QUIET HOME WEDDING.

At a very quiet home wedding on Tuesday, Nettie Postell Miller of this place and John Peter Klovstad, of Duluth, were united in holy wedlock by Rev. McKean of the local Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed at the Miller home which was tastily decorated for the occasion. The ring service was used and the entire ceremony was very impressive.

The young people were attended by Misses Nellie Miller and Sarah Klovstad as bridesmaids and Oscar Klovstad and Sarah Klovstad, of Duluth, brother and sister of the groom, and Oscar Ellstrom, of Beroun, were the only persons present outside of the immediate members of the bride's family.

In losing Miss Miller, Pine City loses one of its fairest daughters. She is well known here having made this her home since childhood. She is held in high esteem by a wide circle of warm friends and school mates all of whom extend hearty congratulations. Mr. Klovstad is an engineer of considerable experience on the N.P. out of Duluth and has a large circle of friends among the fraternity. He is well known about here having made numerous visits here. His many friends wish him and his young bride a long and exceeding prosperous journey thru life.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served and the young people left on the afternoon train for Duluth, where they will make their home.

The young people were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts, the tokens of friends here and in Duluth.

"WADDINGTON IN AGAIN."

J. Rufus Waddington, Illuminating engineer, and J. M. Bateman, sales manager of the Western Electric Co., Minneapolis, were in town on Friday, and as part of their entertainment Mr. R. P. Allen of the Power Company arranged a little side trip to Deadwater, Mr. Waddington who weighs slightly in excess of three hundred pounds when sober, caught a fine string of bass but in his zeal to land a particularly large specimen of the finny tribe, slipped on his B-V-D's and fell off the dam. Needless to say he floated. Minneapolis papers please copy.

MANY WHEAT ENTRIES.

Following the announcement that the Northwest Development League would award a $500 prize for the best five bushels of wheat produced in the American Northwest and exhibited at the Northwestern Products Exposition in Minneapolis during November, several hundred growers have signified their intention of competing for the prize.

The league has prepared a four page leaflet telling all about the conditions under which the prize is offered the rules for judging etc. These are sent free to everyone applying to the manager of the Northwestern Products Exposition, Minneapolis.

PRES. TAFT—TWO TICKETS—ROOSEVELT

The Regular Nomination Comes on 1st Ballot.

Roosevelt Men in Convention For the Most Part Decline to Vote—Wild Ovation Tendered the President After His Name Is Placed Before the Convention.

Convention Hall, Chicago, Illinois.—With nearly 350 of the Roosevelt delegates desiring to vote and hastening away to adjourn the time to tender to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt the nomination of a new party, the 15th Republican national convention at the end of a long and tumultuous session renominated Wm. Howard Taft of Ohio for president, and James Schoolcraft Sherman of New York vice president.

President Taft received 561 of the 1,078 votes in the convention, or 21 more than a majority. Vice President Sherman's vote was 579.

The decision of the Roosevelt people under direction of their leader, to refrain from voting left no other candidate in a position to be president. The announcement of the Taft victory was greeted with cheering from his adherents and groans and hisses from the opposition.

When it became absolutely certain delegates in the Illinois and all in the Missouri and Idaho delegations decided to follow this advice, but Colonel Roosevelt's sway over the delegation from Connecticut, Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and West Virginia was all but absolute.

Most of the delegates from these states announced their purpose of abstaining to give Roosevelt an independent nomination.

The split in the convention occasioned no surprise. It was but a fulfillment of predictions that had been made during the past several days.

The closing scenes of the convention were marked by counter demonstrations for President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt.

First Test Vots.

The first test vote after the announcement of the Roosevelt valedictory came on the adoption of the party platform. The affirmative vote was 557; Roosevelt delegates present and not voting numbered 543. There were 53 nays 36 of them from the La Follette states of Wisconsin and North Dakota.

The name of Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin was placed before the convention, but Colonel Roosevelt's followers were carried out by his fellow delegates and they remained silent during the call of the states for nomination.

Many of the delegates however, car-voted while the motion was put. It carried. There were cries of "Speech," "speech," and Senator Root stepped forward.

Root had taken nearly five days for the committee to get to its permanent organization, an unprecedented state of affairs.

Roosevelt Valedictory.

The demonstration continued several minutes. Senator Root spoke. "I thank you, my friends, from the bottom of my heart," he said. "My first act as permanent chairman of this convention is to ask unanimous consent that a delegate from the state of Kansas—our Republican brother,

James S. Sherman,

JAMES S. SHERMAN.

Henry J. Allen—be permitted to make a statement. If that all right? The chair hears no objections."

Mr. Allen then came forward to read the Roosevelt statement and to pronounce the "Roosevelt valedictory." When he was finished, and just placed it in his hands from Colonel Roosevelt, the Roosevelt adherents broke into a demonstration and cheering and renewed cries of "We want Teddy."

Mr. Allen when he had obtained attention, asked that the delegates keep quiet; that the Roosevelt men did not intend to start demonstrations, but to set out the position of Progressive Republicans. He was listened to attentively for a time and first read the Roosevelt statement.

"We are not seeking a party," he said, "where a majority of the Roosevelt delegates feel that they can not longer share in the response for the acts of this convention. We have contended with you until we have exhausted every particle of energy in our efforts in the effort we have placed upon the roll of names of men legally elected."

