WM. CHALLENGER IS COMMANDER

Lead Health Post Plans Activities Coming Year. Campaign for New Members

The annual meeting of the Lead Health Post of the American Legion, was held in the club room last Tuesday evening when officers for the coming year, were elected and plans discussed for a year of activity by the post. Following the meeting the members adjourned to the French Cafe where an oyster supper was served.

Wm. Challenger was elected post commander to pilot the post in 1923. Bill was adjutant of the lead post for two years and was adjutant of the tenth district in the Legion and makes things hum in his office here, as demonstrated with evidence. He has already thrown his enthusiasm into his new job and has a number of things under consideration that will be spring in the near future. He has appointed C. E. Bost as adjutant of the post which will be a strong combination to carry on the post activities. Clint was commander of the post for two years and knows what is needed to put added pep into the members.

Harry Mills of Rock Creek was elected vice commander and Jack Wabber treasurer. These two boys are good runner mates for Bill and Clint and will be right there to back them up in all new undertakings.

The post has taken over a subscription campaign for the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch and will receive a commission on all subscriptions taken. If you want to subscribe for either one of these papers or the Farmers Dispatch or want your subscriptions ask any Legion man and he will fix you up.

A very interesting report of the state convention held at Virginia last summer, was made by Harry, one of the local delegates, and he also outlined plans of the state organization for the coming year.

Letter to the Public

Dear Public:

There seems to be a pretty general impression that things are pretty dead around here. I'm not quoting the facts—but things are not quite normal—but I do believe that depression is often a matter of mind. And depression can be overcome by HUSTLE. The whole country is hustling to get back on its feet and business is reviving in consequence. If you talk depression it doesn't help this community to prosper. In order to bust up this creaking over hard times I have ordered a swell picture called "The Holly Passion" for Wednesday night. The picture is comically shown in this picture. You will be filled with pep if you come to my show, show through the courtesy of the "Family Theatre."

Yours for a prosperous community, Rev. T. J. Baeklen.

PINE CITY NEWS

Mrs. Henry Burgo, Mrs. Jens P. Miller and Mrs. Fritz Johnson concluded at a Five Hundred party at the Baiger home last Saturday afternoon. They were ten tables in play. The rooms were decorated in Christmas colors with poinsettias and other designs. A delightful lunch was served. The table was lighted with red candles, and dainty red and white baskets used as favors. Mrs. Otto Sobotta won first prize with the high score and Mrs. E. P. Carlson second prize for the next highest score.

Alumni Team Defeats Sandstone

Notwithstanding the late hour at which the basket ball game was called last Saturday evening, there was a big crowd present to see the opening game of the season between the Sandstone and Pine City town teams. The game was delayed owing to a break down of the victors car after they left home, and they had to get another machine to finish the game.

The crowd was well repaid for their wait however, as the game was a fast one. Pine City captured the game by a score of 36 to 16 and some of the basket shooting, especially in the last quarter, was the crowd a real thrill. The local boys were too fast for the visitors, but it was a pleasure to see the team work of the Sandstone team. They would take the ball and pass it, with lightning speed down the hall, but fell down in shooting. They were considerably outwitted and outmaneuvered by the Pine City team.

Following the game, a large crowd stayed for the dance, and the evening was greatly enjoyed by the young folks especially. The chess was a game of good content, and the last quarter, the home boys will be looked forward to with pleasure by the local fans and players.

The City's library was donated to R. E. Korvalle, R. F. Ell, Ben and Johnson, C. Babcock, W. Huber R. G.; Therman L. G. Sandstone Gilver R. F.; Asplund L. F.; Peterson O. G.; Stenroos H. R. G. and McCarrie L. G.

Minister Stueck has two games booked for this week. Tomorrow night they will play at Moose Lake where they will remain until Saturday noon and then go to Superior where they will meet the "Red Devils" of the Carpenter-Christie athletic club, that evening. The "Red Devils" are one of the finest Superior teams that will give Pine City a real game.

Mr. Stueck was host to the large crowd that came back last evening. The supper was served in the dining room. The "Red Devils" were the victors in the game, which was held in following the big lead.

Last Rites For George Gray

Funeral services for George Van Eman Gray were held from the Pine City Methodist church, last Saturday afternoon and the remains laid to rest in the family plot in Birchwood cemetery beside those of his mother and sister. The pall bearers were F. P. Gottry, E. J. Prochaska, Webster Hoideg, C. M. Pennington, Jos. Carlson and Ell Huber.

He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife and two children—a girl 7 years of age and a boy 5 years. Mrs. Gray and the children will make their home with their parents, his first charge, was Fountain, Minn. His last charge Argyle, Ia.

George Van Eman Gray was born July 24, 1889, at St. Paul, Neb. He was the youngest of three children. His father Rev. Wm. K. Gray, moved to Pine City with his family in October 1898 where he was pastor of the Methodist church until his death in 1910.

George attended school here until his father's death. He soon entered the ministry and was engaged in that high calling when he was accidentally killed in Kansas City December 6th. He was married to Miss Ethel Norton of Farmington, Minn., Sept. 4th, 1915 in the Methodist church of that place. His first charge was Fountain, Minn. His last charge Argyle, Ia.

