DRANK POISON BY MISTAKE

Jos. Horej's Swallows Nicotine Before Warned

WELL KNOWN IN PINE CO.

Mr. Horej's Formerly Conducted General Store and Land Bus at Beroun

Jos. Horejs, formerly of Beroun, died at St. Paul a week ago yesterday as a result of drinking a vital of nicotine which he evidently mistook for wine or something of the kind.

He had called on a neighbor, Neived by name, that morning. They sat talking near a table on which sat bread, butter, etc. and a bottle of nicotine which Mr. Neived, a gardener by profession, used in killing bugs on his plants.

Mr. Horejs had eaten a little and suddenly reached over and placed the bottle to his lips. Before he could be warned he had taken a swallow of the deadly poison. Whether the act was intentional or not may never be known but there is absolutely no reason for suspecting such a thing.

Mr. Horejs lived at Beroun, where he was interested in general merchandise and real estate, for about eleven years up to last fall when he moved to St. Paul. He was particularly well known throughout that region and more or less throughout the county. He was of a kindly, liberal disposition and all who knew him were his friends.

The remains were buried last Friday in Calvary cemetery at St. Paul, serviced with high mass being said at St. James church.

He leaves his wife and four children—three boys and a girl. The former are all grown while the latter is nine years old. His brother Frank conducts a general business at Beroun and another brother and a sister reside in Washington state.

Woman Run Over by Auto

Mrs. Alfonsa Laga of Sandstone was run over shortly after noon yesterday by an auto driven by Mr. Drury of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. She was knocked down and two wheels of the machine passed over her body but it is thought no serious injury resulted and that her complete recovery is a matter of a short time.

Mr. Drury stopped long enough to satisfy himself that Mrs. Laga was not greatly injured and to assist her to the home of her sister, Mrs. Classens, when he and Mrs. Drury drove on. They were halted at Pine City by officers and detained pending a settlement of the personal injury for, we are informed, $75, when the criminal charge of exceeding the speed limit etc. would be dropped.

Mrs. Laga and her husband had driven in from their farm east of town and she was going to visit at the home of her sister on the west side. He and the two ladies were standing at the side of their horse when the auto approached. It had sounded a warning and was easily seen coming from the north. In some way, however, the accident occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Drury were on their way home from Duluth where he is compelled to go each fall to escape hay fever from which he suffers. They have made the trip yearly for some time.

Worry Drove Him Crazy

Joe, Pehoski of Sturgeon Lake was brought to Pine City on the early morning train Tuesday and examined as to his sanity by Doctors Wiseman and Knapp before Judge Wilcox. He was committed to the St. Peter asylum and was at once taken down by Deputy Sheriff Wilcox, accompanied by Vincent Wojik of Sturgeon Lake, who is a brother-in-law of Pehoski's.

The insanity is a result of worrying over troubles in connection with his farm about 2 miles east of that town. He has been showing "spells" for the past three weeks and Monday noon said he was going away. He returned for a bite at supper time and was leaving again when he was detained.

Pehoski is about 41 years of age and has a wife and four children—the eldest 11 years of age and the youngest six months.

Juggled the Heads

We juggled the heads in the taxation table published last week over the columns showing the assessed valuation of the precincts "as returned by the assessors" and "as equalized by the county board." We should have had those two changed about.

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION

One Petit Juror Excused Because of Age

LONG CALLENDAR REDUCED

District court convened Tuesday noon with Judge Stolberg presiding.

The following petit jurymen are in attendance—John Selinsky, Mike Peterson, James Manakowski and Andrew Johnson of Windemere; Oscar Lindberg, George Bornhoft and C. G. Lundblad of Rock Creek; Herman Thurn of Bremen; Frank Drimmel of Chengwatana; C. A. Anderson, P. O. Johnson, A. Amerin and George Dorr of Royalton; Ignus Chmelik and C. W. Peters of Pokegama; John J. Vork and Louis Mottaz of Dell Grove; Oscar Erickson of Danforth; Herman Northrup of Willow River; C. L. Jack and H. B. Lyon of Hinckley; H. J. Steinbring of Arna; H. J. Berg and W. T. Sandberg of Pine City town; A. F. Murray of Sandstone; Chas. Uppgren of Birch Creek, Carl Anderson of Rutledge and Nels Mattson of Bruno. Oscar Gray, who was drawn from Windemere, was found to have left and J. B. Butler of Mission Creek was excused because of being more than 60 years of age.

All of the 25 damage cases against the Eastern Minnesota Power Co. were continued to the Spring term to await the outcome of a certain case now before the State Supreme court, which will establish the law along certain lines.

The two personal injury cases against the C. M. and St. P. and N. P. railways, in which Hurley and Hurley represent the plaintiffs, were continued pending a settlement.

A motion to dismiss the case of Sandstone village against J. J. Adriaan, for failure to comply with the village's ordinance regarding peddling, was argued and taken under advisement by the court.

Robt. M. Sumner of Sandstone was granted a divorce from Ellie Sumner on grounds of desertion.

The appeal of Gust Nelson from the action of the Pine Town board in refusing to straighten the road between section 2 and 3-38-21 was knocked out by the jury.

The libel case of Carl Pihl of Finlayson against C. W. Colby of Sandstone in connection with a publication in the Sandstone Courier was commenced yesterday and continued all day today.

Following this the appeal of Dr. Taylor, of the Pokegama Sanatorium, from the action of the county board in laying out a road through his premises comes up and will probably occupy the entire balance of the week.

Court will probably be in session all next week—and will probably have to have some night sessions to finish within that time.

Man Dropped Dead at Rutledge

Dr. Elmke was notified as County Coroner early Tuesday morning that a stranger was found dead on the street at Rutledge. Accompanied by Charlie Miller he at once drove down and investigated the case. The dead man was found to be E. A. Cannon, a traveling salesman of Superior, Wis., and the cause of his death apoplexy. The unfortunate man left the hotel to catch the early morning train and was stricken while on his way to the depot and was found lying on the sidewalk. Relatives from Superior arrived on the eleven o'clock train and took the body to Superior. —Willow River Farmer.