"We will not participate with you in completing the scuttling of the ship. We will not say to the young men of the nation, who, reading political history, will be disappointed if they do not catch step with the party of their fathers, that we have nothing better to offer them at this hour than this new declaration of human rights that a discarded political committee as its last act held up 2,000,000 voters. We are of over 3,444,000."

We merely insist that you, not we, are making the record. And we refuse to be bound by it. We have pleaded with you 10 days. We plead no longer. We shall sit in protest and demand that we be here shall judge us."

Mr. Allen was followed by a storm of cheers as he concluded and left the platform.

Coup by Taft Men.

Then came a distant and surprising coup by the Taft leaders. A big fight had been expected on the report of the rules committee, which sought to change the rules of procedure to give greater power to the national committee and perpetuating in the minds of the Roosevelt followers, the methods of the present convention.

The rules committee reported, Watson, the Taft man, was called to the table. This was caused with a whoop leaving the convention awaiting under the rules of the convention of 1908. A resolution to so proceed "unless the adoption of new rules" was passed the day before the convention.

A minority report from the committee on rules also laid on the table.

The proceedings were moving along rapidly now and former Vice President Fairbanks, chairman of the resolutions committee was introduced to read the platform. He was greeted with applause.

The reference to the administration of President Taft was received with cheer, but the demonstration was over in a moment.

As he concluded, Mr. Fairbanks moved the adoption of the platform. Delegate Walter C. Owens of Wisconsin was recognized to present the La Follette platform offered as a compromise substitute. The North Dakota delegates joined with Wisconsin in urging the La Follette ideas.

J. Blaine of Wisconsin, closed the debate with a tribute to Senator La Follette. The La Follette platform which he had prepared for the Republican convention.

Representatives of 23 states composed the nomination committee which included Colonel Roosevelt of his nomination, and in a sense stood as sponsors for the movement.

The committee consists of Comptroller W. A. Prendergast of New York, Meyer Lissner of California, former Congressman Richmond Pearson of North Carolina, Major John H. Hinckley of Michigan, Major Frank H. of Massachusetts, Senator Garfield of Ohio, David Brown of Kentucky, Edward Bierer, Jr., of Utah, Walter Thompson of Vermont, Judge Oscar R. Hunter of Alabama, Judge Ben F. Lindsay of Colorado; Andrew Rahn of Minnesota, Judge Stevens of Iowa, Judge Lowder of early in the day that Mr. Taft would be nominated without great difficulty, the leaders in control of the convention decided to give him as a running mate his companion on the ticket in 1908.

All others dropped from the race and Mr. Sherman was the only one who could regularly speak before the convention. A motion from New Hampshire to make the nomination of the Republican national convention was reached shortly after 3 p.m.—one point in the proceedings, usually one of the phases of the second day, in ordinary conventions.

With the adoption in its entirety of the credentials committee's report, following the adoption of the rules committee's report, the permanent organization of the Republican national convention was reached shortly after 3 p.m.—one point in the proceedings, usually one of the phases of the second day, in ordinary conventions.

The committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization he made permanent. Senator Root yielded the gavel to Representative Olmstead of Pennsylvania.

A "valedictory" statement was read in behalf of Colonel Roosevelt, asking that his name be not presented and that the permanent organization be professed against all further proceedings.

The convention, amid much confusion, adjourned sine die.

At no time was there any indication of a walk-out of Roosevelt delegates, nor was there any indication that the Roosevelt men would leave the convention.

The convention, amid much confusion, adjourned sine die.

Wanted to Sail With Boston. Vienna—There was a very much disputed question as to whether or not Captain Carl Liner piloted the steamer on which Captain Carpathian sailed away for Naples from being buried alive. He had been down in a fit three days before, and as there was no doctor, a veterinary surgeon was called in, who pronounced him dead from a fit. Many relatives of the relatives were present at the funeral and, in accordance with the local custom, after the coffin had been lowered into the grave, they began themselves to shovel in the first spadefuls of earth which roused the man from his trance.

Milford, Del.—Ronald West, a Georgetown boy, was badly scratched and his clothes were torn by a fishhawk which had attacked him. He was in danger of having his eyes pulled out. Col. Natural Query.
Gen' F. D. Grant when discussing military service used to often tell a story about his father.

"My father was talking to General Sherman in his tent one day," he would begin, "when a third general entered, a brigadier notorious for his slovenliness. After the brigadier left my father blew forth a cloud of smoke and said: 'Sherman, I wonder whom that man gets to wear his shirt's the first week?"'

Didn't Know What It Was.

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher commented at a recent meeting in Atlanta on an orange grower who had failed.

"The man failed," he said, "through ignorance. He lays the blame on other things, but his ignorance alone is at fault. He is as ignorant of orange farming as the trash was of industry."

"You know of that trash, perhaps? He wore on his face a sense of derision and scorn."

"Work?" he said. "Work? What is it—an herb?"

Only One Fault to Find.

Lambert Kasper, Chicago attorney, told the following story at a recent Y. M. C. A. banquet:

A Kansas farmer, a Dane, applied for naturalization papers. The judge asked him: "Are you satisfied with the general conditions of the country?"

"Yes," drawled the Dane.

"Does the government suit you?" queried the judge.

"Yes, yes, only I would like to see more rain," replied the farmer.

upon them to the complete saturation of public opinion, and to have legislation to prevent long delays in tedious and costly appeals which have so often amounted to a denial of justice in civil cases and to a failure to protect the public at large in criminal cases.