He had just closed a successful three weeks evangelistic campaign, during all the speaking himself. In company with the school Supt. of Argyle, Ia., motored to Kansas City to attend a convention. On the night of Dec. 5th, while crossing a street in Kansas City he was struck by a taxi, his head hitting against one of the axles of another car. He was taken to a hospital but never regained consciousness and died the next morning at 8 a.m. His remains were taken to Argyle, Iowa, where the entire community, his wife and children and Mrs. Norton, his mother-in-law, accompanied the remains to Pine City where interment was made in Birchwood cemetery.

Can Redeem War Savings Stamps

"Most people after buying War Savings Stamps of the 1918 issue put the mawaf for safe, keeping deposit boxes, desk drawers and various hiding places for their stamps," said Postmaster Collins today. "These stamps which cost from $4.12 to $4.25 each during 1918 reach their maturity value of $5.00 each January 1st 1923. They will, however, be accepted now at the Postoffice for either cash redemption as of January 1st or exchange for new United States Treasury Savings Certificates."

"We expect most of our patrons will wish to continue their investment with the Government and consequently will take advantage of the exchange plan."

"The Treasury Savings Certificates offered in exchange have all

Christopher Girl Is Recovering

Little Catherine Christopher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Christopher of Pine City, who was injured by a highway truck last week, has had a remarkable recovery and is able to be up and around the house again. She suffered considerable pain, and coughed up a quantity of blood the night following the accident, but the internal injury will not cause any permanent harm it is thought.

It is hard to believe that the wheel of the truck passed over her body, but eyewitnesses to the accident, and doctor Wiseman say it did. The doctor is of the opinion the only thing that saved her was the fact that it was the left rear wheel that hit her, as the truck was turning the corner to the right, thereby throwing the weight of the car on the right rear wheel.

It was a miracle that the accident didn't result fataly to the little one, and it is happy news to the many friends of the family to know she is on the rapid road to complete recovery.

Go. Poultry show Opens Today

The Pine County poultry show opened today in the armory with a goodly number of entries in place. Many people do not realize that this afternoon. There are exhibitors here from the Twin cities, many from Chicago county and a good showing of Pine county birds.

The show will be in full swing tomorrow and the judging will be in the morning. No admission is charged, and it is hoped that a large number of town folks will visit the show. Many people do not realize that there are many chicken breeds in this region, who are producing as fine birds as will be seen anywhere. Don't fail to visit the show. It will be worth your time and effort.

"The Seventh Day"

Little Anne Cornwall, who appears as Richard Barlow's sister in "The Seventh Day" in a drama starting vehicle, is the Polyanva girl of the city. She can always find something to be glad about. When she was in Matine on location she decided she was glad she wasn't a man. Here's the reason:

One of the men in the company who had been there more than a week, and whose looks were getting to resemble Sammie's started hunting for a barber, she related. "After looking a whole day, he sought out the hotel proprietor and asked where he could get his hair cut."

"You can't get your hair cut here in the winter. Nobody does," the proprietor answered him. "All the barbers go hunting in the winter and don't come back until spring."

"The Seventh Day" is a drama of plain folk and sea life. It will be at the Family Theatre Sunday and Monday, Dec. 17-18.

Buy Christmas Seals

The annual sale of Christmas Seals to fight tuberculosis and other diseases is now taking place in the state of Minnesota. Buy them, and use them on envelopes and packages, says Dr. C. L. Scofield, president of the Minnesota Public Health Association, and president of the State Board of Health.

"When you do this, you help in the fight against tuberculosis. You help save human lives. Your help goes where help is most needed—to the lungs that is clouded with the threat of death."

"Last year over 100,000 lives saved with the aid of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. In Minnesota last year 972 lives were saved, as compared with the death rate of ten years ago. Is this not worth while? It means that tuberculosis is being controlled. The death rate, in the nation, as a whole, has been cut in half. If you and others join the fight, tuberculosis can be stamped out." Buy Xmas Seals.

Miss Lucille Gottry is manager of the Pine City committee and has a number of girls selling seals. No matter how many or how few you buy, it is for a worthy cause and every penny helps.

High School Team Wins First Game

A snappy game, between the Cambridge and Pine City high boys, last Friday evening, resulted in a victory for the Pine City quint. The score being 10-0.

Because of the slippery condition of the armory floor, the game was not as exciting as it might have been, but the conditions being normal. However, the teamwork of our local quint was good, their passes fast and accurate, while, comparable to the Cambridge team, who were largely to the difficulty which the local team experienced in locating the baskets. It was a clean game from the start to finish. Football was few and far between.

The work of Weberberger and Hagen was excellent, and is worthy of mention. It was due primarily to their aggressiveness that so few of the opponent's plays were successful.

America is Held Last Hope to Prevent Rapture in Entente Rank.

London—The Allied powers seem to be looking to the United States as a last hope of preventing a definite break in the Entente over reparations following upon the collapse of the London reparations conference. Despite official denial the United States and the decision to continue the discussion in Paris of the Allied premiers, after three days' conversation, find themselves in what appears to be complete disagreement over reparations. Adjustment in any part is an effort to delay a little longer the apparently inevitable split in Allied unity.