Taylor Falls Wants Militia

Chas. Roos and Frank Fredson of Taylor Falls were up Tuesday to investigate conditions surrounding the organization of the Naval Militia here, for a bunch of the aggressive ones at the Falls want a division organized there.

They found Lieutenant Wilcox anxious to get them off on the right tack and left on the first train south with a definite plan in mind. Pine City hopes to see them organize. The waterway connection between the points and other ties would make the relations of the two divisions close.

Taylor Falls is properly situated to have and to hold a division of the Naval Militia. At the head of navigation on the St. Croix she could launch her whaleboats and her cutters and join the fleet at New Orleans. With the coming of the Lake Superior-Mississippi canal she will be on the direct line between Duluth and the Great Lakes. And she has a wealth of raw Viking material to draw from. Besides, an Army would look like a Partheon, perched upon one of her seven hills.

Taylor Falls ought to have a division of the Naval Militia—and with the fellows [there in motion, she will get it. There is no better location.

Could Not Reach Old Home

Isaac Kettula, a prosperous farmer at Finlayson, returned recently from an attempt to reach his old home in Finland on a visit. After going as far as Stockholm, Sweden, he was compelled to return without seeing the old spot and the folks there.

When the steamer on which he was traveling reached the Swedish capital, where he waited for several days in the hope of being offered some opportunity to get across to his native heath, he was compelled to turn back because Finland had been placed under martial law and no vessels were allowed to land.

The whole trip was full of inconveniences and dissatisfactions for the traveler and he returned home thankful that he lives in this land that is "never in war, always for peace and watchful of the welfare of its countrymen," as Congressional Candidate Swenson puts it.

Askov Lady Back From Denmark

Mrs. Jorgen Peterson and baby returned a couple of weeks ago from their three months sojourn in Denmark, where she visited her old mother and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Peterson enjoyed the trip very much as long as there was peace in Europe, but as soon as war broke out the anxiety was so great even in Denmark, which is a neutral country, that she did not feel at ease and was glad to get back to America. She had no trouble in getting passport for this country as she had purchased her ticket before war broke out. —Askov American.

Fair Report Does Over a Week

We are unable to get the figures from the County Fair to make a report in this paper. They were completed last night but today is too busy to handle them. They will be given next week instead.

INSANE MAN BURNS HOME

Sad Occurrence on Farm South of Rutledge

After Destroying Building Young Man Endeavored to Hang Himself

Albert Holmquist, about 24 years of age, set fire to the family home a couple of miles south of Rutledge, yesterday morning, and burned it to the ground while in an insane fit. He later tried to hang himself but was overpowered.

He was brought to Pine City this morning and examined by Doctors Wiseman and Knapp as to his sanity before Judge Wilcox who committed him to the St. Peter insane asylum whither he has been taken by Deputy Sheriff Wilcox.

Holmquist lived with his parents and a younger sister on the family farm, where they removed from southern Chicago county about three years ago. Their meager home and all its furnishings together with $25 saved to pay on the mortgage on the place, all lie in ruins. The small clearing and their single cow are a mockery of their promised thrift and happiness. The old folks are physically unable to reestablish themselves.

Holmquist tells an insane story of his sister marrying a Great Northern brakeman at Princeton last Sunday and how the man threatened to rob him of what was rightfully his in the farm property, for which he had saved, and to kill him on sight.

Yesterday morning he accused his sister of marrying without his knowledge and, when she denied it, threatened her life and those of his parents with a knife. He scared them so that they fled from the home and went to the house of a neighbor, Fred Anderson, about a mile north.

Later he carried an armful of hay into the house and set it afire to get it away from "that fellow."

The sight of the blaze, however, seemed to renew his sanity and he strove with his might and main to put out the blaze and save the furniture but was unable to make any headway.

Fred Anderson and L. D. Jones and some of the men of Mike Lanners' road crew went to the place soon after—about 10 o'clock—and found him with a rope with which he said he wished to hang himself but that it "wouldn't work."

Deputy sheriff Claus Freeman of Sandstone was sent out after him and took him to that place, whence he was brought to Pine City.

Making It Best Farm

W. H. Jelley, who came from Iowa to Pine county recently and paid $20,000 for the 240-acre Lyon farm about a mile east of Hinckley, is on the road to make it one of the best improved farms in the county if the signs point right.

He is putting a large addition on the already big barn, that will house a herd of 50 cows.

It will be fitted with the most modern appliances and conveniences.

Such a herd ought to be a powerful factor in making an already highly productive farm a regular bonanza. Mr. Lyon is moving to town this week and will devote his entire attention to his store interests.

Willow River Store Enlarges

Ed Olson shipped one car of his cattle Thursday. They were brought up from St. Paul Stock Yard, May 29th, and turned into one of his pastures east of town, where they have made a steady gain all summer with possible exception of one dry month. If the bridge west of town had been in condition so the cattle could have been transferred to Mr. Olson's lands west of town there would have been a marked increase, for dry weather did not affect the grass in the west pasture. Returns have not yet been received, but there is no doubt but Pine county grass will put a balance on the right side of the ledger.—Sturgeon Lake Hustler.

ALLES AND GERMANS ARE EVENLY MATCHED

Battle for Days With No Very Decisive Results.

RUSSIANS CLAIM THEIR CASUALTY LIST WILL NOT EQUAL ONE-TENTH THAT OF DUAL MONARCHY.

At the battle front, Sept. 23.—via Paris.—Not a moment's respite in giving to the German forces marching along the 90-mile front running along the rivers Aisne and Oise and extending into the Woerw district. The batteries of the allied forces never ceased firing, only at night although their activity diminished somewhat after sundown.

A United Attack. The Germans occupying the trenches kept constantly on the alert, but until 12 o'clock no aggressive move was started from the allies' line facing them. Then all the allied batteries seemed to open fire together and every point along the front became very active.