Since the responsibility of the judicial branch is so great, standards of judicial conduct must be always held everywhere above suspicion and reproach. While we regard the recall of judges as unnecessary as may be necessary to simplify the process by which any judge who is found to be derelict in his duty may be removed from office.

Together with peaceful and orderly development at home, the Republican party earnestly favors all measures for the establishment and protection of the peace of the world and for the development of closer relations between the various nations of the earth. In both the international and peaceful settlement of International disputes and in the reference of all justifiable controversies between nations to an international court of justice.

Morality and Privilege.
The Republican party looks upon its record with pride and satisfaction and forward to its responsibilities in the field of human and social welfare.

The achievements in government constitute the most luminous pages in our history. Our greatest national advance has been made during the years of its ascendancy in public affairs. It has been generally admitted as a matter of progress that it has never been elicited by any reactionary. It has gone from the fulfillment of one great pledge to the fulfillment of another in response to the public need and to the popular will.

We believe in our self-controlled representative democracy, which is a government of laws not of men, and in which order is the prerequisite of progress.

The principles of constitutional government, which make provision for orderly and effective expression of the will of the people, the protection of civil liberty and the rights of man, and for the interpretation of the law by an untrammeled and independent judiciary, have proved themselves capable of sustaining the structure of a government which, after more than a century of development, now embraces a wide and diverse territory, bound by common purpose, common ideals, and common affection to the constitution of the United States.

Growth of the United States.
Under the leadership of the principles associated and vindicated by the United States has grown to be one of the great civilized and civilizing powers of the earth. It offers a home and an opportunity to the ambitious and the industrious from every part of the world to seek their fortune, to the agriculturist, to the manufacturer, to the merchant, to the professional man, to the scientist, to the engineer, to the teacher, to the physician, to the lawyer, to the poet, to the artist, to the philosopher, to the statesman, and to the stateswoman.

Federal Trade Commission.
In the enforcement and administration of federal laws governing interstate commerce the broad basis of a people's confidence and support, and managed by the people themselves, the government of the United States will meet the problems of the future as satisfactorily as it has solved those of the past.

The Tariff.
We are prepared to go forward with the solution of those new questions which social, economic, and political development have raised, and to do so in front of this nation's interest. It will strive, not only in the nation but in the several states, to enact the necessary legislation to safeguard the public health; to limit effectively the labor of children; to protect the wage earner; to regulate occupations; to enact comprehensive and generous workers' compensation laws in place of the present wasteful and unjust system of employers' liability; and in all possible ways to satisfy the just demand of the people for the removal and solution of the complex and constantly changing problems of social welfare.

Rights of the Individual.
In dealing with these questions it is important that the rights of every individual should be protected and development of his own powers and resources and to the control of his own justly acquired property, so far as these are compatible with the rights of others, shall not be interfered with or obstructed.

The social and political structure of the United States rests upon the civil liberty of the individual, and for the protection of that liberty the people have wisely, in the national and state constitutions, put definite limitations upon governments and upon their governmental agencies. To enforce these limitations to secure the orderly and coherent exercise of government power, and to protect the rights of even the humblest and least favored individuals are the function of independent courts of justice.

The Republican party reaffirms its intention to uphold at all times the individual property of all persons, both state and federal, and it will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. An orderly method of procedure under our system of government by which the people may, when they choose, alter or amend the constitutional provisions which underlie that government.

Charging Conditions Require Study.
The pronounced feature of modern industrial life is its enormous diversification. To apply taxes, rates, and charges to these charging conditions requires a close study and more scientific methods than ever before. The Republican party has shown by its creation of a tariff board its recognition of this situation and its determination to equalize it.

We accomplish this correct information is indispensable. This information can best be obtained by an expert commission, as the large volume of useful facts contained in the recent reports of the tariff board has done.

Conservation Policy.
We rejoice in the success of the distinctive Republican policy of the conservation of our national resources for their use by the people without waste or without monopoly. We pledge ourselves to a continuance of such a policy.

We favor such fair and reasonable rules and regulations as will not discourage or interfere with actual bona fide homesteads, proprietors, and miners in the acquisition of public lands under existing laws.

Parcel Post.
In the interest of the general public, and particularly of the agricultural or rural population, we favor legislation relating to the establishment, under proper regulations, of a parcels post, the postal rates to be graduated under a scale similar in proportion to the length of carriage.

Protection of American Citizenship.
We approve the action taken by the president and the Congress to secure with Russia, as with other countries, a treaty that will recognize the right of separation and that will prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens, whether native born or alien, and regardless of race, religion, or color. The right of separation of the people of the United States, to be neither surrendered nor restricted.

The Navy.
We condemn the Democratic party for its failure either to provide funds for the continuance of this board or to make some adequate provision for securing the information required for intelligent legislation. We protest against the Democratic party's legislation on these vitally important subjects without careful investigation.

We condemn the Democratic party with passed by the house of representatives of the Sixty-second congress as sectional, as injurious to the public credit, and as destructive of the business enterprise.

The steadily increasing cost of living has become a matter not only of national, but of worldwide concern. The fact that it is not due to the protection of monopoly is evidenced by the existence of similar conditions in countries which have tariff policies different from our own, as well as increased stationary or been reduced.

