NOTICE TO FARMERS OF PINE COUNTY.

PINE CITY, MINN. July 16th 1913

Pine County will have an exhibit at the State Fair this year. We won high honors and prizes at the past State Fair, and we want to exceed our past record this year. The advertisement which Pine County has reserved thru winning these prizes has been the means of bringing our county to the notice of people all over the United States. It is necessary to make a success of these exhibits that every farmer picks out some of his best products and leaves them at the bank in his home town in order that our representative might get them. Mr. Albert Jimer, of Pine City, is Chairman of the exhibit committee and will have the complete charge of the Exhibit at the State Fair, assisted by Mr. Robt. Derr. Any information desired may be obtained by calling upon or writing to Albert Jimer.

All grasses and grains in sheaf should be cared in a dark, dry, well ventilated place.

By Order of the Committee,

AUTOMOBILE TOUR TO THE TWIN CITIES.

What is the matter with the owners of autos in and around Pine City, getting onto the band wagon, and making a trip to the twin cities.

When the roads get settled after the severe rains we have been having, such a trip could be easily taken, and those participating in it would have a very pleasant time.

We have somewhere in the neighborhood of fifty cars in and around Pine City and if they would all join in and take what they could conveniently carry it would make quite a large party and they could have a fine time.

We see by our exchanges that several cities have taken these trips and they all report having had enjoyable trips, some of them coming several hundred miles, and taking three and four days to make the trip, whereas the run from here with fair roads could be made in as many hours.

Its up to you owners of cars whether you will make the trip and let the people in this part of the state know that Pine City is on the map. Will you do it?

HUBER-HEATH NUPTIALS.

On Tuesday July 29th 1912 at one o'clock the marriage of Bernice Ellen Huber and Harvey H. Heath took place at the home of the brides mother, Mrs. Alice Huber, Rev. F. L. McKean officiating. The ring service was used.

The young couple were attended by Miss Portia Huber, sister of the bride, and Earl Heath brother of the groom. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Rosalie Zeien of North Branch, a long time friend of the bride.

Miss Bernice looked very lovely in her gown of white lace over mesaline. The bridesmaid wore blue and white veils with lace flouncing. The home was prettily decorated throughout with ferns and seasonable flowers. Mrs. Huber, assisted by Marie and Katherine Fisher served a delicious wedding luncheon. The bride cut the brides cake, Julia Dosey being the lucky young lady to receive the ring.

Everyone in Pine City knows Bernice Huber. She is one of our finest young ladies, has been engaged in teaching for the past three years, but best of all her mother has taught her the art of home-making, and she is well qualified for her life work. Mr. Heath comes from Tamarack, Minn., and is a prosperous and prominent young farmer.

Those who attended from a distance were: Mrs. A. Elvgen of St. Paul, the Misses Rosalie and Lenore Zeien, of North Branch; Earl Heath of Tamarack; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Huber of Crawfordville, Ia.; Bart Huber of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath left on the 4:31 train for Duluth and from there will go to their new home at Tamarack.

CRANTON-SORENSEN.

Last Thursday morning at 9:30 occurred the marriage of Rose V. Cranton and Otto Sorenson. Rev. Fr. Leo of the local church performed the ceremony. The young people were attended by Mary Bartheaux and Win. Horst.

The bride is the eldest daughter of A. Cranton and has a host of friends here and out of town who wish her the best in this life. Mr. Sorenson is a fine young fellow and will make the lady of his choice a willing help-meat.

Mr. Sorenson and wife leave for Dubuque Ia., the first of the week where Mr. Sorenson has some steel to set.

AMBASSADOR SAYS PLAN MARTIAL LAW RECOGNIZE HUERTA

HENRY LANE WILSON'S STAND LIKELY TO MEAN HIS RESIGNATION.

PRESIDENT'S VIEWS DIFFER

President Against Upholding Rules Gained Through Madero's Murder—Plan to Secure Retirement of Mexican Executive.

Washington, July 26.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, summoned from Mexico City to inform the Washington administration of conditions in the rebellion-torn republic, talked for an hour with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, submitting chiefly recommendations that the United States use its influence to establish the Huerta regime. No policy was evolved—at least, none was announced—but it became known that the president's ideas and those of Ambassador Wilson as to the course to be pursued, are so radically different that the administration officials interpreted the day's developments as forecasting the acceptance of Ambassador Wilson's resignation.

Opposite Viewpoints.

President Wilson and the ambassador regard the future of the Mexican situation, it was learned, from opposite viewpoints. The president is concerned over the morality of any policy adopted by the United States and the effect on other Latin-American countries and is disinclined to strengthen a government that has come into power through the questionable events incident to Madero's assassination.

Ambassador Wilson, on the other hand, is disposed to look at the situation, not from past events, but with the practical idea of the future. He believes it is the business of governments to look to the future and his suggestions have been in the direction of extending recognition to the Huerta government if it did certain things to conserve American interests.

The inadvisability from a diplomatic standpoint of maintaining in Mexico City a representative who would not be in sympathy with the purpose of the Wilson administration is said to have practically convinced the president of the expediency in Mexico City had better be conducted for the present by Nelson O. Shughnessy, its first secretary, reputed to be efficient and experienced.