The French and British on several occasions succeeded in surprising and driving back the occupants of the German trenches, but only after the most stubborn fighting and after heavy losses both to the attacking and to the defending forces. In every instance the allied troops retained the ground captured and immediately dug themselves in.

Further east the Germans themselves developed a strong attack, but were beaten back with the bayonet only to return again and again to be finally driven off to their original positions. The allied commanders were unable to give the troops who had been occupying the advanced firing line a welcome rest, pushing to the front fresh brigades of batteries hitherto held in reserve and which were only too anxious to come into actual contact.

Military experts estimate that nearly 2,500,000 or more men are now in the zone where the battle has been in progress ten days.

Declares German Right Turned. London.—The Daily Mail's correspondent reports that the German right has been turned between Peronne and St. Quentin. He says that since Sunday night wounded have been lying in an unmaned place. They report there are nine miles of dead in trenches between those two towns.

Significance of Capture. London, Sept. 23.—The Russians followed up their successes in Galicia, where a third great battle is about being fought. It has not already started, but capturing the important fortress of Jaroslavl, on the river San just north of Przemysl, which they are surrounded, according to Petrograd dispatches received here.

Jaroslavl commands the passage of the San river and its possession with the aid of the Russians in their operations against Przemysl, where a strong Austro-German force is preparing to offer stubborn resistance to the Russian army, which are needed to take the offensive against Germany.

The Serbians report another victory over the Austrians, who this far have suffered severely on all sides.

Austrian Invasion Fails. This engagement occurred near Kocun on the Drina, where the Austrians attempted to invade Serbia, but were driven back. This attack accounts for the Serbian evacuation of Semlin, as the troops were needed to meet the Austrian offensive movement.

There is a rumor, too, that Esad Pasha, the former Albanian minister of war, as a result of an agreement with the Serbian government, will lead an Albanian army into Herzegovina by way of Cattaro.

The Rome correspondent of the Star says the Serbian and Montenegrin troops have occupied Sarajevo, which was abandoned by the Austrians after an overwhelming defeat.

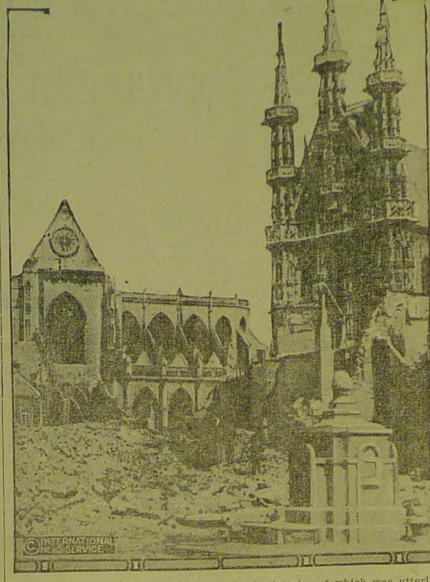

Sarajevo is the capital of Bosnia. It is a fortified town of some 27,000 inhabitants. It manufactures copper, brass and iron ware and cotton goods and tobacco. It was here that Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austrian throne, and his wife were assassinated shortly before Austria declared war on Serbia.

Reported Bombing of Cologne. Home (via Paris).—The bombardment of Cattaro, the Austrian seaport at the southern extremity of the Gulf of Cattaro, in Dalmatia, by French ships, is reported in a dispatch from Paris.

Americans Leave Italy. Genoa, Sept. 23.—The Red Star is sailed for New York with 116 passengers, the greater number of whom are Americans.

LOUVAIN'S CATHEDRAL IN RUINS

The magnificent cathedral of Louvain, the interior of which was utterly wrecked by the German troops, although the outer walls remain standing. At the right is the beautiful old hotel de ville, or town hall, which almost alone of the city's buildings was spared.

of Cattaro, in Dalmatia, by French ships, is reported in a dispatch from Paris, Greece, to the Messagero.

Official news from Petrograd says that the Russians are gradually surrounding Konigsberg and expect reinforcements at an early date for an attack on that city.

The Russians are now so sure of Galicia that they are organizing a civil government for that region, as well as for Bukovina, the Austrian crown land of which they are complete masters.

The Germans have retaliated to some extent by penetrating the territory of Swakli, in Russian Poland, and farther to the north. But the Russians are contenting themselves with defending their fortresses until their work in Galicia is completed.

Austrian Reverses in Galicia. Vienna, Sept. 23.—The belief is growing in official circles here that the Austrian reverses in Galicia were, to a large extent, brought about by exact knowledge held by the Russian war office of Austria's mobilization and campaign plans, which had been obtained through an elaborate system of espionage.

Austrians Lose 35 Per Cent. London, Sept. 23.—"It is estimated that the Austrian losses in the great battle of Galicia are as high as 35 per cent," says the Petrograd correspondent of the Times. His dispatch continues:

"There is no reliable data regarding the Russian losses, but it is believed that they are just one-tenth of those sustained by the Austrians. This disparity is due in a great measure to the superiority of the Russian gunners. All experienced men agree that the Russian regiments are admirably trained in the difficult art of controlling their fire and taking shelter."

Germana Retire Generally. Paris, Sept. 23.—The German right wing under General Alexander von Kluck has been forced back seven miles. It has been driven back into Novon where it has been forced to seek defensive strongholds to the southeast of the city and on the left bank of the Oise and it is now exposed to the flanking movement of the allies' left, which has been progressing up the right bank of the Oise in an enveloping manner.

Rheims Laid Waste. The bombardment of Selons continued with unmitigated and deadly effect while Rheims, already practically laid waste, a steady stream of German projectiles still fell, although the British and French shells of the previous conflict. The heavy guns were the only arms in action around Rheims, the infantry still remaining in the trenches.

The Germans have received reinforcements at several points along their front, but these have been met by detachments of the allies' line brought up from the French reserves.

Cathedral Tapestries Saved. Bordeaux, Sept. 23.—The magnificent set of ancient tapestries which removed before the bombardment by the officials from the under secretary by the arts and is now in a place of safety.

Liner Zealand Arrives. New York, Sept. 23.—The Red Star liner Zealand came in from Liverpool with 363 passengers from the war zone of Europe.