The Republican party will support a full scientific inquiry into the causes which have operated in the United States and elsewhere to increase the cost of living. When the exact facts are known it will take the necessary steps to remove any abuses that may be found to exist, in order that the cost of the food, clothing and shelter of the people may in no way be unduly or artificially increased.

Banking and Currency.

The Republican party has always stood for a sound currency and for safe banking methods. It is responsible for the resumption of specie payment and for the establishment of the gold standard. It is committed to the progressive development of our banking and currency system.

Reclamation.
We favor the continuance of the policy of the government with regard to the reclamation of arid lands; and new measures which will prevent the financial disturbances, and which will promote the prosperity of business and the welfare of labor by producing constant employment.

We need better currency facilities for the movement of crops in the market, and we favor the banking arrangements under American auspices for the encouragement and better conduct of our foreign trade. In attaining these ends, the independence of individual banks, whether organized under national or state charters, should be fully protected, and our banking and currency system must be safeguarded from any possibility of domination by sectional, financial or political interests.

Money for the Farmers.
It is of great importance to the economic welfare of the country that our farmers have facilities for borrowing easily and cheaply the money they need to increase the productivity of their land.

It is as important that financial machinery be provided to supply the needs of agriculture as it is that the banking and currency systems be reformed in the interest of general business.

The Civil Service.
We recommend our adherence to the principle of appointment to public office based on proved fitness, and tenure during good behavior and efficiency.

The Republican party stands consistently for the welfare of the people, and enforcement of the civil service law, and it favors the passage of legislation empowering the president to extend the competitive service so far as practicable. We favor legislation to make sure that the civil service is maintained, and that the members of the civil service, in order that a higher standard of efficiency may be maintained.

Immigration.
We favor the amendment of the act of the 25th instant, which is inimical to the progress and welfare of the people of the United States.

We favor the speedy enactment of laws to provide that seamen shall not be compelled to endure involuntary servitude, and that life and property and health shall be regarded as a valuable equipment of skilled, able-bodied seamen to operate them.

Republican Accomplishment.

The approaching completion of the Panama canal, the establishment of a coast line of harbors, and the increased postal service, besides the increased provision made in 1912 for the aged and infirm soldiers and sailors of the navy, and their widows and dependents, of state and federal laws for the establishment and capable supervision of organizations having for their purpose the loaning of funds to farmers.

of the Democratic House of Representatives in refusing to authorize the construction of additional ships.

Merchant Marine.

We believe that one of the country's most urgent needs is a revived merchant marine. There should be American ships, and plenty of them, to carry the trade of the great American interoceanic canal now nearing completion.

Flood Prevention.

The Mississippi river is the nation's drainage ditch, and flood waters gathered from thirty-one states and the Dominion of Canada, constitute the over-powering force which breaks the levees and pours its torrents over many million acres of the richest land in the nation, stopping mills, interrupting commerce, and causing great loss of life and property.

These floods are national in scope and the disasters they produce seriously affect the general welfare. The state cannot cope with the great problem, hence the federal government should assume a fair proportion of the burden of the flood prevention and to prevent the disasters from recurring.

Reclamation.

We favor the continuance of the policy of the government with regard to the reclamation of arid lands; and new measures which will prevent the financial disturbances, and which will promote the prosperity of business and the welfare of labor by producing constant employment.

We need better currency facilities for the movement of crops in the market, and we favor the banking arrangements under American auspices for the encouragement and better conduct of our foreign trade.

Rivers and Harbors.

The Republican party has always stood for a sound currency and for safe banking methods. It is responsible for the resumption of specie payment and for the establishment of the gold standard. It is committed to the progressive development of our banking and currency system.

Alaska.

We favor a liberal policy toward Alaska to promote the development of the great resources of that district, with such safeguards as will prevent waste and monopoly.

We favor the development of the coast lands to development through a law allowing the lands on such terms as will invite development and provide fuel for the navy and the commerce of the Pacific ocean, while retaining title to the United States to prevent general business.

Alaska.

We favor a liberal policy toward Alaska to promote the development of the great resources of that district, with such safeguards as will prevent waste and monopoly.

We favor a liberal and systematic policy for the improvement of our rivers and harbors. Such improvement should be made upon expert information and after a careful comparison of cost and prospective benefit.

NERVOUS HEADACHE

And Numbness in the Hands and Arms.

This Iowa Woman Suffers in Series
With Convulsive Attacks Will Interest Many.

A cure of unusual interest and importance is related by Mrs. J. H. Morgan of Correctionville, Iowa. After being a hopeless sufferer from sick headaches, she now entirely overcomes attacks, attests the tolls of her cure by Dr. William Pink Pills, as follows:

"Some years ago I was in a terribly nervous and run-down condition and suffered greatly from nervous attacks. I was treated for three months by a specialist in Chicago, who advised me to wear glasses, but he did not help me. My head ached as though it were on fire, and I had frequent fits of nausea, and loss of appetite, and pain in the head, and I was in despair.

"I was in despair of getting well until I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and found that they had a wonderful effect on me. I have since then used them and they have helped me a great deal."

"Before the birth of my last child I suffered terribly along the spine and around the shoulders. My hands were swollen and the muscles so sore that I could hardly dress myself. For a time I could not move my left hand. During the day if I kept it straight it would not move at all, but my hands were always numb. I again used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and found that they relieved me also, as they entirely relieved me."

