort of kite flying that we all indulged in when we were boys, although that has many devotees—but scientific kite flying. Both in England and America daring experimenters have accomplished wonders with man-lifting kites, which when sent up tandem have demonstrated their ability to lift human beings to the clouds quite as readily as do motor-driven airships. Thus, too, Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, has these past few years performed some wonderful experiments with a new type of kite made up of triangular cells and hopes yet to solve the problem of aerial navigation with a sky craft developed along this line.

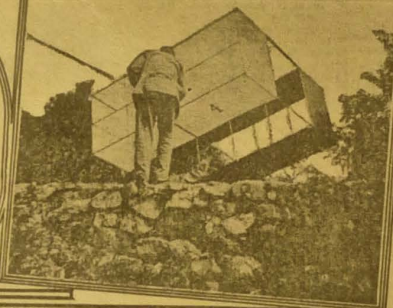

While the man-lifting kites have thus been developing to the point of unmeasured possibilities another branch of scientific kite flying has been making like progress. This embraces the use of kites for studying the conditions of the upper air and obtaining data to be used in forecasting the weather. Various institutions all over the world have been using kites in this way, but the lead has been taken by the United States government, thanks to the facilities which it enjoys at its unique new weather observatory in northern Virginia, not far from the West Virginia line. The Mount Weather observatory, as this new kite station is officially designated, is designed especially for the exploration of the upper air by means of kites and balloons and it is located on top of a peak nearly 2,000 feet high in an isolated part of the Blue Ridge mountains—that which no better location could be imagined for this class of work.

There are not many buildings at this kite-flying outpost, but a substantial stone structure has been provided for use as a kite house. This is the headquarters for a corps of five men who devote all their time to this branch of aerial work. More than two dozen kites are constantly kept on hand and in readiness for use and included in this equipment are samples of all the different kinds of kites which have been used by any of the foreign governments that have engaged in scientific kite flying. However, Uncle Sam's experts have developed some designs of kites that are superior to anything known abroad, and particularly have they evolved a wonderful new type of kite that can be sent aloft in the fierce gales that sweep over the Virginia mountains. The ordinary kite will fly in any wind with a velocity of ten miles per hour or more, but is not adapted to use when the wind exceeds 25 miles per hour. However, this new style kite, which weighs but eight pounds and has a lifting surface of 54 feet, has made successful flights more than a mile in height when the wind was blowing a gale of 46 miles an hour.

The government experts have sent up kites at Mount Weather as high as 23,000 feet, which means, of course, several miles. Of course no rope or string can be used for such kite flying, but wire must be employed. The wire is wound upon an immense reel of forged steel and the kite flying is in reality done by machinery, this reel being operated by a three-horsepower electric motor. When it is desired to haul down or draw in a kite this reel is set in motion at any speed desired. The steel drum has capacity for carrying 50,000 feet of piano wire, which is much more than would be required for any kite flight that will ever be attempted. The object of Uncle Sam's kite flying is of course to explore the upper air and to that end automatically operated recording instruments are attached to every kite sent up. These bring down records not only of the altitude attained by the kite but of the temperature at various altitudes and other information of the greatest value to the scientists in their study of the atmosphere that envelopes the earth.

The remarkable development of the aeroplane is the greatest wonder of the century. Yet the airman is impatient and his cry now is for greater speed. In speed he sees the solution of his greatest problems. Gradually it has dawned upon him that the air is the ideal element for high-speed traffic—that through the air, before very long, speeds will be attained which are possible with vehicles on land or ships on the sea. To the makers of engines the airman says, "Give me more power, which spells speed." To the builders of aeroplanes he cries, "Construct me planes capable of the maximum of speed."

And the speed of aeroplanes has been creeping up. At first it was 35 miles an hour. Then came 45. Soon this was left behind. Round prepared aeroplanes a pace of 45 and 50 miles an hour was attained. Now the seeking of speed end here. With racing monoplane a rate of 55 and 60 miles an hour was possible. Not satisfied with this, pilots have added mile by mile, until the latest record is 96 miles an hour.

In response to an inquiry along this line an expert recently said: "Personally I believe that this is only the beginning of the speed that aeroplanes will be able to attain. Some one was discussing this vitally interesting aspect of airmanship with me only the other day. He asked the question, 'At what rate will aeroplanes be flying through the air in a comparatively short space of time?' My answer was, 'In six months I fully expect that a monoplane will be registering speeds of 100 miles an hour.' Friends of mine who are experts upon the scientific aspects of airmanship predict that eventually speeds of 200 and even 300 miles an hour will be possible. At this one's imagination is apt to reel. But this much is certain: If the flying machine is to become of real importance and not remain a sporting toy it will need to be speedier than any method of transit on land."

"The aeroplane engine is the crux of the situation. Upon its development—rapid or slow—depends also the development of airmanship. Fortunately for the new sciences in which we are all so interested, the flying machine motor is already making quite extraordinary strides. As a well-known maker remarked to me the other day, 'Each motor which we turn out nowadays marks a step up a ladder of progress.' And the engines for aircraft are not only being made more reliable, but they are also being made more powerful, but they did at first for each horsepower of energy produced.

stations, in the vicinity of large towns is an innovation which will soon be an accomplished fact. The idea of the 'air station' is simple. It will usually correspond to the garage for the motor car. There will be a large, smooth open space for machines to start from and also to alight upon. There will be a number of sheds in which air craft will be housed. There will be repair shops; also depots in which oil and petrol will be stored. The airman, studying a special map before he starts upon a long cross-country flight, will locate the position of the various air stations en route and halt at some of them—filling up his tanks, having his engine overhauled, and perhaps garaging his machine for the night in one of the sheds provided.

"Already—a convincing proof of the development of flight—international authorities are discussing seriously the immediate laying down of regular 'airways.' Simply described, an airway will direct the passage of air craft over a given tract of land which is flight from city to city or from one country to another. These airways—several have already been provisionally mapped out in England—will make it incumbent upon pilots to fly their craft over sparsely populated tracts of country whenever possible, and will also obviate firing over towns.

"We do not want to hamper airmanship with too many rules, but danger to the people on the earth must be obviated, and the risk of involuntary deaths in crowded districts must be avoided. The rights of private property must be considered also; it is clear that machines cannot be allowed to descend haphazard just where they like.

"So far the whole attitude toward flying has been to encourage it, a striking contrast to the condemnation of the railway train when it was introduced. This toleration the airman must do nothing to undermine. Motoring would not have been discredited in many people's eyes had it not been for the 'road hog.' We must have no air hogs; as aeroplanes often increase many perplexing problems will arise. What is wanted is a sensible code of rules, framed in the public interest by practical authorities and tacitly enforced before there is possibility of any outcry against the new sport.

"For rapid transit generally, for fast mail traffic, for express services, for naval and military reconnaissance work, as instruments of destruction—although this phase may be far distant—there are some of the possibilities of the aeroplane. What we now want is a machine which will fly reliably in any wind short of a gale."

you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filter-cap, put in like a cork in a bottle, is attached by a chain. This heater has a cool handle and a damper top.

The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

.22 CARTRIDGES

The straight shooting, hard-hitting, sure-firing 22's.

The reason why UMC .22 Cartridges are the best is that they are made with precisely the same care, the same tested materials and undergo the same rigid safeguards, as the heavier calibre, big-game-shooting UMC ammunition.

UMC 22's are also made with the heavy hollow point bullets, thereby increasing their shocking and killing power over the solid bullet.