STORIES OF GERMAN PROVED, SAYS AMERICAN WRITER

The Chicago Tribune prints a long copyrighted article from James D'Donnell Bennett, staff correspondent, dated at Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany, which in specific detail disputes and denies the charges of rape and atrocities lodged against the Germans in Belgium. Mr. Bennett, in company with John T. McCutcheon of the Chicago Tribune, left for Aix on the Saturday Evening Post, Roger Lewis of the Associated Press and Harry Hanson of the Chicago Daily News, traveled 100 miles through 20 towns and their observations led him to the firm conviction that the reports of barbarities alleged to have been perpetrated by German troops are false.

The following dispatch to the Associated Press, evidently forwarded by Roger Lewis, is in substantial agreement with Mr. Bennett's story in the Chicago Tribune.

By the Associated Press.

New York—An Associated Press staff correspondent of the birth and antecedents, who was sent from the New York office and was caught in Brussels at the time of the German invasion, has, after a period of several days, and who finally escaped to Holland, has sent by mail the following story of his experiences:

"The night before the Germans entered Brussels, when the Belgian civil guards and refugees began pouring into the city from the direction of Louvain, they brought stories of unspeakable German atrocities, mistreatment of old men and children, and the violation of women.

"The Belgian capital reeled with apprehension. Within an hour the city, the vicinity, and the country of the city went out like a broken wax light. The radiance of the cafes was exchanged for darkness; whispering groups of residents, hurriedly and locked themselves into this houses, where they put up the shutters and drew in their tricolored Belgian flags.

"Fears of Brussels Quiet.

"The historic Belgian city went through a state of morbid concentration, remarkably like that from which it suffered on June 18, 1915, when it trembled with the fear of a French victory at Waterloo.

"In less than 24 hours the Belgian citizens were chatting comfortably with the German invaders, and the allegations of German brutality and demonic torture involved into one of the myths which have accompanied all wars.

"Neither in Brussels nor in its environs was a single offensive act, so far as I know, committed by a German soldier. In a city of over half a million people, invaded by a hostile army of perhaps a quarter of a million soldiers, no act sufficiently flagrant to demand punishment or to awaken protest came to my attention.

"None Knows of Outrages.

"The frightful reports that I had recorded the German army into Brussels included the disemboweling of old men and the impaling of children on lances just outside Louvain. Investigation not only failed to corroborate these rumors, but could not even discover any one in the immediate vicinity who credited them.

"An eye witness of unimpeachable veracity told me that the behavior he had observed during the first German entry into Louvain (August 15) was that of a German soldier who leaned from his horse and kissed a pretty Flemish girl who brought him a glass of beer.

"I marched for days with the German columns, often only one day behind the fighting, with the houses that had been burned still smoldering, the ground freshly broken by shells and trampled by horses and men, and the memory of the German advance vivid in the minds of the inhabitants.

"No Proof of Murder.

"I interviewed an average of twenty persons in each of a dozen towns and found only one instance of a noncombatant who had been killed without a justifiable provocation. In this case the evidence did not clearly prove that the man had been wantonly murdered.

"He lived in one of the typical small Belgian countryside houses which combine the comforts of home with the bare of a small public bar. This house was at the north of the village, in a town through which a large part of the German army marched on the road to Maaubach.

"A son of the murdered man, whose name was Arthur Nicodien, allowed me blood spots on the floor in the place where Nicodien fell, his throat cut by a saw-edged German saber.

"English Fired From House.

"It was said by some inhabitants that the murdered man showed a pair of blue trousers, but a more probable explanation is that English outposts had concealed themselves in the house, from which they poured a rain of fire was unappreciable investigation. I have found either that the outrage was a signment of the Belgian mind or that it was more than half accused by circumstances.

"The prevalence of the Belgian practice of sniping from the houses was perhaps indicated by the warning of the German officer who acted as guard for five American correspondents, including myself, who were being taken as prisoners from Beaumont. We were in an army train. We were advised to lie down on the floor of the car as the Belgian snipers would shoot at us from the houses. But there was no firing.

"This, of course, is not a bribe for the German army. It is an account of German conduct as it appeared to an impartial observer who had the rare opportunity of opportunity of traveling for days with the German columns, over a distance of more than a hundred miles through a dozen important cities in the town.

"Sometimes I was near enough to the front to see the white artillery smoke spurt into clouds along the horizon and hear the double detonations which came from artillery at short range. At other times I trailed behind through the desolate waste which a victorious army leaves behind it.

Pay All and Tip Well.

"On the contrary, I witnessed numerous cases of the most careful courtesy on the part of German soldiers. In Brussels they not only paid their cante bills, but tipped generously. Along the road, when a German officer or soldier entered a Belgian house for food or shelter, it was not with a demand but a request. In spite of the confusion and errors which arose from a strange tongue there was almost no friction of any sort.

"The German soldiers were punctiliously considerate and polite to women and children, apologizing for the discomfort they were causing. Upon leaving a house where they had been given shelter, I have seen them shake hands with the concierge, peasant woman, or in some cases with the gentleman of a Belgian villa, as pleasantly as if they were bidding adieu to their hostess at a weekend house party.

"So many instances of this sort are at hand that a recital of them would be tedious.

"Naturally inclined to be gruff with their soldiers, the German officers always gave the French prisoners a pleasant and a kind word with every consideration. Not a single exception to this civility toward prisoners has come to my attention.

"A French lieutenant and two English officers traveled with us in the prison train from Beaumont to Aachen, a halting journey which took over thirty-six hours. The train was crowded with German wounded and French and English prisoners, and there was nothing to eat or drink, except a few fragments of rye bread, hard as a stone, and a little fluid composed of water which the Belgians masqueraded under the name of coffee. Since there was not enough even of this disheartening fare to go around, German officers went about footed so that the prisoners might be fed.

Aid Owners of Cafe.

"In a little cafe in Beaumont, concierge and madame had fled before the approach of the soldiers and abandoned their business. Two officers found them in hiding, brought them back, and in a day they had taken in more money than in any previous week in their career.