Unless properly treated sick headache is a disease of many years duration, as it occurs before the twentieth year, and continues to recur with more or less regularity until the fiftieth year or later. It is usually hereditary and is probably directly transmitted by defective food which changes the food we eat into blood. Most sufferers are troubled with intestinal constipation, which makes it necessary to use laxatives.

An ideal remedy for treatment is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and the new laxative pills, Pinklets. The former fully described in a little book, "The Remedy for Sick Headache," which is free on request, together with a sample of Pinklets, the little laxative pills.

The Philippine policy of the Republican party has been and is inspired by the belief that our duty toward the Filipino people is a moral obligation which should remain entirely free from colonial policies.

Immigration.
We pledge the Republican party to the enactment of appropriate laws to give relief from the constantly growing evil of induced or undesirable immigration, which is inimical to the progress and welfare of the people of the United States.

We favor the speedy enactment of laws to provide that seamen shall not be compelled to endure involuntary servitude, and that life and property and health shall be regarded as a valuable equipment of skilled, able-bodied seamen to operate them.

Clothes and the Man.
A colporteur in South Carolina, who made his living through mud sales, was refused a copy of the Bible. He was refused. The next day, says the Record of Christian Work, after a night's rest and cleanup, he set up his stand in the street and sold the pleasure of selling a Bible to the person who had refused to purchase the day before. "I met a muddy man yesterday with a Bible," said he, "who looked like a Methodist tramp. When I buy a Bible I buy it from a Baptist gentleman."

Had Them.
"Do you keep motorizing accessories?" asked the man entering the department store.

"Oh, no," replied the floorwalker, with a bow, "we keep arkins and witch hazel. Drug department, second aisle to the left, please!"

UNIVERSITY WEEK A SUCCESS.

The following taken from the Pine Knot, of June 22, printed at Cloquet, will be read with interest by a great many of our citizens, as it is loud in praise of a former Pine City resident.

"The much-heralded and widely-advertised "University Week" is in progress in Cloquet this week and will come to a close this evening, when the university dramatic club will present "The Merchant of Venice" at the opera house.

The day programs, which were held in the Lincoln high school, were purely educational in their scope and would have had much more popularity than was given them. The different lecturers and instructors were specialists in their particular subject and the best that the University of Minnesota could bring to Cloquet. And these instructions were all free, but in spite of this the response on the part of the people was not what it should have been although a better showing was made the latter part of the week than on the start.

The evening events called out a considerable better response. On Monday night the University Glee club was the attraction and it was greeted by a packed house. The singers certainly made a hit with their audience and were forced to respond to two encores. Miss Marion Birrell, soprano and Mrs. Carolyn Scott, violinist, also elicited much applause for their artistic skill.

Tuesday evening Maurice L. Flagg, director of the state art society, delivered an interesting lecture on "Art in Common Things" and the following evening Prof. Rankin spoke on "How Minnesota Educates Her Children". Both were greeted by fair audiences and their work is highly spoken of.

On Thursday evening was one of the treats of the week—Miss Hetland, of the Minneapolis School of Dramatic Art, in a dramatic reading "Polly of the Circus". This was something out of the ordinary and those who missed it were sorry when they heard how pleasing Miss Hetland's rendition had been.

As we go to press there is a popular scientific lecture on the gyroscope and color photography, and tomorrow evening will come another of the treats of the week—"The Merchant of Venice."

"University Week" is pioneer work in this state and to a large extent an experiment, but whatever measure of success it has attained here is due largely to the untiring efforts of Peter Olesen, superintendent of our city schools. He and his assistant, Mr. Olson, has worked untiringly and unceasingly for the success of this event. He has been the moving spirit and his optimism and energy has spurred on others who were inclined to get discouraged or lag by the wayside. He and Mrs. Olesen this week have devoted their full time to the success of the different programs as they have been scheduled and to the entertainment of the visitors and we feel that the city as a whole is largely their debtor."

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-Known Pine City People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Pine City the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony.

Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

Mrs. August Carlson, North Pine City, Minn., says: "I am just as strong in my praise of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was three years ago, when I publicly recommended them. For about two years I had kidney complaint. It began with pain and weakness in my back that prevented me from doing any lifting. If I stooped, sharp twinges darted through my loins and head. My rest was broken at night and often I was hardly able to attend to my work.

Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at Breckenridge's Pharmacy and they restored me to good health. I shall always be pleased to tell of the merits of this preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Good Oil Makes Good Paint.

THIS most important part of any paint is the linseed oil. Without pure linseed oil, paint will not dry up, soak in, and leave the lumber exposed to the action of the weather. The only way for the manufacturer to be sure of the quality and age of the linseed oil is to make it himself. Minnesota Paints are made from our own pure Linseed Oil.

This is what makes it better, as the linseed oil is never out of our control until it is sealed in the cans shipped as Minnesota Paints. In Minnesota Linseed Oil we grind pure White Lead and XX-Novelty Zinc Oxide, the best paint pigments known. The grinding and mixing is done with the latest improved heavy machinery by expert workmen, supervised by practical paint men whose experience has extended over forty years. Do you wonder that have been known for forty years as "The Best Paints Made."

We make "A Special Paint for Every Paintable Surface." The cost per can has nothing to do with the cost of paint. Figure how much surface a gallon will cover and protect satisfactorily. Minnesota Paints, on this basis, are the cheapest paints on the market.

THAT COZY LOOK

Paint your floors in colors that harmonize with the wall decorations and rugs.