THE BOLTON GIRL'S PROPOSITION

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

WHEN she said she would have a good paper, it was not a paper, it was a girl. After that we knew that she was at least highly imprudent if not entirely impossible.

Miss Bolton's name was always among the lists we printed of the guests at the Kenton Social Club.

She had written something that she called a critique on the list of names she submitted to us, and was deeply pained when we told her that we didn't care for editorial matters.

SHOW PEASANT INSPIRATION; LATEST BLOUSE INNOVATION

Who would have thought, when it came to up-to-the-minute style, that Miss America, Junior, would borrow her ideas from quaint little peasant girls in the far-off Balkan mountains, in Russia, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and other Central Europe countries?

No doubt, "I'll be I, as I suppose I be," is somewhat the sentiment of our beloved little flapper as she wears these now so fashionable bright Ukrainian embroideries.

However, these youthful modes are not too foreign looking after all. Just enough of the gay eyes colorings are used, so as to tone up the dark velvets and serges which belong to the group.

It seemed to happen all of a sudden. In its alighting presence we have all but forgotten there ever was in existence the faithful shirtwaist and even the alluring blouse has its history dimmed in the light of the new jacket-blouse.

The jacket-blouse as you prefer to call it, meets with its instant favor because it is just what most of us have been looking for—a blouse that does not tuck in at the waistline, nor yet does it have the careless appearance of the loose varette.

While the jacket-blouse is thoroughly practical it adds tone to the tailored

SOUPS AND GARNISHES

Soups will never grow passe, for with too many a soup is the attractive dish of the meal. There are such varieties that it is indeed hard to please who cannot find one to his liking. Vermont Chicken Soup—Take six cupfuls of well-seasoned chicken stock, add a little grated onion, a head of lettuce shredded and one cupful of peas. If the peas are fresh, simmer until they are done. Beat an egg, add enough bread crumbs to make a paste and shape into balls. Drop the balls into the soup and simmer until well heated; serve hot.

Quick Bouillon—Cut one pound of fresh beef and a slice of fat pork. Put into a saucepan with one cupful of cold water, one carrot, one onion (finely minced), and cook fifteen minutes; then add two cupfuls of boiling water. Simmer for an hour, then press through a fine sieve and season with salt, pepper and celery salt.

Cheese Balls—Take one-half cupful of flour, half a cupful of milk, a tablespoonful each of butter and cheese. Mix in a double boiler, cook until smooth and thick, add one egg well beaten and cook long enough to set the egg. Set aside to cool. Form into balls the size of hickory nuts, drop into boiling soup, cook five minutes and serve immediately.

Leftover Meat Dish—Put through the meat grinder two or three medium-sized potatoes, season well, add one small onion also ground through the meat grinder. In a little pork sausage fat cook the potato and onion until well scalded then place in a well-buttered baking pan with a layer of chopped roast beef and garnish with halves of cooked pork sausages. Bake until the potato and onion are cooked. Serve from the dish. See that all the potato water and onion juice is added for it will be needed for moisture.

Rice Soup—Cook one-fourth of a cupful of rice in three cupfuls of boiling water with one teaspoonful of salt, one slice of onion and a stalk of celery. When the rice is cooked add two red plumpets and press through a fine sieve and add two cupfuls of cream and the same of chicken or veal stock, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper and three teaspoonfuls each of butter and sour cream, cooked together and added to bind the soup. Bring to the boiling point, sprinkle with chopped celery and serve piping hot.

ALL KINDS OF THINGS

When making the fruit cake for the winter use any recipe desired, put in round pans or use the cooler after 15 minutes to let the cakes unscrape, or after the steaming dry off for half an hour in a moderate oven. The cake has a much better flavor and texture steamed first, then baked.

At the dinner season of the year bacon with green peppers makes a most appealing breakfast dish. Wash the peppers and cut them in rings, scatter the seeds. Soak for twenty minutes in salted water, drain dry and fry in the bacon fat. Keep the well-drained bacon hot in the oven and serve the peppers when tender in the center of the platter with the bacon arranged around them.

Green beans are liked by others than those who find it necessary to diet. To two cupfuls of green beans allow a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one egg and two cupfuls of milk or half milk and half water. Sift the dry ingredients, beat the egg, add the milk and flour and beat again until light and foamy. Have the pans heating hot when the mixture is poured in.

When the appetite needs coaxing cut the bread for toast in finger-sized pieces, toast and butter and pile lightly on a platter when serving.

A sprinkling of salt on the breakfast grapefruit is an improvement in serving instead of sugar. The salt brings out the flavor of the fruit. This is good news to those who are denied sugar.

Almond Bread—Make a sponge at night with a quart each of water and gluten flour, add a yeast cake dissolved in a little water, let rise in a warm place overnight. In the morning add two teaspoonfuls of salt, one cupful of blanched almonds, four chopped and enough flour to mold. Knead well, mold into loaves and bake in a hot oven. This makes two loaves.