Advise Few Days' Rest.

The appointment of a new ambassador would be contingent upon the establishment of a satisfactory government at Mexico City. Meanwhile, the president advised Ambassador Wilson to take a rest for a few days as he has been laboring under a nervous strain. When the chief advisers of the American government were debating the facts of the situation, it became known that a movement was on foot which might eventually spare the United States the necessity of offering mediation or any other kind of interference in Mexican affairs, upon which the national pride of Mexico is sensitive.

The plan contemplates a repetition of the process by which Diaz abdicated in favor of a provisional president acceptable to both factions in the revolt against him. Prominent Mexicans are interested in the idea and have informed Secretary Bryan that if the American government would refrain from any policy of mediation at this time, they felt confident of bringing an understanding between the warring forces looking toward a peaceful solution of political conditions.

Patriotism Might Cause Move.

Provisional President Huerta, it is suggested under the peace plan, might be persuaded by his friends that with the desperate financial condition of Mexico his resignation would be an act of patriotism and self-denial. He would be asked to name a minister of foreign relations, a post now vacant, so that through the constitutional process of succession the minister would succeed him as provisional president.

That the revolution in the north led by Governor Carranza has informally been sound on the proposition, became known as well as the fact that certain men already have been nominated for the provisional presidency who would be acceptable not only to the Huerta administration but the constitutionalists as well.

PLAN MARTIAL LAW

CLASH BETWEEN TROOPS AND STRIKING MINERS FEARED IN MICHIGAN.

THIRTY HURT DURING DAY

Moobs Attack Mines and Injure Employees Guarding Property—Official of Union Arrives and Will Take Charge of Situation.

Calumet, Mich., July 26.—The strike situation is becoming more and more serious and it is feared that a clash with the troops will occur.

There are not enough troops here yet to take care of the situation, though they are arriving at frequent intervals. The entire National Guard of Michigan is summoned here, with Governor Ferris in command.

Thirty Hurt During Day. The injuries to thirty William Richards, blaster for the Calumet and Hecla mines was fatally hurt, receiving a fractured skull.

Rioting occurred throughout the district in which police and special sheriffs were helpless against the mobs. Two men are dying as the result of baton beatings by the strikers. A score of others were badly injured.

Sheriff Cruise is a prisoner in the hands of a mob of 500 strike sympathizers who are not responding to the call of the Western Federation of Miners were battling in the streets of Calumet, Houghton and other cities. Anarchy prevails. Police are helpless.

Houghton seems to be the center of the attack of the rioters. The 500 men who are in the place during the day declared that as many more were on the way. Threats to burn the city have been heard.

In a riot on the streets of Calumet, George Daubon was beaten so badly that he will die. George Ainsworth, chief engineer at the Superior engine house, was slashed across the throat while defending his hoisting engine.

Pistols were fired during the struggle between doctory strikers and strikers at the Calumet & Hecla shops. Several are said to have been shot and one man is reported dying.

An order to close all saloons was issued.

Practically all mills in the copper country were closed last night, that he will die. George Ainsworth, chief engineer at the Superior engine house, was slashed across the throat while defending his hoisting engine.

The Western Federation of Miners demands a minimum wage of $3 a day among other things and complete recognition of the union with closed shop.

Mahoney on Scene. Calumet, Mich., July 25.—Vice-President Mahoney of the Western Federation of Miners is here and is in charge of the strike at the Michigan copper mines. The entire situation is in his hands. He says he will enforce the law among the strikers as far as possible, but will stand to the guns.

TRAIN HOLDUP IS A FAILURE

Bandits Force Crew to Uncouple Express Car in Montana, But Leave "Soup."

Butte, Mont., July 25.—Three masked bandits failed in an attempt to hold up the North Coast Limited of the Northern Pacific railroad.

The limited was a mile east of Homestead, a lonely point in the main divide of the Rocky mountains, when the bandits flagged the train shortly after midnight. The robbers compelled the conductor, brakeman and engine crew to uncouple the locomotive and express car and pull away 600 feet from the rest of the train.

Then the bandits discovered that they had left their dynamite back by the passenger cars. Cursing, they fired several shots at the crew and disappeared. Posses have started out from Butte to search for the bandits.

MINNESOTA CROPS

IN TIP-TOE SHAPE

SUFFICIENT MOISTURE FOR CORN AND POTATOES AND GRAINS EXCELLENT.

RYE AND BARLEY HARVESTED

Wheat Threshing Begins in Some Sections - Rochester Reports Prospects for Bumper Corn Crop - Fields on "Jump."

Minnesota - The reports from Minnesota indicate an abundance of moisture and the feeling prevails that more rain now will do harm rather than good, as it will cause the grain more than it will benefit potatoes and corn for the next few weeks. Weather conditions have been favorable for proper maturing of the grain, and only one section reports a need of more rainfall in order to see the crops through, the reports say.

Wheat Turning Color.
Fergus Falls - The first barley harvest is now well in hand, and what is beginning to turn color to a great extent. The present outlook is that the crop will be a good one better than it appeared in June, and that there will be a very fair yield. Corn continues to make great progress and some is now tasselled. The hay crop has suffered seriously from rain, much of the time being seriously damaged as there has been no weather to dry it after it was cut, and it has spoiled in the fields.