In addition to the comfort and "cozy look," painted floors are a source of joy on cleaning day. With a damp cloth around the broom you can clean them in a jiffy. It's play rather than hard work to do it. Then, too, they are always dry, sanitary and healthful. Of course, you must use Vindex Floor Paint.

It dries hard over night, wears remarkably well, far longer and better than you think.

—The base ball game between the Hurley Barringtons and the Mora team played on the diamond on the north side of the river Sunday afternoon was too one sided to be interesting. On next Sunday afternoon the Barringtons will cross bats with the strong Grason team. This team has not been defeated this season, and they have played six or seven games. Victor, who was a State U twirler will be on the rubber for Grason, and beside having this star pitcher they have several on the team that have played professional ball. UNIVERSITY ENDS FIRST JOURNEY

SIX TRAVELING COLLEGES UNDER PRESIDENT VINCENT, VISITS 18 TOWNS.

WORK FIRST OF KIND.

Such an Experiment Never Before Tried in America—Pronounced a Distinct Success.

Minneapolis. — Six "traveling colleges" that have been open in six different places in Minnesota each week for three weeks past, until eighteen towns have been visited, have packed their bags and are returning home. Two hundred people identified with the work have returned to Minneapolis from Cloquet, Grand Rapids, Cokato, Remond, Crookston and Brainerd. Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the university head of the traveling colleges, was in Crookston and remained there until the close.

Not only did the university bring to a successful close the first experiment of this kind in the country, but it did the work in a manner that won the people, but from three weeks' experience in the field, in which eighteen towns were visited, each for a stay of a week, it has been found that:

The lectures were well received by the crowds. Where Christian talks are given annually, there was greatest interest displayed.

The experiment has shown that the university can extend its influence in an important manner through extension work.

Valuable information pertaining to educational work will be available when the full reports are in and analyzed.

The experiment, of course, was very successful to the people who was very successful in the southern part of the state. Samuel Quigley, in charge of the work, said that he believes the northern Minnesota work will also be found to be very successful, but that he will be unable to tell all about it before the middle of next week.

The week of June 3, which brought the extension work to Fairmont, Jackson, Worthington, Luverne, Windom and St. James, was a great success from the standpoint of attendance and interest shown," Mr. Quigley said. "The week that began June 10, and included Waseca, Owatonna, Rochester, Plainview, Grand Meadow and Red Wing, was also a big success. It is too early yet to estimate the results of the work in northern Minnesota, which began June 17 and has just ended, but the reports, notably one from Crookston, indicate that there has also been very successful work in that part of the field."

President Vincent has been running in and out of Minneapolis since the work began, spending an hour or two sometimes with his family, and then getting away again into the field. Thursday night again into the iron range, Friday, Saturday in Brainerd, and he was in Crookston for the end of the three-week course.

Two important and valuable facts have developed, Mr. Quigley said yesterday, that the university can successfully carry on extension work of a technical nature in the summer and can take a college course to people; that the effect of the Chautauqua habit has been demonstrated.

"It is to the Chautauqua courses that have been going over the southwest part of the state that the success of the work down there is perhaps attributable," Mr. Quigley said. "The idea of the University of Minnesota taking members of its staff and other institutions and its books and materials and going out to teach the people what was entirely new, and the experiment has taken on the kind made by any great university, the habit of going to a lecture has been developed in southern Minnesota more than in other parts of the state. The people took to it very quickly."

One hundred persons identified with the university, including many from the college of medicine, have participated in the work.

Question boxes for farmers were a feature of interest. The state normal schools, state library commission, federated women's clubs and University Drama Club and girls clubs helped.

"When the visitors came back, full reports in and it is possible to analyze them, I believe that we will have some of the most valuable material ever gotten together to show what a university may do in extending its influence and the benefit of its work," said Mr. Quigley.

WORLD GROWING BETTER

President of Lombard University Speaks Before Universalists.

Gronau.—"This world is growing better, not worse, despite the pessimistic words of those who say we have lost an era of peace which we have had," said Dr. Lewis H. Fisher, president of Lombard University, speaking before the Universalist state convention.

Those who continually discover the bad things and bad people of this world are those who are looking for the worst in life," he continued. "The honest good men and women outnumber the unprincipled ten to one and that is a mighty good world when we look at it."

Dr. Fisher's address was delivered before a church filled with people, all of whom applauded his sentences.

Dr. Marion Shulman, state director of the Universalist state convention decided to begin a campaign in this country and appointed a committee to head this work. James Buchanan of St. Paul and Mrs. Marion Shulman, state director of the Universalist state convention, reports were read on the condition of the churches at Stillwater; Rochester, Anoka, Austin and Fergus Falls. An appeal was made for aid of substantial sort for All Souls' church, Minneapolis, which is said to be experiencing relapses.

The Woman's association served a breakfast at the church, which was attended by about 200 people. The speakers were Dr. Shulman, Mrs. Shulman, Dr. L. B. Fisher, Rev. Mr. Gibbs and Rev. J. M. Darnell.

DUMAS TO GET A STAY.

Court Will Have Him Appear at the September Term.

Grand Rapids.—Over the vigorous opposition of D. P. Dumas will become a stay of sentence in the case tried in Beltrami county. The matter was before Judge McClellan in district court in Bagley Saturday afternoon on an order to show cause obtained by Attorney George Spear, of the former mayor of Cass Lake, and was heard upon affidavits submitted both by prosecution and defense.