FACTORY MUST KEEP HEIFER GROWING

Larger Size is Greater Will Be Turn Capacity to Consume and Her Into Milk

To get the best out of our dairy cattle we must grow the heifers out and develop them well, because the heifer of today is the cow of tomorrow, says J. P. LaMotte, chief of the dairy division, who states that the majority of the dairy heifers in South Carolina are under size. The dairy heifer is a future milk producing machine, and the larger she is the greater will be her capacity to consume feed and therefore to produce milk, other things being equal.

The question often comes up in feeding heifers for growth. They are making a good growth, for their weight is a future milk producer. How big should a six-month-old heifer be? What should she weigh? Normal growth for Jerseys, Holsteins, Ayrshires and dairy Shorthorns have been worked out by the Missouri experiment station

For Best Results Young Animals Should Be Fed in Stanchions

For instance, if a twelve-month-old Jersey heifer weighs approximately 400 pounds, she is making normal growth; eighteen months old, 575 pounds; a Holstein heifer, on the other hand, should weigh 600 pounds, and at eighteen months, 800 pounds.

The weight of an animal is not the whole story, however. The height at the withers is also an excellent indicator. The normal Jersey heifer at six months should be about 37 inches, at the withers; at twelve months, 42½ inches; at eighteen months, 45½ inches; and at two years 47½ inches. Holsteins at the same age are higher—at six months, 39½ inches; at twelve months, 44½ inches; eighteen months, 47½ inches; and at two years, 49½ inches.

VALUE OF MILKING MACHINE

No Doubt of Important Part It Plays in Development of More Profitable Dairying

There can be little doubt now of the value of the milking machine as the important part that it is playing in the development of more profitable dairying. The contention that milking machines are harmful to cows that tend to tear down the udder and render the cows useless, has given to be generally untrue.

The recent improvements that have been made on the leading makes of milking machines have made it possible for the practical farmer to invest in one with a comparative certainty of securing beneficial results provided he gives the machine care.

The right use of the milking machine is just one more step toward more profitable dairying, more contented dairymen and more wholesome milk—H. R. Lasselco, in Indiana Farmer-Guide.

Care at Calving Time

Separate the cow from the herd several days before calving date. In summer open pasture and in winter clean dry stall are ideal calving conditions.

Feed a bran mash for first four to six feeds after calving. Give a light grain mixture, such as equal parts oats and bran, until swelling is out of udder.

After udder is normal, start milk ration at four to five pounds daily, and increase gradually one pound every other day until natural milk flow is reached.

Continue feeding according to production.

Milk With Clean Utensils

The milker should always milk with dry clean hands. It is a filthy habit to say the least, to milk with wet hands, and it is a mistake to think that milking with wet hands makes milk easier.

Whole Milk for Calves

Whole milk should be fed the calf until it is three weeks old. At this time milk may be substituted by part of the whole milk. Make the change gradually.

Have Good Equipment

It pays to have good and practical equipment. The raising of poultry properly cannot be accomplished cheaply as most beginners seem to think. The proper equipment must be had to get the best out of poultry keeping.

Blue Bugs

Blue bugs, like the flies, are blood suckers. They bite the poultry around the eye. Due to their large size and thick skin they are harder to control than flies.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that you buy products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of your mind, and you are left with a reason to plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to medicine.

A medicinal preparation that has real curative value must sell itself, as an evidence of its merit. The remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited by it, and are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have used for many years, and never hesitate to recommend, for it almost every case of gonorrhea results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a record."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, that it does not irritate the bladder, but every vital system of the body is recommended by those who have been benefited by it, and are in need of it.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kline & Co., 219 Broadway, N. Y., and enclose ten cents, also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Real Genius Necessary for Actor to Struggle Successfully With That Combination.

A certain actor boasted that he could adopt any dialect in the world. "Well, look here," said his manager. "I've got the part for you—but I wonder whether you can really manage it."

"Don't worry—fire away!" said the actor. "I've never been stumped yet."

"Good," said the manager. "Then I needn't worry. The part I want you to play is that of a Frenchman's maid."

"Yes, but he wasn't born in France, you see. He was born in Japan, of my parents. As soon after he was born he was taken to Norway, where he was brought up by a Spaniard."

"I see," murmured the actor. "I've spoken a sort of broken Spanish, eh?"

"No, not exactly. The scene of the play is in the mountains of Russia. I'm trying to make a German family believe that he is Russian. Can you manage it?"

DOCTOR ORDERED WOMAN OBEYED

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and is Now Well

Chicago, Illinois.—"I surely gave my husband good reason for his doctor's order that I should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on the market. After I had my baby I was all run down and nervous. I kept me from gaining weight, and everything he could do to build me up, then I was ordered to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with his medicine and I am now a new woman. I have gained weight and my husband and I are certainly doing good work in this world."

—Mrs. Anna F. Tompsett, Washburn Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

There is nothing very strange about the doctor directing Mrs. Tompsett to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for many physicians who do recommend it highly appreciate its value.

Women who are nervous, run down, and suffering from women's ailments should give this well-known root and herb medicine a trial. Mrs. Tompsett's experience should guide you towards health.