Pipestone Crop Good.
Pipestone - The harvest of barley and rye has been commenced in Pipestone county and proves that the crop will be one of the heaviest ever gathered here. Weather conditions have been very favorable for all small grains as well as for corn the past few days.

Bumper Corn Crop Expected.
Rochester - Farmers in the northern section of the state are looking forward to a bumper corn crop this year, many predicting the largest yield and the best grade of corn ever gathered in the history of corn raising in the state. The hot weather and the rains at opportune times have made the corn grow by leaps.

Grain Is Well Filled.
Albert Lea - Harvest progressed finely in Freeborn, Mower and Steele counties, all the rye, most of the barley and a considerable part of the oats being cut at this time, while most of the rye and much of the barley is already stacked.

All reports are that the grain has filled exceptionally well this year and a few days of favorable weather will make an excellent quality as well as quantity of the wheat in this part of the state. Wheat cutting this week and the next fortnight will see all the small grain in this vicinity cut and most of it stacked and very likely some of it threshed. Corn continues to boom and most of the hill corn is tasselled and very much of it stalked with every promise of an excellent yield.

FARMERS' LOAN ASSOCIATION
Mass Meeting in Minnesota Town to Perfect Formation of Agricultural Credits.

Bemidji, Minn., July 28 - Farmers from every direction flocked into the city to attend the mass meeting held for the purpose of organizing a farmers' co-operative land clearing and loan association in Beltrami county. State Immigration Commissioner Fred Kierman, A. McGuire, superintendent of the state experimental farm at Grand Rapids, and W. McKeen, secretary of the Northern Agricultural Development association, delivered addresses.

Clearing land and securing loans for buying cattle for the farmers were the two important propositions discussed. Special seating arrangements were necessary in order to handle the crowd at the city hall.

Bucket Brigade Saves Town.
Prosper - Three hundred men with buckets, from all the surrounding towns, saved this village from destruction when a fire, starting in a lumber yard, threatened to sweep the village. The fire started in a barn where a tramp had been smoking in the haymow. Half a dozen buildings were burned at a loss of $10,000.

Gypses May Have Child.
St. Paul - Simultaneously with a dispatch from Fond du Lac stating that gypsies that circled the shores of Lake Winnebago several days ago, bound northward, had with them a white child that Mrs. W. F. McGowan says she believed from the an of that city believed from the Mrs. W. A. Winters of Muncieville, Ind. It was reported to the St. Paul police that gypsies passed westward along Cherokee avenue having with them a little fair-haired girl.

AN EXCITING FINISH ON THE MINNESOTA STATE FAIR TRACK

While the most attention is given to the harness horses that will perform during the first five days of the Minnesota State Fair, the gallopers have not been forgotten. There is a thrill about a running race that the old followers of the game claim cannot be produced by any other sporting event in the world. The Minnesota State Fair managers recognize this fact, and this year will give their patrons some unusually high class sport along this line.

RANIER MAYOR IS INDICTED

Held With Another on Manslaughter Charge - Twelve Charges Made by Grand Jury

International Falls - The special grand jury adjourned quite last Saturday twelve indictments being returned. James Kelly and Mayor Edward Ek of Ranier were indicted on the charge of manslaughter for the death of Fred J. Couture of Ranier, who was slugged on the night of July 12 and died a week later. He was assaulted, it is said, because he made complaint before the regular grand jury about the saloons running unlawfully. All the six saloonkeepers at Ranier, four proprietors of resorts and the name of Saville, also were indicted.

PRISON-MADE TWINE SALES

Minnesota State Prison Disposes of 18,000,000 Pounds Despite High Prices.

Stillwater - Twine sales at the Minnesota state prison for the year 1913 have been very successful. The appearance in this uniform, but to my mind, it is much more sensible than the dresses, especially the present day styles," said pretty Mrs. Leo Earl of Toledo, O., who, accompanied by her husband, walked into Winona on their trip around the world. She attired in the khaki suit of a boy scout and a wholesome tan from exposure to the elements.

PIONEER BURIED AT SHAKOPEE

Shakopee - John McGovern, Sr., who had lived until Aug. 15, would have been 80 years old. Monday at St. Margaret's cemetery, Mr. McGovern was the oldest pioneer of this community and one of the oldest in the state. He was born in County Lathrum, Ireland, Aug. 15, 1815. He came to America in 1845 and lived at Providence, R. I. Later he moved to Shakopee, where he has resided since then. In the early days of the history of the state, Mr. McGovern experienced many hardships and underwent many privations. At that time it was necessary to do all trading and purchase all provisions from the distant settlements of Mendota and St. Paul. Travel, progress over the trails was tedious and difficult.

MUTILATED BODY OF LABORER FOUND

Duluth - The death of Stephano Arnold, aged 40, a laborer, whose body was found in a water hole, with four knife wounds in the heart, is still a mystery. Chief of Police Troyer and Dr. C. F. McComb, coroner are unable to decide between murder and suicide, because of a mass of contradictory circumstances. Arbuco's heart was pierced four times. This leads Dr. McComb to believe that Italian was murdered. "I do not think any man could subject himself to the ordeal of four self-inflicted stab wounds through the heart," said Dr. McComb, "and I believe it is murder."

