My grandfater and grandmother once hired an antiquated four-wheeler, driven by a man even older than the cab, whose horse was a greater age than all of them combined.

Sunday afternoon call in a London square nearby. On its funeral way from house to house, the bottom fell out of the cab, and as the aged man on the box was too deaf to hear the of the most unenvied expatriation of the ho-hum tired old gentleman and the cries of his small and timid spouse, there was nothing for them to do but to run along inside. The laughter of those who gazed with an abandonment of joy at this most unusual sight must have done much to break the gloom of that early Victorian Sabbath.—From "Uncertain History," by Cosmo Hans- lion.

Believed Part of It

The men and officers of the navy are known all over the world for their smart appearance and it was for this reason that one of the officers on board a battleship was rather disgusted at the untidy appearance of a certain midshipman.

"Look here," he said, "you ought not to come in here wearing a filthy collar like that round your neck."

Friday—"Held To Answer"
Saturday—Madge Bellamy in "Lorna Doone". Rich in the lore and adventurous romance of the days of bandits, knights and ladies fair. Packed with red-blooded adventure; a picture that will rival the famous novel in popularity. Also a solo "Lorna Doone" and comedy "A Good Scout" Prize Night
Sunday & Monday—Antia Stewart in "Rose O' the Sea". Yesterday, a waif cast up by the sea—Today, drifted by strange currents into a strange sea, lighter with life, storm-tossed by tragedy, and salt as her own tears for a squandered love. Also a comedy "The Yankee Spirit"
Tuesday—Jack Hoxie in "Where is the West?" "The girl or your life!" was the demand made upon him. A hundred guns were leveled at him. The toughest, hardest gunman of the West had the drop on him! Did he give her up? Or did he take the one desperate chance in a million to save her? See Jack Hoxie, the most romantic, daredevil star of rip-roaring out-door stories in this terrific, lightning-acted picture! See him in his dizzying death-defying, heroism his smashing, whirlwind fight for love and fortune! You'll gasp! You'll laugh! You'll applaud!

Many Volcanic Craters in the United States
When we think of volcanoes we generally associate them with some foreign country, but here in our own domain we have within a comparatively restricted area a group of 63 volcanoes. This is in Idaho and the place is called the Craters of the Moon which is covered with the "frosted" lava which flowed from these craters a few hundred years ago. There is one field which is called the Blue Dragon which is lava of a beautiful azure tint and with a polish as if it had been varnished. There are cracks in the lava which is covered with the mass resembles the scales of a great dragon. These volcanic mounds are of various heights and some of interesting formation, with considerable variation as to color. This field is about three miles wide and thirty long and has been recently dedicated to the purposes of a public park. While it is not exactly accessible, it is not a difficult place to get to and at the present time it is little known. It is located between Cary and Arco.

Rich Man Might Better Have Forgotten Penny
In his "Queer Things About London," Mr. C. G. Harper tells the following story:
On the north side of Piccadilly is that famous laybyline Warren of exceedingly select bachelor chambers, dating from about 1804, and known to most people as "The Albany."
By the smart set who reside there, however, it is accounted absurd to speak or write of "The Albany." If you perpetrate that grave error, you cannot be "one of us."
Albany has always been affected, as a place of residence, by men of rank and fashion. Herein dwelt the millionaire Baron Meyer de Rothschild, and coming from his luxurious chambers one day he dropped a penny on the pavement outside.
He sought long and anxiously for the coin, but vainly for it had rolled down a grating. Resuming an upright position, he remarked sadly on the floating nature of riches. Meanwhile a pick-pocket had relieved him of his watch.

"Hoedown" and "Breakdown"
The word "hoedown" originated among negroes in the South and was common even before the Civil war. No body has been able to trace its origin. It means a noisy, riotous or disorderly dance, and especially a peculiar dance of the colored people. The word "breakdown" is used in the same sense.