Contractor Has Gained 30 Lbs. on Tanlac

"Tanlac freed me up so I gained thirty pounds. I have never seen or heard of such a wonderful medicine in all the sixty-six years of my life!"

declared William Mages, well-known retired contractor, 2580 Lafayette Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

"About two years ago I had a severe cold. It was so bad I left me in an awfully run-down condition. My appetite went back on me and my stomach got so weak I could not eat and digest enough to give me any strength. I also had the worst sort of pains across the small of my back, and could not sleep."

"I began picking up soon after I started taking Tanlac, and now I have a fine appetite, sleep like a log and feel fresh, without feeling less all left me. I could not do otherwise than recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

WONDERFUL PIECE OF WORK

Feat of Engraver That Is Not Likely to Be Duplicated for Many Years.

The bureau of standards was requested to manage what is probably the smallest piece of engraving on glass in the world. The engraving consists of the Lord's Prayer (repeated verbatim) engraved on glass in a space of .001 by .002 of an inch.

The writing can only be seen under a powerful microscope, the magnification required being from 500 to 1,000 times. The measurements by which the above dimensions were determined never suffered for the requirements of those who demand Arabian coffee.

Arabian Coffee Cup Good

The return of good stable political conditions in the Yemen region of Arabia, which for years has been torn by tribal warfare, is partly responsible for the fact that the coffee crop will be unusually large this year, and may very possibly exceed the previous figures.

Cross, Aden, has informed the Department of Commerce. The demand at Aden for coffee is very strong at present, and there is every reason to believe that the price levels will be maintained, for the local production never suffers for the requirements of those who demand Arabian coffee.

Charles Blazak, cement block manufacturer, Pine City, says: "Heavy lifting, I think, weakened my kidneys and made my back lame. Sharp knife-like pains took me in the small of my back and stooping always made these pains worse. It was a task to straighten again. Another bad symptom was the too free action of my kidneys which caused me to get up three or four times during the night to pass the kidney secretions. I saw Doans Kidney Pills advertised and decided to try them. The first box, which I got at the Breckenridge Pharmacy relieved me of the backache and after taking another box I was entirely cured. The backache disappeared and my kidneys again acted as they should!"

ARE JUST "PA" AND "MA" NOW

Modern Children Lack Oldtime Dignified Titles for Their Parents, Declares a London Writer.

When I was a small boy, forty years ago, children almost without exception addressed their parents as "papa" and "mamma." When a boy grew older and went to school he frequently took to saying "at" to his father, though behind his back, he usually referred to him as "father" or "the governor."

At the same time he gave up saying "mamma," which he considered childish, and took to calling his mother "mother," or sometimes "mamma." It was about twenty years ago that the abbreviations "pa" and "ma" began to be generally used. They came from America, where they had already been in use for many years.

Some children used "daddy" instead of "papa" and after a time "papa" went out altogether, and was replaced by "dad" with those of older growth. Today "dad" is almost universal. From the little abover of four or five calls his father "dad." As for "mamma," it is as obsolete as "papa," and mother-families is now known universally as "mum."

The only part of the kingdom in which these abbreviations have not found favor is Scotland, where the more formal "father" and "mother" are still insisted upon—London Answers.

TO BE MODELED IN BRONZE

Winners of British Dog-Racing Contests Will Have Memories Preserved by American Sculptor.

Obtain Cattle, winner of the Derby; Music Hall, winner of the Grand National; and Guards' Brigade, winner of the Waterloo, are among the 25 British champion dogs to be modeled in bronze by the American sculptor, Herbert Haseltine. The King's Labrador retriever, a champion of his class and declared at one show to be the best dog of the year, has already been modeled.

Haseltine is an inspired sculptor of the horse, says an artist. In achieving a perfection of detail that delights the most fastidious owner, he has the gift of imparting the animal's character to his sculpture. Horses talk with their ears, and in each of Mr. Haseltine's models the set of the ears most common to his subject is carefully reproduced.

That other animals can and do inspire him has been shown in bull-fight sculpture. One study of his shows a proud, powerful beast with fight in every line.

Historical Error.
The new stamp for Christopher and Nellie, two Leeward isles in the West Indies discovered by Christopher Columbus in 1493 and now British possessions, shows the discoverer looking through a new spy-glass, remarks the London Daily Mail.

The "Bulletin" of the French Astronomical society expresses indignation at what it terms this latest example of the general ignorance of matters astronomical, for, of course, Christopher Columbus died more than a century before Zachariah Hanssen, maker of spectacles, made some one else's fortune by devising the telescope.

His children, playing with some of his lenses, had found that when two lenses were placed at a certain distance apart the weathercock, away on the top of the neighboring church steeple, could be seen through them as distinctly as if it had been brought nearer.

Copper and Calcium.

It is reported that Professor Hartley of Dublin has photographed, in ordinary air, spectroscopic lines, due among other things to copper and calcium. It is believed that the substances, projected into the atmosphere by road vehicles and by smoke from the sparks of trolley wires. It is from the latter that copper is supposed to come. The quantity of copper thus found is exceedingly slight. Intensity of the lines due to the tests that renders it appreciable. Lines due to lead, carbon, iron, magnesium, nickel and manganese have also been detected, but the quantity of these substances is even less than that of the calcium and copper; the lines of which are always prominent in the spectra.