The state claimed that no additional time should be allowed the defendant, who had been held in jail since his arraignment on a motion for a trial could not be present on the arguments had in the Supreme Court May last. But the court ruled that the defendant was within his rights in the course proposed by the defense.

Judge McClellan announced he would sign an order which would require the defendant to appear upon the opening date of the Beltrami county term next September for sentence, or such further order as the court might make; and that he would hear the motion for the new trial if made during the interim.

Spear, of Grand Rapids, the legal fight for liberty which will, if successful, get him out of Stillwater.

Mr. Spear has secured from Judge W. S. McClellan, who is now holding court at Bagley, an order addressed to Attorney General Smith with a request that the stay of sentence of this city, to show cause by a stay of sentence should not be granted. Dumas until the defendant has been granted a reasonable time in which to prepare and submit a motion for a new trial. That the state is determined to send Dr. Dumas to prison without delay was shown when Attorney General Smith emphatically refused the request of the defendant for a stay of sentence.

It is believed the explosion was due to gas formation originating from a gas leak which drains the cellar.

INJURY TO APPLES BY SPRAY.

Orchardists Have Taken Up Sulphur Compounds to Prevent Damage to Fruit and Foliage.

The most striking thing that has taken place in agriculture this summer is the introduction of bordeaux mixture, the introduction of apple disease, and the introduction of plant diseases, and an official of the bureau of plant industry, recently, is the change from the copper to the sulphur solution. This copper has been brought about largely through the experiments of this office. The lime-sulphur solution is the leading one in use, though the self-iodized lime-sulphur and the iron sulphide are still in use.

The injury resulting from the copper powder acting on the foliage injury due to the same cause had become so serious that considerable attention was devoted during the seasons of 1909 and 1910 to testing various sulphur compounds.

The sulphur solution, which is the most important, in most cases free from fungous spots and diseases, was obtained from the experimental plots.

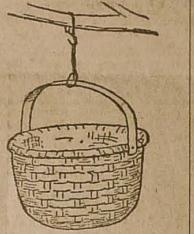

Some injury has occurred where sulphur was used too strong or in cloudy weather. This was mostly on the tender foliage, and in hardly any case was it serious. The sulphur solution being the most convenient and satisfactory to use, has been accepted by orchardists for spraying apples.

Where it has been combined with the arsenate of lead, the excellent results have been obtained by the combining spray; but in a few cases, undoubtedly owing to inefficient agitation, there has been some slight burning of the fruit, and in still fewer instances, of the foliage. It is now known, however, that the orchardist must make the lime-sulphur solution by boiling these materials on the farm, or it can be purchased on the market already prepared.

DEVICE FOR HOLDING BASKET.

Ends of Strong Manila Cord of Convenient Length Fastened to Hook Supporting Receptacle.

For the picking of fruits, especially apples and pears, many devices have been used, and new ones are tried every year. Doubtless the pivot-handled half-bushel basket is the most popular receptacle for fruit picked among the branches on the inside of the tree.

One difficulty with the basket is that it is awkward to handle when using the usual double wire hook. To obviate this difficulty the device illustrated herewith has been found effective, says the George Judd Farmer. Both ends of the cord are fastened to a hook of convenient length are fastened to a limb. The cord is then passed around the basket handle and the hook thrown over a limb and caught around the now vertical cord, as shown.

The hook, while secure, can be instantly released, either from the limb or the basket, and yet will "stay put" as long as desired.

Beds and Fruit.

Bees gather honey from the blossoms and return fertilize them. The hum and these industrious workers in the orchard foretell rich harvests. Under the trees is a good place for the hives.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES.

The currant worm makes its appearance as soon as warm weather sets in.

Pears should not be cultivated. Best to keep them in grass after the fourth of July.

Hellebore is excellent for the destruction of slugs, worms and caterpillars.

Getting grains or allowing stock to pasture in the orchard is not good orcharding.

Soot dusted on melon plants when the leaves are wet with dew discourages insects.

For most fungous and insect enemies spraying is a prevention rather than a cure.

The presence of the currant worm may be known by the leaves withering and turning yellow.

Tools to be used in cultivating the orchard should be determined by the kind of soil in the orchard.

KEEPING BABIES IN HEALTH

Success of Tent Scheme Last Summer So Pronounced That It Will Be Repeated.

Mothers of little babies that suffered much from the intense heat in the early part of July last summer will be interested in the success of the "baby tent scheme" adopted in some of the big cities.

The tents are placed on flat roofs of tall buildings and in open lots, with eight little cradles or cots in each tent. When all was ready mothers of babies under two years were invited to leave them at the nearest available entrance. The young mothers in addition to employing the device of sleeping out of doors, could also receive the attention of trained nurses and doctors free.

Some of the tents have a perforated iron pipe extending along the ridge pole connected with the city water system. The water is turned on and allowed to stream down over the canvas. By evaporation it greatly reduced the temperature inside the tents. Some of the tents were also kept cool by the use of large blocks of ice in tubs before the entrance. Electric fans blew the cold air from the ice into the tents sufficiently cool to keep the babies comfortable.

This is the way some of the poor babies are being cared for, but the idea could be utilized by any one who had the welfare of the baby at heart.

Needed No More Help.

An American gentleman got acquainted with a Frenchman who was very anxious to acquire the English language.

"The American in order to speak English said that if he would send his exercises to me he would willingly correct them."