"IT'S GREAT TO BE BACK ON THE JOB!" How employees return to work with unimpaired morale?
When an employee is injured, great damage may be inflicted upon the healthy spirit of other workers if settlements are slow, doctors' services slighted, or if there is haggling over trivial matters. Every accident, too, takes toll of other employees' productive time, lessens machine return and increases labor turnover.
Under an Aetna Compensation Policy, claims are adjusted in a way that creates confidence among employees. No effort is spared to restore the injured employe to highest possible efficiency at the earliest moment. The free services of expert safety engineers and inspectors tend to reduce industrial accidents to a minimum.

Mormon "Boweries"
The first meeting place of the Mormons in Salt Lake City were called "boweries" and the "old boweries" was erected, 1847, on the site of the present temple. It was built of poles and brush 100 by 90 feet. Poles were set and a skeleton frame lashed with rawhide thongs and wooden pegs. Upon this structure willows, sagebrush, evergreens and other shrubs were piled. This served until 1852.

URGES BANK ADS IN NEWSPAPERS

Banker Tells National Association They Are Essential Aids to Business Building.

PRESENTS PRACTICAL PLAN

Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association Offers Prepared Newspaper Advertising Service to Cover a Year's Campaign.

More newspaper advertising by banks as a business builder was strongly urged at the recent convention of the American Bankers Association by W. R. Morehouse of the organization's Savings Bank Division.

It is my firm conviction that banks can use newspaper advertising with great success. Mr. Morehouse said. Newspapers go into the homes—by their use as a medium the people of the whole community may be reached in a single day.

How to Advertise. Newspaper advertising must be as attractive and easily read if it is to produce good results.

Discuss only the subjects which will make it easy for the public to bank. Be financial realities. Use officers, directors and stockholders and you will build prestige and strengthen confidence in your institution.

A New Plan. If you have not been successful with newspaper advertising try this plan. Confine your advertising within the scope of banking and especially your bank is prepared to offer. Roll down every advertisement to one hundred words or less, preferably less.

HOW TO CATCH FAKE STOCK SALESMEN

Some state bankers' associations are distributing an investor's questionnaire with the idea of protecting purchasers of securities from fake stock salesmen.

"Whenever you are solicited to purchase stock or other securities, use this questionnaire before investing any of your funds," says one of these. "The questionnaire was compiled to protect the small investor and to emphasize the necessity of investigating thoroughly every investment proposition before placing any money therein."

The questionnaire plus the salesman down to answering the following questions: Date of company. Name of company. Kind of stock. Total value of stock.

Furthermore all pipe dreams are too good to be true. They are not what they seem. The smoke is wafting off in Germany and they are coming down to earth with a dull thud. It is beginning to be realized that the result of a paper money nightmare is that producers are robbed and speculators are enriched.

Redbird Got Its Name From Church Dignitary

At first thought it is difficult to see the relationship between the common rebird, or cardinal, and the hinges of the front door. The explanation is simple enough, however, when the words are traced to their source. The rebird was originally called a cardinal because his plumage bore the coloring of the hat and cassock of a cardinal of the Roman Catholic church.

Lapps Contented With Few Creature Comforts

No one knows when the Lapps came into Sweden, but for centuries this queer little people, a handful of the mountain tribes, have wandered about the mountains with their reindeer, living a more or less nomadic life.

During the summer months, when the reindeer are on the move, the Lapps content themselves with a birch-pole tent covered with canvas or turf, so that it may readily be moved from place to place.

A Man's Prayer. Teach me that 60 minutes make an hour, 16 ounces a pound, and 10 cents a dollar. Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience and untroubled by the faces of those to whom I may have brought pain.

St. Bartholomew Massacre

This massacre of the Huguenots occurred April 24-25, 1572. It grew out of Louis in France between the house of Guise and the House of Bourbon and the Huguenots on the other. From the tower of the royal palace the signal was given for the carnage of blood, which lasted several weeks. Statistics concerning the number of deaths occasioned by the massacre of St. Bartholomew vary from 2,000 to 100,000.