HABITS OF BROWN ANT

Injurious Little Insect Found in All Cultivated Lands.

Forms Rather Extensive Settlements in Corn Fields, Mainly in Hills - Cultivator is Not Likely to Tear Up Nests.

(By R. A. FORBES.)
The little brown ant, notorious for its injuries to corn and called, consequently, the corn-field ant, is not by any means limited to corn fields, but is abundant in all cultivated lands, in pastures and meadows, in dense forests, along hard pathways, and in the sandy soil of dry, sunny roads. One sometimes finds it nesting in rotten wood or under bark, logs or stones, and even opening up the underground burrows to the surface between the bricks and sidewalks and pavements. It is distributed "over the whole of North America, except the extreme southern and southwestern portions, from the tree line of the highest mountains to the sands of the shore." Its home and habits have been chiefly studied in corn fields, and there forms rather extensive settlements.

Various Stages of Corn-Field Ant.

mainly centering in the hills of corn. Several adjacent hills so occupied by it being connected by underground channels by way of which members of the same family may pass from hill to hill, a party, so to speak, because in corn fields it is usually in possession of plantlets, which live on the roots of corn and which absorb the surplus of their own food, but partly also because in the corn hills it is unlikely to tear up nests as they are established between the rows.

In the burrows of this ant one may find a rather mixed and varied population, consisting of the eggs, larvae, pupae, males, females and workers of the ants themselves, together with the various species of root-lice harbored in them and certain kinds of mites which share its underground habitations on terms of mutual toleration, if not active friendship. In clover fields the ants are especially numerous, many mealy-bugs of a species which infest the roots of the clover plant, and these it treats as it does the root-lice, by carrying them away when its nest is disturbed, just as it carries off in flight with its own maggot-like larvae, the eggs of the mites, and its minute, spherical white eggs.

The contents of the nest are not precisely the same at all times of the year. In the early part of the season one or more wingless queens or mother ants may be found, although we have not been able to satisfy ourselves that it is true of all, or even many, of the winter communities of this species. A careful search and exploration of all the tunnels and chambers of large nests have often failed to bring out any of these queens. Sometimes, however, two or more queens may be seen living contentedly in the same worker family performing their proper function of laying eggs for the increase of the colony. Besides these large composite and evidently well established communities one may often find single females in the ground, sometimes wholly alone and sometimes with a few of their own eggs, a few larvae and a small number of workers.

Rates of Seeding.
At the Kentucky station the results of a test of the rate of seeding, and methods of planting are regarded as indicating that in a very favorable season three stalks per hill will give a higher yield than two stalks, and that to obtain the best results in the corn planted in hills, when the rates of seeding are equal. When the corn was drilled, however, planting in rows with a spade, equivalent to four stalks per hill, gave a still higher yield in 1910.

Age of Usefulness.
The average hen outlives her usefulness in two years, and is more profitably sent to market. There are, however, many instances in which she lives the fourth year, but the average limit is two years. Old hens are more likely to contract disease than younger ones.

Benefit of Tils.
A string of tils may be the means of producing a high yield of corn that did not do so in the field.

CARING FOR LITTLE CHICKS

Cleanliness is Important to a Degree of Success or Failure - Fresh, Clean Water.

In hatching chicks, either with heat or the modern way, the incubator, first of all, must be clean. This is important to a degree of success or failure; fifth means the matter always.

Don't feed the chicks at all until they have been hatched twenty-four to thirty-six hours; they don't need it. Don't feed them any maize, corn or white-corn feed of any kind, grain or otherwise, as it will cause bowel trouble and death. Don't lose sight of the drinking water, too; it is just as important that it be furnished fresh and clean and the drinking vessels kept clean.

Don't if you use a brooder, allow it to get too hot or too cold; either is a fatal mistake. Be sure to also that the chicks do not overcrowd and trample each other to death. Give them plenty of brooder room; they will be more healthy. Don't place your brood coop or chick runs at or near a wood pile, brush heap, old outhouse, etc., as such places make too good a harbor for rats, polecats and other vermin that will prey on your chicks at the least opportunity.

TASK OF DIGGING POTATOES

Maintained by Some Flavor and Palatability Lost by Washing Clinging Dirt From Tubers.

Where potatoes are very dirty when taken from the field, some growers wash all the soil off them. Others maintain that it ruins their flavor and palatability. They are certainly far more cleaner and more desirable to handle when the hose has been turned on them, and the clinging, hardened dirt washed off.

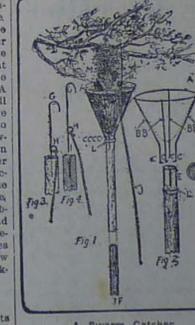

If the ground is fairly dry when they are dug, and if they are allowed to take the air and the wind dries with the soil, they will usually be clean enough to do without washing. There is every reason for digging them during such weather conditions.

Potatoes should be made a sort of an odd job, one that can be done at any time when there is nothing more pressing to do. The potato crop should be an important one, and any farmer who is forced to buy potatoes for table use should look upon himself as temporarily disgraced. Enough potatoes are spoiled every year by careless digging to feed a city of the second class for twelve months. Only in communities where the potato is the main and staple crop is there any real care shown in digging and handling this very important food crop.