Nothing was heard from the Frenchman for some time, but finally a letter came couched in the following choice English.

"Please, I tried out bar of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and found it very good. Then I had relief from my head, then the hair grew, then the sores healed up, and the skin formed on the top. Then the hair fell out and left me three bald spots the shape of a half dollar. I went to more than one doctor, but could not get any relief, so I started to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now, I am well relieved right away. Now the hair grows, thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I highly recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all that are suffering with scalp tropic."

BRYAN'S DEFEAT BY PARKER

Keynote Address Delivered at Night.

Says That Tradition Is No Longer Sufficient Guard for Protecting Us Against What He Fears Is An Imminent Evil.

Baltimore, Maryland. — William Jennings Bryan having met defeat at the hands of the Democratic national convention, it was the opinion of many of the party leaders here, eliminated himself from the race for the presidential nomination.

The vote by which former Judge Alton B. Parker of New York was selected as the temporary chairman of the Bryan-479 to 515 was interpreted in many ways. The Clark adherents are openly claiming the nomination, and there were many at the convention who were inclined to agree that it would either be Speaker Clark or a "dark horse."

Talk of Mr. Bryan has not ceased by any means. Some of his friends claim that the vote was no test; that many of his most ardent supporters were compelled by circumstances to vote against him for temporary chair-ers frankly said they resented Mr. Bryan's assumption to dictate the temporary chairmanship and pointed out that the Bryanites had been beaten, despite the effort to eliminate him, however, remains a stalwart factor in the convention and may be given authority to write the platform.

The Democratic leaders appear generally satisfied with a winning combination. They say there are signs to recognize and defer to the Progressive spirit of the time. The Bryanites were nothing but a tiny minority.

The result of the balloting on the temporary chairmanship," said Sena-t-elect Ollie James of Kentucky, "means one thing—that Clark will be nominated."

James was discussed as the probable permanent chairman of the convention. This is in line with the policy of the conservatives to placate the Progressives now that they have defeated Mr. Bryan. Aside from the fact that he received the second largest vote in the national committee on the selection of a temporary chairman and that he ordinarily would entitle him to favorable consideration for permanent presiding officer. His choice would also be further evidence of the Clark strength in the convention.

Those who argue against the possibility of Mr. Bryan being named declare that he had his say in the convention and that he should be excluded. Mr. Bryan frequently was interrupted in his remarks and it was regarded as doubtful whether he would get another hearing on any issue involving himself.

Mr. Bryan claimed the right to speak at random and he should be denied an opportunity to voice with his party.

Now that the fruits of victory were at hand, the Bryanites should be denied an opportunity to voice with their party. The Democratic party, "a pillar of strength for the plain people," now that the dawn had come, should, he declared, be made "a pillar of cloud by day."

Mr. Bryan made another point which caused unbridled enthusiasm from his hearers. He declared that the sinister influences which had been at work in the Republican national convention at Chicago were operating even more brazenly at Baltimore. But he added, the Democratic party could not be run by the Ayans or bought by the Belmonts.

Judge Alton B. Parker, man. They claimed, on the other hand, that the vote of 515 to 479 to Mr. Bryan indicated that he held the "veto" power in the convention which put him in a position of dominance as to who should be the nominee. Many of Speaker Clark's delegates openly threw their support to the anti-Bryan forces.

This was regarded as opening a breach between the speaker and Mr. Bryan which may cause the Bryan supporters to make a bitter fight on Clark. The Bryanites insisted that the vote of so many Clark adherents for Judge Parker was interpreted as a distinct bid for the support of the conservative element in the convention.

This conservative element, it may be stated, is practically prepared to accept the Progressive candidate. They frankly admit that it is to name a conservative or so-called reactionary, who is strong in the hand of Colonel Roosevelt, in his organization of a third party. This, the leaders are anxious to avoid.

The Bryanites, however, in the past few days, is regarded here as having been decidedly favorable to Speaker Clark's candidacy. The straight Wilson delegates threw their support solidly to Mr. Bryan in his fight against Judge Parker. This, the leaders of the Bryanites make the conservative element choose Clark, preference to the New Jersey governor as the Progressive candidate. New York, controlling factor in the situation, would go to Clark. The report was based largely upon the action of New York and the Bryanites. The fact that the Missouri delegation also gave Parker a majority of its votes—22 to 14—quickly called out reports of a coalition of interests between New York and Missouri.

This naturally led to talk of Clark not participating in a New York campaign for vice-president. The man mentioned most prominently in this connection was Senator O'Gorman.

There was talk also, that the Underwood forces might come into this combination, the plan being that Mr. Underwood should have the speakership of the house at the event of Mr. Clark's election to the presidency. Most of the Underwood states are said to be against Mr. Bryan on almost any proposition whatever. Certain it was that those of these states—located in the south—voted against Mr. Bryan.

The Clark people declared that with New York and the Underwood forces united under the speaker's banner, the latter would have more than the necessary number of votes to nominate.

It seemed certain from the public action of the delegates, and private expressed views, that the Democratic convention will nominate a Progressive candidate, and adopt a Progressive platform. Some of the leaders of the Bryanites are of the opinion that the talk and clash of those moral scruples with which they may once have been endowed.

"Unquestionably," said Mr. Bryan,

"we are stronger than a winning combination.

They say there are signs to recognize and defer to the Progressive spirit of the time. The Bryanites were nothing but a tiny minority.