"These incidents could be indefinitely prolonged, but they would only of additional support to a point that I think I have already established—the universal kindness of German soldiers as I have observed them.

"I have seen perhaps half a dozen cases of drunkenness in observing nearly 100,000 soldiers, and these few were only good-naturedly maundered in Beaumont while I was detained for 24 hours in the city. The only incident mentioned, with an armed guard at the door, although specifically told that I was not an ordinary prisoner, a swaggering petty officer of some sort, lunged toward me and showed me according to the proclamation of his sword, insisting that I run my hand across it.

Warned to Avoid Drinking.

"German discipline and German training seem to have put into the German soldier an exemplary behavior which is nothing less than remarkable. Before I fell asleep on the floor of the Beaumont cafe, with two German soldiers' guns slanting almost over me, I heard a German officer who was in charge of us, giving instructions to the guards, which included the statement that any one of us who stirred outside the door should be shot. Then he ordered them, almost in a fatherly way, to drink only moderately, adding that if they became drunk he would recommend a sentence of 15 years in the penitentiary.

"If the conduct of the German soldier were all it is on the all it is, it is too complete subordination. It is impossible for any one who has seen much of the German system to believe in the tales of deliberate depredations and unscrupulous conduct."

NO BASIS FOR EROG SCARE

George of State Board Discounts Reports of House That Stalled Rye Movement.

Verona Falls.—Circular letters from commission houses have been received here advising dealers against the purchase of rye on the ground that almost the entire crop is affected with ergot, a dangerous poison, and subject to contamination in transit by the United States government. As a result of these circulars, some elevators have refused to buy rye.

A letter received from H. P. Bjorke of the state board of grain appeals announces that there is no basis for the scare, and advises dealers to go ahead and purchase rye as heretofore. He suggests that farmers clean up their crops as soon as possible before bringing the grain to market.

Mr. Bjorke made inquiries of the department at Washington to learn if there was any basis for government action, and has received a reply to the effect that there is none. The department writes as follows:

"As you perhaps know, most of our ergot comes from Russia, where it is frequently very abundant and where it has for centuries caused frequent epidemics among the people as a result of eating rye bread. The Russian government at one time prohibited the export of rye which contained more than 3 per cent of ergot. The samples you are sending from Minnesota contain a trifle less than two-tenths of 1 per cent. You naturally need not see that this is scarcely enough to be harmful, although the continued use of rye of this character might lead to bad results. The use of herbivorous animals withstand much larger quantities of ergot than man or carnivorous animals."

CHARGE COERCION AND FRAUD

Officers Accused at St. Cloud of Misstatement of Facts to Voters.

St. Cloud.—Charges of coercion, threats and misstatement of facts on the part of Commissioners Rocholl and Metzroth in securing names to the petition asking for the withdrawal of names from the recall petition are contained in the reply to the effect of the city in the case instituted by Frank Kachauer against the city commissioner, asking that a recall election be held.

The reply charges that L. J. Rocholl secured the signatures of more than 100 persons to the recall petition that form a part of the answer by threatening that unless the persons signed he would use his influence with the city council to have them discharged from their employment. It also charges that Rocholl secured signatures by telling the men that certain of the heretofore mentioned names, when such representations were false.

Rocholl is further charged with having induced the signers to do so, unless they withdrew they would be forced to come into court and prove their claims that Rocholl was incompetent, and that such appearance would necessitate the expenditure of money for an attorney and the loss of time while the court sessions were on, while the commissioners were represented by the city attorney. He is charged with representing to them that the only way for them to get out of the difficulty was to sign the recall petition.

Both Rocholl and Metzroth are charged in the reply with intimidating the signers by threatening to use the recall petition that is proposed by the city commissioners. He is charged with representing to them that the only way for them to get out of the difficulty was to sign the recall petition.

Something might happen to the new petition, said Mr. Maybury, "and we wish to preserve our position in this case. The petitioners believe that a new document would get speedier action in fighting this case. I expect that action on the new petition will be taken soon."

RIVER MEN TO QUINCY IN '15

Convention at Stillwater Re-Elects Most Old Officers—Much Good Is Accomplished.

Stillwater.—At the closing session of the Upper Minnesota River Improvement association convention, Fowler Manning extended the association an invitation to use the steamer Quincy next June for convention purposes. After a lively fight, in which invitations from Davenport, Dubuque and Quincy were extended, Quincy won.

The following officers were elected: President, Thomas Wilkinson, Burlington; treasurer, John P. Eckhart, Guttenberg; foreman, Charles E. B. Bowers, Iowa; vice presidents, Minnesota, E. J. Waterous, Wisconsin, William Torrance, Illinois, C. F. Perry; Iowa, A. Frank Frudren, Missouri, Fowler Manning.

Captain E. C. Campbell of the new Star and Crescent line, who he expects to start out of Minneapolis next spring, told that the Mill City dock in the building of terminals.

"Railroads are not fighting boats," said Fowler Manning of the Steadfast line. "They are glad to see freight brought to them by boat for either a long or short haul. But they do object to damaged goods which breaks up their routine of good order and results in a loss of responsibility of waterfront facilities. River bank dumping of freight nearly always damages it. Tonnage is the real problem; it is the 'share expense' must be eliminated."

SEARCH FOR BURIED MONEY

Recluse Found Dead by Neighbors Was Afraid of Banks, It Is Said.

Cambridge.—Harris Schultz, aged 62 years, was found dead in his home in Springbrook township, where he lived alone.

Neighbors who had missed him and noticed that his stock was being neglected, called on him, but he was found his lifeless body. The coroner was called and declared that death was caused by heart disease.

Schultz was afraid to keep his money in the banks, and it is supposed several thousands of dollars are buried somewhere near his home. His only known relative in this country is Mrs. William Sane, a sister of Minneapolis. A search will be made for buried money.

BUY FARM STOCK IN EUROPE

PRIZE HERD JUST LANDED IN U. S. EXPECTED TO TAKE PREMIUMS.