USEFUL DEVICE FOR APIARY

Plan Illustrated for Capturing Swarms of Bees at Height of Twenty to Thirty Feet.

Gleanings in Bee Culture gives the accompanying plan for reaching swarms at a height of 20 to 30 feet. The hook is placed in the loose hole, one end of the pole, so that by extending this end of the pole up near the swarm, the hook can be easily placed into the limb containing the swarm. The pole is then withdrawn, leaving

A Swarm Catcher.

Garden Work.
The garden that is properly managed is just now in its prime. Some of the small fruits have come and the rest, but many of the vegetables are just at their best, and there are yet at least three crops of sweet corn to be gathered.

Caponizing Best.
Should your chicks turn out to be mostly roosters and not happen to early to capture the high prices for spring chicks, turn them into capons, the price is good and the market is never supplied.

WOE BROUGHT MOTHER FOX

Tragic Moments for Vixen After She Had Carried Poisoned Food to Her Litter.

On one of the large estates in Hingham, a few weeks ago, a fox was found to be destroying poultry. The time of the raids, and their boldness, were proof enough that the fox must be a female with young. Poisoned meat was prepared for her, and at once the raids ceased. A few days later one of the workmen of the estate came upon the den of a fox, at the mouth of which lay dead a whole litter of young ones. They had been poisoned. The mother had not eaten the doctor's food herself, but had carried it home to her family. They must have died in the burrow, for it was evident from the signs that she had dragged them out, into the fresh air, to revive them, and deposited them gently on the sand by the hole. Then in her perplexity she had brought various tidbits of mouse and bird and rabbit and placed at their noses to tempt them to wake up and eat their strange sleep. Who knows how long she watched beside the still forms, and what her emotions were? She must have left the neighborhood soon after, however, for no one has seen her since about the estate - Dallas Lore Sharp, in the Atlantic.

There were no other applications entertained for the upper department, but there were quite a number received for the lower department. The people of the village will all be pleased to learn of Mr. Hay's re-engagement, as he has given universal satisfaction during the past year, and it is no more than right that he should be given the school again this year.

At the adjourned school meeting held at the school house in this village to complete the work of the meeting held the week previous, the question of building a new school house in this place was discussed at length, and it was finally decided not to build this year. The question of building additional rooms was also discussed, and it was decided to make no change in the building. The amount of tax to be levied for the support of the schools for the ensuing year was voted as follows: For teachers' wages $150.00 For salaries of janitors $50.00 For repairs on school house $20.00

The school house will be improved by laying new floors, fixing windows and doors, and making other improvements, which will render it more comfortable for the future. Attention was also called to allowing children under the age fixed by law to attend school, and also to the matter of children from territory outside of the district attending without paying tuition. Both of the points were well taken and the Board will see that the law in these respects is enforced during the coming year.

HINCKLEY.

McCORMICK TWINE GIVES YOUR BINDER A CHANCE

The best binder makes a poor showing when it has to work with shoddy, unreliable twine. Give your binder a chance. Protect yourself from binder troubles by using even-quality, reliable McCormick binder twine.

There's a reason for McCormick twine superiority. Every step in its manufacture is subject to the most rigid care and inspection. The fibre is carefully selected. The spinning and winding are closely watched. The result is even quality and thickness—no bunches to clog in the knoter, no thin places to break. Make sure of good binder service by using McCormick twine.

McCormick twine is made in the following fibres and lengths:

THE RIGHT SOAP FOR BABY'S SKIN

In the care of baby's skin and hair, Cuticura Soap is the mother's favorite. Not only is it unrivaled in purity and refreshing fragrance, but its gentle emollient properties are usually sufficient to allay minor irritations, remove redness, roughness and chafing, soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and hair health generally. Assisted by Cuticura Ointment, it is most valuable in the treatment of eczema, rashes and itching, burning, infantile eruptions. Cuticura Soap wears to a wafer, often outlasting several cakes of ordinary soap and making its use most economical.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 25¢ Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Boneshead.

Mollie—What were you and that fellow arguing about?
Chollie—The size of my head.
Mollie—Oh, that was the bone of contention, was it?

We show the stomach little or no consideration until one day we find that it has gone on strike. We sit back in despair. The stomach is rebellious to the degree in which we have abused it.

The symptoms seem to show that something is wrong with the stomach. The trouble in reality is in the blood which your careless habits have made impure. The proper treatment then is to build up and cleanse the blood. A thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do the work. You can take them with every confidence that they will make your blood rich and pure.

Our new diet book will be sent on postal card request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 or they will be sent, postpaid, by the

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The name and small of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the name of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Taking It Out of Clients.
A well known Milwaukee attorney had just returned from a northern Wisconsin city where he tried a case. His partner was just closing a minor legal affair as the attorney entered the office.
There had been a long night ride to Milwaukee and the attorney was greatly exercised over the poor railroad accommodations on the train.
"Well, I just cleaned this little matter up today," said the partner.
"How long did it take you?"
"About two hours. What shall we charge our client?"
"—these railroads, anyway. Charge him $1,000."

True Business Instinct.
Topham's was the smartest emporium for miles around. You had to be the last word in "go" before a situation was obtained in that establishment. Keen business men filled every post.