Rare Edition of Bible.

The only known copy of the first Protestant Bible printed in Latin has recently come into the possession of the public library at Cambridge, Mass. says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is valued at $100,000 by the library authorities, which seems reasonable in view of some book transactions. The printing of this edition was done in 1527, at Cologne, by Peter Quentel, who shortly before had printed an edition of the New Testament for Tyndale. The text is in black letter, with numerous woodcuts by Anthony Worme, some of which had been used in the devine edition of Tyndale's English New Testament, published in 1526.

Science in Law Court.

When 30 sounds became noisier Science was invoked to free Sidney Vyne of the charge of driving a noisy motorcycle. An autohooter, which photographs sound waves, recorded the lullaby created by other noisy machines whose drivers were not interested with.

The defense tried to show that more disturbing motorcycles passed the same point, and had photographs to sustain the contention. It lost, but considerable interest was attracted by the new scientific procedure—London Mail.

An Oath in Japan.

Girl scouts take a promise of loyalty to God. The Japanese do not worship any one God, so a knotty problem arose when scouting was introduced in Japan. At the International Conference held in England recently, it was decided to permit the Japanese to join the movement provided they lived up to the ten scout laws and are loyal to the spiritual part of the promise. They may swear by the Eternal Truth of Their Ancestors or whatever represents the ideal to them.

MINERS' DEATH WAS PAINLESS

47 Men Fall Peacefully Asleep, Is Claim of Experts.

Jackson, Cal.—Not one of the 47 miners remained alive after the first shock of the fire which broke out in the Argonaut shaft at midnight on Aug. 27. They were driven from passage to passage by the deadly fumes of gas and finally made a last stand on the 435-foot level of the mine behind two make-shift bulkheads. And there, they gasped their last breath.

The men were alive but dying at 2 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 28. By 4 o'clock they were in the embrace of death, huddled bodies lying still.

This is established by two notes, one from William Fessal, miner and chemist, and a father.

Fessal's note was burned deep into the wood on the bulkheads which the men had frantically constructed. He seared the wood with this message: "3 a. m. Gas very bad. We are going to leave you, John Fessal."

A second note, a pencilled scrawl was picked up on the wet floor of the drift. It read:

"3 o'clock. Too much gas."

Below was a rudely scrawled figure "4." It appeared as if the writer had endeavored to write a message at 4 o'clock, but the gas had already overpowered the men and they were falling into the sleep which was to be their last.

Heavenly Messengers

By J. H. Rockwell

And there were shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night, and lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

"And the angel of the Lord said unto them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

AND so, down through two thousand years heavenly messengers have been going to and fro in the earth, carrying good tidings of great joy, sometimes of course, there are messages of sorrow, but in the Christmas time, the messages are messages that carry comfort and gladness—bring peace and good will. But these are heavenly messengers who are always speaking somewhere, not only at Christmas time, but all the time, for that matter—and so this story has to do only with the small, red-robed boys of the post-office "Deliveries" service, who go and come far into the night on Christmas Eve.

Deliveries had fallen and scattered crews of people hurried and hurriedly, through the packed shopping district of a large Western city, one of the front and middle rows flowed like a human river with carrying bags and bundles of Christmas packages.

In the postoffice the wheels were turning fast, while a steady stream of letters and packages poured in through the mailing-chutes, on every hand. Clerks at the various windows were busy handling out stamps, weighing bundles and making change.

In the center of the room a man was pushing a long horizontal row of letters there along a conveying machine; three others were steadily pounding packages with a rubber stamp. Still another man, nervous and working under pressure, stood just within a horseshoe railing of iron pipes, on which hung canvas mail sacks. With swift, trained hands he tossed letters and packages, from his central position in the horseshoe, into the open mail sacks, with unerring certainty.

Suddenly scowling on a small handful of letters, a clerk called out, "Special!" A small boy arose from a pile of mail sacks with a jump. Rubbing the sleep out of his eyes, he went across the room and entered the addresses of the "specials" in his book.

"Go, but my feet hurt," he confided to one of the clerks. It was an unexpected story to the clerk, who stopped his hurried work and regarded the boy with kindly eyes as he said: "Last trip, son? It is after ten o'clock now, and if anything should come in later, we will hold it until morning. I know how it is; used to carry them myself."

The boy went out into the night, and made his way towards the outskirts of the town, where there were no street cars; where the way was often dark, and the sidewalks wet and moist. It was the Negro quarters, where the red windows glowed with light, and the windows curtains were of paper, dirty muslin or pieces of faded red and blue cloth.

The Heavenly Messenger plodded down a side street, stamping his feet to keep the snow from caking on his shoes. He came out of the dark under the rusting trees, whose leaved limbs cracked and cracked in the wind. And the moon shone in the light, illumined by millions of swirling white flakes, then into the dark again.

Suddenly a house loomed up before him that seemed to be settling into the snow like a ship on the brink of foundering. Even as the Christmas Angel lit the match, shuddering from the wind, and holding it close to see the house number, the door was opened. He had been expected; an old negro man bowed him in. His face was sad and wrinkled, and his hair the color of wood ashes. He wore a red and white striped shirt and a checkered shirt open at the neck, showed underwear of coarse red wool.