Mandan.—Unless I am greatly mistaken, James Hill will take a lot of prizes at the International Stock Show and Exposition at the end of the year. Said Professor E. A. Wilson, expert Wilson is a better farmer professor in the employ of the Great Northern, and with Professor Thomas the director of the North Dakota Better Farming Association, has just returned from England with seventy-eight head of stock, purchased for Mr. Hill.

Mr. Wilson says: "In the bunch we secured are twelve head of cows and bulls of the South Devon breed, the first of the kind imported to the United States. One bull, 2 years and 4 months old, weighs over a ton. All of the specimens are unusually large. Six of the cows have records of over 11,000 pounds of milk a year, and all have records better than 10,000 pounds."

Had Great Difficulties.

"Had we been two days later, we would not have been able to bring the cattle over for foot and mouth disease broke out in England among the stock, and the United States refused an embargo on importations. We had great trouble getting permission from the English government to ship the stock, and it was only after carrying a matter from one official to another and finally to the 'risky chancery', that we secured our permit."

WILL BE EXPENDED WISELY

Statement Showing How the Proceeds of Sale of Red Cross Seals Are to Be Spent.

For the benefit of the numerous organizations who helped to sell nearly forty-five million Red Cross seals last year and for the general public, the American Red Cross and the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis have framed a definition of anti-tuberculosis work showing how the proceeds from these holiday stickers are to be used. The definition limits the expenditure of money only for the year ending April 30, 1915.

The definition is framed at a recent meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and states that the term "anti-tuberculosis work" as it relates to the American Red Cross seal money shall include the following activities:

1. The construction of hospitals or sanatoria for the care of the tuberculosis.
2. The maintenance of the tuberculosis.
3. The provision of day or night camps for the tuberculosis; or the instruction and maintenance of nurses, visiting nurses, open air schools, fresh air classes, or prevention for the care or treatment of tuberculosis cases or for the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis.
4. The maintenance of educational or legislative activities which have for their object the prevention of infection with tuberculosis.

It Ought to Be.

"What are you going to call the new baby?"

"Reginald Claude," replied Mr. Higgins.

"Isn't Reginald Claude a rather affected name?"

"Yes, I want him to grow up to be a fighter, and I fancy that Reginald Claude will start something every time he goes to a new school."—London Opinion.

SICK DOCTOR

Proper Food Put Him Right.

The food experience of a physician in his own case when worn and weak from sickness and when needing nourishment the worst way, is valuable:

"An attack of grip, so severe it came near making an end of me, left my stomach in such a condition that I could not retain an ordinary food. I knew of course that I must have food nourishment or I could never recover.

"I began to take four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts three or four times a day and for 2 weeks this was almost my only food. It tasted so delicious that I enjoyed it immensely and my stomach handled it perfectly from the first mouthful. It was so nourishing that I was quick to get back to normal health and strength.

"Grape-Nuts is of great value as food to sustain life during serious attacks in which the stomach is so deranged it cannot digest and assimilate other foods."

"I am convinced that were Grape-Nuts more widely used by physicians, it would save many lives that are otherwise lost from lack of nourishment." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The most perfect food in the world. Trial of Grape-Nuts and cream 10 days proves. There's a Reason.

KAISER ADDRESSES TROOPS AT VIRTON

Rottterdam.—The Cologne Gazette reports that the German emperor delivered a speech to his troops after the battle of Virton, near Louvain, when he visited his son, Prince Oscar, who is commander of the grenadiers.

The kaiser appeared in the evening with his suite in five automobiles. He kissed his sons and then walked along the lines greeting the men, who were quartered in the village. Standing in the middle of the square, the kaiser said:

"I greet you as your chief. I thank you. I have often seen your regiment on parade and now it gives me particular pleasure to greet you on conquered land."

Your regiment fought as I expected and as your fathers fought in 1871. The battle of Virton will be eternally inscribed in letters of gold in the history of the war.

"Our comrades in the eastern army fight for gallantly, also the army of the crown prince. The fourth army, under the duke of Wurtemberg, advanced victoriously. Our enemies are withdrawing in flight."

The eastern army has driven three Russian corps over the frontier. Two Russian corps capitulated on the open field. Sixty thousand men and two generals were taken prisoners.

"For all these victories we have to thank but one—that is our God, who is ever over us."

Investigating Pickwick Killing.

Winona.—The coroner's jury returned a verdict in the killing of Chas. Bratz, Jr., at Pickwick last week, to the effect that Bratz came to his death from a heart ailment, but was caused by the discharge of a gun in the hands of Charles E. Sufferins, when Bratz also had hold of the gun. The verdict placed responsibility for the killing, which is being investigated by the grand jury, which met this week.

Plan Autumn Track Meet.

Grand Forks.—An autumn track meet between the University of North Dakota and the University of Manitoba is the novel feature that will be staged at Winona Oct. 15, arrangements for the meeting being completed yesterday. The autumn meet is arranged through the desire of the North Dakota track athletes to try their prowess against the Canadians, and held at this season of the year through the fact that the Canadian do not indulge in a regular training season.

Of all the addresses we've listened to this fall, that of Governor Eberhart at the Rush City fair last Friday was by far the best.

It was a constructive talk and helped everyone who listened to it. His statement that the way to bring about lower state taxes is to educate the boys and girls to keep them out of the penal institutions, the insane asylums and like, was the most sensible statement we have heard on that much discussed subject. We doubt whether most of our readers are aware that the last legislature was called on to appropriate over $8,000,000 for these institutions and that, after the most careful and severe "pruning," it still felt compelled to spend nearly $4,000,000 of the people's money for the purpose. When we commit an insane person or a criminal someone must pay for his or her keep.

Lots of money that was spent on building roads in this part of the county this summer—in getting them up into shape—being allowed to rot to waste through failure to do a single thing to keep them rounded in and in a water shedding condition. The heavy rainfall this year has soaked the loose dirt on these roads and travel while in this condition has created them with deep ruts—sometimes nearly two feet deep. The ruts catch and hold the water that should be allowed to run off and are making a bad matter worse. Next spring they will be impassable. They should be gone over at once and "ironed down" with road drags or light graders if they are to be used.