One afternoon when trade was in full swing an unfortunate customer fell down the first floor stairs.
"Hi!" he roared in agony. "I do believe I've broken my leg!"
A shopwalker immediately flew to his side.
"Broken your leg, sir?" he inquired, sympathetically. And then in sharp clear tones: "Cork legs! Third counter to the right, sir! Forward, Miss Davis!"

No Wonder He Was Angry.
The previously accepted lover was infuriated when one evening he called on "the girl" and was informed by her that their engagement was at an end.

"If you insist, Grace Cheever, on breaking off our engagement, I will publish in the Oakland Times the letters you have written me."
"As you please," she replied, indignantly, toying with her bracelet. There is nothing about those letters I need be ashamed of—except the address.—Lippincott's

Like to Look at Pictures?

There is nothing so good as a picture to give one a correct idea of a country or a place. As Americans, we should all have a pretty thorough knowledge of the world's most wonderful engineering feat, the Panama canal, and of the latest land acquisition of the U. S., the strip of country known as the canal zone. For that reason we are running on another page this week, a special series of photographs snapped along the route of our "big ditch." These have never been published before and are an exclusive feature for the Pioneer.

ROBT. DERR, Chairman of Board. Attest: W. H. HAMLIN, Auditor. (Seal.)

Out of Style. The attempts of mortal man to depict divine perfection in the gods of olden times, but Venus was particularly restive. "I hope," exclaimed the mother of Love, "that those people don't think I look like that," with her lips of the eleventh century or earlier. Puck.

The First Fly. Why, there's a fly pesms kind of god, doesn't it, to hear him buzzing around contentedly in that sunny window? It means that spring has come. You are glad to see him, just as you welcome the crocuses and bluebirds. But wait a minute. Where did that fly come from? Not up from Florida with Gentle Sister South Wind as did Robin Redbreast and Winsome Bluebird. No, he hatched out of a muck heap, and he came right into the house without winking his feet. And his wife will go back to the muck heap to lay more eggs, and by the time the hot days come the two will have some millions of descendants. And all of them will come into the house without winking their feet, and they will leave 8th and 10th streets in your face. So the romance doesn't hit! The fly is your enemy. Slay him!

Has Replanned the Land. Father of 23 children, Frederick Bush Beckett, Great Yarmouth (Eng-land), baker and retired armourer-surgeon in the British Army, has just celebrated his silver wedding with his second wife. Beckett was first married at the age of nineteen, and is now sixty-four of the thirty-three children, nineteen are still alive and ten are living at home. He had eleven children by his first wife and twenty-two by his present wife. Beckett does not know offhand the names of all his children. Every night there is a roll call to see that all the children are in. The oldest child is forty-four years and the youngest living two years old. Beckett has sixteen grandchildren.

Frontier Days' Show. Each evening during fair week there will be shown, in front of the grand stand, the world's greatest Frontier Days' Show. The best of this famous show that has been successfully given at Cheyenne, Wyo., for several years, will be moved to the Minnesota State Fair grounds, and everything exciting and instructive of the life of the "Wild West" will be vividly reproduced.

Society Horse Show. In the Coliseum there will be held during the first five evenings of the fair, a brilliant Society horse show program of which will include regular horse show numbers and special entertainment features.

The Best Music. Music of various kinds will be featured. Secretary Simpson is a great believer in the entertainment value of high class music and this year there will be a Society horse show and three orchestras at work during the entire week.

Gigantic Bread. A woman at a recent dog show noticed a pretty girl gazing around as if puzzled. She went over to her and said: "ardon me, but can't you find the bones you're looking for?" "If not, I shall be glad to assist you." "Oh, thank you," she replied. "Would you mind showing me where they are?" "I'll be glad to do so," she answered. "National Muffin."

MINNESOTA'S FAIR IMPROVES WITH AGE

1913 Promises to be a Banner Year in the History of the Gopher Institution.

MORE BEST FEATURES.

Exhibits, Indians, Cowboys, Fire works, Horse and Auto Races, Music, Education and Inspiration.

"Bigger and better than ever" is a hackneyed phrase, but it seems to be the one that can be most appropriately applied to the Minnesota State Fair and Exposition of 1913. Large plans have been surely laid to bring this about, and the managers of this year's biggest annual festival are doing nothing but best weather during the month of Sept. 1 to 6 can prevent this year's show from surpassing, in every detail, the weather conditions of the department. Its producers are offering such a weather anti-weather plan. Even bad weather will not prevent the exhibition of educational features at Hamline from being better than ever before, and with the exception of some of the amusement features, everything will go on just the same, no matter what may be. The weather conditions may be of Educational Value.

The Minnesota State Fair last year offered more money in premiums than any other fair in the United States, and this year the managers have increased these offerings, making a grand total of $91,885.00. These liberal prizes, hung up in fifteen departments, insure the appearance at the fair this year of championship exhibits in every line of work and play. In addition to the regular exhibits, there will be scores of practical work exhibits, from which the visitors can learn the operation of the latest tools of raising and handling live stock, inventions, the most scientific methods of producing, and can gain instruction in all the matters that make farming profitable. The managers are offering everything possible to make the State Fair what it should be—the people's school for a week.