"What's the matter, shuddering?" he quavered. "I'll grab 'em" sick in Chicago hospital. Ellen! Ellen!" he called hoarsely.

A slow, heavy movement in the room beyond, and a stout "mammy" came into view, breathing heavily as she caught her sight slightly from side to side, as she walked.

"The letter come," asked the old negro man haltingly. She looked at him and blushed for a minute before she could see the writing. Womankind, she turned the pages and read the last paragraph first.

"It's from de nurse," she announced. "Draise de Lord, de child am safe an' an' out de hospital, an' de nurse say 'uh' it's such as he be Christmas joy, 'uh'."

Although he could not write, the old negro man proudly touched the pencil as his name was written in the boys' receipt book. Quite warm, now, and minus one of his glad tidings, the Heavenly Messenger's spirit soon swallowed him up, and then quickly covered over his foot-prints, as if he were being followed, and in five hours came to him.

"I've seen that lady before," volunteered the Negro man. "I know 'em."

"What?" shouted the traveling man. "Who is she?"

"I just took a letter to her over at the post office last night," he said. "She's a lady in a show."

"And I've looked for her for nineteen months," said the traveling man slowly. "I know the rest of the story. I found her on Christmas Eve. It is sure the glad tidings they tell us about."

And the man whom he had his coat and hat on, and was rushing for the elevator, on his way to the opera house, the girl he had sought unavailingly for nineteen months.

The Heavenly Messenger whistled softly as he plodded through the drift of snow and pulled the strong white canvas bag to ring in the interior of an abandoned house. Light shone from the front-story window of the front room, though it was now far past midnight. An old gentleman came to the door and pulled the Angel into the room, almost of a strong gust of wind and a blinding spray of snow.

"Make yourself right at home, my little friend," he invited, warmly. "Take that chair up close to the fire. Emily! Emily! Here's a letter from the British consul in New York. What's that five Charles in there? He was shipped out of the coast of France, but he is not seriously injured and is on his way home."

The motherly woman who had come into the room cried a little over the news from her son, but she did not forget to turn to the bearer of the good tidings and thank him. "There boy, it is a bad night for such a little fellow to be out. Are your feet wet? Take your shoes off, and the dry socks."

More warmth came from the old gentleman than came from the fire, as he pictured to the boy Christmas, as the Christmas Angel slowly made his way down the walk, and out into the night. "I'll not put to rest me."

"I've Seen That Lady Before," were the parting words the Angel heard, as he turned the corner of a street and lost sight of the little house of the kindly German folk.

When the Special Delivery Angel awakened Christmas morning—or rather Christmas eve—he found himself sitting at his bedside, and stroking his hair, said to him in a regretful tone. "I had planned to have a turkey for dinner, but I could manage it. You have your father's eyes, dear. My, but he would have loved to see you."

"I'd rather have chicken than turkey," answered the boy. "The turkey is better."

"Nothing but glad tidings, my boy. Everyone seemed to be almost tickled to death at their mail. I guess folks don't send any other kind of letters but cheerful ones on Christmas Eve."

Christmas Trees and Stockings. Two Christmas trees, old and very pretty, that have come down to us are the Christmas tree and the hanging up of the stockings on Christmas eve. Each provides a way of making gifts, and the way provided by the stockings is especially pleasing to children. Perhaps it is because they find in homes where it is still followed there are delighted children or Christmas morning, when the stockings are examined in some thing like we blended with great pleasure. The Christmas tree survives, and no Christmas school festival is complete without one, brilliant with lights and loaded with presents, presided over by a merry yet venerable Santa Claus.

Removing Water Spots. Some silks and wools are spotted by water. A satisfactory method for removing such spots is to dampen the material evenly and press it with a hot iron. This will remove the water, and the stain will disappear. The iron should be used with care, and the material should be pressed with clean water or shake it in the steam from a bristly hot iron. The iron should be thoroughly damp, then press it.

Money which furnishes feed for good cows is invested, not spent, says a good farmer who illustrates the returns in the form of increased production. Washington—Republican members agreed on an amendment to the ship subsidy bill designed to offset losses to American passenger ships caused in foreign service by reason of the prohibition against the sale of liquor. The amendment reads that the government shall be paid directly by the government for carrying mail.

CHASMAS DAY IN ICELAND. The worthlessness of poor quality bulls lives after them—in their low-producing daughters.

Sleeping Sickness in Alberta. Calgary—A sleeping sickness is again reported in this city. Robert Mason, 15, has been asleep 100 hours.

MISS WYLLE B. MCNEAL. As soon as cold weather has destroyed the green vegetation upon which mice and rabbits feed, they will look for food elsewhere for succulent food. Young rabbits are in danger, after these pests have once tasted a dozen trees in a day unless precautions are taken to prevent it. Rabbits attack trees that are from one to six years old; mice injure trees of any age. It is better and cheaper to protect the tree trunks this fall than to try to protect them next spring by grafting bridges. It is the advice of horticulture specialists at the agricultural college.

NEW CHIEF IN HOME ECONOMICS. The home economics division of the Minnesota College has never been the source of large profits.