One of the legislative candidates in this district came out before the primaries as favoring "good schools and good roads" and now he labels himself "a farmer who stands for low taxes" or words to that effect. Does he know that of the 3 mills state tax, one mill is for the "good roads" he favors and that the annual appropriations or the "good schools" he favors, amount (including the state university and the state agricultural schools and farms) to over $4,000,000 a year. We are afraid that, in this statement, our friend "spech" to feel mil seine mudde."

Good Roads Club Organized
A meeting of those interested in the organization of a Good Roads Club, to be a part of the State and National Federation, was organized at a meeting which was attended by over 25 enthusiasts in the K. of P. hall Monday evening. The call was a "hurry up" one but was answered as wide as possible in the time.

Geo. M. Davis, state director of the State federation was present and explained the purpose and ideals of the organization.
Already 28 have joined the membership and banded themselves as part of an organization to whoop-er up for good roads in this region. Everyone is a good-roader and everyone should join for they are wanted.
Postmaster Breckenridge is one of the State councillors of the federation.

ABSOLUTELY FREE
One Princess Jewel Steel Range Valued at $65.00
Our Proposition Is This

Every dollar cash purchase and every dollar paid on account will entitle our customer to one guess, and the person guessing the nearest to the actual number of pieces required to build this range will be presented with the range, absolutely free.

No one in this vicinity know, or will know, the correct number of pieces, as the factory will keep this number a secret until the contest closes. We would state in this connection, that there is nothing in the line of steel ranges that has ever approached the Princess Jewel Range and the one who wins this range will win a jewel indeed.

Contest will start September 28, and continue until 3:00 P. M., October 31. Remember you get a dollar's worth of merchandise and one guess besides for every 100 cents paid, so vote early and often.

Pine City certainly did her share in swelling the crowds at the Chisago

While there are ordinarily about 5

In spite of the rain on the 13th
(and that number too) the Sunday school rally was extremely satisfactory. The attendance wasn't quite up to the usual standard—but it certainly demonstrated a strong
"rally" spirit to get as many out that day as did attend. The program was excellent and the sermon by Dist. Supt. Stout of Minneapolis pleased everyone.

Catholic Church Notes

"Cemetery Sunday" and after the

SCANDINAVIAN NEWS

SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS IN FAR OFF NORTHWEST.

ITEMS FROM THE OLD HOME

Resume of the Most Important Events in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—Of Interest to the Scandinavians in America.

So skilled an expert as Sigurd Haas declares there is reason to regard the position of the Scandinavian countries with equanimity. There is nothing to show that any of the combatants desire to break their neutrality. One naturally expects that a Norwegian port may become a temporary refuge for foreign battleships during the war but that will not lead to a breach of neutrality. It can happen in full agreement with the Hague convention rules. It might be critical for Sweden if the British fleet pursued the German fleet to the Baltic. But since Russia and Great Britain are allies in this war, it is not so much that British will seek her points of support on the Russian coast. The northern countries, however, suffer economic loss from the war. Mobilization takes enormous sums and takes away numerous providers of families from their homes and work. The distress which can be caused thereby is not easy and the taxpayers will find it so hard to satisfy them all when the time comes to patch up peace that the Scandinavian countries are taking every precaution not only not to be drawn into the war, but also not to be involved in the settlement afterward. These precautions are taken notwithstanding the treaties and understandings which protect the integrity of neutral countries. They have seen the Belgian treaty torn up and do not want to see that kind of a precedent. Information has recently been conveyed to the state department here of the state of Swedish and Norwegian public opinion. It did not come through regular diplomatic channels, but as the result of visits to Europe of a prominent member of congress. He has completed a tour of the world and on the last leg of the journey passed through Russia, Finland, Sweden and Norway. This gentleman says that both governments have taken every precaution to insure their neutrality. The waters of each nation have been mined and are patrolled in an efficient manner. Passengers traveling on Swedish and Norwegian boats are required to keep below while passing through in order that they may not observe the precautions.

London.—The Standard states that the Germans are making a desperate attempt to deprive the United Kingdom of provisions supplied by the Scandinavian countries. German agents, it says, are now traveling through Norway, Sweden and Denmark, offering prices 20 per cent higher than those carried by British consuls. To aid the German government has removed the import duty on provisions. English merchants are concerned lest the Danish merchants, influenced by German agents, should divert some of their trade to Germany. Such practice, they state, is contrary to the established trade principle of giving preference to a regular customer in time of stress.

SWEDEN.

German torpedo boats are systematically stopping Swedish passenger steamers plying between Stockholm on the one side and Rango and other ports in Finland on the other side. The enemy's torpedo boats are hovering around North Aland islands after stopping Swedish steamers to seize passengers of British, French and Russian nationality.

Capt. H. S. Morner of Ystad, has invented a collapsible camp stove which takes very little room when folded together. One of its advantages is that it reduces the danger of starting fire to a minimum. The fire is not visible when the stove is in operation. It ought to come handy in these warlike times, besides being suitable for the tourist trade.

A Finlander who had been begging in northern Sweden was sent home to his own country twice, but he came back the third time. Now the sheriff picked him up and decided to inspect the man more closely. This led to the discovery that the "poor" fellow had several hundred dollars in cash on his person. Which goes to prove that begging is a profitable business in northern Sweden.

Even during the war Sweden is pestered with spies of divers species and nationalities.

CHEAP POULTRY FEED

Suburban-Poultryman Has Advantages Over Farmer.

Much Waste in Cities in Form of Garbage, State Brand, Buttermilk and Skim Milk Available at Very Low Prices.

(By IRVING MOTT.)
While the farmer-poultryman at a distance from the city has some advantages over the near-city poultryman, the latter is not as badly handicapped on his home acre as you might think. The farmer can, of course, raise most of his feed, and his chickens have plenty of room to rustle their flocks in the fields, orchards, pasture and barnyard, but on the other hand, the suburban poultryman is much closer to market and can take advantage of such orders from merchants either for eggs or dressed poultry, and he is thus in position to get top market prices for the product of his flocks.