Farm Boys' Camp. The State Fair and the Minnesota State Fair are a big feature of the 1913 exposition. The managers will pay the expenses of a farm boys' camp, which will be selected by a local committee in each county of the state, and two have been chosen by the managers from each congressional district. The boys will be instructed during the entire week, and will go home with new information and inspiration.

Unusual Entertainment. As in all live shows, amusements have a big share in the Minnesota State Fair. The contracts are being made for the greatest fair of entertainment features ever held at any fair in America. Without exception, the money that the fair-goer this year will get five times the amount of amusement for the money that he can get anywhere else. Some of the headlines are:

Horse Races. Twenty-seven hundred and fifty dollars worth of horse racing. The fastest race horses from all over the country will compete over the famous Hamline track during the entire afternoon of fair week. In addition to the races, each afternoon's program will include a large variety of high class vaudeville numbers, plenty of good music and exciting special track features.

Automobile Program. Saturday is Automobile Day, and on that afternoon the speed demons of the automobile racing world will be seen in competition and exhibition against the world's records. As it is being made to secure all of the brightest stars in the racing firmament, and if present regulations are concluded, a list of entries will include Ralph Mulford, Joe Nickert, "Wild Bill" Endicot, Tetslaff, Louis Diabrow, and others nearly as famous.

Frontier Days' Show. Each evening during fair week there will be shown, in front of the grand stand, the world's greatest Frontier Days' Show. The best of this famous show that has been successfully given at Cheyenne, Wyo., for several years, will be moved to the Minnesota State Fair grounds, and everything exciting and instructive of the life of the "Wild West" will be vividly reproduced.

NEW WRINKLES FOR WRITERS

Modern Novelists Must Avoid All Such Commonplace Expressions as "He Said" and "She Said"

It is reported that the latest fashion in story writing eliminates the "he said" and the "she said" published authors and editors give the preference to those writers who can avoid these commonplaces of the great variety of ways. For instance, the new style will go something like this: "Hereafter," she cooed.

He did not heed her. He was in one of his black moods. The French clock on the mantel struck 3. It was 1 o'clock. He missed retrospectively. She was by his side in a moment. "Mon ange," she thickly articulated. "Was Hittler here today? He brutally intimidated me today," she intermittently enunciated. "Tomorrow."

"Sainted Toner, how I suffer!" he moaned morosely. Then hastily drawing one of his riding boots he reversed it and a huge pebble clattered to the innard floor. Resuming the boot he blindly crashed through the high French windows and turned the nearest corner. "For a bitter half-hour she stood where she had fallen and awaited his return. "Gone!" she convulsed—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Talented Agent. Mrs. Home Seeker—You certainly don't expect anybody to take this thing on the family. Greatest invention of the age, mum. Mrs. Home Seeker—Keep peace in the family. Mum—nothing like it. Whenever your husband drops his collar buttons, he'll always know where to find 'em.

More Than 202 Million. "Are you aware of the fact that the United States has more than 202 million inhabitants? 202,000,000 inhabitants last year?" "No, I was not aware of that fact, but I have known for some time that the United States does not come from the United States Bureau of fisheries."

Reckoned That Way. "Our neighbor across the way has a large family." "How can you say that, dear, when he has only a wife and one child?" "I mean that our child weighs one hundred pounds, and the wife, two."

MIGHTY MEAN TRICK

Story of Love, Railway Franchises, Financial Deals and Cracked Ice.

By CHARLES P. BUSH.

Burton Fleming had tried the game of life from many angles and was glad to acknowledge the corn and admit that he was not half so wise as he had thought himself when he graduated from college and started out to set the world afoot. He had worked hard and been faithful to his quest for the almighty dollar, but somehow it had eluded him. He had been sure he had earned a decent living, but the big "killing" he had so fondly hoped for was still pending at the world's office.

He would not have cared so much had it not been for Alice. Just to show his confidence—and like many other youngsters both wiser and more foolish—had he not married the girl of his choice before he had made a fair start. And as the successes of his dreams failed to materialize and he saw Alice riding in and practicing all kinds of nasty little economies which grated so on his nerves, he became rather sore regarding her.

Sometimes he got a little disconcerted with fate or luck or whatever he happened to call it upon different occasions, and it was to him now a little help at critical times he could have swam out of the shallows. Particularly had it seemed to him now that if he could have had a little help at critical times he could have swam out of the shallows. Particularly had it seemed to him now that if he could have had a little help at critical times he could have swam out of the shallows.

Not that Fleming ever had applied to the old man for assistance. He had expressed his plans at times, but as suggestions of the old man's ideas, he had never taken them seriously. He had never taken them seriously. He had never taken them seriously. He had never taken them seriously.

At this particular time the finances of the Fleming were at their lowest ebb, because, while Burton could always make a very decent income from his profession as civil engineer, he had not been able to make a cent since he had left the office of the city engineer. He had not been able to make a cent since he had left the office of the city engineer.

"I have it," he exclaimed a moment later. "I will have my share and we will go to the hotel and explain how it is so much more convenient to live that way with me away so much as they would have me here." "That it will cost a lot, hurt," suggested his wife soberly. "Can't help it," replied Fleming, decidedly. "I will have my share and we will go to the hotel and explain how it is so much more convenient to live that way with me away so much as they would have me here."