BETTER CREAM, BETTER PRICE. Reports from 10 Minnesota co-operative creameries for September showed the price of 15 cents a pound in prices paid the farmers by the creameries for butterfat. This was a gain of 10 cents over the price of butterfat in the market, and less than the market price for feed. It may be stated that the creameries have a cost account has told him that he is producing at a loss.

T. F. Bayard, Third Senator of His Time

The new long-term senator from Delaware, Thomas F. Bayard, came from a family of senators, both his father, Thomas F. Bayard, and grandfather, James A. Bayard, having served in the senate from Delaware. Moreover, he carries a fine blood of the same family as the opponent for the seat.

He will be a striking figure in Washington. In his early life, Bayard was a writer about two hundred and twenty words more than the average, the new senator is built and well known as a leading black tie.

Mr. Bayard is a graduate of Yale and a lawyer of ability. The only public office he has held in Delaware was that of city solicitor of Wilmington, an appointive office. As the state was a candidate for senator, Bayard was defeated by Leroy Harbo, brother-in-law of T. Coleman du Pont, more than any other of the national leaders in the movement. He opposed prohibition and sold out.

DELORA ANGELL HAS ANNOUNCED THAT IN THE SPRING SHE IS GOING TO MARRY LESTER NORRIS. SHE HAS THE NINETEEN-YEAR-OLD HEIR TO THE $25,000 ESTATE LEFT BY JOHN W. (BOY-TOU-MILLION) GATES.

Delora Angell has announced that in the spring she is going to marry Lester Norris. She has the nineteen-year-old heir to the $25,000 estate left by John W. (Boy-to-u-Million) Gates. He's the twenty-year-old son of the undertaker of Erie, Pa. The remains dates back eleven years when they were school playmates and attended the St. Charles Methodist church together.

Delora inherited her fortune from the widow of her fiancé, her aunt, who died in November, 1913. This divided the money between Delora and E. J. Baker, brother of Mrs. Gates, with a provision that when Mr. Baker dies his share goes to Delora. The girl receives the income until she is thirty years old. The estate is managed by her father, H. C. Angell, who reports that between 1919 and 1921, $170,892 had been paid out in educating and caring for the heiress.

Lester was graduated from the St. Charles high school and from the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. He has been staff artist with the Farm Journal and is now illustrating for the Hamiltonian, the official journal of the Hamilton club of Chicago.

She says they will have a little bungalow in St. Charles, where Lester can have a studio and she will have one old family servant to help her keep house.

You see, somebody sent to Sir William a box of poisoned candy at detective headquarters and of course he ate some of it. Yes; he'll recover, the doctors say.

And there's more to the story. It appears that November 3 a cardboard box posted in a London suburb was received by Scotland Yard addressed to the Hon. Trevor Bigham and Major Elliott, two of the assistant commissioners. This contained cakes. The assistant commissioners were unengaged and turned the cake over for investigation and analysis. The candy box also had been posted in a London suburb, and the handwriting and the printing of the label was similar to that on the cake package.

The approval in the West, said he, "is due to a great extent to the unpopularity and dissatisfaction with Congress. The West feels that it is controlled by the East and in the interest of the East."

"For this reason Representative Sydney Anderson is being strongly urged to become a candidate for speaker to succeed Speaker Gillett. The opposition of many in New England, and especially New York, to the St. Lawrence waterway project is thoroughly resented at a time such as this when thousands of business enterprises cannot get cars to ship them in.

Adolph Gross and Floyd Diggery went to Cloquet in Floyd's car Tuesday to seek employment.

A part of young folks walked out west Sunday to see the new heavier dam. It is quiet large and a number of large trees are down all along the creek.

Birds and Trolley Wires.
The biological survey says that small birds are seldom killed by alighting on a trolley wire, even though it carries a heavy current of electricity. This is because there is not a complete circuit. If a larger bird were to alight on a wire, and one of his wings touched another wire, it would be apt to cause death. Eagles have often been killed in this way.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

I JUST GOT WORD THAT MY YOUNG NEPHEW PERCY PRINE, IS COMING TO SEE US ON HIS WAY HOME FROM COLLEGE.

OH, THE DEAR BOY! I'LL BE SO GLAD TO SEE HIM—BUT I HAVEN'T SEEN HIM IN YEARS.

THERE'S A PICTURE OF HIM TAKEN SEVERAL YEARS AGO—HE'S A BARNY GOOD BOY, EVEN IF HE IS FATTER, THIN AND DELICATE.

BLESS HIS HEART! WHAT BEAUTIFUL HAIR HE HAS—AND WHAT AN INTELLECTUAL BROW.

HE'S STUDYING TO BE A PROFESSOR, ISN'T HE?

THERE'S A ME PRINE, TO SEE YOU, GIRL.

YEAH—BUT DON'T KID HIM TOO MUCH—HE'S A LITTLE SENSITIVE.

Oh! How Percy Has Changed

WELL FOR THE LOVELY OLD MRS. I FEEL FIRST BRUCE FELIX! YOU OUGHT TO REMEMBER! IN CERTAINLY GLAD TO SEE YOU AGAIN!!