And the near-city poultryman can get cheap feed. If he knows how, for there is so much waste in cities in the form of garbage, stale bread, buttermilk and skim milk. In a city center, the "bumbers" bakeries and poultryman can get large quantities of stale bread merely for hauling it away, or if he pays for it, it will be only a nominal price.

I have in mind now a woman in my city who owns a restaurant, not a very large one, either. She also has a chicken farm about 1/2 miles from the city, and she sends out to the farm once a week from six to ten potato sacks of waste bread for her chickens to bread feed but for utilizing it thus would be thrown away. The result is that she makes a big profit on the chickens and eggs she sells.

Another kind of chicken feed, the near-city poultryman can get in large quantities is fresh buttermilk. In cities where there are creameries or butter companies.

Such companies sell a great deal of buttermilk, but nothing like as much as they could sell, and a great deal of it is turned into the sewer, so if a poultryman with 200 or 300 chickens wished to buy it in any five-gallon lots he would be able to get it very cheaply—perhaps for five cents a gallon, for the buttermaker would surely prefer selling it even at this price to throwing it away.

This buttermilk is especially good for chickens cooped up to fatten for market, for the acid in the milk is good for the digestion of the chicks when they cannot get green stuff, and also while they are cooped up where they cannot take exercise.

Very few chicks are as fattening as slightly sour milk curd, sweetened, beaten to blood heat and with some refuse grease or meat drippings from the kitchen added. Such fattening food is better for fattening chickens, however, than for hens with broods.

Another advantage the small poultryman has near the city is that he is accessible to dairies where he can get skim milk from separators, which is also exceedingly good for fattening chickens, in making up masses of different kinds. The butter companies have a great deal of it for sale, and

For economic reasons only every other lamp is kept burning at night in the streets of Christiania.

The receipts of the Christiania, exhibition from the opening to August 14 were $235,000, or $25,000 more than the estimate for the whole season. For a time it looked as if the amount would reach the $300,000 mark, but the war scare made it impossible.

The Refuga brought 120,000 bushels of grain to Bergen, and the government at once assumed control of it for the purpose of selling it at cost to consumers that need it the most.

The wood pulp trade has been revived after a brief suspension. Carports go upon cargo has left for foreign ports in the course of a few days. This means business along the whole line from the forests to the foreign seaports.

Fishermen from Fredrikstad report that they struck enormous shoals of mackerel in the North sea. A number of cutters brought from 100 to 221 barrels for a single's trip.

Karl Olsen and wife, Karlene, of Christiania, have celebrated their diamond wedding.

The Hydras Salt Peter Manufacturing company has offered prizes amounting to $6,750 to farmers who have made the largest potato crop in the county of the largest potato crop. At the same time the company offers to wait for three-fourths of the pay for fertilizers until September 1, 1915, provided the fertilizers are used for winter crops.

It is officially announced that the amt of Hedebranden can spare 245,000 bushels of grain and $80,000 worth of potatoes in this year's crop.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrup, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. J. H. Tatt, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria extensively, and I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J. McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

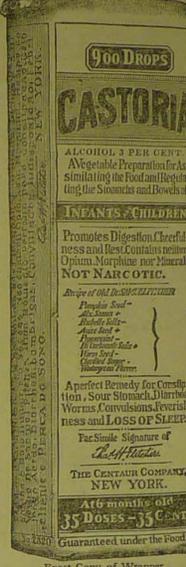

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the (tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, generally needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, and I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

Her Memory All Right. Mrs. Geddes had a new maid, and she found it necessary to repeat her instructions several times before Nora obeyed them. The mistress had told her repeatedly about the finger-bowls, and one day, when there were guests they were again forgotten. "Now, Nora," said Mrs. Geddes, extremely exercised over the omission, "this is the sixth time I've had to tell you about the finger-bowls. Didn't the woman you last worked for have them on the table?" "No, ma'am," replied Nora, "her friends always washed their hands before they came."

PARADISE FOR THE ARTIST

Devotees of the Brush Are Accorded Accommodations Without Price at Inn at Capri.

Capri, beautiful in itself as a winter resort, offers an irresistible invitation to artists, since it has an inn where anyone by painting a picture on the wall, can get free board.

To the lovely island of Capri, with its perennial summer, its blue grotto, and its lemon groves, came some fifty years ago, a ruined artist. He opened an inn, and died rich. In his will, leaving the inn to his heirs, he made these conditions:

"The charge per day, two bottles of red Capri wine included, is never to be more than six francs.

"If any artist is too poor to pay he shall paint a picture upon some wall space, reaching to the accommodation accorded to those paying the highest price.

"If any German artist shall come to the inn, he shall be accommodated, and shall receive the amount of his fare to Germany upon his promising never to return to Italy."

The inn is conducted today on these conditions. Its walls are covered with paintings. Now and then a German gets his fare home.

The Brical Trouseau. The old idea of providing brides with a score or more of gowns and hats has quite gone by. Even the fashionable trousseau of today contains no more than a dozen gowns if many. Styles change so fast that by fall the gowns for the June wedding, necessarily made some weeks before the ceremony, begin to look odd.

Eye to Business. A young suburban doctor whose practice was not very great set in his study reading away a lazy afternoon in early summer. His manuscript appeared at the door.

Empty Titles.

The emperor of Austria, it has been noted, lays claim to the title marquis of Antwerp. If all European sovereigns could make good their minor territorial titles there would, indeed, be a reconstruction of the map. The king of Italy, for instance, is officially styled king of Sarдинia, France, Spain and England, of Italy and Jerusalem, of Greece and Alexandria, of Hamburg and Silesia, Master of the Deep, King of the Earth. The king of Spain also claims to be king of Jerusalem, king of Galicia (a title shared with the emperor of Austria), and in addition, king of Gibraltar, of the West Indies and of India.