WAKE UP AND DESTROY THE FLY—NOW.

When the little pests begin to swarm about our doors so thick that no amount of shoving air flies thru away, when a good dinner is spoiled for us by the sight of a fly in the gravy, then we will begin to buy fly traps and paper and poison and spend hours of each day swatting them and scolding the children for leaving the door open, and we'll keep right on in the same old way until frost comes. We have done it for years, and we can do it just as long as new flies will be as thousands of flies to swat as there are now unless we change our methods.

When we were children we were taught that the fly was a harmless little creature, "nature's scavenger," and therefore a friend to man. Even then we looked upon him with aversion when we found him swimming in our milk. But now that we know his scavenging consists in collecting filth and disease germs in our outwashes and depositing them on our food, every man's hand is against him. Science has pronounced the death sentence upon him, and the only reason that his execution is delayed is because there are so many of him.

This new way is the way of prevention. Stables and refuse piles, open cans and garbage cans are points of attack in the fly campaign. By making the breeding places inhospitably clean and sanitary rooms are accomplished in a day that in a season of swarming the fly after it has once come into existence.

Oh, lordy, gasped Old Williams when he saw the electric lighting him. He had been shown all over Mr. Bobbs' house, "in that room," he said, "that electric lighting scheme of yours is too good a thing to let our family. By gracious, I'll finance it myself and you shall find the stock for your franchisees and all that. And you might explain to them, you know, that we were out arranging the deal last night and—and—er—cracked a bottle of wine after it was over and that it might be as well not to write the papers. She's a smart girl, understand about these financial deals, you know. You know how to manage with Alice I never did."

Household Maneuver. "And what," asked the caller, after he had been shown all over Mr. Bobbs' house, "in that room," he said, "that electric lighting scheme of yours is too good a thing to let our family. By gracious, I'll finance it myself and you shall find the stock for your franchisees and all that. And you might explain to them, you know, that we were out arranging the deal last night and—and—er—cracked a bottle of wine after it was over and that it might be as well not to write the papers. She's a smart girl, understand about these financial deals, you know. You know how to manage with Alice I never did."

Schooner a Weather Vane. The weather vane on the new building of the Seaman's institute on South street, New York city, is in the form of a three-masted schooner. If a vane in the form of a vessel had been put up there on a building a building years ago it would doubtless have been one with yards squared, a square rigger; but square rigged vessels come very rarely these days. So they made this weather vane in the form of a three-masted schooner, the typical sailing vessel of the present day. As a weather vane, it is best known to the present generation. It is made with only the mizen sail set, to keep her head always in the wind. It is the only weather vane of its kind in New York.

Don't Pay to Think. "Where's that waiter?" growled the man. "Why doesn't he bring us something to eat?" Everybody else around here has been served long ago, and we are still gazing at the crusts and a cake. "It is because you professed your order with 'I think,'" said a friend. "You said, 'I think we will have this and that.' He didn't consider that an order."

THE SUMMER SCOURGE.

LIES are disease carriers and originate in filth. They are born in filth; they thrive in filth; they prefer filth to an environment. With filth laden feet they drag their way through the butter; with filthy hands they fly in the milk; with filthy bodies they succumb in a group. From sewer and alleyway, manure pile and dead cat, they gather disease. This, too, they bring into the milk and the sloop. And thus human beings die, victims of the noiseless, dirty, disgusting, and insect—the worst nuisance of the summer.

One female fly lays about 120 perfect eggs. These eggs hatch in ten days. It may be assumed that they result in sixty perfect females, which females lay 120 eggs each. These eggs hatch in ten days and result in 3,600 perfect females, which females lay 120 eggs each, which hatch in ten days and result in 432,000 males, and so on. If therefore one energetic fly becomes prominent in a house, it will multiply and energetic flies will one manure pile give forth by Oct. 31! Kill the early fly.

WHY THE FLY IS DANGEROUS. For each female fly hatched in April there will be, some of her progeny are killed, 7,000,000,000 in September of the same year. Every fly is a possible carrier of disease to the human race. He delights in cesspools, decaying animal and vegetable matter, barnyards, offal heaps, garbage barrels, etc., places where disease germs abound and multiply. But he likes to vary his diet—must, sugar, bread—anything that humans eat the fly also likes. He dearly loves to frequent the kitchen and dining room of his human friends at their meal time, and he humbles on all kinds of filth between those meals. Every time he leaves the swill barrel or the cesspool for the kitchen or the dining room, he carries with him on his feet some of the filth on which he has just been walking. Swat, therefore, the voracious fly, or better still, keep him out of the house, keep from seeing many by starting them to death by keeping all their food supply in the stable, cesspool, swill barrel, kitchen and dining room safely and securely covered up.

Look Into the Future. While swarming the fly do not neglect to swat the breeding places of the fly, the home owner should also use means to prevent the fly from coming into his house. By overlooking the breeding place you make it possible for the fly that you do not swat to increase and multiply faster than you can possibly kill off the coming generations.

SIMPLE ADDITION. Filth and stagnant water breed flies and mosquitoes. Flies and mosquitoes breed death and disease. See how simple it is to prevent this.
